Impressive Exercises at the Induction of Rev. Everett C. Herrick as President of Theological Institution

The inauguration of Rev. Dr. Everett Carleton Herrick as president of the Newton Theological Institution took place with impressive ceremonies on Tuesday of this week.

Thirty colleges and seminaries, including Harvard and Boston University, were represented in the procession which marched into the Baptist Church at Newton Centre.

The program included the singing of a hymn and the invocation by Rev. Thomas S. Roy of Brockton. Prayer was read by an ex-president of the institution, Rev. Nathan E. Woods. Albert L. Scott, president of the board of trustees, presented the keys of the institution to the new president. Rev. Hugh A. Heath, secretary of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, delivered the charge of office. The inaugural address was preceded by the singing of another hymn. The new president delivered an eloquent address on "Equipping the Minister of Tomorrow."

Dr. Herrick said in part:

"A year ago last Commencement, we observed the One Hundredth Anniversary of the founding of the Newton Theological Institution. In the spring of 1826, one hundred years ago last Commencement, two men—Eli Burnham Smith and John Equality Weston—who had each spent two years in Andover were graduated as the first class of the Seminary.

"Behind us, today, is a full century of noble and thrilling achievement. It is a story radiant with the lives of saintly and heroic men. Scholars, missionaries, educators, pastors, faithful shepherds of Christ's flock have gone from our hill into all the earth.

"The name and fame of Newton are secure. If its record of active service ended with this Asesmbly, it would stand glorious in the innumerable host of builders in the unseen and ever expanding Kingdom of God. Newton men have given to our Foreign Mission fields an aggregate of about 2600 years. They have preached the gospel in 25 countries, other than the United States, and they have translated the Scriptures or portions of them into ten languages.

"Newton was founded, like a large and impressive group of our sister Seminaries, to train preachers and leaders for our churches. There is no occasion to depart from that original purpose. It is, however, the contemporary and not the Pauline Church to which our men must go. They must serve churches in a democracy and not in an imperial empire or even a Facist aristocracy. While they need to have a historical knowledge of the events of the first century, they must have a sympathic understanding of the life of the 20th century.

"And Newton has always stood not only for the faith of the Baptist fathers but also for the freedom of that faith. Throughout all the century of its existence, Newton has been as it must always remain, spiritually and intellectually free and untrammelled. We would encourage our students to investigate and think for themselves. We would seek to make their minds the hospitable home of Truth from whatever source it may come to them. We would seek to make them thoroughly furnished to interpret Christ to their own age and to make Salvation real; and we announce our absolute and unswerving loyalty to Jesus Christ our Divine and ever living Head."

The benediction was given by Rev. Frank Rector of Pawtucket, R. I.

Mr. Scott presided at the luncheon, which was served in the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Rev. Otis W. Foye, president of the Northern Baptist Educational Society, gave the invocation at luncheon. After luncheon short addresses were given by Pres. Daniel L. Marsh of Boston University, Dean Willard L. Sperry of the Harvard Theological School and Pres. Milton G. Evans of Crozer Theological Seminary.

In the afternoon a reception was held in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, where Rev. Charles N. Arbuckle. pastor of the church, and Rev. Frank K. Fagerburg of Springfield spoke.

POAN—GERRIAR

The wedding of Miss Viola M. Gerriar and Mr. Amedee Poan took place Thanksgiving Day at St. John's Church, Rev. Fr. Robichaud performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Poan will reside at 265 Pearl street, Newton.

RAINBOW REVUE

A Beautiful Show Given at Newton High School

The "Rainbow Review," one of the most elaborately produced amateur shows ever given in this city, was performed last Friday and Saturday evenings at the new High School Auditorium before large audiences. The production was originated, staged and produced under the direction of C. Hassler Capron of Newton Centre; the words and music were by Louis Haffermehl of Newton Centre and Lewis A. Harlow of Milton, the Aleppo Temple "musical wizards"; the dances were directed by Hazel Sands Welch of Newton Centre. The show consisted of a prologue, two acts, and ten scenes, in which were introduced spectacular lighting effects, lavish costumes, and clever acting and dancing. The participants in the prologue were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Francis of Newton Centre, who introduced the different characters. Among the outstanding numbers of the "Rainbow Review" were—the Ballet of the Pansies, a beautiful number in which several girls, attired in dinty chiffon costumes, emerged from a huge bowl to perform interpretive dances; "Salted Peanuts," a novelty number in which six of the ballet were wheeled onto the stage encased in "peanut shells"; the "Waterfall," a specialty introducing clever pantomime work and novelty dancing by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stuart, assisted by members of the cast. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, who contributed heavily to the success of the performance, also put on a one act sketch, "The Chaperon." Don Howard of Cambridge, tenor soloist, Richardson Brown of Auburndale, baritone, and Miss Silvia Riley of Newtonville, interpretive dancing. The final number, "The Land of Lace" was a delightful scene in which ten girls were lavishly costumed in lace gowns.

The proceeds of the show were devoted to the Newton Hospital. It will be repeated again next month at Whitney Hall, Brookline, and in February will be given for three nights at Newton Centre. The cast was composed of the following young people from this vicinity.

Newton—Edith Pearson, Ruth Pearson, Mary Scofield; Chestnut Hill—Nancy Richmond, Gwendolyn Scudder, Dorothea Tichnor; Newton Centre—Evelyn Lovejoy, Mildred McKey, Penelope Ridgeway, Helen Stuart, Elinore Young, George L. Brush, Jr., Louis B. Hoagland, E. B. Stratton; Newtonville—Lucy Allen, Muriell Bassett, Francesca Barker, Jean Blair, Ellen Chase, Betty Richardson, Marion Trowbridge, Katherine Whittaker, George Ames, Jr., Henry W. Bates, Jr., Oliver H. Durrell, Edward J. Herlihy; West Newton—Margaret Blunt, Agnes Hartridge, Cleone Place, Henry H. Batten; Auburndale—Dorothy Estabrook, Barbara Hanson, Lorraine Holmes; Newton Highlands—Francis Frolich, Mildred MacDonald, Elinor Newton, Payson T. Lowell, Jr., Donald K. Tarbell; Newton Upper Falls—Leonora Bennett, Adelyn Vara, Francis Warren; Waltham—Roland O'Donnell, Harold Martinson.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Newton Lodge of Elks will observe next Sunday as Memorial Sunday. The formal exercises will take place at the Community Theatre at 3.30, and Hon. E. Mark Sullivan will be the orator.

GIRL SCOUTS

December 11th! Girl Scout Cookie Day!

Yes, indeed, Cookie Day is on its way! Once again you may taste those delicious cookies made by the famous Girl Scout cookie recipe!

Remember how good they tasted last year, and how you wished that every day was Cookie Day? Well,—this year they are only to be made in three villages, Newtonville, West Newton, and Waban. So send your orders early; we would hate to disappoint anyone.

"Sugary, brown, in the pantry,
Those cookies, you eat three or four—
So nice, so crispy delicious,—you reach out

Plans for the Newton Rally in the High School Gymnasium on Friday evening, December 3rd, are completed and all the Newton troops are looking forward eagerly to the parts that they are to play. The history of the American flag will be shown in a series of six tableaux with appropriate music and reading. The tableaux will be in the following order: The old English Flag, Troop 15; The Pine Tree Flag of New England, Troop 10; The Cambridge Flag and Spirit of '76, Troop 21; The First American Flag and Betsy Ross, Troop 17; The Star Spangled Banner, Troop 13; The Flag of Today, Troop 14. The songs which will accompany these tableaux will be "America the Beautiful," an old version of America, "Yankee Doodle," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," "the Star Spangled Banner," "The Home Road," and "Oh, Beautiful Banner." "The Home Road" will be sung as a solo by Captain Mosser of Troop 4, Waban. The lyrics which will be read were written by Lieutenant Burnham of Troop 14, Waban, who also arranged the music and songs. Miss Marion Clapp will read the lyrics and lead the singing.

The Newton Scouts have dressed 11 Friendship Dolls for the children of Japan. At the Rally on December 3rd these dolls will be sent off on their long journey. Each one will carry her own passport and ticket, and many good wishes from the American Scouts. The Rally will end with the awarding of merit badges and other honors. Among these will probably be four letters of commendation and two Golden Eaglets, the highest honors

WANT TAX ABATED

Taxation of Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse Before Supreme Court

Arguments were made before the full bench of the supreme court Wednesday in the case of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, Inc., against the city of Newton, which involves the right of the city of Newton to tax the property of the club.

In 1922 it erected a clubhouse at Newton Centre, and in 1923 the assessors of Newton assessed a tax of $1463 on the real and $53.20 on the personal property. After suit had begun in the superior court for the abatement of the tax, a commissioner was appointed, who found as a fact that the activities and work of the petitioner, and the uses to which it put its buildings, were of the nature of a literary, benevolent and charitable institution, and that its social and fellowship relations were merely incidental.

On the report of the commissioner, Judge Donahue of the superior court ordered the tax abated, on the ground that the club was a literary, benevolent and charitable institution within the meaning of the law and therefore was exempt from taxation.

Frank H. Stewart appeared for the Woman's Club, and City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett for the city of Newton.

It ws contended by Mr. Bartlett that not only did the petitioner fail to show "clearly and unequivocally" that the dominant purpose was literary, benevolent and charitable within the meaning of the statute, but that on the contrary, a mere examination of its activities disclosed that the main purpose of its existence was to afford pleasure, amusement and gratification to its own members.

Mr. Bartlett also said that the petitioner was a member of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, and also a member of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, and it would hardly be contended that a building occupied by either of those organizations would be exempt from taxation, and it was a fair assumption that the petitioner was a member of those organizations, not for philanthropic purposes, but for the edification and gratification of its own membership.

The decision of the full court will affect many similar organizations throughout the Commonwealth.

WEST NEWTON BRANCH LIBRARY

THE WEST NEWTON BRANCH LIBRARY

The new branch library which has recently been opened in West Newton is a splendid example of public spirit and civic pride. The idea of a branch library as a memorial to the soldier dead of West Newton was conceived some four years ago by members of the Community Service Club of that village and a committee composed of Mrs. Ellery Peabody, chairman, Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, secretary, and Mrs. Herbert Cushman, treasurer, was appointed. The committee with the assistance of the West Newton Neighborhood House and the Men's Club of West Newton, by means of subscriptions, and the proceeds of fairs and entertainments, raised about $60,000. With this money the land on Chestnut and Davis streets was purchased, the small and shabby buildings on Chestnut street were removed and the handsome building shown in the cut erected under the direction of Edward E. Stratton, the architect, and William Kellar, the builder.

The Memorial idea of the building is carried out in two bronze tablets on the south side of the reading room and bearing the following inscriptions:—

"1926, West Newton Memorial Library. This building is erected in loving memory of those devoted citizens who gave faithful service for the uplift and development of this community and who made it a centre of culture and education. 'We best serve the interests of posterity by treasuring the memory of our ancestors.'"

The other tablet has this inscription:

WILL PLAY OFF TIE

Brookline and Everett high school football teams will meet tomorrow afternoon on Braves Field to play off the tie in the Suburban League, which came as a result of the former's defeat of Newton and the latter's defeat by Cambridge Latin. Many Newton fans will witness the clash which will accompany the curtain-fall of the 1926 gridiron season and despite the intense rivilry between Newton and Brookline the majority will root for the Wealthy Town team. Everett has been the league champions a sufficient number of times and there are many who would like to see Coach Tom Hines' outfit grab the gonfalon.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

AN ALL-TEAM

This is hte season for All-teams. There are all-scholastic teams, all-American teams, all-Big Three teams, and nearly every kind of an All-team that can be mentioned. Because of the almost impossibility of selecting an all-team of any description which would do full justice to the players and because of not having seen many of the teams in action, we are forced to confine our All-team selection to an altogether new type. The following team would look good on any college gridiron and is one composed of former Newton High players or youths whose home is in Newton:

Adams,	Bowdoin,	re
Kevorkian,	Brown,	rt
Hodges,	Brown,	rg
Consodine,	Brown,	c
Alexander,	Bowdoin,	lg
Coady,	Harvard,	lt
Rising,	Dartmouth,	le
Stafford,	Harvard,	qb
Olmstead,	Bowdoin,	rhb
Kohler,	Bowdoin,	lhb
King,	St. Lawrence,	fb

Sub-linesmen: Howland, Oakes, Kennedy, (Bowdoin); Lovejoy, Walker, (Dartmouth); Sub-back: Kernan (U. of Vir.)

1927 PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Before "taps" are sounded on the 1926 football season it is fitting to take a glance at the prospects for the 1927 season at the high school which are brighter than they have been for several years. Of the twenty-nine members of this year's varsity outfit thirteen, or nearly half, will be available next year. If called upon right now Coach Dickinson could put a team that will probably carry the colors for Newton high next season on the field which would be no mean aggregation. Here is the way they would line-up: Scheinfain, Cole, Payne, and Reimer, ends; Harrington and Shea, guards; Stubbs, Hamilton, and Swan, tackles; Gatchell, centre; Gilligan, qb; Perry and MacIntyre, halfbacks; and Brown, fullback. Scheinfain, Harrington, Shea, Gilligan, Perry and MacIntyre have at least two more years to play so that the guard positions and the backfield seem pretty well settled for some time to come. In addition to these veterans there are several lads on the intermediate varsity team of this year who will make a grand fight for first team berths next year. The two outstanding athletes in this group are Phil Andres, brother of this year's gridiron leader and Duane. Both are backfield men and the former is one of the best punters in the school. Brandon Marsh and Bob Bennett of this year's squad may also return to Newton another year.

With such a nucleus to build around Coach Dickinson can start next year almost from where he left off this year, and will not have to spend as much time on the fundamentals of football as he did the past season. Although the players who graduate next June include a number of steady and reliable linesmen and backs the Newton mentor has good material to start the 1927 season with, as shown. The letter-men who will be lost to the orange and black next year are Capt. Andres, Annable, Clark, DeCourcey, Eames, Forristall, Hapgood, Kent, Macey, Martin, McNeil, Nason, Symonds, and Wilkerson, besides Proctor and Spain.

This afternoon the entire squad of letter men will sit for the team picture, after which the captain for next year's team will be elected.

PREPARING FOR TRACK SEASON

This winter the Newton high school track athletes will have one of the best indoor tracks in the State on which to stage their meets. The old track in the ancient drill shed will be improved with permanent banks. The partitions which set off the physical director's office, as well as the girls' gymnastic apparatus and lockers, have been removed so that the track will be lengthened to approximately the same length as the B.A.A. indoor track, or about 100 yards to the lap. The banks will not be confined to the corners as heretofore but will be constructed in saucerlike fashion from the end of one straightaway to the start of the other at each end of the building. This will make it possible for the runners to pass one another on the banks with a minimum possibility of injury. For many years the banks have made it so dangerous that the runners, especially those on visiting teams who were not used to conditions, were handicapped. In addition to improving the track for the longer runs it will also be possible to lengthen the dash and hurdle events from 25 yards to 35 yards. The lumber for the improvements has been ordered and it is hoped to have the entire work finished by the middle of this month in order that the candidates can be called out for the first practice on the 15th.

The usual opening meet with the alumnae will take place on an earlier date this year. Instead of staging this affair in January the management will match the schoolboys against the graduates sometime during the final week of December, which is vacation time for the colleges. This will give many of the various track athletes at the colleges a chance to compete against this years track team, something which in former years not many have been able to do as they could not leave college to return for the meet. A far stronger Alumni group is thus expected to be present and the schoolboys will be forced to show their best to defeat them. The schedule has not been completed fully as yet but will be announced within a week or ten days.

BASKETBALL SEASON OPENS

Among the several winter sports to which the athlete turns his attention is one of the most, if not the most, popular of American games—basketball. The Newton Y. M. C. A., whose teams in former years brought home one state championship after another, is again putting a team in the field. The local association is a member of the Two-State Y. M. C. A. league which takes in the foremost Y's of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Because of the number of associations in the league that are represented by basketball teams it is necessary to divide the territory into several divisions. Newton is in the Eastern division with six other associations— Cambridge, Lynn, Fitchburg, Lowell, Worcester, and Quincy. These seven outfits will play home and home games in the preliminary rounds for the Two-State title. The winner in the Eastern Division will then meet the winners of the other divisions in a final round, the winners of which will take the championship.

The local association has been putting in some strenuous practice sessions for the past few weeks in getting ready for a stiff schedule which opens tomorrow evening when the squad will travel to Fitchburg to meet last year's champions. Phil Hardy, who played a brilliant game at centre last year, will again be at the pivot position. With the experience he gained last year, which was his first at the game, he should be one of the outstanding players on the "Y" five. Arthur Kohler, a former Waltham high school player, and Charles McCarthy will probably be the dependable forwards as they are more aggressive than the others which include Francis Connearny, Ray Wellman, and John McDonald. The guard positions will be well taken care of by the veteran Harry Gray and Burnett, a guard on the Alpha Pi Club of Belmont team last year, with Bill Shields, a utility player last year and Elmer Colligan for replacements. The outstanding players who will make up a nucleus of the second team are, Rand, centre; Shaw and Cummings, guards; and Purcell and Farrell forwards.

Newton's league schedule follows:

Dec. 4.	Newton at Fitchburg
Dec. 11.	Newton at Lowell
Dec. 18.	Lynn at Newton
Jan. 5.	Newton at Quincy
Jan. 22.	Worcester at Newton
Jan. 29.	Cambridge at Newton
Feb. 5.	Quincy at Newton
Feb. 19.	Lowell at Newton
Feb. 26.	Fitchburg at Newton
Mar. 5.	Newton at Cambridge
Mar. 19.	Newton at Worcester

Dates with other teams are being arranged to bring the schedule up to about eighteen games. On Dec. 29th Somerville, entered in the Suburban division, will come to Newton. The Lawrence association has asked for a home and home game on dates to be announced later.

SPORT NOTES

Capt. Clem Coady and "Jake" Stafford of the Harvard football team were awarded another "H" for their part in the Crimson football games. Both of the former Newton high grid stars had won their letter before but this year in addition to the letter they, with 24 others, were awarded the new "H" certificate signed by William Bingham, athletic director.

Rufus Bond, popular twilight league official and assisant playground director for Newton, has turned his attention to basketball for the winter. He will again coach the Northeastern University quintet and has already cut his squad to twelve men which will probably go through the entire season. The season opens Dec. 11th and includes a trip through Western Massachusetts, Vermont and New York.

Larry Pratt, star defense player on the Harvard hockey sextet last season is coaching the Loomis Institute outfit of Loomis, Conn., this year.

The Newton Upper Falls Town team scored a 19 to 0 victory over its ancient rivals, the Needham T. T., last Sunday on the Newton Upper Falls playground. Mahoney scored two of the local teams touchdowns and Powers the other. Powers added the other point on a try after touchdown.

Charles Consodine and Ed. Kevorkian, two of Brown's "iron men" were awarded their letters at the Rhode Island University last week. They, with the rest of the squad, were also presented with gold footballs at a dinner tendered the squad Saturday night.

Newton will be exceedingly well represented on the Harvard hockey team this year with four local lads in the line-up. Captain Bill Ellison of Newton should lead the Crimson to its second successive collegiate title unless greatly unexpected developments occur. He will have with him on the first team squad three other townsmen, Clem Coady, Courtlandt Gross, and Henry Crosby, all of West Newton. Coady was a strong defense player on the varsity six last year and should regain his position without difficulty. He will team with Capt. Ellison. The two other Newton youths play the wings. Gross is a veteran of last year's outfit while Crosby, the third of a trio of brothers, is one of the most finished hockey players in Harvard today. He was a member of the freshman six last season and, if Coach Bigelow follows his plan of last year by having two sets of forwards, should play a lot at the right wing position on the varsity this year.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. is preparing to have a swimming team this year to represent it in meets with other nearby associations. The first practice will be held in the "Y" tank next Wednesday night, Dec. 8th, at 8 P. M. Melville Westgate, assistant physical director, will coach the team and is now arranging meets with Boston, Cambridge, Malden, Wakefield, Boston Boy's Club, and other Y. M. C. A.'s. The first meet will be staged shortly after New Year's.

Four Newton men were awarded soccer or Association Football letters at various colleges this year. At Wesleyan Karl Hartzell, a back, and Berkley Johnson, a forward, were winners of insignia, at Brown, Roger Case is one of the first men to win such a letter, while Charlie Phelps in spite of his injury gained the same award at Williams.

In the recent class meets held at Dartmouth, Philip C. Rising, now a sophomore, won the javelin throw, defeating Corvert, the college champion and a man who placed in last year's Intercollegiates. Although the day was rainy and the footing treacherous, he threw the javelin in his old time form. He is expected to be one of the strong links in the Big Green's track team this year judging by the results of the Fall Meet.

The Phelps boys reported for the Williams swimming team this past week, Bill to take his accustomed place on the relay team and Charlie to try out for the dash events. The latter's injury still bothers him but he expects to round into form soon enough to make the New York trip during the Christmas holidays.

Now that the pages of football have been closed for another year at Bowdoin the various Newton men at the Brunswick institution are turning their minds to other activities. Since freshmen are eligible for the varsity after the first semester is finished, Alan Shaw, Stuart Stone, and Harold Rising are planning to go out for varsity competitions. Shaw will report for baseball which started December 1st, and should have no difficulty in making the team, for he is a consistent batter and an excellent fielder. Stone, together with his roommate, Tubby Howland, and a third Newtonian, Dick Thayer, will join the ranks of the puck-chasers. Jack Magee will have Kohler, a jumper, Adams, a javelin and discus man, Spear, a budding middle distance runner, and Hal Rising, whose fall work has stamped him as a positive find for the coach, under his care.

In the Williams College fall tennis tournament, Franklin "Jimmy" Hoyt reached the semi-finals. This is a fine showing since the Purple has two of the finest small college players in its ranks. Jimmy was a member of the famous Newton team that won all the prizes possible, and later made the Andover body, only to be forced to the spectator's seat by illness. With the standing he made in the fall tourney he should be a member of the varsity squad this year even if he is a freshman.

On the Boston Hockey team for Women one notes that Alice Brace was chosen as a member of the mythical All-Northern team. She has starred in her chosen sport ever since she entered High School where she was captain her last two years, and later at Vassar. She is fast and dribbles the ball well, and shoots with accuracy from scrimmage.

The Boston University hockey team received a severe setback this week when it was learned that "Gyp" Lawless of West Newton, the star forward of the sextet would not be able to participate in active athletics for more than a month because of a strained stomach. Last year it was his work on the forward line that enabled the Terriers to defeat Harvard 3 to 0.

In reviewing the Harvard football season of 1926, Clem Coady claims that the season was not terribly disastrous after all, and that the foundations of a new and modern system of football, that will eventually put Harvard back where it was formerly, have been laid.

ABOUT TOWN

A spectator who was present at the Newton-Brookline football game on Thanksgiving Day told us that it was remarkable that no person was seriously hurt when one of the temporary stands collapsed. He suggests that some of the boys attending the Vocational Training School obtain practical instruction by building some substantial concrete stands to replace the weak wooden bleachers which now are located at the athletic field.

A familiar figure to hundreds of Newton residents will be seen no more. For 25 years Michael Cullinan faithfully served the residents of Ward 7 as one of their postmen. He had not been in good health for several years, but he continued to perform his duties with his usual efficiency. "Mike," as his associates knew him. was intensely fond of music. His favorite diversion was to play his violin. Sunday afternoon he played for some time on an instrument he had made himself. Sunday evening he sat in his home listening to a radio broadcast by an orchestra from New York. Suddenly he was stricken by heart failure, and within a few minutes he had passed on. An honest, conscientious public servant, Mr. Cullinan will be missed by the many friends he had made on the routes he had served.

Wednesday we attended the opening of the Dana Lowd Company at 274 Centre street. This concern specializes in electrical appliances. As we gazed at the demonstration of electric washers, electric ironers and vacuum cleaners, we thought of the days, not so long ago, when the women drudged for hours at scrubbing boards, bending over old fashioned tubs. We remembered the labor it was to heat the water for the weekly family washing, fill and empty the tubs, the scrubbing the rinsing, the old hand wringers. We recalled the irksome task of ironing clothes by hand, the terrific heat of the kitchen as the irons were kept hot on the kitchen range. The dust filled rooms as the sweeping was done with the corn brooms. And as we looked at the electric refrigerators, what a contrast they afford to the ice chests. No removing of food from the compartment to allow the filling of the chest. No drip pan overflowing, no clogged pipes. The housewives of today certainly have a much easier task in performing their duties than did their mothers.

THE 1926 REVIEW

Now that the final game on the Newton high school football schedule for 1926 is a matter of history the entire season may be reviewed with all facts at hand and no apologies to make to anyone. The record for the year stands six victories, three defeats, and one tie and a tie for third place with Somerville in the Suburban League for a 60% rating. Viewing the record from the opinion of the rabid football fan this can not be judged a successful season. He calls for a championship team with a clean record. But a championship team with a clean record does not by any means indicate that the less fortunate team has not had a successful season. It is a fact and the true sportsman will agree that the 1926 football season at Newton high has been almost an unparalleled success.

Among the 1925 letter men there were nine players that could be called stars. Of these seven were graduated last June, leaving but two, Captain Harold Andres and halfback Johnny Proctor. These two and the veterans, Clark, Spain, Stubbs, Forristall, and Bennett were all that Coach Dickinson had to build around. When the opening game came around there were many, who are in close touch with things, that were willing to predict that Newton would taste defeat in the majority of its games.

Quincy was sent back to the Granite City by a 3 to 0 defeat, due to Frank Spain's field goal early in the final period. The game was a costly one, however, for Brandon Marsh, one of the most excellent guard prospects on the squad, suffered a broken leg, putting him out for the season. Providence Tech was Newton's next victim and only a lucky break for Newton in the closing minutes of the game gave Spain an opportunity to score a field goal from the 30-yard line. The goal brought the orange and black's total to 10 points and staved off an almost certain 7-7 tie.

Against Natick the following week Newton showed marked improvement and won handily 18 to 6 although the visitors can not be rated in the same class with Newton. On Columbus Day at Everett the team outdid itself and held the Gildea outfit to a solitary field goal. In its second league game the same week against Cambridge on Saturday Newton outplayed the Cantaps in every way to win 13 to 0. On Friday, October 22, Newton vanquished St. Mary's of Waltham 7 to 0 by getting an early jump on the visitors and scoring on the first few minutes of play.

The Monday following Frank Spain suffered a wrenched knee and ankle which cost the team his services for the remainder of the season because of parental objections. Thus Newton went into the Somerville game with the loss of one of its most potent cogs. In this game Newton was extremely fortunate to pull out a 7 to 7 tie. Late in the first half the Dickerman outfit scored by straight football on a pretty march down the field during which Andres was injured. It was found that a small bone in Andres foot was broken and that he was through for the season. The next week he was operated on for appendicitis so there was a little consolation in the fact that he could not have gone through the season anyway. In the second half of the Somerville affair fortune smiled on Newton when Goodwin fumbled a punt and Gatchell recovered. In three plays Newton tied the count. The next week Newton went out of its class to meet Lawrence and was easily defeated by a 27 to 7 score. Proctor was playing his last game for Newton as he had been notified that he had been marked and that his probation would go into effect on Monday morning. Proctor must have thought he might as well end up in a fitting manner so he grabbed the kickoff and behind perfect interference made his way through the entire Lawrence eleven for Newton's only touchdown. Rindge was Newton's next victim and also gave Newton its final 1926 victory by a 19 to 0 score. Joe Gilligan came into his own by picking up a fumble and running 50 yards for one of the touchdowns and making another on two off-tackle plays that netted a total of 15 yards. Brookline came to Claflin Field on Thanksgiving Day the favorite. They show why they were the favorites and nothing can be said but that Newton was up against the better team. However, had the game been played three weeks earlier Newton would have ruled the favorite and there would have been no good reason why Newton should not have won.

Thus the season was brought to a close. Not any too successful when looked at from certain viewpoints. But when the final results have been taken into consideration it is nothing short of remarkable. Starting with nothing Coach Dickinon turned out a creditable team and he deserves more credit than in 1921 when Capt. Stafford's team won the state title and Coach Dickinson was presented with a testimonial of esteem at a public reception. That statement will probably meet with considerable disapproval but nevertheless it is a fact.

More than one instance will bear out that fact. For one—take the case of Everett Scheinfain. When this small but husky 15-year old lad reported for practice he had three outstanding defects—his offensive work was poor, he was slow getting down under punts, and he was inexperienced. What did he proceed to do? Before the season was ended he was Newton's best end. He cleaned out to perfection on runs around his end. He was down under the punts like a flash as any witness of the Rindge game will testify. Naturally he added to his experience but in addition he used his added experience in a much more noticeable degree than any other new man. Creighton Gatchell, centre, is another lad who is worth noticing. This boy stepped into a big hole when he tried to take over Andres' job. He, too, had little experience and knowledge of the gridiron sport, but there was no more willing a pupil than Gatchell. He came along fast and in the latter games of the season showed the stuff there is in him. He will go far next year. Joe Gilligan, given time, should be on a par with his brothers. He came fast in the Rindge and Brookline games. With more experience he will be even more valuable. He is laboring under two handicaps—first his inability to get away to a quick start. Tom Gilligan was the same and he overcame it by attending track practice. He was far better after that. Secondly the youngest member of the Gilligan trio is handicapped because every fan is watching him and putting him on the same level as his brothers. He is not and he will never be—unless given a chance.

Many others on the squad have shown marked improvement in their play but there is one more who stands out above all the rest. Playing at the start of the season at halfback and as a substitute quarterback and finally becoming the regular quarterback and acting-captain Len Clark has proven his worth. A football team can be a good team with only a mediocre quarter if they team together well, work in unison, and carry out their individual assignments but it takes a good quarterback to get the most out of any team. The early part of the season a team seldom is in unison unless it is entirely veteran. Then victories are largely won by a few stars. Late season games, however, are the opposite. The stars shine then because their path has been cleared for them by their teammates. At the close of the season Newton had lost its two remaining satellites and depended on its entire eleven men as a unit. Clark took over Spain's job as quarterback and Andres' job as captain and his work in the Brookline game was nothing short of remarkable. Never, in recent years, has a Newton eleven, the underdog at the start of the final game, and on the short end of a 9 to 0 score given their all as did the 1926 eleven Thanksgiving Day. It was a wonderful and thrilling sight to behold and it is hard to see where a single spectator at the game could fail to thrill and be proud of Clark and his teammates in that game. To be sure Clark's judgment on a few occasions is open to criticism but no one expects any schoolboy to use infallible judgment under pressure of a game.

That is the 1926 Newton high school team. Behind all this progress of the various individuals lies something of which notice has not yet been taken. Who is responsible? Much has been written of playing for the school's honor. That may be but it is the coach who imparts to the members of the squad the knowledge of the fundamentals of the great American sport. Therein lies the answer and that is why it can be truthfully said that the 1926 season has been successful and that Coach Dickinson is entitled to more credit this year than in 1921 when he had a team of championship material at the beginning of the season, one which needed but little coaching.

CHANGES ON 1927 SCHEDULE

Faculty manager Dr. Oscar Martin of the Newton high school has nearly completed the 1927 football schedule and has but one open date to fill. For several years it has been the policy of the authorities to arrange the opening game on the third Saturday in September after a short practice of about ten days. In order to allow more time for development of team play the opening of the season next year will be delayed one week. This necessitates the dropping of Quincy from the list and making the game with Providence Tech the curtain-raiser on September 24th. The following Saturday-October 1st, is the one remaining open date on the schedule.

The Suburban league schedule will differ from other years in that the opening has been advanced to the Saturday before Columbus Day, the usual opening day, due to the fact that Oct. 12th comes on Wednesday next year. However the usual holiday attractions will be staged with Newton meeting Everett at Claflin Field on the holiday. The Newton-Cambridge game which usually follows the Everett battle will be played on October 8th, a week earlier than usual, on Claflin Field. On October 15th there will be no game. These are the only two league games that Newton will play at home meeting Somerville on October 29th at Somerville, Rindge on November 12th at Cambridge, and Brookline on Thanksgiving Day at Brookline.

A newcomer on Newton's list and a team that will give Newton a good mid-season game is Beverly High which will come to Claflin Field on October 22nd. The other remaining date, November 5th, is the day of the Lawrence game. Newton having made the trip to the Mill city this year that team will come to Newton next season.

Prior to the signing of Beverly the Saturday of October 22nd was offered to Waltham with no results. This year the same date was offered to the Watch City eleven and it was held open until the last moment when Newton was finally forced to make an extensive search for an opponent. By that time every public school in the state had signed for a game and Newton was fortunate to get St. Mary's high of Waltham to fill the schedule out.

SPORT NOTES

Now that the football season is on the wane, the winter sports begin to take the floor. At Lehigh, Chester Pratt is a candidate for the wrestling team, a major sport at the college, and with his weight and football experience, should have little difficulty in making one of the six classes of weights.

Arnold Rich and Warren Skelton Newton both played for Tabor Academy in its last game. Rich was at full-back and around him the Tabor attack was built while Skelton played the pivot position. Both boys have attended other schools, Rich spent several years at Newton, where he was a member of the track squad, and Skelton played for the Huntington School football eleven last year, and is a hockey player of some ability.

While New Hampshire State was giving the Iron Men an exhibition in the fine art of forward passing, Steve Hodges, former Newton centre, was enjoying a battle with Charlie Consodine, an old time teammate at Newton. Honors were about even, but Hodges showed a remarkably fine game during the time he was in the lineup.

Matt B. Jones of Chestnut Hill was a member of the Williams varsity football squad this past season, playing in the line. With two more years ahead of him, he should make good material for Doug Lawson as he has tremendous strength and weighs around 180 pounds.

The* 3 or 4 Bearing Crankshaft
is now obsolete in Nash engineering practice

Here's something of real importance for every prospective buyer of a SIX to think about—

—if you buy a new car now that still has the old-type crankshaft with only 3 or 4 bearings, what is going to happen to its resale value?

Manufacturers who still cling to the 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft design know just as well as you do that the MODERN crankshaft has 7 bearings.

And certainly with Nash setting the pace they are not likely to hold to the old style of design any longer than they are compelled to under their manufacturing conditions.

The authority of Nash engineering submits to your own good judgment that the motor with a 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft cannot be called a truly modern type of motor.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

It was an interesting and instructivething to do—to "listen in" one morning after Dr. Thom's lecture on "The Mental Health of Childhood," before the Newton Centre Woman's Club, and hear the comments made by a committee group which had met to prepare Red Cross seals for mailing.

It was unanimously agreed that Dr. Thom is a wizard in seeing through the motives and minds of children. Many a mother regretted that there was not time enough for Dr. Thom to answer all her questions, and give more advice than the hour and a half which he gave to the Club would allow.

He advised heroic measures for the little child who will not eat. "Let him go without eating until he is hungry"—is something the average mother finds it impossible to do .

And the boy who shirks Latin and mathematics in the high school doesn't seem at all abnormal or sub-normal to Dr. Thom.

"Why should such a boy be made to go to college?" he asks.

Certainly a question such as that makes us think that times are changing, and we ask, "Are the good old times when a boy should be made to go to college really a thing of the past?" Dr. Thom, however, would not let the boy of any age shirk responsibility—use argument for persuasion, and a very good argument is: "Do it—as Father did before you—to become fit for a man's job later."

The Club would be glad to hear Dr. Thom again.

Waban Woman's Club

Arthur Fisher, who received his training from Leland Powers, gave the members of the Waban Woman's Club a most pleasurable afternoon last Monday, proving by his ease, his perfect memory of the various conflicting parts, and by his dramatic force, that an effective reader can enact a drama greatly to the conviction of an audience. "Cyrano De Bergerac" not only appeared before them, but many other personages who were in the life of that gentleman. After this entertainment, tea was served and a social hour enjoyed, under the pleasing management of the Social Committee, of which Mrs. Thomas W. Pelham, Jr., is chairman.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Let us go back to July 12, 1880, and peep at the ladies gathered in Mrs. Electa N. L. Walton's parlor as they discuss the proposition of forming a Woman's Club. (And yet this happened on Friday, November 26th, at Player's Small Hall, for the members of today of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.)

How quaint they look with the long dresses trailing on the floor and some with bonnets tied under the chin!

Mrs. Walton, impersonated by Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, charming in her costume of most half a century ago, presided with a quiet, firm dignity (typical of the time).

The discussion of the purpose and the name to be chosen for the Club, presented many ludicrous situations. "I object!" was often heard from one lively member. What a Darling, Mrs. S. P. made as Mrs. Allen!

Dear Mrs. Phipps, who has been a member of the Club for forty-three years, looked very sweet as Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, the guest. It was this guest who appropriately suggested the name to the Club which was approved and adopted.

At the close of the first act the Juniors sang very sweetly: "Carry Me Back to Ol' Virginny," and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

At the annual banquet twenty years later, the new and second president, Mrs. Alvin R. Bailey, was chosen. The responses to the roll call were both clever and amusing.

The music throughout was most fitting and pleasing, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort sang: "Then You'll Rember Me," and Mrs. W. T. Jones sang, "In the Gloaming."

Mrs. Bernard Early, who wrote the play and coached the participants was presented by them with the book: "Nutting's Massachuetts."

Mrs. Joseph Congdon, district director and guest of honor, said she chose that day to make her official visit, as she was much interested in home dramatics and wished there were more of them.

She urged the Club members to attend the legislative conferences, especially those near by. even though not in their own district.

Mrs. George W. St. Amant made an appeal for toys, books or games to be used for the children whom the Club will entertain at the Christmas Party.

The Juniors then sang "The Gypsy Love Song."

Refreshments and a social hour followed. Altogether the afternoon was one long to be remembered.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Herbert Longfellow was hostess to the members of the Auburndale Review Club on last Tuesday morning. A report was given by the President, Mrs. Amos R. Wells, of the Legislative Meeting at Needham, also of the Board Meeting of the Newton Federation. From the Art Committee came a list of things worth seeing at the various studios, particularly prints.

The hostess, Mrs. Longfellow, was also Chairman of the morning. She illustrated her talk on "The Grand Canyon" with pictures which she had brought back from there. Mrs. George St. Amant then took the audience through the "Petrified Forests and the Painted Desert of Arizona," passing about some beautiful specimens of the rock-like substance which was once wood. Mrs. Dean Hanscom closed the morning's program with a very interesting paper on the "Cliff Dwellings and the Zuni Indians."

STATE FEDERATION

INSPIRATION FROM ITS PRESIDENT, MRS. POTTER—"Life fulfills itself in love and in loving becomes immortal. With a heavenly vision set in the sky of daily life, as we seek to serve, we will come upon great happiness by way of self-forgetfulness. In the silent filtration of the divine through our daily efforts, all our pulses of life are kept steadily beating. The high service of love is to inspire. Inspiration is a master motive in our work. As we feel its potency let us be generous in passing it along to those who we meet in our daily round.

"While we increasingly feel our responsibilities of our relations with others let us at thi Christmas season take heed lest our energies be swallowed up in indefatigable labor, while carrying on the things of material purport. Rather let us keep the balance of material and the spiritual both in mind in order that our Christmas hours may be full of gladness."

No Club woman but will thrill at such words from the woman who is at the helm of our ship of Club life. Leaders we may have of ability. power, executive force, intellect, but when we find one who combines with these vision, judgment, heart, depth, and understanding of all things fine. we have elected to lead us one rare indeed, and we justly pay her homage and tribute.

Her message may be one of inspiration for our Christmastide!

RADIO. Homemakers of New England might well be the owners of the broadcasts from the State Federation each of the December Wednesday mornings over WNAC, the Shepard Stores, for these are the topics to be discussed this month: "Americanization," "Citizenship," "Art," and "Books."

AMERICANIZATION. Since this is one of the topics to be broadcasted in December, a quotation from the State Chairman, Mrs. Benjamin D. May, is timely, and may serve to set chairmen of this subject athinking as to some means to remedy the situation in their district. Certainly this would be in line with the "good will" that should be made manifest in this last month of the year.

"Do we need Americanization now that our laws in regard to immigration have become so strict?

"The Immigration Restriction Law of 1924 reduced the number of new immigrants from 60,000 to 29,000 per year. We now, today, have more than 400,000 aliens living in Massachusetts, 146,000 of whom are illiterate. The schools are reaching 30,000 of these. What about the rest? How many of them are in your town? Are you doing anything for them?"

Americanization Committees in Newton may answer, as the teacher says.

BOOKS. Also one of the radio topics, so entered into more fully. With thoughts of books as Christmas gifts, comes this wise summary of what constitute good books from Mrs. L. A. Miller, chairman of Fine Arts of the General Federation, and the test she has applied might well be the one for all purchasers at this time:

"Any book is a good book which presents ideals of life and conclusions that are wholesome and may be duplicated in our daily living, upholds the traditions of our country, makes us think a little better of our country and brings God a little nearer to the universe. Any book which makes us think cynically of our neighbor and suspiciously, and think a little less highly of life, and have a little less courage to live it, which makes us think less highly of the traditions of our country or attacks the sanctity of family life or the American home, is NOT a good book, no matter what its literary excellence may be."

Would that all readers felt this way, for there has been a tendency for tolerance of these "literary" corruptions that forebodes the crumbling of something fine in our American traditions!

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Saturday, December 4th, is the date for the next meeting of the Shakespeare Club, when their always enjoyable Quiz is to be upon the IVth and Vth Acts of Othello. Miss Mary L. Sweeney is the leader on that day, and Mrs. W. E. Moore, secretary of the Club, and one of its busiest members in Club interests, proves once more this statement by being its gracious hostess at her home, 55 Hillside road.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, Director of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club and the chairman of Hospitality, lives up to her committee name in having the honor and joy of arranging the next meeting of the Club, a Christmas Party. Monday evening, December 6th, at 7.30 o'clock the business meeting will be followed by this festivity at the Club Room of the Emerson School. Music and refreshments, good cheer and holiday cordiality will make the evening one more of the memorable events of this season.

Waban Woman's Club

The same day, the 6th, marks the second of the attractive trips scheduled by the Waban Woman's Club for members to the Museum of Fine Arts. Club women are realizing more and more how sociable and fascinating can be made these groups that set forth for a day of feasting and frolic and finding. Not only is there the knowledge to be gained in viewing the many attractive, quaint, indicative of nations and customs, and amazing exhibits collected in such a spot,—treasure trove in arousing dreams of those romantic lands from which many come—but there is the social pleasure of visiting on the journey thither and homeward, and the close companionhip that is engendered from a bit of lunch together. The Class meets at 2 o'clock at the Museum, a lecture on "Tapestry and Rugs" is to be given for their benefit at 2.30, and then tea will be served in the Museum Lunch Room for 35 cents. Those who are planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Chester Churchill, Tel. 0264-W.

Christian Era Study Club

Continuing their delightful study of "The War of American Independence," the Christian Era Study Club will on December 6th learn about the "Responsibility for the Final Break" between "the states" as they came to be called before long, and England, from Mrs. Arthur W. Desoe, and they will then learn about those next significant events, so dear to the hearts of those who boast of Massachusetts birthplace, "Concord, Lexington and Bunker Hill," from Mrs. S. H. Selloy. The hostess for the meeting of that date is Miss Blanche M. Noyes, 16 Williston road.

C. S. L. S. of Newton Highlands

Alas, for the best laid plans of men—and women—to vary the quotation! The visit to Fenway Court, so eagerly looked forward to by the members of the C. L. S. C., scheduled for Tuesday, the 30th, was drowned in the deluge of rain that dampened the ardor of explorers to this fascinating country, and the trip has had to be indefinitely postponed, awaiting less hurried days, more kindly skies, and other plans of mortals and elements. The only consolation over the postponed luncheon parties and rambles through foreign lands, by proxy, is that there will some time be the announcement that this visit will take place.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Dramatics will take the place of the usual lecture at the meeting Tuesday, the 7th, of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, and it is expected husbands of members will be out in force to watch with interest what the amateur Thespians are to produce. Last year, a highly successful professional entertainment was presented on Dramatic Day, but the return this season to local talent is welcomed, as more interest attaches to what one's friends will do before the footlights

WHEN WINTER COMES

A wash-day in Winter! Doesn't the very thought make you wretched?

It's so cold hanging up the things. Your fingers are stiff, and the pins won't go in. You positively ache with the biting frost.

And then you bring them in, brittle with the cold. You sometimes have to tear them off the line, and after a minute in the warm kitchen they crumple into a soaking mass on the table almost as wet as when you hung them up. Half-dried clothes everywhere. This is the housewife's gloomiest hour!

Many women are finding thru one of our various services the courage to defy the weather.

THERE IS A SERVICE FOR EVERY HOME

Sleet and hail, snow and rain, are accepted as they come by our customers, for they know that no matter what the weather, we send back their clothes promptly, washed with the greatest care, exquisitely ironed and with the fragrance of a day of sunshine.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mason

In connection with their science work, Rooms 11 and 12 had a very interesting visit to the boiler room on Monday. Mr. Price explained every part of the heater and ventilator, and even demonstrated the use of the safety valve. In this matter the classes received first-hand information on how the building is supplied with fresh warm air.

The class officers of Grade Eight are as follows: President, Norman Adams; Vice-President, Betty Tucker; Secretary, Patience Wedger; Treasurer, Leonard Shaw. Some splendid assemblies are expected by the class.

Stearns School

The pupils of the upper grade classes entertained at assembly on Wednesday preceding the Thanksgiving recess. Music, plays, songs, and dances composed the gist of the entertainment and much credit is given to our young participants for selecting, arranging ad executing the parts.

A chorus of a hundred voices opened the program with the song "The Breaking Waves Dashed High." "The Landing on the Morrow" by Miss Stoddard's class included prayers for preservation and for strength to endure in the New World. "The First Thanksgiving," with harvest songs and dances came as a joyful climax.

The physical examinations are disclosing many interesting improvements. The children have been eager to take the advice of the school physician and nurse in regard to teeth, tonsils, adenoids, posture and nutrition with the result that a fifty per cent gain has been made in general good health since last year.

Reports indicate that the Thanksgiving recess was spent most profitably by all. A number of our teachers visited out of town. Mr. Winslow motored to Brewster on the Cape; Miss Larsen to New York, Miss Stearns and Mr. Lewis to Maine.

Much discussion is going on these days of multiple books, magazines and papers on what constitutes a well read man. It is safe to assume that he must know the great masters in literature, read something of science, biography, history and the Bible and inform himself regarding the affairs of the day.

The amount of professional reading he should do has not been satisfactorily solved by any one group; suffice to say, he must know his job and the teacher, ever mindful of this fact, reads many of the professional books and magazines of the hour.

Not long ago a noted lecturer criticized educators for their ignorance regarding the popular fiction of the day. She remarked that the paper covered dime novel had disguised itself and was appearing in neatly bound volumes as fiction; that youth is reading it with disastrous results to morals.

Angier School

The Wednesday assembly was in charge of Mrs. Leavitt's class. Lantern slides of the "First Days in Plymouth" were shown. The following pupils participated in the program: Virginia Heathcote, Marcia Fallon, Charlotte Root, Viola St. Lawrence, Marjorie Mosser, James Bierer, Elliott Rogers, Hugh Munroe, Aldrich Prouty, Helen MacLaury, and Carolyn Gilpin.

In our news items of last week an error was made in stating that this was the first year that all the teachers of the Angier School had been members of the National Education Association, because last year the school had 100 per cent membership. It is the first time, however, that the Honor Medal has been received.

The Angier School soccer team was defeated by the Burr School 2-1 last Saturday morning.

On Tuesday Miss Lattimer presented some new aspects of the health problem to the teachers.

The kindergarten has a membership of fifty-two and of this this number forty-eight were present on Tuesday. Fine, for a rainy day!

Miss O'Connor took her 7th grade to the Museum at Jamaica Plain where they heard a wonderfully interesting lecture on the Metropolitan Water System and the Newton Water Supply.

Barbara Hall is again to represent the Angier School at the spelling-match broadcasted by W. E. E. I. in December 2.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

These pupils in grades seven and eight made the necessary standing on the report cards for the first period to entitle them to enrollment on the Honor List: Grade 8—Esther Batey, Margaret Burns, Clentina Panella, and Harold Strombom; Grade 7—Harvey Preble, Stanley Wood, Warren Springer, Lucy Batey, Della Fisher, Mary Herlihy, Priscilla Sawyer and Joseph Gustonoski.

Miss Horgan's class has enjoyed two recent lantern lectures one on "Africa," the other on "Japan."

The entire school greatly enjoyed the delightful hall program on the Wednesday morning before Thanksgiving.

Louis Bilski entertained the school at an assembly period with a selection on the violin, and a collection of Memory Gems was given by pupils from grade five.

Lasell

In keeping with the Thanksgiving spirit, on Wednesday morning, November 24, the students each brought gifts to chapel which were packed in boxes and sent to the Morgan Memorial, Union Rescue Mission and the Merrimack Mission.

Dr. Leon H. Vincent will give a second lecture on Friday afternoon at 4.30 in Bragdon Hall, his subject being "The New Poetry: Wordsworth and Coleridge."

Rev. C. W. Dunham of the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Dorchester will have charge of the vesper service on Sunday evening at 6.15 in the Chapel.

Much enthusiasm is being shown in the forming of the basket ball teams, and the students are looking forward with interest to the interclass games, practice for which has just commenced.

All Newton Music School, Inc.

A pupils' recital will be held at the Peirce School, West Newton on Friday evening, December 10th at 7.30 o'clock. Christmas music will be part of the program with the usual violin, piano and vocal solos and ensemble music. Pupils. parents and their friends, as well as those interested in the work of the School are cordially invited to attend.

Christmas vacation for the Music School begins on Saturday, December 18th and lessons will begin on Jan. 4th, 1927.

F. A. Day Junior High

Wednesday morning's Assembly, November 24th, marked the beginning of a new music plan for assemblies. Heretofore the classes have been entering the hall to the strains of Miss Hinckley's music. At the last faculty meeting, it was voted to put Miss Hinckley in charge of a committee who should vary the plans for the morning music. Judith Andress played the piano and Charlotte Andress played the violin both before and at the close of the exercises.

Reginald Bankhart, in full Scout regalia, read the Governor's proclamation very impressively and the school sang the Doxology.

Miss Hackett is in charge of the ninth grade Dramatic Club the members of which call themselves "The Masqueraders." The first production of the year was in the form of a Thanksgiving fantasy called "When Romance Lived." The scene is laid in Beth's living room. The time is early evenig. The dramatis personae were as follows: Prologue, Jeannette Cain; John Alden, William Loud; Priscilla, Eleanor Brown; four school girls: Betty, Claire Buswell; Mary, Bessie Shelman; Nan, Mary Masse; Fran, Rosamond Bowen; Minuet Dancers, Grace Taylor, Louise Kimball, Perez Howard, Raymond Blair.

The play was concerned with the return of John and Priscilla for one magic hour. They come to visit four school girls who are busily studying their "Courtship of Myles Standish" and expressing the desire that they might see John and Priscilla and that they themselves might have lived in those good old days.

As is always true with every play which Miss Hackett manages, the performance went off smoothly and was very finished as to its attention to detail.

Special mention might be made of the skill with which Mary Masse handled her part of the carefree slangster and of the ease and grace of the dancing of Raymond Blair and his partner, Louise Kimball. Because special mention is given does not detract from the fact that every one did very well.

The audience was highly appreciative of the first play put on this year at the Junior High.

W. C. T. U.

The Evangelistic meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be Monday evening, Dec. 6th at the home of Mrs. J. Cheever Carley, 27 Eliot avennue. The speaker, Mrs. P. M. Wood, will take for her subject "Faithfulness."

Mrs. Margaret Carley, Mrs. Dora Sartwell and Mrs. Bertha Dinsmore are the hostesses.

FORMER RESIDENT KILLED

Mr. John B. Canfield, a former native and well known resident of Newton, was killed Wednesday night by a street railway car in Springfield. Mr. Canfield was 57 years of age and had resided in Springfield for the past 16 years.

Mr. Canfield was employed by the B. & A. R. R. Co., while a resident of Newton, and studied law at Northeastern College.

He is survived by his widow and four children.

BAZAAR

Among the many delightful plans for the Bazaar under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, to be held on Friday and Saturday, December 10th and 11th at Dennison Hall, Newtonville, no other feature will so delight the boys and girls of Newton as the visit of "Big Brother" Bob Emery of the W. E. E. I. radio broadcasting station of Boston, Massachusetts, who is to attend the Bazaar on Saturday at 3 o'clock to meet the many members of his Big Brother Club who will be there to give him a cordial greeting. It is hoped all the grown ups too will come and assist to make this Bazaar a wonderful success as it is for the benefit of the many activities of the Auxiliary and the welfare work, also general maintenance that it may carry on for the World War veterans and their families.

A good supper will be served each evening from 6 to 8 o'clock. Music for dancing on Saturday evening.

There will be a skilled fortune teller on hand each evening to unveil the future.

A mystery booth, candy, home-made and otherwise, pop corn, useful and fancy articles, aprons, Christmas cards, books, old and new, infants' and children's things, cooked foods, groceries, vegetables, ice cream, cake, tonics, a "Rummage-White Elephant Table," are features of the Bazaar.

Be sure to plan for the children to meet Big Brother! And enjoy a children's special matinee.

The Bazaar is worked for by "A Committee of the Whole," meaning each member of the organization is to serve.

At the close of the business session. an informal lecture was delivered by Mrs. Ann Phillips of Jamaica Plain. Mrs. Phillips took for her subject, "So You're Going to London," and delighted her audience with many happily selected reminiscences of her sojourn in England. Mrs. Alice Weeks furnished several groups of piano solos. During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Dodge assisted by Miss Emily Fanning, Mrs. William Bicknell, Mrs. Myron Cudworth and Miss Anna Thompson.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

A vaudeville entertainment is being planned for next Tuesday evening, with a most interesting program.

ROTARY CLUB

Messrs. Earl G. Manning and Charles Gilman gave the Newton Rotary Club an enjoyable as well as an instructive entertainment at the weekly luncheon held as usual Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club.

Both these gentlemen are high grade life insurance salesmen and gave a realistic exhibition of how to sell life insurance. Mr. Manning was the salesman and Mr. Gilman the prospect. Mr. Manning first went thru the motions of reaching Mr. Gilman over the telephone, arranging for an interview, etc. Mr. Gilman's caustic and antagonistic objections to buying life insurance were most entertaining and the manner in which Mr. Manning answered him was a revelation of good salesmanship. Incidentally the thought was brought out that every business man should make his will.

An editorial in the Boston Transcript suggesting that Newton should accept full inclusion in the Metropolitan water district which "a less penny-wise Policy" would probably have led it to adopt many years ago, shows a lamentable lack of knowledge of Newton's affairs. In the first place Newton is an active part of the metropolitan water system, having entered as one of the original municipalities and retaining membership by the payment of annual assessments. Newton today can demand full service from the Metropolitan water district. We have not done so, because our water supply has always been considered far superior to that of the Metropolitan district, as it is a water that is not exposed to open reservoir conditions, and does not see daylight until it flows from the faucet. These considerations have caused successive city governments to continue the policy of extending our own water supply to the limit rather than entering the Metropolitan district. As the city continues to grow we will be compelled to purchase more and more water from the Metropolitan district, but we hope the day is far distant when we shall be obliged to discontinue our present source of supply in the Charles river valley. This may be a "penny-wise" policy, but we have our doubts if it would be so considered by impartial observers.

We earnestly call attention this week to the article on the new Branch Library at West Newton and to the splendid work of the ladies who initiated and carried thru that civic enterprize.

This achievement of the residents of West Newton should be a stimulus and inspiration to the people of Newton Centre to go and do likewise.

—o—

We don't want to be unduly pessimistic but we are looking forward to our city election with expectations that only 25 per cent of the registered voters will cast their ballot. The indifference of the average citizen to his civic duties is most appalling when one realizes what might happen because of that neglect.

—o—

We are informed that the reason the low stone wall was not constructed by the Fuller Garage at the corner of Watertown street and Davis Court, was due to the fact that Davis Court, an open way for over forty years, could not be legally obstructed in this manner.

—o—

The recommendation of the Judicial Council of Massachusetts regarding the methods of enforcing the laws relative to motor vehicles, should have the prompt and hearty endorsement of the incoming Legislature.

NEWTON LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The regular monthly meeting of the League was held in the rooms of the Welfare Bureau, 12 Austin St., Wednesday evening, Dec. 1.

Miss Rhoda Zeigler, vice-president of the League, acted as chairman in the absence of the president, Dr. Mary A. Willcox, who with her sister, Miss E. G. Willcox, will spend the winter in the south.

Following the regular business meeting an excellent talk was given by Miss Lillian J. Haley of the State Department of Labor and Industries. Miss Haley carefully explained the Minimum Wage Commission telling in a most interesting way its duties, and relating experiences the Commission has recently had investigating the Minimum Wage in all the Retail Stores of the State. Members of the League asked many questions about problems of labor and industry and learned many things in this discussion. The whole evening was full of interesting and first hand information about the work of this important Department of the State.

ZONING CHANGES REFUSED

Aldermen Turn Down Petitions For General Residence Zones

The Committee on Claims and Rules held a meeting Wednesday night to listen to hearings on several petitions for changes from private to general residence zones. Judge Thomas Weston, representing Mrs. Grace Whittemore asked that the land on both sides of Whittemore Rd., Newton, from Waverley avenue to Playstead road, be changed from private to general residence zone. He explained that his client can sell the land to better advantage if the setback on this land is made 15 feet, instead of 25 feet. Protests against the change were made by Arthur Hollis, F, C. Brown and P. N. Mason. Mr. Hollis related how the Whittemore property had been partly placed in the general residence zone when the ordinance was first passed, several years ago, as the aldermen at that time desired to be fair. He thought the present petition was unfair to property owners on Hunnewell Hill, and would redound injuriously to the city, if granted. Mr. Whittemore had sold much of his property along Washington street to be developed with two-family houses, until residents of that section protested and had the neighborhood on Hunnewell Hill placed in a single residence zone. To permit this other concession to Mr. Whittemore, would, in the opinion of Mr. Hollis, work injustice on many property owners. The committee recommended that the petition be given leave to withdraw.

Judge W. Lloyd Allen as attorney for Rose O'Donnell and the owners of the Brackett estate on Washington street, asked that the land between the Catholic Church property and Crafts street, on Washington street, be changed from general residence to business zone. Mrs. O'Donnell has street, on Washington street, be petitioned several times for this change, and each time her petition has been refused. Objections were voiced by Martin McDonough, John Walker, Bartholomew Hayes, and James S Cannon, appearing for Rev. Lawrence Slattery. The committee, with Alderman Madden dissenting, voted to refer this petition to next year's Board of Aldermen.

Joseph B. Jamieson petitioned that land bordered by Vernon and Eldredge streets, and land on the south side of Tremont street, east to Pembroke street, be changed from private to general residence zone. Mr. Jamieson sometime ago purchased the large Waitt estate at the corner of Vernon and Park streets, adjoining his residence. He desires to convert the large house on this property into a boarding house. Objections to his petition were raised by Walter Brownell, Clarence Allen, William Ellison, W. J. McCarthy and Attorney Dolan. Building Commissioner Chadwick told the committee that even though the petition should be granted, Mr. Jamieson cannot use the building as a boarding house unless it be altered so that it will have brick walls. The committee voted to recommend that the petition be not granted.

Lester Brett asked that he be allowed o convert a large garage on Weldon road, Newton, into a two-family house. He explained that this "garage," which was built in 1910, measures 50 by 76 feet and is too large for use as a single residence. It is on the Whittemore estate. Benjamin Curtis and Fred Fuller objected to the petition, but City Solicitor Bartlett settled the matter by informing the Aldermen that the petition cannot be granted, according to the city ordinances, because the building was used as a garage and not as a residence.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Last Friday morning at the corner of Chestnut and Woodward streets, Waban, an Overland sedan driven by Robert Burofsky of Moody street, Waltham, collided with a Dodge roadster driven by Edward Taylor of Huntington avenue, Boston. Burofsky's car was tipped over and he received cuts on the head, one hand, and his right knee. His car was badly damaged.

Sunday morning at the corner of Chestnut and Highland streets, West Newton, autos driven by Benjamin Freeman of Orchard avenue, West Newton, and Harold Seeley of 1251 Washington street, collided. Seeley's Ford was tipped over and badly smashed. He received slight injuries.

Friday evening last, Charles Pike of 14 Pond avenue, Newton, while crossing Washington street, near Thornton, was hit by a car driven by Samuel Simons of Erie street, Dorchester, Pike complained of injuries to his head. He was taken to his home by Simons.

ABOUT TOWN

Newton water was never more muddled than is the controversy over said water at the present time. About a month ago Dr. Bigelow of the State Department of Health, stated in a letter to the Water Commissioner that samples of water taken from various points in the ground supply system of this city at Needham (between July 20 and October 13, contained too much chlorine and carbonic acid. Last month residents on Langley road are bothered with water impregnated with Crenothrix and hold indignation meetings. A reporter from a Boston paper has a short story about the meeting. Next another Boston newspaper on two successive days gives the New Jersey tragedy second position to feature articles which tell the world that Newton water is not only unfit to drink, but even too polluted to bathe in. Folks in the remainder of New England must think that we Newtonians are not alone thirsty, but also dirty.

Following this startling "news" in the Boston papers, a dozen reputable Newton physicians meet in the office of the Newton Board of Health and assert that there is less intestinal disease in Newton than at almost any time on record. There are no water borne diseases in the city, nor has there been for some time. These twelve physicians agreed less than two weeks ago that "There is no immediate danger of Newton water becoming polluted." Slightly over a week ago, Mr. X. H. Goodnough, Chief Engineer of the State Board of Health, one of the most distinguished experts on water in this country, who has been requested to act in an advisory capacity in the gigantic project just started to add the Ware and Swift Rivers to the Metropolitan Water Supply, issues a statement, "that Newton water, according to an analysis made November 8, is thoroughly satisfactory and safe for public consumption." All this was related in last week's GRAPHIC. In another paragraph we noted that the two Boston papers which made such capital out of the complaints over Newton water, had inconspicuously printed Mr. Goodnough's statement.

Then as the reputation of Newton water is improving again, comes a bolt out of the clearing sky (or water). Yesterday afternoon a score of Newton physicians at a meeting of the profession at Newton Hospital, held a long confab about our aqua impura, and voted to wait on the Mayor and advise him to abandon the supply which we have used for the last 50 years, until the State Department of Health will guarantee that said supply is safe for consumption. Apparently the statement made by Mr. Goodnough was not sufficiently reassuring for the majority of the physicians present at the meeting yesterday. This latest phase of the "troubled water situation will be glad news to the owners of the various distilled and spring waters who rapidly increased their sales when the scare started over our drinking fluid. Said sales dropped off some last week. Now they will jump appreciably again.

Personally we have been drinking copiously of Newton water for about 40 years and still have confidence in it. We heard of a snake which bit a man, and then died. We don't live down by the "winegar woiks", but we seem to thrive on Newton water. Perhaps other folks have more fear of the "bugs" alleged to be in our municipal beverage. Anyhow, inasmuch as Dr. Bigelow and Mr. Goodnough said "there is no colon bacillus in Newton water" we will continue to guzzle it without stint. It tastes good to us. We admit at times it has been so off color, and so off taste, that we have temporarily desisted from quaffing it, but we blamed that on the Crenothrix, and as soon as the water resumed its normal color, we consumed it generously again. We have never balked at bathing in it, no matter how murky it was. Why should we? Don't people go to Mount Clemens, Hot Springs, French Lick Springs and other thermal resorts and pay big money to bathe in muddy and mineral impregnated water? Why kick then, when we can get similar treatment right here at home without any extra charge? And if worst comes to worst, and Newton water is declared unfit to drink, which we doubt, we will emigrate to Quebec or Ontario, where the "brown stuff" in the water is not Crenothrix. These folks who are crying for Metropolitan Water are welcome to it. Not so long ago we were motoring on a windy day by the water basin up Southboro way. A gust of wind blew a quantity of "stuff" into the water. It is asserted that water contaminated by having such impurities blown into it, is purified through the agency of the sun's rays. But after seeing the "debris" which was wafted into the Metropolitan basin that day, notwithstanding the cleansing properties ascribed to the indigo, blue, green, ultra violet, and the other rays emanating from Old Sol, we prefer to take a chance on the subterranean supply of Newton.

POLICE NEWS

At 12.22 a. m. Tuesday morning, Patrolmen Frank Feeley and John Foley, together with Motorcycle Officer McHugh, arrested Rosamund Gustafson of 429 Brookline avenue, Boston, and Philip DeLoria of 728 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, near the Community Theatre. According to the policemen, Rosamund was attempting to navigate an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Her companion, according to the police, was soused. The lady with the Nordic name, and the gentleman with the Latin name were taken to West Newton and imprisoned for the night. Their cases will be heard December 9.

Henry Baker of 69 Crafts street, Newtonville, was arrested Tuesday night by Serg. Moran and Patrolman Feeley, charged with receiving a stolen tire. He will be tried today.

Abraham Welansky of Roxbury was fined $200 on Wednesday for driving "wutiol." Abraham was also assessed $10 for being drunk. Frank Murdock, 43, of 94 Los Angeles street, was bound over to the Grand Jury by Judge Bacon on Wednesday. Murdock was arrested recently charged by Alice Delory of 85 Allison street with attempted assault.

gated slate. There are brick and stone buttresses on the exterior. Leaded glass windows are used in the principal rooms.

There is a commodious vestibule at the main entrance opening directly into the main reading room, finished in brown oak, with delivery desk in the centre. One side is for adults and the other for children. There are bookcases all around and seats under the large end windows. There is a Gothic fireplace on the rear wall and a glass screen between the reading room and the work room.

The roof is supported by ornamental Gothic trusses, and the floor is covered with linoleum. Adjoining the work room at the rear is a room for the librarian.

There is a stairway in the rear which serves as an exit and also gives access to the toilets in the basement.

The basement is devoted entirely to Community purposes. There is an entrance at grade to the large community room about 30x36 feet with beamed ceiling and fireplace. There is a room for a motion picture machine under the vestibule. Adjoining the community room is a kitchen equipped in the most modern manner. In addition to the toilets already mentioned there is a heater and coal room, a committee room and a room for storage.

The floors are all of granolithic except in the community room where linoleum is used.

ALDERMANIC CONTESTS

A few contests loom up in the coming municipal election. In Ward 2, Alderman Daniel O'Connell. who has represented the Ward for the past four years, and who has gained a considerable following in all three precincts, will be opposed by Mr. Augustus L. Wakefield of Prescott street, an old resident of Newtonville. Thomas F. Hickey of Wyoming road also filed papers, but subsequently stated that he would withdraw. He had not done so up to the time the Graphic went to press, late this morning, but perhaps may before 5 o'clock this afternoon, when the time for withdrawals elapses.

In Ward 4 there are two contests. For Alderman-at-large, the present incumbent, George M. Heathcote, will be opposed by Harold T. Dougherty of Auburndale, the former librarian, and Howard Murphy of Lower Falls. The real fight in this contest will be between Mr. Heathcote and Mr. Dougherty, as Mr. Murphy is a newcomer to the city and little known. Mr. Heathcote has been the outstanding minority member of the aldermen for the past few years, and his defeat would not cause grief to several of his fellow members. He has, however, a large following throughout the city, and will be a hard men to eliminate. Albert L. Cole, a former Newton policeman, who has several times been an unsuccessful candidate for Ward Alderman, will again oppose William M. Noone, who seeks re-election.

In Ward 5, Mr. Charles L. Favinger, who runs for a second term, will be opposed by Willard McKenzie of Richardson road, Upper Falls. Mr. Favinger should win easily.

THE WATER SUPPLY

A meeting of the physicians of Newton, twenty in number, was held at the Newton Hospital yesterday afternoon. The condition of the water supply of the city was freely discussed. It was finally decided that the physicians in a body should wait upon the Mayor and recommend to him that the present local water supply on the banks of the Charles River be abandoned, until such time as a safe supply of water can be guaranteed by the State Department of Public Health.

(Editor's Note—In the face of recent repeated analysis by the State Board and the statement of Mr. Goodnough, its Chief Engineer, that Newton water is safe, we fail to understand this action of a small group of physicians).

CITY HALL NOTES

Wednesday afternoon the employees of City Hall assembled in the large committee room and presented Street Commissioner George E. Stuart and his wife, with a set of valuable glass ware. The collection included drinking glasses on many varieties. The presentation was made by Mayor Childs. Mr. Stuart, who was completely surprised, expressed his deep appreciation for the manifestation of friendship on the part of his associates, and invited all to enjoy the hospitality of his home. He told the donors that anytime they came, he will fill the glasses with "pure Newton water."

ABOUT TOWN

The white lights lately placed along Washington street, West Newton, are such an improvement over the old type arc lamps, that citizens are advocating replacing all the arc lights along Washington street with the more modern type.

Some of the cars of the Middlesex & Boston have been painted with colors resembling those used on these cars 25 or more years ago.

It is peculiar that the day before the first "news" appeared in big headlines in a Boston paper "that Newton's water is not only not fit to drink, but even unfit to take a bath in," a prominent Newton druggist remarked to us, "Newton water is much better since the mains were cleaned." We agreed with him. A couple of days ago we met George Brophy and Patrolman William Kiley in West Newton. Officer Kiley admitted he drinks about 15 glasses of Newton water every day, and has been drinking said water for 50 years. Of course "Bill" did not drink so much of the water during the first year or two of his life. Persons who contend that Newton water is unhealthy should see "Bill." He has a complexion that a school girl would envy. There is nothing delicate looking about Officer Kiley.

We have the opinion, and we have resided in Newton much longer than most of the persons who urge that the water for this city be taken from the Metropolitan supply, that if a referendum should be voted upon, at least 80 per cent of the voters of this city would ballot to retain the present supply.

Greater Boston newspapers devoted columns of space to articles alleging that Newton's water is unfit either to drink or to bathe in. One paper featured this "news" on its front page. But a statement from Mr. Goodenough, Chief Engineer of the State Board of Health, telling that Newton water is "O. K.," was limited to a space of about a dozen lines, tucked away on an inside page. On certain streets in the city, residents are having trouble with the city water. An Auburndale resident informed us this week that the water supplied to his house frequently contains much rusty sediment and is unfit for use. He lives on a new street supplied through a small dead-end main. Undoubtedly the special committee of the Aldermen studying the water situation will correct such cases as this as soon as possible.

The gold fish said to have been killed by the "pollution" in the Newton water were quite valuable. They probably were 22 carat gold fish.

Talking about goldfish. Several years ago, before the 18th Amendment went into effect, a well known resident of Newton invited a few friends to his home one night. One of his guests was a person with a highly developed sense of humor. The host prepared a lunch for his visitors. He opened a tin of sardines and made some sandwiches. Then he went to the kitchen to get the coffee. During his absence the practical joker in the party removed the sardines from the sandwich which was reserved for the host, and replaced them with several tiny goldfish which he took from a bowl on the living-room table. The host returned with the coffee and ate the goldfish sandwich, not noticing the substitution. This may sound like a "fish" story, but it is true.

Despite the fact that our zoning ordinance forbids a business being conducted in a residential zone, some persons in the city have been violating the law. Objections have not been made in most cases because these infractions have been carried on in an inconspicuous manner. But, when a new comer to the city will openly advertise a business in a West Newton residential section, the neighbors in that district can hardly be blamed for asking, "Why is this violation of the zoning ordinance permitted?"

The "open season" on deer is about with us. Next week the woods will be filled with hunters and "would be hunters." Many more of the latter than the former. It is a farce to observe how easy it is to obtain a hunting license. Any person can go to his local city or town clerk and obtain a hunting and fishing license by paying $2.25. Even aliens who are unable to read or write a word of English. No examination is given to ascertain whether the person receiving the license has any knowledge of the laws relating to hunting and fishing. No test must be passed to prove that the applicant has any knowledge of the proper use of firearms. And thus provided with a license, the "hunters" can sally forth equipped with deadly weapons in quest of bird and wild animals.

A large percentage of those obtaining hunting licenses are city bred persons who can hardly tell a heifer from a deer or a pheasant from a domestic fowl. Many who receive licenses never had any experiences with guns and have never been in the woods. It is no wonder that many birds are killed which are "protected," and it is a wonder that more persons are not killed by "hunters" who know little or nothing regarding the death dealing tools they carry and use.

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

The Newton delegation at Mount Holyoke is so large that for another week we must take the time and the space to relate their accomplishments and victories.

In the junior class there are two girls whom we have not mentioned previously, namely: Louise Paul and Esther Stiles. The latter comes from Newtonville. During her stay at the High School she was a member of the Spanish Club for the first two years of its existence. The organization was then in its formative state and, due in part to her interest, it became very strong and last year took its place as one of the major clubs of the school. She was also in that distinctive group that composes the Library Club and sang in the Chorus under Mr. Griffin's direction in 1924. This year marked the first real advance in the way of mass singing, and the results are clearly shown in the Outdoor Concert staged in the last days of school each year. The beauty and attractiveness of the arrangement has appealed to many, and the success of the now annual presentation has been remarkable. As for Louise Paul, her talent for dancing in all its varied forms made her leader among the students of the school who were interested in this amusement. Few will forget her rendition of the Indian maid in "White Blossom," the Senior Play o f1924, when she held the audience for some moments by her interpretive skill. In school she was a member of the English Club for three years, and in her senior terms a representative of the Forum, its allied body. Two other organizations claimed her attention, the Alpha Gamma Tau for two seasons, and Le Cercle Francais, or the French Club during her senior year. In that same year she was a writer on the Newtonian under Lawrence Peakes, who edited the finest of recent yearbooks. Sports claimed her interest but little, although she did play on the Volley Ball team her freshman year, and in much the same fashion she was a member of the now obsolete Mandolin Club for the last two years of its existence.

Margaret Raye of Newton Centre has undergone a series of mishaps since her entrance in 1924. Due to illness she lost the major portion of her sophomore year and in consequence is considered in some subjects as a junior while in others she is graded as a class lower. She passed most of her preparatory years in Norwalk, Connecticut, attending a private school in the vicinity, later she came to Newton High, and finally graduated from the Choate School for Girls in Brookline. Her chief interest lies along the line of the study of Archaeology. Because of this desire, her studying has been in that bogey of all Classical students, Latin, in which subject she has gained honors and credit for herself.

The leader of the sophomore delegation at South Hadley is Mary Reynolds of Newton Highlands. Graduating from Newton in 1923, she spent the next two years working in a hospital in Boston. Arriving at the conclusion that she would be better fitted for her work if she attended college, she brushed up on her studies and passed the College Board examinations with flying colors, in spite of her long absence away from organized study. She is one of the most popular girls in her class at Mount Holyoke, holding class office and being a delegate of her class on the all-important body known as the Student Government. The Debating Society an dits later off-spring, the Forum, held her membership card for three years at Newton. During this time she was a finalist in the Prize Speaking in 1921. In her junior year she headed the Junior Reception Committee that always prepares the festivities for the Seniors on Graduation Day, and later it has charge of the Banquet arrangements. Her final year was one of many honors, chiefly in positions of responsibility, such as the Student Council, the Senior Play Committee, and as Editor's Assistant on the Newtonian. As an actress in the Senior Play of that year she made a paratively small part real and vivid. This to such an extent that it became one of the features of Mr. F. L. Bacon's production, "My Lady Coquetry."

Among her class-mates are two Newtonites, Mary Warren and Elizabeth Miller, both of Auburndale. The first named was the creator of some of the most vivid word pictures ever written by a high school student. Usually these took the form of verse, and under the careful instruction of Miss F. M. Smith she increased her power of expression until at the end of her senior term she was writing some very creditable lyrics. As could easily be surmised, she was a member of Alpha Beta her sophomore year, which at the same time was the natal year of the group itself. Later, during her final sessions at the school, she was enrolled in the upperclass organization, the English Club. In her writing for the Newtonite she showed prowess, especially in the line of ingenuity, for she was the instigator and writer of the column known as "Their Other Side", that served to put the faculty and the student body at large on a friendlier footing. For her services she was awarded one of the most coveted honors that the school has to offer, a Newtonite charm, given as a mark of merit and as an appreciation of work well done. She also was a member of Ex Libris, the Latin Club that Miss Wallace founded recently, one of the most difficult of all similar organizations to gain membership due to the stringent scholastic requirements. In her junior year she was in the Mathematics Club, and in her final term a contributor to the Newtonian. Her neighbor, Elizabeth Miller, pursued much the same course at Newton for she was a writer on the Newtonite, and also a member of Ex Libris her last year. She excelled in the study of French, being a leader in the outside body of the same department, besides being in the first French burlesque that had ever been presented in its native tongue in Newton. She sang in the Glee Club her senior year, and also was elected to the English Club during the same term.

From the same graduating class but entering as a freshman this year due to illness is Eloise Andrews of West Newton. She belonged to Alpha Beta for two seasons and in later years to its parent organization, the English Club. Her chief bent seemed to be along the royal road of mathematics, and as a result she was in Alpha Gamma Tau for three consecutive years. The French Circle had her on their lists for two seasons and in her senior year she was one of the overseers of the Library. Politically she held positions of responsibility as she was a member of the Student Council for two years during her first terms at Newton.

No Engine Fumes in Buick Closed Cars!

In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car.

This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious odors. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation.

The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. With it, crankcase vapors have no opportunity to condense and dilute the oil. Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year.

For luxury, and for economy, own a Buick.

than does to the manner of the paid professional.

Owing to a late-in-the-season change in chairmanship of the Dramatic Committee, a long and ambitious play was not attempted this year, and instead, Mrs. E. S. Drowne, the new chairman, and her committee, have chosen three short plays to be presented in the Parish House of the Congregational Church Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

"Evening Dress Indispensable," a delightful comedy, will be the first presented, with Mrs. William A. Camp, who was called in on a week's notice, playing the leading part. Those supporting her are Miss Ruth Fairchild, William F. Coan, James Colton and Miss Mildred D. Moore.

The fantasy written by a Newton Centre girl, which won the prize offered last year by the Boston Federation of Woman's Clubs, is the next on the program, under the title "When the Moon is Three-Quarters Full." The part of "The Moon" is to be taken by Miss Katherine Howes; that of the "Porcelain Shepherdess" by Mrs. Hazel Sands Welch; "The Clock" by Mrs. Robert Chapin and that of "The Portrait" by Paul Norton.

"Buying Culture," a farce first produced by the Theatre Guild of Boston, will be the concluding one-act play of the evening, and the three characters are to be played by Mrs. Henry H. Skelton, Mrs. Ben Mason, and Edwin S. Drowne. Music by local talent will be given before the curtain rises and between the acts.

After the dramatics Tuesday evening, there will be a holiday recess until January 4th, when regular meetings will be resumed, and a well-known Hindoo will speak on India.

Now are the delightful days when play and plans certainly occupy all thoughts. Christmas is certainly "in the air" and Club programs prove this by kindly plans for others in trees and parties, with attendant exciting packages and attractive candies and goodies," and in the play that becomes plural, in dramatics with attendant "dressing up and making believe," a pastime that humans always have been, and always will be, inveigled into, because of their allure. Not only are the Newton Upper Falls and Newton Highlands Club Women indulging in these pleasures, but Auburdale and Newtonville are imbued with the same absorption. Both of the latter Clubs are offering as beckoning entertainment to members and guests as the former already announced to readers, as witness:

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Open Meeting" will be observed Tuesday evening, December 7th, at 8 o'clock in the Congregational Church. This is the annual meeting, open to the public, when the finest Club program of the year is shared with the community. The meeting is in conjunction with Lasell Seminary. Mr. Phidelah Rice, Dean of Leland Powers School of Boston and President of the Phidelah Rice Summer School of Vineyard Haven, who has a national reputation for clever impersonations will read "David Garrick."

That this opportunity offered so cordially to friends and guests will be eagerly accepted will be proven, doubtless, by the "full house" that will gladden the hearts of hostess organizations and the master entertainer.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The regular meeting—and yet how anything but "regular" in its new charm of Christmas atmosphere—of the Newtonville Woman's Club will be held at two-thirty on Tuesday, December 7th, at the Central Church. "The Country Cousin," by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, will be read by Miss Margaret Ammann. Freshness of viewpoint, uncanny imagination and adroit writing are used by Mr. Tarkington, a master of technique, to make an attractive play. The author does not fall below his own artistic level in the comedy of this play. Just as in "Seventeen," "Gentle Julia" and "Monsieur Beaucaire" he couches life in terms of its fascinating little truths and dramatizes enchantingly all that comes to his net. A treat is in store for the members of the Club and their guests.

Mr. Julius Lucht, librarian of the Newton Public Library, is to give a short talk on the new and worthwhile books. Mr. Lucht has only recently come to this Library and the Club feels itself fortunate in having secured a few minutes of his time. This will be especially welcomed as timely in Christmas suggestions for gifts.

At this meeting, also, contributions of old clothes, toys, and money for the Christmas Party will be received. As usual, (how wonderful to be able to speak of such generosity and warm-heartedness with this word!) fifty thoroughly deserving children are to be selected by Miss Marion Bassett for this annual event. The committee in charge has been very busy making dresses, blouses, etc., for the children and this work will be exhibited at the meeting. This should indeed serve as a joy and inspiration to see materialized the thoughts for happiness and comfort for others, and the Club is to be congratulated upon its splendid annual mission among mankind.

Social Science Club

Dr .Walter B. Cannon will speak at the next meeting of the Social Science Club, on December 8th, at the Hunnewell Club. His subject will be, "Methods and Results of Medical Research."

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Thursday morning, December 9th, at 10.30 o'clock, members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club who are wisely keeping abreast of speeding times by attending Current Event courses, will hear Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole give her second in this series for the Club.

The Education Committee of the Club is conducting on Monday mornings, at 10.30 o'clock, also, another most important course for Club women, and a most successful Class, one in Parliamentary Law, under the direction of Mrs. Electa M. Sherman. To study this engaging topic under Mrs. Sherman is an education, not alone in the topic, but in quick wits, in humor that is delightful, and in many other characterstics worth copying. Parliamentary Law is a subject that no Club woman can afford to be ignorant upon, and certainly no woman who holds office, or may do so, has a right to accept office without being conversant with its principles and applications, for nothing can disrupt a meeting quicker than an unpoised or ignorant presiding officer of this science of business. Her meeting is helpless, however well-informed it may be, if she does not know how to extend the courtesy, and aid, and justice of her official guidance.

Speaking of Mrs. Poole and of her mastery of the art of talking before Clubs on many, many matters, reminds your Editor of the two hilarious toasts given in her honor in a frolicsome get-together recently of the officers and committees of the Brockton Woman's Club—her home town that has placed her on a pinnacle—which Newton women may enjoy knowing about. The president of the Club gave this toast:

" 'We have with us tonight,'
As all toastmasters say,
What's left of Grace Poole,
And I'll say it's Okay.

Though she didn't talk there
To Geneva Grace went;
Sticking right by the League
Till her bankroll was spent.

Grace is back home and broke
But she's not a bit sore;
While the Women's Clubs live
She can earn a lot more."

And this even more lively ditty sung by the Club Choristers to the tune of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'," will be appreciated by the Club women who know the magic in Mrs. Poole's tongue:

"Grace Poole's gonna talk some mo',
some mo',
Grace Poole's gonna talk some mo'.
It gives us a thrill
We can't keep still—
Grace Poole's gonna talk some mo'."

Newton Community Club

"Is Woman Suffrage Fulfilling Its Promise" is the curiosity-provoking title of an address by Mrs. Jennie Loitman Barron before the Newton Community Club for its next meeting, on the 9th. The Club meets in Underwood School Hall at 2.30 o'clock, and after the business meeting, Mrs. Barron will answer this question of her own propounding, for to those who admit that the percentage of women who vote far surpasses the per cent of men the question seems already answered in many respects. Mrs. Barron was the first mother elected to the Boston School Committee in more than twenty years. She does all the court work for the law firm in which she is associated with her husband, and has been admitted to the practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. Besides this she maintains a home. She would seem qualified to talk upon woman's place in the business and political field, therefore.

Boston Woman's Civic Club

Another intensely interesting progrom has been provided for the next one of the Boston Woman's Civic Club for Wednesday, the 8th, at the Hotel Brunswick, at 2.30 P. M. Well-known people, leading lights of the State Federation, come to add the glory of their ability to make this Club stand far in the forefront of Clubdom. The president herself, Mrs. May Bliss Dickinson Kimball, is by no means one of the least of the State officers who make this Club so worthwhile.

The guest of honor and principal speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Herbert J. Guerney, war president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Guerney, who spent several months in Europe last summer, will present vivid personal experiences of her trip, and her charming delivery and keen sense of humor are always a delight.

Mrs. Mina G. Del Castillo, music chairman of the Club, has arranged a special program of music which will include soprano solos by Mrs. Helen Edlesson Barr, and community singing led by the Club song leader, Mrs. Miner H. A. Evans.

The current events period will be in charge of Miss Gwendoline Albee, chairman of the Northeastern Division of the National Federation, and State Chairman in the Department of Press and Publicity. Miss Albee has a natural and naive way of talking that makes an audience feel at ease and enjoy every moment.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The following selections will be rendered by the Newton Choral Society at its 14th concert to be given Monday evening, December 13, at 8 o'clock at the new high school auditorium: "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light," Bach; "Marching Tune", Grainger; "I Hear the Soft Voice", Sullivan; "Chorus of Bacchantes", Gounod; "Sir Eglamore", Gardner; "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes", Nevin; "Nobody Knows De Trouble I've Seen", Burleigh; "Swansea Tune", Holst; "Jesu Bambino", Yon; "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Mount of Olives", Beethoven.

The society is very fortunate in securing Miss Olivia Cate as its soloist. She is a product of our own city, of whom all music lovers should be proud, and with her extended study in Europe and concert experience, she gives a very interesting presentation of famous piano masterpieces.

Members of the chorus should all attend the rehearsal of next Tuesday night, as a fully attended rehearsal will contribute much to the success of the performance.

WORK ON STREETS AND SEWERS

Street Commissioner Stuart reports that to date there have been 18 different locations on resurfacing streets amounting to 33,110 sq. yds. The City Government appropriated $75,000.00 for this class of work. The locations are designated by His Honor, the Mayor, the City Engineer and the Street Commissioner.

Appropriations amounting to $175,500.62 have been made for 57 sanitary sewers, a distance of 25,768 feet, which includes the Faneuil Valley sewer now being constructed.

Special drain work in 11 locations amounted to $74,401.85 while 4 betterment streets amounted to $25,450.00.

$6,365.00 was appropriated for five widenings.

All of the above special work is nearly completed.

He has admired it—thought of it many times.

He has pictured, in his den or office, that handsome cabinet of walnut or mahogany.

D. R. BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Executive Board of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., entertained the members at a delightful birthday party at the home of Mrs. W. L. Ratcliffe, 284 Franklin street, Newton, on Thursday, Dec. 2nd, at 2.30 o'clock.

This month marks the Thirtieth Anniversary of the founding of Sarah Hull Chapter, the oldest patriotic society of its kind in Newton. It was named for Sarah Hull, who was the great granddaughter of two of the fathers of Newton, John Fuller, who came here in 1635, and Edward Jackson, who came in 1645. The posterity of these two founders far outnumbers that of any other early settler of the town. Twenty-two of their descendants served in the Revolutionary war. Sarah Hull was the wife of General Isaac Hull, whose house stood where the Newton Technical High School now stands.

Sarah Hull Chapter was fortunate in securing Dr. Garfield Morgan of Lynn as the speaker on this aniversary. His subject, "Facing Frontiers" was inspirational. The Orpheus Trio, Ruth P. Merry, piano, Edith L. Greene, violin, and Mildred E. Quitekan, played throughout the reception hour, when all had the pleasure of being presented to Dr. Morgan, the Regent, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, and the special guests of honor, the officers of the State Society, D. R. They were: Mrs. Adeline Frances Fitts, Past Regent General, D.R.; Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, State Regent; Mrs. Myra B. Loud, Vice-Regent; Mrs. Walter C. Whitney, Rec. Secretary; Miss Emma Byam, Cor. Sec.; Mrs. Edson J. Gould, Treas.; Mrs. Walter W. Thompson, Registrar; Mrs. Henry G. Weston, Librarian; and Mrs. Elmer A. P. Phillips, District Vice Regent.

It is a matter of pride to our Chapter that three of these State Officers, the Regent, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, the Recording Secretary, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney, and the Treasurer, Mrs. Edson J. Gould, were chosen from Sarah Hull Chapter. The ushers during the reception period were Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson, Mrs. Roland Thayer and Mrs. Raymond T. Fosgate.

Not the least interesting item of the days program was the brief resume read by Mrs. Adelbert Fernald of the history and achievements of Sarah Hull Chapter during the past 30 years.

A large birthday cake was the center of the table decorations. This cake was cut by Mrs. Alexander M. Ferris, the first Regent of the Newton Chapter. Those who poured were Mrs. John G. Godding, Miss A. Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. Oliver Fisher, and Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge.

POLICE NEWS

Peter Johnson of 35 Derby street, West Newton, who was arrested recently after his home had been raided by Serg. Mahoney and a squad of police, and a large quantity of ale seized, was again in court Tuesday on the charge of illegally manufacturing intoxicating liquor. His case was continued until December 4th. When Johnson was arrested, he was charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale. His daughter, Mrs. Hilda Goulding, was also in court Tuesday charged with obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duty. Serg. Mahoney accuses the young woman of snatching a bottle of beer from his hand while the raid was in progress, threatening to strike him with it, and then smashing it on the floor. Her case was also continued to December 4th.

Patrolman Gaquin is not on the traffic squad of the Newton police. He is to be commended therefore for showing some activity in apprehending persons who menace their own and other citizens' lives by reckless driving. He was responsible for the appearance in court Tuesday of Elmer Parks of Lynn, and Malcolm Ramsdell of Lowell street, Waltham, who were each fined $10 for speeding. Other patrolmen who give evidences of being on the alert to safeguard traffic are Charles Feeley and John Green. Feeley had William Ahern of Allston in court Tuesday for not having proper lights on his auto. Green had Francis Getman of 73 Harding street, West Newton, in court on the same day on a similar charge. Each was fined $5. Getman took an appeal.

George Osborne of 27 Eliot street, Newton Highlands, reported to the police that some thief stole a tire from his auto Monday night, while the car was parked on Bowers street, near the Masonic Temple.

Monday evening at 5.45 police headquarters received a call to send some officers to a house on Oak avenue, West Newton, as a real disturbance was in progress there. Serg. Veduccio with Patrolmen Green and Maloney made a quick trip to the house and found that a very heated family argument had been engaged in between Mrs. Gertrude Valente of Cottage Pl., Mrs. Esther Castagnino of River St., and the latter's husband, Frank Castagnino. The three had gone to the Oak avenue house to visit a sick relative and had become engaged in an argument which waxed so violent that it developed into a small riot. Mrs. Valente has been in court on former occasions as a result of becoming involved in family brawls. Mrs. Castagnino was in court a couple of weeks ago on a larceny charge, found guilty and took an appeal. Their cases were continued until December 6th.

Thomas Brogie of 72 Tremont St., Brighton, was fined $15 by Judge Bacon Tuesday for drunkeness, and $25 for throwing glass on a public highway. He was arrested Monday afternoon at Newton Corner by Serg. Seaver and Officer Taffe.

Jack LeStefano, 14, of 54 Lincoln road, was arrested Sunday night by Patrolmen Frank Feeley and Walker charged with the larceny of an automobile tire. His case was continued to the session of the juvenile court. Feeley noticed the boy walking through Nonantum Square. Later a man named Monaghan, residing on Jefferson street, reported that his car had been jacked up and a tire stolen from it.

Adolph Scott of Brighton was sentenced to one month in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Monday for driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Scott appealed. He had a record of several previous convictions on various charges.

Paul Veno of 64 Dalby street reported to the police Sunday evening that a Hudson sedan had been deserted on Dalby street near his residence. The car was once stolen in Somerville from Benjamin Thacher of Arlington.

Motorcycle Officer Dowling and Patrolman King have been awarded certificates for completing courses in criminal law through the State Univerity Extension.

In court last Friday Judge Bacon fined George Selvitelli of Riverside avenue, Medford, $100 for driving while under the influence of liquor, and $20 for creating a disturbance, and $10 for drunkenness. Samuel Clevesy of the same address was fined $20 for creating a disturbance and $10 for being drunk. Officer Feeley was the complainant.

The case of William Durkee, of Waltham, arrested two weeks ago by Patrolman Joe Lyons for bootlegging, was tried by Judge Weston last Saturday. Lyons had Durkee under surveillance for some time, and when he placed him under arrest at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Lexington street, Auburdale, he found four bottles of liquor on the Waltham man's person. He charged Durkee with keeping and exposing liquor for sale, and with illegal transportation of liquor. Durkee's attorney offered as a witness for the defence the operator of the Middlesex and Boston bus which arrived in Auburndale from Waltham just before Durkee was arrested. He testified that the defendant had not been a passenger on his bus. Judge Weston ruled that the fact that several bottles of liquor had been found on Durkee was sufficient proof of illegal transportation. On this charge he gave the defendant a sentence of one month in the House of Correction, and then suspended this sentence for one year. On the count of keeping and exposing liquor for sale, Durkee was fined $50. When Durkee was arrested, he was also charged with drunkenness. He demanded examination by a physician and Dr. Lowe was called. As a result of Dr. Lowe's testimony, Durkee was found not guilty of this charge.

Leonard Foster, the Waltham young man sentenced to the House of Correction for 15 days by Judge Bacon on November 21st, was released from the prison by Judge Bacon's order last Friday. Foster and a fellow worker in a Waltham lunch room, Norman Buckley, had been arrested by Patrolman Gaquin for annoying two young women at West Newton. The girls, Margaret Cullen and Delia Rooney, both employed as domestics, told the judge on November 21st, that they were not acquainted with the young men, and that the latter had attempted to escort them against their wishes. Last Friday the girls again appeared in court and upon being questioned by James Oates of Watertown, attorney for Buckley, they testified that they had been engaged in conversation with Buckley and Foster for about an hour, while in Waltham on the night that the young men were arrested. Judge Bacon did not reverse his finding of guilty, but placed Buckley's case on file and ordered the release of Foster, who had withdrawn his appeal on November 22nd, when he could not obtain bail.

WOMAN KILLED AT WEST NEWTON

Mrs. Nellie Bellows, 49, of 6 Iona street, Roslindale, was instantly killed Saturday afternoon in an auto crash at the corner of Commonweath avenue and Chestnut streets, West Newton. Her husband, Ernest Bellows, 52, was seriously injured, his skull being fractured. Mr. and Mrs. Bellows had spent Thanksgiving with their daughter, Mrs. Susan Tierney of Fiskdale, and she was driving them back to their home in a Marmon touring car. With her in the front seat of the car was Mrs. Ethel Pion of Southbridge. As the automobile driven by Mrs. Tierney was passing Chestnut street, on Conmonwealth avenue, a Chandler car driven by Leland A. Merrihew of Burnham street, Waverley came along Chestnut street and hit the rear of the Tierney auto. The Marmon was swerved around by the force of the collision, diverted over the sidewalk into a vacant lot, and Mr. and Mrs. Bellows hurled out. The top of the woman's skull was torn off. Mrs. Tierney and Mrs. Pion were severely shaken up but escaped serious injuries. Mr. Bellows was rushed to the Newton Hospital in a small truck owned by the Brae Burn Country Club. The body of Mrs. Bellows was removed to the Hospital morgue in the police ambulance. Mrs. Tierney, Mrs. Pion and Merrihew were taken to Police Headquarters and their statements were taken verbatim by one of the stenographers. The two cars were taken to a garage for examination by inspectors from Registrar Goodwin's office. Neither car was badly damaged.

The intersection of Chestnut street and Commonwealth avenue is one of the most open in the city, the view being unobscured on all corners. An inquest on the death of Mrs. Bellows was held this week. Mrs. Bellows, who was born in Old Orchard, Maine, is survived by her husband, three married daughters and one son.

The women's gym class has now a sufficient enrollment to begin its course of fifteen lessons. The first meeting will be on Wednesday morning at 9.30. Particular attention will be given to posture work and there will also be plenty of snappy floor work. Miss Bennett has planned the program to fit all types of women.

Saturday, December 4, is the date of the next dance to be given in the Association rooms. Hansen's orchestra will play from eight to eleven and special dances are being arranged. Come and bring a friend.

The Blue Triangle Club members are showing much enthusiasm for the work of the winter and they are having splendid attendance at the meetings. The last meeting was of a social nature. The program included a play, directed by Miss Muriel Anderson, a volley ball game and there were tables for bridge and whist as well. At the meeting of December 6, there will be a program of Christmas stories and special music. There are also several surprizes in store. Every member is urged to be present.

The Board of Directors will hold their next regular meeting on Wednesday, December 15. Supper will be served at 6.30.

FIRE RECORD

Box 721 sounded Sunday night was for a fire in a truck at the Oak Hill Garage on Boylston street, Newton Centre. The truck was owned by John J. Casey of Mattapan.

Just after midnight Sunday, a still alarm brought Hose 8 to 113 West street, where a fire was blazing in a box of papers at the rear of the residence of Pietro Belsonti.

Sunday morning at 4.20 the Newton Centre apparatus was called on a still alarm to the residence of G. A. Benway at 529 Parker street, where a fire had started in the cellar. An overheated oil heater was the cause.

Box 85 at 8.30 Monday night was for a fire in the house at 57 Waban Hill Road, occupied by C. M. Tice. The blaze apparently started in a box of firewood and had gained much headway when the firemen arrived. It spread in between the partitions and did damage to the house and furniture that will run into the thousands.

MICHAEL CULLINAN

Michael Cullinan, for 27 years a letter carrier in this city, died suddenly of heart failure Sunday night at his home, 38 Union street, Watertown. Although not in the best of health for the past few years, Mr. Cullinan had worked steadily, and delivered his route as usual last Saturday. He was born in Waterford, Ireland, 61 years ago and became a resident of Newton over 40 years ago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Cullinan, three daughters, Mrs. Lyn Stowell of Los Angeles, Mrs. Lester Wombacher of Sherman, California, and Miss Mary Cullinan, and two sons, Joseph Cullinan of Los Angeles and Lawrence Cullinan of Watertown.

His funeral services were held Wednesday morning in St. Patrick's Church, Watertown. The remains were sent to Los Angeles for interment.

that a Girl Scout may win.

The Newton Girl Scout Leaders' Course held an out-door meeting at Camy Mary Day, on Saturday, Nov. 27th. There were 18 officers present, coming from all parts of Newton. They worked on their Second Class Fire Lighting Test, and in spite of the high wind and wet wood, a number succeeded in lighting their fires with just two matches and some sticks. It was a very cold day and the officers were glad when the time came to go to the Camp House and finish off the afternoon with hot cocoa around the open fire. The new leaders in this course will be given the tenderfoot test on December 2nd, and those that pass will be invested by Miss Freeman, the Newton Director, on December 9th.

On Wednesday evening, November 24th, Troop 14, the Senior troop in Waban, held a party in the parish rooms of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Mary Stephan was chairman of the entertainment committee, which provided games and stunts of many kinds, followed by refreshments. On Thanksgiving Day, Troops 14 and 4, as well as many other troops in other parts of the city carried baskets of food to needy families.

A new troop has been started in Newton Lower Falls, Troop 19. Its captain will be Miss Edith Monro of 122 Concord street, Newton Lower Falls. The first meeting of this troop was held at Miss Monro's house last week and 20 girls were present. After this their meetings will be held in the library every Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. This is the first Troop to be started in this village, and it is hoped that it will be very successful.

The Girls' Conference of the Boston Metropolitan District will be held in Newton on January 7th, 8th, and 9th. This conference will be run entirely by the girls themselves, and will be the first thing of its kind ever held in the Eastern part of Massachusetts by any organization. Similar gatherings have been held in Springfield for three years. Three hundred delegates will be sent by the cities in the Metropolitan District and these girls will be housed and entertained in Newton for the three days of the conference. Ethel DeMille of Troop 13, Newton Centre has been elected chairman of the conference. The committee chairmen will be Janice Upham of Waban for housing, Marion Frost of Waban for transportation, and Ruth Lapham of Newtonville for publicity.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

"The Black Pirate" starring Douglas Fairbanks comes to the Community Theatre, Newton, for four days starting Sunday, December 5.

The other picture that is showing with "The Black Pirate," is one that is bound to please. For the first time in motion pictures, members of a championship football team serve as motion picture extras and play a game to order in "Forever After." Lloyd Hughes and Mary Astor co-star in this picture.

For the last three days of the week the Community is offering everybody's favorite, Reginald Denny in "Take It From Me."

ARTICLE No. 2

In a preceding article, reference was made to a player in Chicago holding thirteen of a suit and the statement was made that such a hand would be held only once in about one hundred and fifty billion hands. The law of averages, however, seems to have slipped somewhere for another such hand — thirteen diamonds, this time — was held in Chicago, July 19, 1925, and is authenticated by affidavit. Why the law of averages seems to slip only in Chicago is still a mystery, but slip it does and that means that the rest of us will have to keep on holding stupid hands for many years before another player gets even a chance of holding thirteen of a suit again. The incident is not only noteworthy because of the unique holding but also because of the fact that the holder of the thirteen diamonds did not win the final declaration. Here are the hands of all four players:

Hearts — K, 9, 5, 4, 2
Clubs — J, 10, 9, 5, 2
Diamonds — none
Spades — 9, 6, 2

Hearts — A, 10, 8, 7, 6
Clubs — A, Q, 8, 7, 6, 3
Diamonds — none
Spades — 10, 4

: Y :
: A B :
: Z :

Hearts — Q, J, 3
Clubs — K, 4
Diamonds — none
Spades — A, K, Q, J, 8, 7, 5, 3

(dealer)
Hearts — none
Clubs — none
Diamonds — A, K, Q, J, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2
Spades — none

The dealer, Mr. John Donahoe, bid one diamond, A bid one heart, Y passed and B bid one spade. From then on B and Z bid up the hand until Z bid seven diamonds and B overbid with seven spades, even though his partner, A, had doubled both the six and seven diamond bid. Z opened the king of diamonds and if B had trumped in A's hand with the ten of spades, discarding the trey of hearts from his own hand, he could have made a grand slam. He was so excited, however, over the bidding, that he discarded a heart from A's hand and trumped in his own hand. As a result he lost his contract by one trick. It really is a most unusual hand and one for all auction players to remember. It is authenticated by affidavit so that there is no doubt as to its actual occurrence. Another interesting point in connection with it is whether or not Mr. Donahoe's bid of one diamond was the correct bid. It was either a case of one diamond or seven diamonds. If he had bid seven diamonds, A would undoubtedly have doubled and it is very questionable whether B would have bid seven spades. If you want to start an argument, ask your friends how they would have bid the hand. It is a close question but the writer is inclined to a bid of one diamond. It conceals the strength and if forced to a very high bid is more apt to force a double. A bid of seven with such a hand gives too much information. It indicates to the opponents that the bidder has an invincible hand and practically advertises: "Don't double for I can make my bid or if you want to save game, overbid and take a penalty." Think it over and discuss it with your friends.

Hearts — Q, 5, 4, 3, 2
Clubs — A, K, 8
Diamonds — A, K, 6
Spades — 10, 9

Hearts — A, J, 9, 8, 7
Clubs — Q, 3, 2
Diamonds — 10, 4, 3
Spades — Q, J

: Y :
: A B :
: Z :

Hearts — K, 10
Diamonds — Q, J, 9, 8
Spades — 7, 4, 3

Hearts — 6
Clubs — 7, 6, 5
Diamonds — 7, 5, 2
Spades — A, K, 8, 6, 5, 2

No score, first game. Z dealt and bid one spade. A passed, Y bid one notrump, B passed and Z bid two spades. All passed and A opened the ace of hearts. He then played the queen of spades. How can Z so play the hand that he can win the balance of the tricks against any defense? Z should win the trick with the king of spades and lead the deuce of diamonds, winning the trick in Y's hand with the king. He should then lead the trey of hearts from Y's hand and trump with the deuce of spades in his own hand. He should lead the ace and eight of spades. On the sixth trick, A cannot discard a heart, for if he does, Z can set up Y's heart suit. A is forced, therefore, to discard either a diamond or a club. It makes no difference which he does for Y must discard the same suit that A does. Suppose that A discards the deuce of clubs at trick six. Y should discard he eight of clubs and B follow suit. hould now lead the five of clubs, the suit A discarded, winning the trick in Y's hand with the king of clubs. Y should now lead the ace of clubs and follow with the queen of hearts. B should discard the nine of diamonds and Z the five of diamonds. Y should then lead the four of hearts. B should discard the ten of clubs and Z should trump with the five of spades. Z should now lead the six of spades. A cannot discard a heart for if he does, Y will discard a diamond and his heart is good. A must, therefore, discard the four of diamonds. Y should discard a heart and B is now up against the discard. If he discards the jack of diamonds, both of Y's diamonds are good. If he discards the jack of clubs, Z's seven of clubs is good. In either event, therefore, Y-Z must win the balance of the tricks. As an interesting variation, have A discard the trey of diamonds at trick six instead of the deuce of clubs. It is a clever little problem and should be carefully analyzed.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

I am glad and thankful, as the old ladies and others often put it, that Newton has no great murder trial to command space on the front pages of the daily newspapers. It wouldn't be any advantage to us as a city and surely nothing more or less than demoralizing to our citizenship. Newton's latest burst into the headlines was over its water supply, or at least what some people thought of it. I think those things do no harm even if exaggeration is permitted. But let's get back to murder and take up water later.

Now when a place like Somerville, N. J., has a murder trial of such wide public interest as the Hall-Mill case it must be that everything in the town is halted, at least to some extent. Naturally, things have got to go along somehow or there would be disaster, but the whole atmosphere of the town is, let us be charitable, tainted with the Hall-Mills court proceedings. What a calamity when a population has to take time off to watch the comings and goings of the court officials, the jury, the witnesses and—by no means the least numerous—the newspaper correspondents.

A town that is in the limelight under such circumstances is really up against it, although it doesn't begin to find out that fact for some time. It has been some time since I have "covered" a murder for a newspaper, but I haven't forgotten those to which I was assigned. I know that the townspeople grin when the newspaper reporters first appear, but as the days go by and the newspaper reporters remain the townspeople begin to show signs which seem to indicate they are not as hospitable as they were.

Now here is just the reason. A town doesn't mind a little publicity now and then if it doesn't last too long. When, however, papers all over the country, day in and day out, carry stories on their front pages under the date-line of that town, it gets on the nerves of the natives, especially when the subject of the dispatches happens to be a sensational murder.

I can easily imagine a resident of Somerville, N. J., receiving a letter from a cousin in Vermont from whom he had not heard in the long time. Ten to one the letter will say, "I haven't written to you in a long time but I thought I would ask you for the truth about this Hall-Mills murder, etc."

I would be willing to wager that the more thoughtful people of all classes in Somerville, N. J., wish there never had been such a case and are thoroughly sick and tired of the whole business. And I also urge Newton people to congratulate themselves they haven't any such thing as that to worry over.

I made some reference to water—Newton water. I suppose as a patriotic citizen I should hereby declare that any criticism of Newton water was both unfair and unjust and uncalled for. I know that I can tell the world that Newton water is all right and that bacterial tests have proved it. It might also be a patriotic thing to do to denounce anybody who dared say that Newton water was impure.

But I am not going to do that because in my opinion it would make this column look ridiculous. If there has been newspaper discussion of Newton water it is because Newton water, at least in appearance, has given good reason to make people talk and wonder. There were months and months when the water from the tap showed a discoloration that was most appalling in appearance although harmless enough in substance.

Now Newton has had a water problem. We might as well admit that. It isnt an'y reflection on anybody's integrity or industry when water mains become filled with rust. We might as well hold a man or woman accountable for their hair turning gray. Everybody and everythnig grows old—even water mains. And when they reach that situation they need attention.

Very well, Newton some months ago solved the difficulty, rather tardily it seems to me—and yet I have come to the conclusion that they have more time than anything else at City Hall. Well, as I say Newton did tackle the water problem and in my opinion did an excellent job in straightening out a mean condition. Consequently all danger has passed.

The whole thing is over now and it looks as if we could drink as much water as we wanted—those of us who stick to water—without worrying. Let us not forget, however, that there have been faults with the water system, for which no one individual is to blame and for which no one should be censured. We should admit a few mistakes once in a while instead of shouting our indignation, especially when it is more becoming to hold our tongues.

When Newton sees the amateur production of "The Bad Man," which the Players are to put on for their December series at Players' Hall next week, it will mean that there has been presented in Newton a New York success by a Newton playwright. Well, not exactly a Newton playwright, but one who was born and brought up in Newton and can claim this city as his old home. Having no theatre of its own for legitimate productions Newton enjoys well known Broadway hits through the medium of the highly creditable performances by the Players and other groups of equally skilled local amateurs.

This is the first time in my recollection, which is not as extensive as it might be and more or less hazy on many subjects, that Newton will gaze upon a success of the theatrical world from the hand of a favorite son. I might as well say now as at any time that I refer to Porter Emerson Brown, whose mother is a resident of Hollis street and who himself lived there when he first struck out for himself some twenty-odd years ago.

I shall not tell much about "The Bad Man," for it is too well known to need extensive comment. It was produced first in New York with Holbrook Blinn in the title role. Later Mr. Blinn was seen in it in Boston. After the usual wait the stock companies got it. Now it is available for amateurs. It's a rattling good show and you'll like it if you haven't seen it already.

Now the interesting thing about it to me is that Porter Brown probably hasn't heard that the Players are going to put it on. He will be pleasantly surprised when he receives the regular royalty that is paid him, which ought to be a source of some satisfaction at least. I remember that long ago Porter and I attended Players' performances together, for we both had the "theatre bug" as youngsters.

Also, Porter and I took our place side by side in amateur plays—not with the Players, for they weren't "casting" ambitious youths like us those days, but in more than one local affair, from melodrama to minstrelsy. I can vividly recall that Porter persuaded the management of a big amateur production in Boston that I was a comedian. They fell for it, and the result was that I appeared in a musical extravaganza for a whole week on the stage of the old Boston Theatre. It was for a well known charity so I got nothing but kind words, which meant more than a big salary.

This was to be about Porter Brown, wasn't it? Now Porter did newspaper work in Boston until he struck out for New York. Like all struggling dramatists he had pretty hard sledding for a time. Finally he got into the short story field and it wasn't long before he was turning them out for well known magazines. In fact it was that brought him to the front.

Robert Hilliard, the actor, who used to be a great favorite in his day, read one of Porter's stories in Red Book and bought the rights for dramatization. They worked together on it and produced a most acceptable vaudeville act called "Freckles." It was a story about an old Grand Army man and a waif and found favor right away.

It was about this time that Hilliard read Kipling's poem "A Fool There Was." "That's a great title," said Hilliard to Porter, "and I think the idea could be made into a play." Porter thought so, too, and set to work on the manuscript. Before many weeks had gone by Porter had written the play which I am sure many Newton people have seen—"A Fool There Was." It was a success and made Porter Emerson Brown one of the country's younger playwrights.

I am not going into a sketch of Porter's life, interesting as it might be, for so many people in Newton remember him, or should. At any rate he made good. "The Bad Man" he wrote after he had spent a lot of time in Arizona and in Mexico itself. Pancho Villa, the famous Mexican adventurer, was cutting-up pretty extensively about that time. Porter Brown knew a lot of things that Villa was doing and had done. He saw at once there was dramatic material in such a resourceful fellow. Well, that's how he came to write "The Bad Man," so that if you are in the audience next week you can think of Porter Brown, the Newton boy, and Pancho Villa, who furnished him the inspiration.

There is something which for a long time has puzzled me. I do not know if it is because I do not take long walks as often as I once did, or that conditions have actually changed. But is it, or isn't it a fact that people do not pay as much attention to sweeping off sidewalks in front of their houses?

The other day I saw a mon, a house-owner and the possessor of means, industriously pushing, or shall I say swinging, a broom in a commendable desire to clean the stretch of concrete that bordered his property. The sight somehow struck me as unusual. And yet when I began to ponder I said to myself, "People do, or at least they used to, clean their sidewalks. Has it gone out of fashion?"

And that is precisely what has me guessing at the present moment. Do residents care less than they did about appearances or do they say, "Let the city do it; we pay taxes enough!" I confess I am very much at sea.

I can distinctly recall the time when civic pride impelled the owner of property—no matter how imposing his bank account—to have a clean sidewalk. He, and she (for women are no less idealistic) had the front piazza, steps, and walk thoroughly "broomed" and then wound-up the ceremony by giving the sidewalk a complete "going-over."

Was that just an old-fashioned notion, and are the few who still cling to that custom too "fussy" for modern times?

Now I hesitate to preach, for fear I shall be put down for having celebrated a great many more birthdays than have rolled over my head. And yet I must say that in my judgment a great many of the old-fashioned virtues are somehow lost in the shuffle these days. Maybe not—but I'm open to conviction. There was a time when citizens would not tolerate anything that was not square and above board in what was really everybody's business and affected the welfare of the entire community. And yet such things, trifling and trivial, perhaps, are often winked-at nowadays. It seems a pity, too, for when people lose respect of one another, when citizens are not assured of the high-mindedness of those in authority—well it isn't as it should be and it just can't go on to any good end.

AT SKIDMORE COLLEGE

Miss Ann Schipper, of Trowbridge avenue, Newtonville, and Miss Alice Potter, of Centre street, Newton Centre, Mass., were both members of the victorious Sophomore hockey team which by winning the game over the Seniors on Field Day made themselves the champions of the college. Miss Schipper and Miss Potter played remarkable games which made the victory for their class possible.

MISS BAILEY ENGAGED

Professor and Mrs. Albert Edward Bailey of Newton Centre announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Miss Marion Bailey, to Edward James Sparling, Jr., of Stanford, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Sparling of Hollister, Calif.

Miss Bailey spent her college years in Europe, where she received a diploma from the University of Barcelona and also attended the University of Poitiers, in France. During her vacations, she travelled extensively in Europe and the Near East. She has just returned home from California, where she has been for the past two years. While in the West, she took graduate work at the University of California, and spent several months with her sister, Mrs. Frank Linden Maylor, Jr., of Berkeley.

Mr. Sparling is a graduate of Stanford University and a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. During the World War he served as lieutenant in aviation. He received his M. A. at Columbia University and now is engaged in educational work in California. The wedding is to be in March.

MISS MASON ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Atlee Mason of 871 Beacon street, Newton Centre, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Mason, to James Hunter Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Orr of Hartford, Conn.

Miss Mason was graduated from the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in 1924 and since then has achieved success in the painting of miniatures which have been exhibited in New York, Philadelphia and Boston. She is a direct descendant on both the maternal and paternal sides of Governor John Winthrop, and also traces her ancestry in direct descent from William Augustus Atlee of Philadelphia, who was judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Miss Mason's grandfather, David Haven Mason, was a noted lawyer and educator for whom the Mason School in Newton Centre was named. He was also district attorney of the United States.

Mr. Orr was graduated from Harvard with the class of 1920 and is a member of the Massachusetts Bar. He is with the firm of Stone and Webster.

HEALTH REPORT FOR OCTOBER

Despite the hullabaloo raised in certain Boston papers over the terrible condition of Newton water, the health report of this city for last month seems to indicate that the alleged polluted water is not causing much disease. There were 43 deaths during the month, as against 55 for the same month last year. The death rate per 1000 was 9.67. Nineteen of those dying were over 70 years of age. Eleven deaths were caused by heart disease and six resulted from apoplexy.

No case of typhoid occurred during the month. In fact, there has been no typhoid in this city since last Spring. Three cases of diptheria were reported, eight cases of scarlet fever, twenty-two cases of mumps, four cases of whooping cough, and two cases of chicken pox.

The sanitary division of the Board of Health investigated 36 complaints and abated 22 nuisances. Thirty milk amples were inspected and twenty-five dairies visited. Sixteen bakeries and twenty-one markets were inspected.

SOMERSET FARMS CREAM AGAIN TAKES FIRST PRIZE

At the Dairymen's Association convention held in Portland last week the Solon Creamery of Solon, Maine, one of the three creameries furnishing the supply marketed by the Somerset Farms of Boston, captured the much coveted first prize for quality.

Each year Frank H. Turgeon, the genial manager of Somerset Farms, is pretty sure to receive a Thanksgiving offering in the nature of one or more prizes at the Dairy meet and it is becoming a custom among his many friends to expect a report of this nature. He, nevertheless, is receiving the hearty felicitations of his customers and friends on his latest prize award and the many Newton residents who insist upon Somerset Farms cream for their table will be in this note of congratulations. Mr. Turgeon's slogan is "Cream for those who want quality" and each year he lives up to it.

ABOUT TOWN

Postmaster Baker needs to caution some of the drivers of the mail trucks conveying postal matter between the stations of his district. Wednesday morning, although the streets were wet and the going dangerous, a mail truck was driven down Washington street between Newtonville and Newton at a speed of at least 40 miles an hour. To drive a truck at such a speed in heavy traffic is dangerous even with the streets dry. A person who drives a truck at such a speed on wet streets, should have his license revoked. A mail truck will kill or maim, when driven recklessly, even as will any automobile.

Summer comes, and summer goes, but screen doors stay on forever, judging by one screen door which still remains at the entrance of the office of a Newton Corner business man. Perhaps he is waiting until the last of the moths has disappeared. Some late ones are still flying around.

Few of the men who served overseas will enthuse over any suggestion to chlorinate Newton's water. Ask any ex-service man who ever drank chlorinated water, or coffee made from such water, what he thinks of this beverage.

Chief of Police Burke has had the corner of Washington street and Jackson road marked to prevent inconsiderate autoists from parking cars directly on the cross walk at this place. Despite the fact that thousands of pedestrians use this crossing daily, many drivers of automobiles park their cars directly in the way of the foot traffic.

It is quite doubtful if any court would countenance the enforcement of the "No Parking" restrictions which have been established on some of our streets at the request of certain individuals who want no cars parked in front of their residences or places of business. Some of the places so restricted are not in the business centres of our villages. One person has no more right to have "No Parking" signs in front of his property than has any other person. If everyone demanded such a privilege, where would the automobiles park?

Waban residents appreciate the improvement produced by the resurfacing of Woodward street, near Beacon street.

Alderman Daniel O'Connell is profuse in his praise of the efficiency of the Newton Fire Department. There was a fire recently at his home, and the blaze was extinguished in short order by the local fire fighters.

GOLDEN EAGLETS AWARDED

Barbara Jack and Eloise Andrews Receive Highest Honors for Girl Scouts at a Largely Attended Rally on Friday

The Golden Eaglet, the highest award given to a Girl Scout and the one which is always before the girl as the emblem of her scout ideal. When it is attained she realizes that it is just a milestone on her Scout way and that having passed that goal there are others ahead with wider outlooks and broader ways for service.

Two girls, Barbara Jack and Eloise Andrews of Troop No. 15, West Newton, were awarded this Golden Eaglet at the Newton Rally which was held on Friday night in the gymnasium of the Newton High School. Unfortunately these two scouts are away at college and their badges were received for them by their younger sisters, who are also members of Troop No. 15.

It was the largest rally ever given by the Newton Girl Scouts. Twenty-two troops marched onto the floor after "assembly" was blown at 7.30, led by the bugle and drum corps. More than 500 scouts and officers were present, and an audience of about 600 people watched them from the bleachers that had been erected in the gymnasium. A short opening ceremony was conducted by Miss Caroline L. Freeman, the Newton Local Director, at which the scouts pledged allegiance to the flag and repeated the scout promise and laws, and after this they were seated on the ground to watch the tableaux of the American flag. These tableaux were presented by six of the senior troops and showed episodes in the history of the flag from 1620-1926. Each tableau was accompanied by appropriate reading and music. The First Thanksgiving was shown by Troop No. 15, West Newton, the Pine Tree Flag of New England at the Battle of Bunker Hill by Troop No. 10, Newtonville, the Cambridge Flag and the Spirit of '76 by Troop No. 21, Newton Highlands, the Betsy Ross Flag by Troop No. 17, Newton Upper Falls, the Star Spangled Banner by Troop No. 13, Newton Centre, and the flag of today held by Columbia by Troop No. 14, Waban. During this last tableau a solo, "The Home Road," was sung by Mrs. Paul Mosser of Waban, and then the American flags of the 22 troops were massed at the feet of "Columbia," while the scouts sang "Oh, Beautiful Banner." The lyrics that accompanied the tableaux were written by Lieutenant Burnham of Troop No. 14, and were read by Miss Marion Clapp of Brookline. The piano was played by Miss Burnham. The historical flags were lent by the town of Lexington, and a number of Girl Scout officers from there were in the audience. The tableaux were planned and arranged by Miss Freeman.

After the tableaux Miss Clapp spoke briefly about Japan and the thousands of Friendship Dolls that are soon to be sent there on an American Army transport. The Newton scouts have dressed 11 of these dolls for their Japanese cousins, and these were shown on the stage, lined up on a table surrounded by their large and

An entertainment is to be given by Troop 3, the Junior Troop of Newton Centre on Friday and Saturday evening of this week in the Parish House of Trinity Church at 7.30 o'clock. A play "The Spell of Christmas" will be followed by a Christmas sale.

Troop 20, the Senior Troop in Newton will hold an entertainment in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Friday evening, December 17 at 8 o'clock. A Christmas play, "A Pot of Red Geraniums" and "The Ghost Story" by Booth Tarking-

GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB

Auburndale Voters Hear Various Candidates for City Office

The Auburndale Good Government Club held a meeting Wednesday night to listen to candidates for office at the Muncipal Election next Tuesday, and to a debate on Prohibition. Among those who spoke were Alderman Weeks, who explained how the city is financed; Alderman Bliss, who told of the troubles and tribulations of the Franchise and License Committee in deciding about gasoline station permits; Alderman Gallagher. who gave a scientflic discourse on water, couched in plain terms; Alderman Heathcote and Harold Dougherty, opponents in Ward 4, related some of their activities and gave some reasons as to why each should be considered as a proper candidate. William Noone, candidate for re-election as Ward Alderman from Ward 4, also spoke.

The debate on prohibition was very interesting. The "drys" were represented by Mr. W. M. Forgreave, who asserted that the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Act have eliminated much suffering, and that despite assertions to the contrary, there is not the carnival of crime resulting from prohibition. Mr. Forgreave is executive secretary of the Anti-Saloon League. The "wets" were championed by Mr. Gordon, not the alderman from Auburndale, but a gentleman representing the Constitutional Liberty League. He contended that prohibition has not been, is not being, and cannot be enforced, that since the 18th Amendment went into effect crime has been rampant, and that a modification of the present ineffective efforts to prevent the use of all intoxicating liquors for beverages, this country would be better morally and financially if the law will be relaxed. It was apparent from the applause that the ladies present were "drys."

CHARITY BRIDGE

The Newton School for Girls held its annual Charity Bridge at the school, 547 Centre street, Monday afternoon of this week. A large attendance contributed to the success of the afternoon. A tea room and cake sale helped to increase the proceeds which will be used for the Christmas party on December 22 at which the school will entertain as its guests a group of fifteen children from the North End Union.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Gifford Le Clear of Waban and Mrs. William G. Lennox of Newton. The students assisting were: Doris Bryant, Margaret Lennox, Mary Wright, Mary Schirmer, Betty Scates, Eleanor Spencer, Margaret Mansfield, Margaret Reeve and Alice Jack.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Newton Circle Inc., greatly desires to increase its membership, and with that end in view, is conducting a vigorous membership drive, depending upon its faithful members and friends for ardent support. Both men and women are eligible. Let everybody help in aiding this much needed philanthropy which places our neglected children brought to the Newton Court in private homes; keeps families together when crises bring them into contact with the Court and threaten the future of the home; and finds work for boys and girls discharged from State Reformation Institutions.

THE FULLER GARAGE

Aldermen Criticize Unauthorized Sale of Gasoline

Alderman Hodgdon "started something" at the aldermanic meeting Monday night when he called the attention of the Board to the docket of the meeting of March 15. At that meeting the Franchise and License Committee recommended that leave to withdraw be given to the Fuller Realty Company for an outside filling station at 966 Watertown street, West Newton. The Ward 5 alderman said, "Despite the fact that the Board granted leave to withdraw on this petition, pumps have been erected outside at 966 Watertown street and gasoline is being sold there." He asked for the opinion of the City Solicitor. He also referred to the meeting of June 22, 1925, when the aldermen at that time granted a garage permit to Mrs. Lillian I. Cate on condition that the north and east walls of the garage be kept back 30 feet from the corner of Watertown street and Davis Court, and that the small unoccupied area be enclosed by varied wardrobes. Each doll was given her passport, properly vised, and a ticket by a member of the troop that had dressed her. The prize for the best dressed doll was awarded to Troop No. 11, Newton Highlands, and honorable mention to Troop No. 21, the senior troop in Newton Highlands.

When the dolls had been wished God-speed the troops lined up around the hall for the presenting of merit badges and other awards. 197 merit badges were given to 121 girls in 24 different subjects. Eight five year stripes were given to Priscilla Hudson and Priscilla Speare from Troop No. 13, Newton Centre, and Marion Frost, Helen Warren, Carol Upham, Ethel Richards, Mary Chandler, and Eleanor Burnham of Troop No. 14, Waban. Four Letters of Commendation, the highest character award for a Girl Scout, were given to Janice Upham, Marion Frost, Eleanor Burnham, and Marjorie Whitaker of Troop No. 14.

After these awards, which were given by Miss Kenrick and Mrs. Carter, members of the Newton Council, the scouts marched out of the gymnasium and the rally ended with "Taps" in the thickly falling snow.

The Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association held its third meeting of the year at the Unitarian Church in West Newton on Wednesday evening at 6.30. Supper was served to over 50 people by the officers from the three Newton Centre troops. The evening's entertainment was a Christmas party presided over by Santa Claus himself and arranged by Captain Skipwirth of Troop 13, Newton Centre.

Newton is to be the scene of a big Girl Scout Conference to be held January 7, 8 and 9. Two delegates from every troop in the Metropolitan Division Girl Scouts will attend this conference. The age is limited to girls from 13 years to 18. The meetings will be run entirely by the scouts with no outsiders present excepting at the Saturday evening meeting which is to be open to the scout public, and all

NEWTON WATER IS SAFE

Board of Health Expresses its Opinion

To the Editor:

Sir:—

There has been so much talk about the safety of the Newton water that a statement of the facts should be made in order to allay any alarm which may have been felt by the citizens.

In the first place let me say, emphatically, that the Newton water is perfectly safe to use, at the present time; that it has been safe in the past, as evidenced by the fact that during thirty years or more, it has never been shown to have caused disease, and that there is no reason to fear that it will become unsafe in the future.

Newton water is strongly impregnated with iron and such waters are liable to the production of a substance known as crenothrix. When this occurs its presence causes a discoloration of the water, which is disagreeable but not dangerous to health. In addition a certain amount of iron rust from the pipes gets into the water. These two factors cause a sediment which, on standing, collects in the bottom of the container.

During the past summer the City has been cleaning the mains in order to lessen the amount of iron rust and crenothrix in the water. Having done this the next step is to clean the collecting galleries of the accumulated crenothrix and, as doing this would naturally release it into the pipes, thus increasing the amount of sediment and discoloration of the water, it has been decided to discontinue the use of Newton water during the process and use the Metropolitan supply.

During the process of cleaning, a thorough inspection of the whole system will be made in order to discover if any defects have developed, during the long term of service, which need repair. None are known to exist, but the object is to safeguard the Newton water supply in the future, in so far as human foresight can effect.

FRANCIS GEO. CURTIS, M. D.
Chairman, Board of Health.

LAKE STREET TERMINAL

Through the efforts of Mr. George J. Martin several plans have been made by the Boston Elevated Company for the improvement of the terminal at Lake Street, Chestnut Hill. A meeting will be held for everyone interested at the Commonwealth Country Club next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock to discuss the plans and if possible, to have the Boston Elevated and the Middlesex and Boston companies agree upon some plan which will relieve the present unsatisfactory condition at that junction.

ALUMNI DAY

Plans are being made for an Alumni Day at the Newton High School to be held December 29th. A cafeteria supper will be served, a special entertainment given in the Auditorium, and followed by a dance in the gymnasium.

THE WATER SITUATION

Cleaning the Wooden Conduit Will Force the City to Use Metropolitan Water for a Short Time

The special committee of the Board of Aldermen, which for the past year has been studying the Newton water supply, held a conference with the Finance Committee on Monday night. As a result $6000 was appropriated to clean the wooden conduit and the pipe lines on the water reservation at Needham. The work will start in the near future and at that time the supply from the Needham meadows will cease to flow into the mains of the city and water from the Metropolitan system will be furnished to residents of this burg. It is estimated that this supply will be used for about two weeks. So, for a fortnight those residents of this city who have been anxious for the superior (?) water from the Clinton reservoir, will be provided with a liquid which they can drink and bathe in with impunity.

The Mayor recommended, in a communication to the Board of Aldermen, that $10,000 be appropriated for improvements to the water system and for the payment of water purchased from the Metropolitan Commission in 1925. The $6000 appropriated by the aldermen contains the following items: Edison Company for wiring to job, $800; rent of 12-inch pump and 40 horse-power motor, $250; piping, $500; labor on conduit line, $1500; raising manholes, $500; miscellaneous item and repairs on conduit, $1950.

Alderman Bail, Chairman of the Special Committee on Water told the Board that the work for which the $6000 was appropriated had been asked for by Water Commissioner Whitney, recommended by the Mayor and his committee, and had been under consideration by the committee since it was appointed, but that the committee had deemed it expedient only to ask for appropriations as the work of improving the water supply could be performed, step by step. The committee will from time to time, when the winter is over, ask for further appropriations to clean by the scraping process all the 8 inch and 6 inch pipes in the ctiy. This cleaning by the machine will remove the deposits of Crenothrix which has made the water discolored.

Alderman Hodgdon said, "We have heard a lot of rumors about Newton water. I believe the committee has done its work well, but I believe the committee should let us know just what the conditions are. Certain physicians have asked that we take all our water from the Metropolitan supply. If Newton water is not all right, we should abandon it. I believe myself Newton water is good."

Alderman Bail replied, "Our committee was not invited to attend the conference held between the Mayor and the committee of physicians that advised the temporary abandonment of Newton water. I only know concerning this meeting what I read in the papers. The papers only told half-truths. The Department of Health of the Commonwelath, settled the question as to whether or not Newton water is unsafe. If the water is not safe the State Health Department has the right to order the pumps at the Upper Falls pumping station to be shut down. It has not done so. I had a talk with an official

SPAIN ELECTED CAPTAIN

Frank Spain of the Newton high school football team was elected to captain the 1927 team at a meeting of the letter men of the 1926 squad following the annual picture on Tuesday of this week. Spain and Stubbs were the two nominees decided by the first ballot. On the first ballot following the choice of nominees the Waban boy was elected the leader. While either of the two would no doubt make a good leader for next year's outfit the fact that Stubbs already holds the hockey captainship for this winter decided the letter-men to give the captaincy to Spain.

SPORT NOTES

The weather conditions of Saturday showed that it is unwise to attempt to extend the football season beyond Thanksgiving Day and the Suburban league officials should make some ruling to the effect that ties in football should not stand. A play-off in baseball should a tie exist is another question entirely as this may be done without playing under the handicap of poor weather conditions.

Newton high school indoor track team should find plenty of competition on its hands this winter with its new saucer track which will be one of the finest in school ranks in this part of the state. Previously many teams have not been anxious to meet the orange and black on the old track because of the dangerous banks and almost impossibility of passing an opponent even on the straightaway. It is hoped that the work of putting in the new banks at each end of the drill-shed will be completed by December 30th, which is the tentative date for the alumni meet. Because of the storm and other setbacks the lumber for the work was delayed until the arrival of the lumber yesterday.

Prospects are excellent for a good team this year at Newton under the leadership of Captain Wally Fullerton, a versatile performer who can be counted upon for many points this season, and the support by more veterans than for several years. The coaching will again be directed by Donald Enoch, former Penn State track team star, who joined the Newton faculty last fall and who coached the runners last winter. He will be assisted by Coach Allie Dickinson and also by Mr. Bailey and Mr. Tisdale of the faculty. The final schedule cannot be announced until sometime next week when the exact date of the opening of the new track can be determined. Meanwhile, a provisional schedule has been prepared which will no doubt be subjected to several changes.

Last week it was noted that next fall the opening of the Suburban league football schedule had been advanced one week. Newton was slated to tackle Cambridge Latin at Claflin Field on October 8th and Everett on the same grounds on the 12th. In order to allow a longer rest between the two league games the authorities have advanced the date with the Cantabs one day and will play them on Friday, October 7th.

A number of questions have recently been asked whether or not the high school is to have a recognized varsity basketball team, now that the new gymnasium is adaptable for such use. Announcement was made this week that there positively would not be a recognized team but there is a possibility that in future years, perhaps even in 1927, the orange and black, after a lapse of over 10 years, will again be represented on the court. This year, however, the sport will be confined to intramural games. The first practice sessions were held on Monday afternoon of this week under the coaching of Raymond Green and the supervision of Clifford Brownell, athletic director in the Newton schools. Each room in each of the three buildings is to have a team if at all possible and a round robin tournament series will be arranged. In this way it will be possible to not only determine the players who may represent the school five next season but it will also develop a great amount of interest in the sport which is one of the most popular of indoor games as well as one of the most beneficial to team work and coordination of mind and muscle.

The announcement this week in one of the metropolitan papers to the effect that Mr. Green would also coach the swimming team was incorrect. The mermen will be under the direction of Mr. S. A. (Joe) Carling, former physical director of the Newton Y. M. C. A., and now a member of the physical education staff at the high school.

The chances are good that several former Newton high hockey players who had some of the neighboring high school sextets under their wings last year will again resume their positions. Leo Hughes will probably again be in charge of the Brookline outfit while Ed Burkhardt may return to Belmont where he coached last year. Another possibility of a Newton graduate as coach is found in the rumors that Joe Stubbs may be picked as the Harvard freshman coach. The yearling mentor at the Cambridge University resigned this week and the Newton youth, elder brother of this year's Newton high hockey captain, has been prominently mentioned as his successor.

Plangs are being made for the annual reunion banquet of Camp Passaconaway at the Boston City Club on Thursday, December 30th. An attractive program is being arranged with Stanley Lyon, former Newton and Dartmouth athlete, as the toastmaster.

There is considerable interest among Newton fans in the Boston Globe's All-preparatory school football team announced this week. Newton has three of its former players on the two elevens named. On the first team Mel. (Buster) Hemeon of Cushing Academy is found at right end. The other two are on the second eleven. Tom Gilligan of Exeter is picked for fullback and Wally Johnson of Cushing is at the left tackle berth. Gilligan by the way is one of two Exeter named among the 22 players.

Basketball followers were surprised at the outcome of the Quincy-Brockton Y. M. C. A. game last Saturday afternoon. The Granite City boys pinned a 36-22 defeat on the Shoe City lads. Newton fans will take interest in the game as Quincy is a member of the Eastern Division of the Two-State League.

The Newton football players obtained considerably more attention on the Globe's All-scholastic outfit than on any of the others. Frank Stubbs, Jr., was picked by Woodlock for the right guard position on the second eleven. Mention was made of the work of Scheinfain, at end, Forristall and Hapgood at tackle, Clark and Annable at quarterback, and Joe Gilligan and Stanley Brown at halfback. Captain Harold Andres was among the leading candidates for the pivot position on the mythical team but he lost out because of the injury and operation for appendicitis that ended his season a month early.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. basketball five journeys to Lowell tomorrow evening to take on the Lowell Y outfit in a Two-State league game. Last week the local aggregation went down to a 55 to 14 defeat at the hands of last year's champions, Fitchburg. The home team center was the star of the game making twelve goals from the floor and two from free tries for a total of 26 points. Bailey, Fitchburg right forward, tallied eleven points. Newton's scoring was split up among six of the seven players taking part in the game. McCarthy at right forward tallied twice from the floor and twice from three tries for six points. Kohler scored two from the floor. Burnett, Shields, Gray, guards, and Hardy at centre each tallied a point on a free try. The second team was defeated by the Fitchburg seconds 33 to 24. Wellman was the leading performer for the local seconds with a total of nine points.

Tomorrow evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A. there will be a wrestling meet between the Boston and Newton Y teams. Eight or ten matches in the various weights will be staged, starting at 8 o'clock.

With the first fall of snow thoughts of winter sports take up the minds of followers of such affairs. At Boston College Nicholas (Nick) Tedesco is one of the regulars that reported for practise last week. For two years he has been a relief forward on the Eagle Sextet but seems destined for a regular berth this season.

Up in Ithaca Captain Philip Hoyt has called the Big Red Train's hockey candidates out. This is his third year as regular on the club playing defense, but in spite of this handicap he is a leading scorer in the vicinity. Prospects are bright for a good year in the college. with M. I. T. as the big objective for the New York engineers.

Williams has hopes of once more putting on the ice a hockey team that will threaten the supremacy of the bigger college around New England. After last year's success the Purple is concentrating in this sport and relies on two Newton men, William Blaney of Waban and Dwight Shepler of Newton to add scoring punch to their forward line. Both were on the uncertain list due to scholastic difficulties, but now they seem to be all set, and doubtless add strength to the scoring power of the Purple's team.

The second member of the Little Three, Amherst, also has Newton men in the line-up. The Patrick brothers from West Newton are slated to start the season on the various wings. Rowland, the younger, played a major part of last year and should be more valuable because of it this season.

When Eli's forces get organized Dick Vaughn of Newton Centre will be seen on the forward line again. Last year he was one of the best of the many good forwards that the Blue sported, showing brilliantly against Harvard in their annual encounters. He was a star at Newotn where he played left wing and became at the end of the season second high scorer of the Suburban League.

Brown's newly formed hockey team also will have an Orange and Black tinge for Ritchie Stevens and Philip Lingham, cousins, will play the wings from indications at the present time. Brown is developing a schedule which is rather ambitious but gives the college an opportunity to show her progress and prowess among the college teams.

SPORT NOTES

E. R. Laughlin of West Newton, ex-St. Paul's school athlete, is showing considerable promise in the practice sessions of the Andover hockey squad.

In the opening matches of the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association last Saturday the Newton Centre quintet in Class B made a clean sweep of the five matches with the Harvard five. In Class C the Newton Centre team nosed out the Harvard team 3-2 by taking the final three matches. The Newton Club was shut out in all five matches with the Union B. C. in the lower class.

Despite the wealth of letter men and material of varsity calibre from last year's freshman sextet the Harvard hockey team will feel the loss of Larry Pratt by graduation keenly. Pratt was not only a defensive player of ability but often went down the ice and slapped the disk past the enemy goalie. A tall and rangy athlete he depended more upon speed and stamina than weight. Coach Bigelow has three men to choose from to fill the vacancy, two of whom are Newton youths. Captain Bill Ellison and Clem Coady will fight it out with Eben Clark for the position.

Congratulations to the Brookline High School football eleven of 1926 and Coach Tom Hines on winning the first Suburban league championship since the Wealthy Town team entered the organization. At the start of the year the Brookline mentor was up against almost the same problem that Dickinson found himself. The Brookline team had a few more veteran men back than had Newton but there were but few high class players. The team caught Brockton before they got going in an early season game and defeated the Shoe City outfit 3 to 0. Following that affair the Brookline team suffered a long string of injuries and the remainder of the squad did remarkably well to make as good a record as they did. Coming into the final games of the season the Brookline outfit regained its momentum and although outrushed by Newton it capitalized on Newton's mistakes and the breaks to win. Then came the usual let-down after the regular season and until the league officials decided that the tie with Everett resulting from the Thanksgiving day games must be played off, when both squads tried valiantly to regain their peak form. Friday's snowstorm put Braves Field in terrible shape. Saturday afternoon, just about game time the temperature dropped considerably, and the game was played under very adverse conditions. While no injuries occurred, Bert Gleason, Brookline centre, had two of his fingers frozen. Once again Brookline profited by opponents' mistakes and capitalized the breaks to win out by a 7 to 6 score. Neither side made the point after its touchdown but the officials ruled that Everett was offside as Gleason attempted the goal for Brookline and awarded the point on a penalty.

The annual winter meeting of the Massachusetts Coaches Association will take place tomorrow at the University Club. Coach Allie Dickinson of Newton is vice-president of the organization.

ALDERMEN MEET

The aldermen held a regular meeting Monday night. All members of the Board were present except Alderman Leany. He in common with the other plumbers in the city, was rendering first aid to householders whose plumbing, or heating equipment had been put out of kilter by the intense cold spell on Saturday and Sunday. An unusually small "gallery" missed one of the most interesting meetings of the past year. It would seem that residents of Newton are not much agitated over the alleged potential menace to the water supply of the city. None of them was present to listen to the discussion of this much advertised matter by the Aldermen. What would have otherwise been a very tame meeting, was turned into a lively session by Alderman Hodgdon. The Ward 5 member, who hails from the Upper Falls, is "from Missouri" when matters of import are apparently not receiving proper consideration. or publicity.

The first hearing called on petitions was that of the Fessenden School for a permit to store 500 gallons of gasoline for private use at 215 Albemarle road. No opposition appeared against this petition. Relative to the order for laying a drain and common sewer through Newton street from Chestnut Hill road to the end of the street, Alderman Earle explained that the State Department of Health requests this improvement because Newton street is but a short distance removed from the Chestnut Hill Reservoir, and a number of houses are being erected in this locality. The aldermen appropriated $4525 to build the drain and sewer. William McKee asked the Board for a division of the street betterment assessment on Brookdale road, Newtonville. No proponents or opponents appeared when hearings were announced on laying main drains from the Crafts street yard of the Street Department to the Newtonville drain, and through land of Francis Kirby off Crosby road.

The Public Works Committee recommended leave to withdraw on the petitions of Charles O'Malley and John C. Kiley for abatement of sewer assessments. It recommended these appropriations; repairs on B. & A. foot bridge at Newtonville, $1200; collection of ashes $2000; traffic signs $500; maintenance of property $300. The Board accepted these recommendations.

The Claims and Rules Committee's report, recommending leave to withdraw on the petitions of Grace T. Whittemore from change of zoning on Whittemore road, Newton; Lester Brett for permit to change a garage into a two-family house at 16 Weldon road, Ward 1; Joseph B. Jamieson for change of zoning on Vernon and Tremont streets, was accepted by the Board. All the petitions for permits for private garages were granted except that of Catherine Hannon for a 2-car garage at 14 Maple terrace. Permits for private garages held over from previous meetings, to have certain requirements met, which were granted, included H. F. Gibbs, 15 Churchill terrace, 7 1-2 feet from line at side, 10 feet from line at rear; Ethel P. Osborn, Fairlee road; Edwin R. Jump, 15 Nonantum street, not more than 7 1-2 from rear line and 29 feet from street line.

The Franchise and License Committee recommended the granting of the following petitions:—Colonial Filling Station, Beacon street at Langley road, additional 1000 gallon tank, one additional pump; Calvert Crary, 199 Walnut St. 500 gal. gasoline tank for private use; John Oliver, 53 Langley Rd., 1 additional pool table; Angelo Vitti, 193 Adams St., common victualler; Catherine McCarthy, 35 Nonantum place, change in garage location; Joseph Brady and William Sullivan, 1156 Walnut street, bowling alleys; Edison and Telephone Companies, pole locations—Evergreen avenue, 6 poles; Beacon street, Ward 5, 1 pole; Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, permit to run busses on Washington street to Lower Falls, Commonwealth avenue and Elm street to West Newton.

Alderman Baker asked for information regarding the buss permits. Chairman Bliss of the License Committee explained that the M. & B. desire to run busses on the streets named, and on other streets specified in the petition to provide for transportation of school pupils, and for such emergencies providing extra service, or supplanting the electric cars when heavy storms prevent the latter from being operated. He said that the petition had been drawn up by Manager Hanson of the M. & B. in conjunction with Citq Solicitor Bartlett, and that the interests of the city had been properly protected. Alderman Grebenstein suggested that while the aldermen are adding to the streets on which the Middlesex & Boston may operate busses, it would be well to authorize a buss line from Newton Corner to Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, along Centre street, as there is a growing demand for such service. Alderman Bail asked if the Aldermen have control of the streets on which busses may be run. He stated that M. & B. busses have been operated on streets other than those which are designated in the franchises given to this company. Mr. Bartlett stated that the aldermen cannot grant permits for busses which are not petitioned for by the M. & B. or other applicants. He also said that the M. & B. may run busses on any street, if they do not pick up or discharge passengers. The permits were granted to the M. & B.

Alderman Weeks asked Chairman Bliss of the Franchise Committee, "What are the reasons for the report recommending leave to withdraw on the petition of George F. Cahill for a gasoline station at 731 Washington street? Mr. Bliss explained that while 731 Washington street is in a business zone, this locus is now occupied by a residence, there are other residences along Washington street, on either side of it and a large residential section in the rear of this site. A gas station will be a detriment to all these residences, and having an exit on Beach St., which is but 20 feet wide, would be a menace to traffic. Mr. Weeks said, "I can see no difference between this proposed station and most of those which have been granted on Washington street. There was a similar situation at the station which we granted at the corner of Washington and Lowell avenue. The petition asks for a station in a business district. There is no more danger there than at other stations. Why turn this down when we have granted others?

I would like an answer as to why this station is so different?" Alderman Hodgdon explained that he had voted against the Cahill petition because although in a business zone, it is in a residential neighborhood. He said that Marshall Hall had been refused a permit for a station a short distance east on Washington street, and should Cahill's petition be granted, Hall's permit should also be granted. The abutting residents have some rights. Alderman Grebenstein reminded Alderman Weeks that there had been no objectors to the gasoline station at the corner of Lowell avenue and Washington street, and that the persons owning the adjoining property had been taken care of. He would favor the Cahill petition if the persons owning residences nearby, had received the same favorable consideration as was accorded to owners of residences near the Lowell avenue station.

Alderman Earle asked regarding the change of the polling place in Precinct 3, Ward 6, from the Tennis Clubhouse to the Fire station on Manet Road? Alderman Bliss, who represents the Chestnut Hill precinct, stated that there has been much objection from voters living in that section of the precinct towards Newton Centre, because of being compelled to travel away over to the Brookline end of the district to vote. He expects that many protests will now be received from the voters who reside in his section, but that the effort is being made to attempt to satisfy all, and the change is being made temporarily, as a compromise.

Alderman Madden for the Claims and Rules Committee explained that the proposed change of zoning in the section bounded by Parker street and Ridge avenue, met with popular approval. He moved suspension of the rules to permit immediate action on this matter. His motion was carried, and this neighborhood will, in the future, be restricted to single family residences. At 9.45 a "short recess" was taken to permit the Finance and Water Committees to confer. This recess ended at 10.42. When the Board reassembled these appropriations were passed:—Law Department, miscellaneous expenses, $125; Workmen's Compensation $500; Maintenance Rifle Range $25; Repairs to Newtonville footbridge $1200; collection of ashes $2000; maintenance of automobiles and trucks $1000; Water Department, temporary clerk $100; Water Department, payment for water for 1925 from Metropolitan Water Commission $10,156.67; Water Department for repairs on conduits and sidelines at water reservation at Needham $6000. Alderman Hodgdon then asked the Special Committee on Water to give information regarding the water situation, so that the residents of the city may have the real facts regarding Newton water. The remarks of Aldarmen Bail and Gallagher of the committee are given in another column. The meeting adjourned at 11.30.

Christmas plans are now well under way, and each club has planned a Christmas party.

The Blue Triangle Club will be entertained at their meeting of December 13 by Professor Louis C. Stanton who will play Christmas music. The club is glad to welcame Professor Stanton again and it is hoped that a large number will be present to enjoy his program. This club will hold its Christmas party on December 20. After supper served at 6.30 there will be a tree with gifts, this will be followed by a special program of dancing and games.

The High School group of Girl Reserves will have their party on December 17, at 7.30. There will be small gifts on the tree for each girl and refreshments. For their service work for the month of December, this group is giving gifts of money which will be used to purchase Christmas gifts for needy children.

December 22 and four o'clock is the date and hour chosen for the party for grade school girls. The program includes a tree and gifts as well as games.

The gym classes and bowling group continue to flourish and those who attend are getting a great deal of enjoyment as well as benefit from these classes.

There will be no classes or activities during the wek of December 27. The office will be open, however, from nine to five. Classes and clubs will resume their meetings on January 3.

CITIZENSHIP

Next Tuesday is Election Day for the City of Newton. Do you care for the future welfare of your city; do you care for your own, then, if you think the city can take care of itself without your effort to go to the polls and express yourself as to what kind of men you wish to have represent or serve you? Perhaps you may say it does not matter who is elected; they are all alike in the political world, and my life goes on just the same, anyway. But does it? Suppose you need to protest about something vital in your life. There isn't anything now, you say. There may be some day, very unexpectedly. Then you will want a man as your alderman who will be willing and considerate and kindly in listening to your plea—perhaps to protect you against change in zoning; perhaps to give you safe milk or water, that means the life of your child or a sick person; perhaps you want snow taken from in front of your driveway where it has been piled by city street cleaners, after you shovelled it for your car; perhaps you want something objectionable taken from before your door in the street; perhaps you want protection from hoodlumism; perhaps you want sand on the sidewalk to save your bones. Oh, yes, there are a great many things you see that mean your comfort, your peace, your very life in your city! City officials can help in your problem, whatever department it comes under. Then vote! Vote! Vote! And see that men are placed in power who will heed your requests, and of whom you will not be ashamed when they go to represent you in other cities, states or countries!

Club women do not need much arousing, but their families do, and your editor asks you as one of the Committee of Five appointed for our City to "do something to get out the vote", to be proud of your citizenship and VOTE!

RECENT EVENTS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

A substantial sum was netted for the treasury at the bazaar held on Friday last, by the West Newton Women's Educational Club, which is certainly good news worth announcing. Besides the success of the tables, the entertainment: "Please Stand By," was novel and unique.

The stage represented the sitting-room of a home containing a radio, sent by the son to father and mother, who lived in an old-fashioned town.

The curtain at the rear represented a radio horn through which the announcer, Betty Blackler and those taking part stepped into the room.

Father—Constance Dort—was not pleased with the music, because he could not see those taking part. This rather disturbed mother—Constance Hartwell—because they were so isolated.

The colored maid, well impersonated by Leora Bacon, said: "If Marsa would only make a wish three times, those on the other end of the wire would appear." After much persuasion the wish was made, and through the horn, following the announcer stepped Ruth Woodward, who gave a very fetching solo on a banjo-uke; then a dance by Ruth Holbrook; and a piano solo by Dorothy Sharpe, dressed as an old-fashioned girl, was well rendered.

Jean Wolley, as a black cat, read her "krazy kat letters" and danced. This the audience found exceedingly funny.

Father was much pleased that his wish gave him an opportunity to see "the gals," and boys, he had heard so often over the radio.

Julia and Priscilla Bacon, as Goldy and Dusty in their dance; then Ann Rae and Margaret Peters, who looked most attractive as the A. & P. Gypsies, in a song and dance, were decided hits.

"Carmena" was well sung by Leora Bacon.

All the participants on the radio then sang: "In the Little Spanish Town."

Marion Jackson, as "Big Brother," and little Norman Sharpe, as "little brother," joined hands and bade the audience "Good-night."

The entertainment was given under the direction of Mrs. Louie A. Bacon.

The Garden City Radio Co. loaned the radio and the Aladdin Scenic Co. supplied the curtains.

Newton Centre Woman's Club, Inc.

Prof. Robert E. Rogers of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who is to speak to the Club a second time, on Thursday afternoon, December 16th, at 3 o'clock, with the subject, "The Portrait of a Modern Poet," spoke at the last regular Club meeting.

A large audience heard his "Portrait of a Modern Novelist" on the afternoon of December 2nd, and Prof. Rogers said, as he started for his hat and coat after enjoying his tea and sandwiches: "We'll see if they liked it well enough to come again." One of the choice spirits, who heard his "Portrait of a Modern Novelist," said in her gentle voice: "I dont know that I agreed with all he said, but he certainly made me think. I shall surely come to his next lecture."

"The Modern Novelist," says Prof. Rogers, "creates a new race of young people who do not know sin and who are very much alive. 'Our fore-fathers, such a young person thinks, thought it a sin to be alive.'"

Prof. Rogers' address followed an interesting business session when reports from the various Federations were heard.

Mrs. Everett C. Winslow, for the Newton City Federation, Mrs. E. R. Speare for the Massachusetts State Federation at Hyannis, and the 12th District Director, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, all gave much pleasure by their well chosen topics and discriminating comments.

Mrs. Bertrand Taylor made a fine appeal for a generous response to the Christmas Seal Drive.

Six Club members have been called home since the Club year opened, and as they stood for the finer things of life, for so many fruitful years as Club members, so the Club stood for a silent moment, in loving remembrance of them, before adjourning for the program hour.

Newtonville Woman's Club

A meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club was held at the Central Church on the afternoon of December 7th, at two-thirty o'clock, with Mrs. Austin H. Decatur presiding.

Among the notices read were the following: Mrs. Sholley asks that any one willing to help the Play Production Class by coloring or sewing will go to the home of Mrs. Percy E. Woodward, 125 Highland avenue, on Tuesdays. If this day is not convenient, by phoning Mrs. Woodward, arrangements may be made to go on Thursday. Mrs. Eames announces that the cook books have not all been sold as yet, and it is hoped that members will avail themselves of the opportunity to buy them for Christmas gifts.

Miss Florence Hills, of the Girl Scouts, made an appeal to the members of the Club, asking any who are able to extend hospitality to one or more delegates at the time of the Conference which is to be held here January 7, 8 and 9th, 1927.

A group of children, the messengers from Santa Claus, collected money on behalf of the Christmas Party Committee, to buy underwear, shoes, etc., for the annual party. Donations of clothing and toys will also be gratefully received by the Chairman, Mrs. Arthur W. Chamberlain. Mrs. Decatur later announced that the sum of $108.53 had been collected.

After the business meeting, the Glee Club of twenty members, under the leadership of Mrs. Dorothy Fairbanks Bassler, and accompanied by Miss Dorothy Curtis, sang three numbers, a Spanish and a French Christmas Carol, and a Russian Hymn of Thanksgiving. The hard work which the Glee Club has been doing was shown in their excellent singing.

Following the Glee Club, Mr. Julius Lucht, Librarian of the Newton Public Library, gave a short, interesting talk on some of the latest books, including biographies, poetry, and fiction. Then came a delightful hour with Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, when Miss Marguerite Ammann read "The Country Cousin", a play in four acts. The play is exceedingly humorous, and full of witty and pointed remarks, cleverly made by clever characters. The characters were so well pictured by the authors, and so ably presented by Miss Ammann, that they almost seemed to stand there before their audience. Miss Ammann is a recent graduate of the Leland Powers School, and has been reading lately at many Clubs around Boston.

After the meeting, tea was served by the Hospitality Committee. Mrs. Joseph C. Atkinson and Mrs. Henry J. Baringer were the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Frank L. Nagle, Mrs. Robert C. Bridgham, Mrs. William Price, and Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, at the tea table.

COMING EVENTS

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. S. H. Woodrow hospitably opens her home, 39 Forest street, for the members of the Monday Club on Monday, the 13th. Christmas festivithat time, for a Christmas Social is ties will be decidedly in the air at under the management of the Club president, Mrs. J. S. Patton, who has chosen for her aids in this mysterious attraction, Mrs. H. E. Williams, Mrs. F. A. Campbell, Mrs. C. A. Thompson, and Mrs. Ruth Mick. Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse is also to present the "Miracle Play", in addition to the above already alluring program. As usual, details of the method, and manner, and of original ideas for the presenting, are kept zealously hidden, or unannounced, so that curiosity is provoked, an added charm that is so cleverly the practice of this club.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

The "Writings of Stelzle" will be the interesting topic for discussion by Miss Harriet M. Ward at the next meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. This is in continuance of the topic for their last November meeting when the man, Charles Stelzle, his life, characteristics, and environment, were studied; an introduction to his works that makes them more understandable, from influences upon them, and more appreciated. In addition, Ross' "The Social Trend" will be presented and reviewed by Mrs. William E. Leonard. Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood is hostess for this meeting, on Monday the 13th, at her home, 4 Chester street.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, December 13th, a Musical for the benefit of the Newton Upper Falls Womans Club Piano Fund will be given in the Emerson School Kindergarten room at eight o'clock.

The program has been carefully arranged to give special pleasure to Newton people. Two of our Newton musicians who are well known to school people—Mr. Edward Griffin of the school music department, and Miss Julia Tobin, of the Claflin School,—are to sing. Mrs. Raymond Simonds will play a group of piano solos. The choruses of two of the Newton Women's Clubs will sing: The Newton Highlands and Waban Club combined, and the Newton Upper Falls Club. The latter is newly organized this fall, and this musical will be its first public appearance.

In addition there will be readings by Miss Marjorie Sumpter of Boston, a Currie School graduate, who is already well known to Newton audiences for her delightful Southern interpretations and is warmly welcomed on all programs of the Newton Upper Falls Club.

It is hoped that many parts of Newton may be represented in the audience that night. The program will be worthy of their presence and interest.

Waban Woman's Club

Monday, December 13th, is Mothers' and Daughters' Day at the Waban Woman's Club. These get-togethers of fathers and sons and mothers and daughters have long since proven their value in establishing amiable relations, and have sometimes been quite surprising to the young people in the discovery that those peculiar ancients really have a lot of fun in them, and can even understand about fun, and have been as much of a surprise to the ancients in the discovery that those inexperienced, and unformed youngsters actually understand matters that were thought quite beyond

SCHOOL NOTES

Bigelow School

At the assembly period Thanksgiving week, Miss Bragg, assistant superintendent of schools, entertained the pupils and teachers with Thanksgiving stories. Wednesday of last week the program was presented by pupils of the school.

Last Wednesday morning Catherine Ward, Mary Hill, and Richard Francis, from Miss Chase's room, gave a recitation entitled "Thanksgiving." Atossa Herring of the eighth grade gave a carefully prepared and well delivered talk on "Ants"—their habits, foods, homes, instincts, and life circle. This was made especially interesting by a glass case containing families of live ants in their nests and showing their methods of burrowing in the sand. Rev. Mr. Eusden then addressed the school. He told a Christmas story which Queen Marie of Roumania always recites to her family at Christmas time, to which the school listened most attentively.

Last week Christine Bernier was selected by a competitive spelling contest from the sixth and seventh grades to represent the school on Thursday evening in the Big Brother Spelling Bee. Mary Hill of the sixth grade was a close second.

Several children have secured instruments and are learning to play under the direction of Mr. Spaulding, who comes to us on Tuesday forenoons. This is a fine opportunity for boys and girls to learn to play wind instruments, and more ought to begin at once. Instruments may be rented or purchased by the pupils through the director.

A new science table for demonstration purposes has been installed in room 4, and is to be fitted with gas and water.

Angier School

These children, in Miss Lincoln's first grade, were neither absent nor tardy during the month of November: Margaret Bartram, Richard Berry, Richard Clark, Richard Gordon, Richard McClellan, Lois Colby, Eleanor Greene, Penelope Hart, Charles Hudson, Carl Klotz, Ruth Lucas, Ruth Scott, and H. Potter Trainer.

Forty-five fourth grade children went to the Children's Museum at Jamaica Plain last Thursday. They heard a lecture on the beaver, and saw pictures of the beavers' homes, etc.

The two first grades gave a Mother Goose program in the assembly hall Wednesday morning. Peter Ayer led the music, Dougald MacDonald the prayer, and Franklin Sweetser the flag salute. Health poems were given by Sylvia Pierce, George Goodspeed, Theodore Davidson, Lois Colby, Robert Black, Ruth Lucas, and Richard MacLellan. The following children dramatized Mother Goose rhymes: Margaret Bartram, Ruth Scott, John Scarlet, Potter Trainer, Margaret Seaver, Virginia Towsley, Gardner Creamer, Nancy Howatt, Eleanor Greene, Jane Mosser, George Garrison, Chester Churchill, Fay Hollander, Frances Walker, and Anne Woods. Ray Arnold took the part of Old Mother Manners and Dorothy Gardner, Edith Moir, Charles Burrows, John Miller, Nancy Rogers, Ida Leona Rice, and Charles Dearborn were her seven children.

Two Health Clubs have been formed in Mrs. Leavitt's third and fourth grade. These clubs are competing for highest number of points in playing the Health Game. These officers have been elected:—James Burer, President; Viola St. Lawrence, Vice-President of Club I. Clinton Ferguson is President and Aldrich Prouty Vice-President of Club II.

The 8th grade is to have a debate at their next assembly. The subject is: Resolved—"That careless pedestrians are responsible for more accidents than careless drivers." Paul Rycroft is the leader of one side and Robert La Crosse of the other.

A meeting of the Safety Council was held December 8th at 3.30. Reports of patrols were heard. Special commendation was given Robert White for patrol work outside the school building. It was voted to post, in the school, names of all members of the Council. The council is preparing a play called "What's the Idea—Safety?" and it is also getting ready to present its cause to all the grades. All possible efforts are being made to protect boys and girls from the dangers incurred in hopping trucks, snowballing in the wrong places, skating on thin ice, etc.

The Mason School

Soccer has taken the leading place among out-of-door activities until the recent snow fall. For boys of grammar school age, the game has begun to be the most popular in many of the surrounding communities, and Newton is not far behind.

The greater difficulty has been the lack of men who understand the game. Consequently Mr. Hermann of the Playground Department hired Jock McIntyre, Captain of the Boston Professional Team, to come to each of the playgrounds of Newton, and instruct the boys and directors in the fine arts of the game. Happily a better choice could not have been made, and the enthusiasm of the boys increased in leaps and bounds.

A school league was formed late this fall and the Mason School was represented. The Newton Centre School has made a fairly good showing, having won two games, tied one, and lost one. The boys are all quite won over to soccer, and it is believed that next year that soccer will be instituted as the favorite fall sport among the Grammar schools of Newton.

The children of the Mason responded generously to the request for clothing. Mr. Furbush can place these and any further contributions in just the right homes.

Mr. Spaulding will have a good band if the boys and girls who have signed up for musical instruments do their part. The response to his "bugle call" is gratifying, and teachers and pupils are working together to have the Mason well represented in any musical event which may take place.

Again the Mason is indebted to the Parent-Teacher Association which has presented thirty new records selected by Mr. Griffin for the study of musical appreciation.

Their splendid, helpful co-operation is appreciated by teachers and pupils.

F. A. Day Junior High School

The air is fairly alive with Christmas spirit isn't it? This pre-seasonal storm has done much to make people feel more Christmasy. What do those who go down South do to trump up Christmas spirit when there is no tang and tingle in the air? It even seems easier to spend money on gifts for others when there is snow on the ground. We don't know the reason why this is so, so do not ask us. Miss Seale felt the brunt of this storm more than the other teachers on the Junior High School faculty. She went up to New Hampshire over the week end to rest and to recuperate from a bad cold. When Sunday came she was both rested and running the chance of being able to rest for some days to come for the snow was falling thick and fast and up in those towns where the event of a mail train is something to write home about—being snowed in is nothing at all to experience. Luck and the Gods smiled on her, however, and she arrived safely, only an hour later than schedule time.

Speaking of Miss Seale's having to recuperate from a cold, she, no doubt, became over tired last week for she had the duties of home room and office on her shoulders. Miss Coleman, our genial Secretary, was laid up with a broken toe. We all express our sympathy and realize that the accident is not half so funny as Miss Coleman makes it out to be. We missed her good nature and her sense of buffoonery and were only too glad to see the the cab which is now her daily conveyance draw up before the door on Monday morning.

Miss Coleman, by the way, is quite sure that there is a Santa Claus for she let us in "on the know" the other day and told us that she is going to get a pair of Congress gaiters and a rubber tip to her cane for her Christmas presents!

We have with us a concoctor of original dishes in the culinary line. Miss Pratt would cause even Marjorie Mills to look to her laurels with the latest dish which she has invented for the delectation of the Junior High School. Faculty and students alike were blessed. A short time ago, while those in the lunch room were preparing Spanish rice, Miss Pratt ventured the belief that beef in place of the rice would be very tasty. And lo, it was tried and her fame spread, for it was good.

The Assembly for the week was in charge of Miss Johnstone.

Books are constantly being written for grown ups to plead the cause of the Negro. Resulting from the propaganda in Porgy Nigger Heaven," "The Quaint Companions" etc., the negro is more and more coming into his own.

Children of Junior High School age do not have access to such literature but a dignified, well-poised and pleasant-faced woman subtly pleaded for the Old South and its negro retainers —on the Assembly Hall platform on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, former President of the Federation of Woman's Clubs, held the undivided attention of her youthful audience with her talk which very cleverly combined fact and story. Her stories gave a clear idea of the humor and pathos which is so characteristic of the entire negro race. They also gave Mrs. Palmer an opportunity to shsow her skill in the use of negro dialect.

From the bits of darky songs which she wove into her program we felt a strong desire to hear Mrs. Palmer in an entire program of Negro Spirituals which are just now so very much in vogue.

Lasell

On Tuesday esvening at the Congregational Church Lasell Seminary united with the Auburndale Woman's Club in presenting to the Auburndale public Mr. Phidelah Rice in readings from David Garrick. The Lasell Glee Club furnished music.

The first pupils' musical recital of the year was given Wednesday evening, December 8, in Bragdon Hall. The program concluded with the Ctantata, St. Mary Magdalene by D'Indy given by the Orphean Club, with George Sawyer Dunham conducting, Jean Stanley Goodrich at the piano, and Harold Schwab at the organ.

The musical recital by the pupils of the junior department was given at Woodiand Park Hall on Friday afternoon, December 10.

The Christmas dinner, followed by of the Dramatic Club, was held on an entertainment under the direction Saturday evening, Dec. 11, in Bragdon Hall.

Dr. Ashley Day Leavitt of the Harvard Church, Brookline, will have charge of the Christmas Vespers on Sunday evening, December 12 at 6.15 in the Chapel. The Lasell Glee Club will sing Christmas carols.

DEATH OF MR. COLSON

Mr. William W. Colson, who has been connected with the Graphic in the production of several Memorial books, died Wednesday at his home in Winthrop after a long illness. Mr. Colson was 59 years of age, and had been engaged in newspaper work for many years. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

At the time of his death Mr. Colson was working on a War Memorial of Newton, the publication of which will be somewhat delayed on this account.

NEWS FROM THE COLLEGES

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

Shortly after the Civil War the college now known as Wellesley opened its doors to women in an effort to enlighten and at the same time lighten the load that they had been bearing for centuries. Nestled around picturesque Lake Waban with its famed field days and canoe races it is one of the most attractive spots in the vicinity of Boston. Along the boulevard the automobiles go on their way but the towers of Tower Hall cast their beetling shadows over the busy thoroughfare as a symbol of the learning and a talisman of the companionship to be found within. All in all Wellesley is a most attractive place and with its conveniences in the way of being near a city, and, needless to add, that college on the Charles, it well deserves its standing as the second college for women in enrollment.

Here one could spend some days merely bowing to old Newton acquaintances for of all the girls' colleges this has more Newtonians than any other, and almost any other combination of colleges as far as numbers of Newton girls in attendance goes. Just to vary our usual order of events let up take up the entering class this year which was a large one. One of the leaders in this group is Florence Sawyer of Waban. Graduating from Newton in 1925, she spent last year at Dana Hall, where she attended strictly to studying with the result that she entered Wellesley with flying colors this fall. She was a newcomer in the Newtons for she had spent a greater part of her life in the West, and, in consequence, she did not do a great deal in the way of outside activities until her last season when she became a member of the Library Club, and in the same connection obtained membership in the English Club at the same time. In this work she was most successful as her literary work was of excellent quality, especially in the lines of verse writing. She also was elected to Alpha Gamma Tau, the mathematics organization, and at the same time joined the French Club. As a final effort she was one of the feature writers in the edition of the Newtonian of that year. At Wellesley she has taken up her old favorite, golf, and is captain of the freshman team. She is a most promising golfer due to her experience at the Brae Burn course, and seems to be capable of making the varsity in later days.

Three other entrants this year are Elizabeth Schipper of Auburndale, Harriot Schell from Newton, and Doris Sargent from West Newton Hill. The latter had all manner of honors given to her because of her high standing scholastically for the time that she was in the school. In the club activities she held high places in the Alpha Beta for her first two years, and later was in the mathematics club for two seasons. Her final terms were busy ones and the French Club held the greater part of her interest, although at the production of the Senior Play she was the head of the senior committee in charge. Harriot Schell is another Westerner, coming to Newton in the lower classes of high school. Her interests were many, covering practically all the phases of outside work. In her senior year she was president of the Library Club, an honor of some consequence since it meant that she was probably one of the most popular girls in her class besides being recognized as one of the leaders in executive lines. She was prominent in dramatic circles belonging to the organization that governs such activities for two seasons. In her last year she had the leading feminine role in the now annual presentation of this club. This, by the way, is one of the finest pieces of amateur work that can be seen in suburban Boston, for under Miss Wetherbee's coaching the dramatic group always puts on stage an excellent play, combined with exceptionally good acting. Brownie, as she more often is called, was on the roll-call of the English Club for two years and for a like number enjoyed the rights and privileges of the Spanish Club, a subject in which she was unusuall proficient. An unusual occurrence in the usual run of such affairs is that for the comparatively long time of three years she was a leader in the French Club, and in the last season participated in the new venture, a French play given in its native tongue. She also joined the Latin Club, a difficult organization to become a member in, and as a proof of her scholastic ability she was on the Honor Roll for three successive years and at graduation was one of the top honor students in the school. As a final effort she carried a leading part in the Senior Play and also wrote a great deal for the Newtonian. The third member is a take-off to a large degree on her predecessors since she was a most brilliant student. In her senior year she held offices in three of the best extra curricula groups in the college namely:—the French, Mathematics, and Library Club. In the English Club she did her best work, being a member for two years, besides doing a deal of clever literary pieces throughout the terms. And an achievement in Public Speaking was hers when she was one of the two girl speakers in the finals in 1923.

A girl from Newton Centre is another one of the freshman class, Katherine Lotz. As a legislator she was one of the leaders in the formation of the Constitution, as she was a delegate to the convention and later a member of the newly formed legislature. She was treasurer of Le Cercle Francais in her senior year and at the same time was in the English Club. As a student she was one of the brightest in that class of 1926 and for this reason was on the Honor Roll for all her years in attendance. In English work she was the head of the copy staff of the Newtonite for two years and did a splendid piece of work, being in part responsible for the excellence of the copy formation of the paper. Athletically she played on the hockey teams her first and last years as forward.

DEATH OF MRS. WYETH

Mrs. Josephine Wyeth, wife of Walter F. Wyeth, died suddenly of pneumonia at the family home on Quidmic road, Waban, on Monday. Mrs. Wyeth, who was the daughter of Robert Ames Shailer of New York and the late Grace (Hooper) Shailer, was born in Wilmington, Del., Feb. 24, 1882, but spent most of her early life in Chicago. When she was eighteen years old, her family moved to Brookline, where she lived until her marriage in 1905. She was a graduate of The Wheelock School in Boston. Besides her husband, a Harvard man of the class of 1889, she leaves in her immediate family one son, Walter F. Wyeth, Jr., Harvard '29, and three daughters, Miss Grace Wyeth, Miss Marjorie Wyeth and Miss Nancy Wyeth.

The people of Newton should be congratulated on the opportunity to avail themselves of the services of Mr. Harold T. Dougherty as a member of the city government for 1927 and we trust he will receive substantial support at the city election next Tuesday. Mr. Dougherty, as a former librarian of the Newton Free Library has an unusual personal acquaintance with city affairs and could be depended upon to give his best efforts to maintain the high standard of service and efficiency which we all expect from our city fathers.

The election of an alderman at large from Wd. 4 is the only city wide contest at the coming election. There are three ward contests in which the sitting members are candidates for re-election. In Ward 2, there is a fine opportunity to elect Mr. Augustus L. Wakefield, which ought not to be neglected. We believe that Mr. O'Connell has held this office long enough and that it is time to make a change particularly when a man like Mr. Wakefield is willing to serve the city.

In Ward 4, Alderman Noone, who has served but one year, is clearly entitled to the re-election which is apparently coming to him next Tuesday.

In Ward 5, Alderman Favinger has rendered splendid service and ought not to be even opposed for re-election. It has long been recognized that the three distinct civic centres in Ward 5, the Upper Falls, Newton Highlands and Waban should each have a representative in the board of aldermen and the candidacy of Mr. McKenzie, from the Upper Falls section, already represented by Alderman Hodgdon, is a clear violation of that understanding and ought to be frowned upon by the voters of Ward 5.

We have a feeling that it is useless to urge our citizens to vote at the coming city election. With an election with only one city wide contest and with only three ward contests the people will refuse to take it seriously even though a city government so chosen may have some effect on the tax payer's pocket book. The one remedy which we believe would be of some value in this state of mind, is a change to biennial elections, whereby the city government would be elected at the same time a mayor is chosen, with a possible greater interest on the part of the voters.

While the preferential system of voting will apply to the election of aldermen-at-large from Ward 4, the issues in that contest are so plain that there is no need to exercise a second choice. The election lies between Mr. Dougherty and Mr. Heathcote, and while there is a third candidate, his support is so small that it will cut little figure in the result.

The patrons of the Commonwealth Avenue-Lake Street line of trolleys should take a deep interest in the public meeting to be held next Monday evening at the Commonwealth Country Club to discuss a series of plans to improve the terminal facilities at the junction of these two lines.

The committee in charge of the sale of Christmas seals in this city earnestly urge the people of this city not to purchase seals from children who go from door to door. Such seals are not authorized by the committee in charge of the Health work.

of the State Health Department who lives in Newton. He knows what the tests made of Newton water show. He and his children drink Newton water. The State Health Department is making daily tests of Newton water. Our consulting engineers, Weston and Sampson, are making weekly tests which are four times as exacting as those made by the state officials. Thus there is a double check on Newton water. All the recent tests show the water to be good."

Alderman Collins asked if the removing of the sediment from the wooden conduit will not remove the chief cause of the discoloration of the water, and if it is correct that the sediment in it is not detrimental to health. He remarked that the great majority of Newton people are reasonable, and more interested in knowing what is being done about improving the city's water supply, than they are anxious about changing to the Metropolitan system.

Mr. Bail replied, "that the sediment is not detrimental to health and that few complaints have been received since the large mains were cleaned as compared with the number of complaints received before. Commissioner Whitney is keeping a card index of complaints and had received none for 10 days preceding this day. Of course a broken hydrant, or some similar disturbance will cause the water in the mains on nearby streets to become muddled. The Crenothrix in the conduit has been gathering for 36 years. All the mains on the side streets will have to be cleaned. On short lengths of main, such as a few hundreds of feet, the streets will not be torn up to install the scraping machine. These short lengths will be flushed. If we start to use water from the Metropolitan supply, we will get plenty of kicks within 24 hours, because this water, being soft, will act as a solvent and loosen the sediment in the mains which have not been yet scraped."

Alderman Gallagher said, "Alderman Bail has been very efficient as Chairman of the Committee, of which I am a member. We have in this city about the best water of any city in the country. It is almost as good as Poland Spring water. Newton water has never been polluted. The past year has been the healthiest Newton has ever had. The only reason I would consent to serve on the Board is because of my interest in the water supply. We have been meeting the situation and no one can make us deviate from our course. The only persons we will take notice of, is the State Department of Health. We are anxious to co-operate with it. When we clean the wooden conduit out, we must use Metropolitan water. We could not get this water until recently. I hope those who have been crying for Metropolitan water will get enough of it within the next 10 days. Some of the carboys in this city which are supposed to contain spring or distilled water, have been refilled with Newton water. We have a good supply of water and the Metropolitan Commission would be glad to get some of it if they could. The Wachusett supply has been almost depleted. The State has reently appropriated $70,000,000 for an additional Metropolitan water supply. The water in the Clinton basin is supposed to have several months to percolate. The Metropolitan District is now using water that fell in the last rain storm up Clinton way. It is the easiest thing in the world to spread untruths. The rumors circulated about the pollution of Newton water will seriously affect the value of property in this city. We have no contamination at our water reservation. Nothing but crows fly over it. In 1921 Mr. Rogers, the then City Engineer, recommended that the wooden conduit be cleaned out, but he mentioned that this could not be done until a large water main would be built across the city. This main, the new 20 inch pipe along Commonwealth avenue, was completed just six weeks ago."

COMMUNITY SERVICE

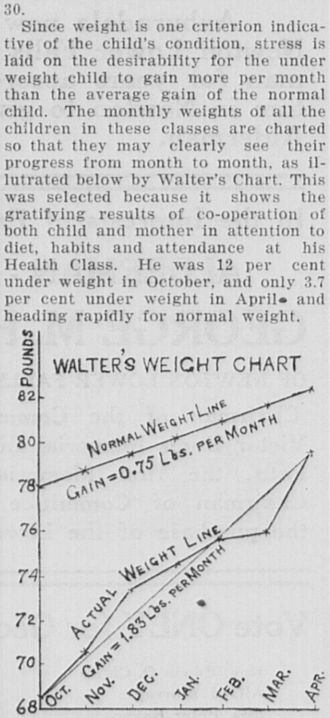
CHRISTMAS SEAL SALES

For about seven years now the Christmas Seal Sales in Newton have made continuous constructive work possible among our school children, aimed at preventing disease by increasing the general health of those who are distinctly under par. A brief review of that work was printed in the local press about a year ago. Last week's issue of the Graphic printed an outline of the organization of the "Special Health Classes" which for three years past has been carrying on this preventive work program, through the Health Committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau.

The following paragraphs give briefly some specific results of last year's classes.

Of the approximately 10,000 pupils in Newton Grade Schools in October, 1925, about 4 per cent were found to be more than 10 per cent below normal weight as indicated by standard weight and height tables. Of these, something over one quarter accepted the invitation to join the Special Health Classes, and other children were for various special reasons included in the classes, which were held weekly in the Burr, Davis, Emerson, Hyde, Our Lady, Horace Mann, Mason, Sacred Heart, Stearns and Underwood Schools. The attendance at each of these classes averaged between 20 and 30.

Since weight is one criterion indicative of the child's condition, stress is laid on the desirability for the under weight child to gain more per month than the average gain of the normal child. The monthly weights of all the children in these classes are charted so that they may clearly see their progress from month to month, as illutrated below by Walter's Chart. This was selected because it shows the gratifying results of co-operation of both child and mother in attention to diet, habits and attendance at his Health Class. He was 12 per cent under weight in October, and only 3.7 per cent under weight in April and heading rapidly for normal weight.



The average Normal Weight line for all the children in the classes would show a gain of about one-half pound per month due to growth. If, therefore, the average under weight child gains three-quarters of a pound per month, it may fairly be considered a satisfactory gain. On that basis it was found that 67.5 per cent of the children in these classes had made satisfactory gain in weight between October, 1925, and April, 1926.

Weight, of course, does not tell the whole story. The physical condition of the youngsters with respect to teeth, tonsils, adenoids, posture, nutrition, heart, lungs and vision has been determined in the grade schools, by competent physicians, in the fall of each year during the past three years, including the present term. The results of these physical examinations is recorded on a card for each pupil, provision being made on each card for ten such yearly records. They furnish to the school physicians, nurses, and teachers information regarding specific defects that have distinct bearing on the child's capacity for satisfactory development in school, and the report cards, sent home by the children for the parent's signature, ensure this information coming to the attention of the parents.

Particularly for the children of the Special Health Classes are these physical examinations important, for they bring to the immediate attention of the teacher, the physician, the nurse, the nutritionist and the posture teacher defects of these children, whose health they are specifically attempting to improve. Very personal and individual attention was given to those children and as close contact as possible was sought with their homes to bring about correction of the defects. For example, last year the nurses of the Special Health Classes made approximately 450 home calls, and the nutritionist over 300. Largely as a result of the co-operation fostered by this personal contact, gratifying progress was made in correction of defects. To be briefly specific: about 59 per cent of the children of these classes were found to have defects of teeth, and of these about 72 per cent were corrected; about 31 per cent had tonsil defects, and of these about 36 per cent were corrected; about 28 per cent were found to have defects of the lungs, and of these about 72 per cent were given correctional attention; about 67 per cent were noted as deficient in nutrition, and of these about 48 per cent responded to special measures for correction; about 76 per cent were found to have postural defects, and these 78 per cent took special exercises for correction. In general, it may be said that of the children of these Special Health Classes, over 250 had some defect, and of these over 220 had some defect corrected. Of all recommendations made by the physicians, over 80 per cent were given co-operative response by children and parents.

In addition to the expenses involved in these special classes and physical examinations, about $1000 was expended for milk in homes and schools where particularly needed, for X-ray examination, for summer camp and for special T. B. work.

A similar program of Examinations, Special Classes and Personal Contact with the parents in the homes, is being pursued now and will be carried through 1927 if by the Christmas Seal Sale the good people of Newton register their interest and approval of these constructive efforts.

"PEACE TIME SERVICE"

If you have not joined the Red Cross for 1927 your membership dues of $1.00 will be gladly received at the office of the Red Cross, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

The "war service" of the Red Cross is so dramatic in its nature (as is all war service) that when it ceases many believe that there is no longer need for continuing membership in the Red Cross. However, the "peace time service" of the Red Cross is vital to almost every community in the United States; it guards health, protects homes, encourages unselfishness in little children, and brightens the lives of disabled veterans in our hospitals. It is a universal element for good—money to carry on this work is needed and above all your loyal support is needed.

But 8 per cent of the people of Newton have joined the Red Cros for 1927. A larger percentage would be more worthy of the people of Newton.

The Red Cross needs your support.

WEST NEWTON COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

Plans for the Community Christmas Tree which is to be given under the auspices of the West Newton Community Centre on the Eden Avenue Playground, Waltham street, on Thursday, December 23, at 7.15 P. M. are creating much interest.

Two hundred members of the Centre will take part in the Pageant, the procession of which will march from the Davis school to the stage on the playground at the back of the building, singing the old French carol, "Torches bring, Jeanette, Isabella." Following this there will be a pantomime of "Deck the Hall," "Wassail Song" and "God rest you, Merry Gentlemen." Then will follow a drill by a group of small girls called "The Dancing Christmas Trees."

The schools are co-operating by teaching the words of the carols to the scholars. The children's choir from the Congregational Church will appear in costume and assist with the carols. A group from the Newton Choral Society will also be in the procession and help with the singing. Visitors attending the tree are requested to bring a candle which will enable them to read the words of the carols for the general community singing.

The parade of the Pageant will be arranged as follows each unit wearing different costumes:

1. Standard Bearers.
2. Master of the Carnival.
3. Attendants.
4. Wassail song group.
5. Torch bearers.
6. Dancing Christmas Trees.
7. God rest you, Merry Gentlemen group.
8. Carolers.
9. Start and Go-Ahead Club.
10. Cheer and Moulton Club.
11. Whittling Club.
12. Moon Club.
13. Congregational Church Choir.
14. Newton Choral Society.
15. Boy and Girl Scouts.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' "BIG BROTHER CLUB

Members in Newton will be on hand to welcome "Big Brother" Bob Emery on Saturday afternoon at 4.30 when he is to greet them in person at the American Legion Auxiliary Bazaar, which is being given for the benefit of the Welfare Fund, at Dennison Hall, Newtonville, on Friday, December 10th from one o'clock and Saturday, December 11th, opening at 10 A. M. Supper will be served each day from 5 to 7 o'clock. Music for dancing Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

There will be a fortune teller each evening and a White Elephant Rummage Booth will provide bargains. Fancy and useful articles will be for sale, also infants' and children's things, aprons, handkerchiefs, Christmas cards, old and new books, candy, popcorn, cooked foods, groceries, cigarettes, ice cream, tonics. The public is cordially invited to help make this a great success.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTER

The Bazaar last Saturday, December 4th, was a great success. Everyone was much pleased. The new store at the corner of Channing and Washington streets was turned into a very attractive and sociable meeting place for the club members and directors of the Center. The tables were decorated in rainbow colors and the windows filled with pine and ferns. The Senior Girls made a profit of $110, the Colonna Club $60, Mothers' Club $25, Afternoon Embroidery Class $15, and N. J. J. $11, the whole afternoon bringing in $220. Miss Lucy Cobb's coffee and cake table paid for all expenses.

If "an idea is worth a million dollars everyone earned much more than the figures listed above show. That practically nothing was left unsold, speaks well for the quality of the clubs' work and for the directors' loyalty.

All Newton Music School, Inc.

A pupil recital will be held at the Claflin School, Newtonville, on Friday evening, Dec. 17th, at 7.30 P. M. This will be the Christmas celebration of the School to take the place of the "Nativity", the Christmas play given in former years. There will be the usual program by the pupils and also Community Singing of Christmas carols. Pupils are urged to come and bring their parents to join in the singing. This event is for all the pupils in the Music Schol, both Peirce and Claflin Schools.

Pupils from the Music School attended the Young People's Symphony Concert on Wednesday afternoon at Symphony Hall.

The social service department made 38 visits at the hospital, 29 at homes and transferred 44 patients in the social service car.

Sewing societies and others are reminded again that if they feel moved to do it there is a great deal of sewing to be done for the hospital which it would be a great help to have done. Information in regard to the sewing may be had by calling at the hospital or by telephoning to West Newton 0600.

Through the kindness of Mr. Charles E. Hatfield a number of the students at the training school and members of the hospital family were able to attend Monday night's dress rehearsal by the Players.

The training school committee held a meeting at the hospital on Monday.

Miss Elizabeth T. Wheeler of 32 Norwood avenue, Newton Centre, who this week joined the social service department of the hospital, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, with the class of 1907, and trained with the Family Welfare Society of Boston and took courses in social work at Simmons School of Social Work. For a while she was head of the permission department at Bennett School at Millbrook, N. Y. In 1919 she went to the Boston Dispensary and for seven years was there the medical social worker and general case worker in the Children's Hospital section of the dispensary. As a member of the hospital family she will have her part in the fast increasing social service work of the hospital.

A group of training school students who have been attending the course given by Dr. Edward Mellus in mental hygiene this week visited the Walter E. Fernald School in Waverley.

Miss Phinney's only attendant was Mrs. Edward Barnes Maynard (Margaret Kimball) of New York. The bridegroom, a graduate of the University of Vermont, class of 1916, and a member of Sigma Phi, was attended by Isaac Dill Everitt of Brookline, University of Vermont, class of 1914.

The ushers were Berton Vesper Phinney and Roger Alcott Phinney of Brookline, brothers of the bride; Chandler Stephen Gates and Arthur Wellesley Rutter of Cambridge, fraternity brothers of the bridegroom; Edward Barnes Maynard of New York, and Frederick Burton Hicks of Waban.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. White chrysanthemums and palms were the decorations at the church, where the altar was effectively lighted with candles.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Brae Burn Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Mack will be "at home" at 83 Brattle street, Cambridge, after Jan. 1.

Happy, indeed, will be the woman who receives this Christmas—Kelvinator.

Pleased because she receives "the best;" joyful because of another convenience that makes her duties easier; her domain still more modern and still more envied by her friends.

COAL COAL

WHITE OAK COAL

In 1925 we experienced a tremendous coal shortage. During this time White Oak Coal mined in the heart of the famous smokeless coal fields of West Virginia was brought to our attention. We have made a thorough investigation of this type of coal, and are now ready to make immediate deliveries. We suggest that you investigate White Oak before ordering your winter supplies. We have stocked this coal because we feel that in so doing we are better able to solve the heating problems of our customers.

them! There only remains for some bright person to institute a mothers' and sons' day" and a fathers' and daughters' day. Why think that understanding can only be established between groups of feminine and as restricted groups of masculine! The experiment might make for a growing appreciation of the mutual need in all things—domestic, public, civic, political—that some way is viewed so suspiciously and pessimistically at times.

The program for the afternoon will be given by Captain Frank Guy Armitage, in a lecture-recital on "Queer Folks from Dickens". Captain Armitage, personally, is an Englishman by birth,—a fact that should make the understanding of Dickens and his quaint characters of worth to an audience—and a brave one (not for this presentation) which will add to his charm for his hearers, in that he was decorated with the Military Cross during the war. Hero worship is not yet a thing of the past, either with the new generation or the older, however much modernism has changed society. Captain Armitage brings to his audience, as well, the beloved store of knowledge gained by collection of rare editions of Dickens, and of fine old prints. No man could put time and heart into such work without imbibing a valuable viewpoint for presenting his cherished hobby. Entertaining, too, will be the fact that his program will not be alone a lecture of biography, but he will impersonate the characters he describes, which is always appealing to the universal liking for the dramatic. Tea and the social hour will bring together the many daughters, and the many mothers, which will not be the least interesting of the events of the afternoon.

Junior Members of The West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. B. Howard Lester will open her home Monday evening, December 13th, for the Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, who are to entertain the Juniors of the Auburndale Woman's Club.

Auburndale Review Club

Continuing their delightful journeys through "Picturesque America", their study topic for the year, the members of the Auburndale Review Club will meet at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, the 14th, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Farley, 251 Central street, to be conducted to "Zion and Glacier National Parks" by Mrs. Nathaniel L. Grant, and to "Yellowstone National Park and Rock Formations of Utah," by Miss Margaret Haskell. After these two extensive trips, the members will hear a Reading, from "The Open Spaces," by Henry Van Dyke, to be given by Miss Ellen C. Williams.

Benefit Shop

The Hospital Aid Benefit Shop will close at 4 o'clock during the winter. Christmas week it will be open on Monday afternoon and evening only, so that it were wise, indeed, in this instance to "do your Christmas shopping early". That there are articles that may be used for this gift time is proven by the announcement that at the shop at 751 Beacon street, Newton Centre, an excellent couch and mahogany sofa are displayed in the window. They may be seen by appointment with Mrs. Groves, C. N. 832-W. Newton Club women, and all citizens, are once more reminded that there is opportunity to add to their own Christmas cheer in aiding this cause with contributions, either from purchases, or from donating articles for sale.

Auburndale Woman's Club

On Tuesday afternoon, December 14th, a reception to the teachers of the Williams and Burr Schools and of Lasell Seminary will be given by the Club members of the Auburndale Woman's Club under the direction of the Education Committee, Mrs. Hector R. P. Gai, Chairman.

The General Federation prize play: "The Wandering Child", written by Miss Mary Richmond Davidson, a member of the Auburndale Woman's Club, will be presented for the first time.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Artistic ways in which to wrap Christmas gifts are to be shown and suggested by the Art Committee at its monthly tea for members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, Tuesday afternoon in the home of the Committee's treasurer, Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver of Walnut street. At the annual holiday sale last month, the committee displayed unusual wrapping materials and now on this social occasion, a practical demonstration of how to use them, will be made. All Club members will be welcome at the tea.

Wednesday afternoon, the 15th, Miss Eunice Avery will give the second of her talks on Current Events, the meeting taking place in the Parish House of the Episcopal Church. As this lecture is an "extra" outside the regular Club meeting, special tickets of admission will be necessary and if not secured of the committee in advance, can be had at the door on the afternoon of the event.

Social Science Club

The December 15th meeting of the Social Science Club is to be a delightful one of entertainment and enjoyment. Instead of the usual business meeting, one of the talented members, Miss A. Gertrude Ensign, is to give an Organ Recital in Eliot Church, for their Christmas festivity, in a musical treat. The members of the Newton Community Club are cordially invited to be present at this recital, which will be at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

On December 16th, at 3 P. M., Prof. Robert E. Rogers of Technology will lecture once more before the Newton Centre Woman's Club, this time on the "Portrait of a Modern Poet". All who heard Prof. Rogers on December 2nd, when he gave a most illuminating picture of "The Modern Novelist" will be most anxious to hear his second lecture.

West Newton Woman's Educational Club

Santa Claus will be present at the Christmas party which the Club is giving for the fifteen children, whom they are to entertain on Friday, December 17th, at 3 o'clock. Children of Club members are to be guests, also. Mrs. George W. St. Amant, who is chairman of the affair, hopes to have plenty of toys, book games, or warm articles of clothing with which to fill the stockings.

Santa Claus (he is a fine one) will have the tree all trimmed, and hopes to greet all his small (and large) friends.

The Travel Class will meet in the home of Mrs. John A. McCarthy, 157 Webster street, West Newton, on Monday, December 13th. Mrs. F. M. Blanchard will give a paper on the "Spanish-American War and Its Aftermath," and Mrs. W. C. Church a paper on "King Alphonso and Modern Spain." There will be a roll call and Current Events.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Mrs. Claude U. Gilson will give her next lecture on the Course on Current Events for the members of the Community Service Club of West Newton on December 17th. The Parish House of the Unitarian Church is the place of meeting for these lectures, and the hour is 10.30 A. M.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Review of "Othello" will be the topic for the Quiz to be given by Mrs. H. W. Drew for the testing of understanding, memory, and nimble ability to extricate themselves from unexpected questions or situations, of the members of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands at their Saturday meeting, the 18th of December. Mrs. C. H. Keeler entertains them at her home, 36 Oak terrace, at any time.

Newton Community Club

Members of the Newton Community Club are invited not to just one party, but much more thrilling, to a series of parties at the Priscilla Proving Plant, during the week of December 13th. Home Economic Experts are primed to lecture on many matters especially interesting for the Christmas holidays. There will be coffee served at some times, tea at others, and informal receptions with editors of Modern Priscilla and with officials of the Proving Plant as hostesses. Monday, December 13th, at 2.30 o'clock a lecture on "Appetizers and Salads"; Tuesday, the 14th, at 10.30 A. M. an Exhibition of Set Tables, and an address: "Centrepieces, Silver, and Correct Table Setting"; at 2.30 P. M. a lecture-demonstration "The Turkey, Stuffing, and Accessories"; on the 15th, at 10.30 A. M. an Exhibition of Table Linens and Suggestions for Last-Minute Gifts"; at 2.30 further demonstration on friend Turkey or Chicken and "Chicken Chop Suey"; on the 16th, "Attractive Wrappings of Christmas Gifts" will be shown in the forenoon, and "Christmas Candies" demonstrated in the afternoon, and lastly, on the 17th, in the morning "Christmas Pastries" will be lecture-demonstrated, and in the afternoon, "Christmas Cakes."

Admission to the lectures is by ticket, as seating capacity is limited, otherwise all is quite free, and requests should be telephoned as soon as possible to Mrs. Arthur L. Douglass, N. N. 3630, or to Mrs. L. P. Guion, N. N. 4357. If you can not use your ticket give it to a friend.

Artists of the Newton Community Club are appealed to to use their talent for the benefit and pleasure of their organization, in designing a fitting emblem, suitable for the Year Book, the Bulletin, the Club stationery, as a Club Insignia. The Bulletin offers over and above the joy of serving your Club, and being the proud artist of such an emblem a prize of ten dollars for the best design submitted before December 20th to the editors, Miss Florence L. Heard, or Miss Miriam Drury.

General Federation Note

New Honor for Mrs. Poole. And one that proves she will go on doing for cally declared, "goin' to talk some mo'", going to talk for the glory of our State!

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, Recording Secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will be presented as a candidate for the office of First Vice-President of the General Federation.

Mrs. Poole's name will be presented for this office with the unanimous endorsement of the Executive Board of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, given last Thursday at the December meeting of the Board held at Hotel Vendome, Boston.

Conservation. With the coming of Christmas comes the consideration of wreaths and trees. And this brings reminder of our duty and responsibility for the conservation of two of our nation's most precious resources, one material, one of far greater value, in the moral. Laurel wreaths are very lovely, but if used promiscuously, and if those who cut the laurel are encouraged to strip the roots—no matter how great our enjoyment may be in them—there will soon be no more of these delightful flowers in our midst. The question, then, is shall we use self control, refuse to tolerate the seller who has lost his sense of proportion in his greed, or shall we continue to enjoy blindly and take our punishment later? As for the Christmas trees— no one asks that we give up this custom so enjoyed by the children, of whatever age by the calendar —it is only asked that these trees be not stolen from the grounds and acres of others, be not cut ruthlessly from tops of trees—even though the symmetry and grace of these tops look so artistic in our rooms, for this means destruction of the entire tree. In decorating our Christmas trees we surely want a clear conscience at this holy time of year—if at no other—that this has not been taken from property that we—and no one from whom we purchase—have invaded unlawfully. The corrosive of this upon moral charcter is not measured by the dollars and cents that may be pridefully saved! We hear some argue that in the great areas of undergrowth on property not our own, there must be trees that it will be no harm to take. Even if we were sure the owner would not object—and we are not—this argument is merely a salve to the conscience that still strives to keep its greed, by getting something for nothing. We—and no one who sells or cuts trees—have no right to step foot on land owned by others, or to take anything from that land. It is theft, however much we argue to still the faint voice, and thievery should have no place in this American land of ours, provided we really desire to be the law-abiding citizens we like to have our neighbors think us.

Purchase from dealers who are raising their trees and laurel for sale, and be safe!

Mrs. Myron Davis, Jr., the State Chairman of Conservation, appeals again to Club women to remember that we have enlisted to save our nation's resources, and to that end she says:

"Let us urge moderation in all church and civic decorations, choosing from abundant Christmas greens rather than indulging the lavish use of yards and yards of laurel festoons fashioned from that over-taxed plant. Let us begin urging our farmers to cherish their wealth of laurel as a land asset. The cutting of laurel so it will sprout satisfactorily and produce further crops is quite simple. Wise growing, cutting and selling of yearly crops would insure the landowner a goodly revenue from his laurel-lands.

"Make the Community Christmas tree to be decorated and lighted and thus glow with its message of beauty in its civic environment. Light the home Christmas wreaths and lawn evergreens and thus lend our homes to the "Christmas City Beautiful" plans. In every generous, beautiful way possible let us live our Yuletide wish, "A merry, happy Christmas to all."

The Colerain Woman's Club, a group of but 35 women, has pointed the way to service on the part of Clubwomen in their pledge for conservation—a practical way, and at the same time carrying a sentiment and tribute that touches the heart. In memory of the mother of our State Federation president, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, this Club has purchased and given for forest purposes one acre of land for a 14th and 15th District Forest. Colerain is the childhood home of Mrs. Potter, and the home of her grandparents. Her mother, she says, would have been particularly interested in the project. Why not, indeed, sprung from the fine old stock that made our land one of resources, by valuing, by saving, by honoring all that stands for self control, for stability, for steadfastness! Here is a simple deed that yet has origin from the finest of spiritual qualities, and as such receives our homage.

DEATH OF MR. DONOVAN

Mr. Joseph S. Donovan, one of the leading automobile dealers in New England for many years and a resident of Newton Centre, died Tuesday at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital where he had been under treatment for some days.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., May 5, 1880, Mr. Donovan went to work when eleven years old. From a $1.50 a week job in a carpet factory he progressed into the railroad shops at Depew, N. Y., and when sixteen years old was in the oil business in Buffalo. He served in the Spanish American War and afterwards returned to the railroad shops. It was while in the railroad shops that he made a statement one day that he would be a millionaire at 45, and when he had that amount he would quit. He did both. His first experience in the automobile business was in 1902 when he worked as a mechanic in the Peerless factory in Cleveland. In 1906 he came to Boston and secured work as a mechanic in the shop of the Peerless branch. He soon took up the automobile rental business, then branched out into dealing in used cars. In 1911 Mr. Donovan became a sub-dealer in Boston for Studebaker and a year later took over the Boston retail business, which he conducted with marked success up to his retirement in December, 1925.

Mr. Donovan at the time of his retirement was president and treasurer of the Donovan Motor Car Company and a director of the Boston Automobile Dealers' Association. He was a member of the Boston Athletic Association and of the Commonwealth and other country clubs.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

A large audience testified by its hearty applause that the vaudeville entertainment on Tuesday evening was a most enjoyable affair. The program included a black face (and white hands) song skit by John Opdycke, a clever monologue by Miss Virginia Stokes, who represented several characters in a short playlet; a screamingly funny monologue of "The Raw Recruit," by Dr. Cecil W. Clark; a good acrobatic dancing act by Thelma Claire Hersey; a farce by Mr. Opdycke and Gunnar N. Bjorkman, and a group of songs by Donald McGaw Howard, a young man who evidently has a fine future in music. The evening closed with a one act comedy in which Miss Stokes, Miriam Hayes, James H. Anderson and Mr. Opdycke took part.

Next Sunday afternoon at 3.30 there will be another Musicale and Tea at the Club with a fine galaxy of artists on the program. Elenore Altman, the noted pianist, is coming over from New York especially for this afternoon. The other artists include Norma Jean Erdmann, soprano; George Brown, 'cello, and Louise Furman and Charles Bennett as accompanists.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. A. M. Boothby, Newton, Mrs Charles E. Murnan and Mrs. W. Horace Workman of Brookline, were the hostesses at the evening auction bridge out at the Commonwealth Country Club, Wednesday evening, Dec. 8th. They were assisted by Mmes. W. C. Benedict, F. J. Blake, F. L. Tompkins of Newton; William H. Short of Brighton, Harry W. Taylor of Waban; Henry Thornton, James A. Travers of Brookline; David C. Theall, Frank C. Waterman, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, and Paul F. Butler, Bay State road Boston. This was a club function on behalf of the Disabled Veterans of the Late War.

On Monday afternoon Dec. 13th a matinee auction bridge party is being given at the Comonwealth Country Club in aid of the Fatherless Children of France. This is a well known club function and is sponsored by Mrs. Alex R. Keltie of Hyde Park: Mrs. Harry F. Stimpson, Chestnut Hill, and Mrs. George W. Taylor of Newton. They will be assisted by Mmes. W. E. Harmon. Newton; C. S. Henshaw, O. Glenn Hopper, C. F. Robart, Brookline, William R. Reed, Newton, and Arthur L. Race, Copley-Plaza Hotel, Boston.

ABOUT TOWN

Some day, some public benefactor may discover a method of electrical anaesthesia that will permit rendering insensible for a brief period those "marathon" gabbers who talk by the hour on telephone party lines.

The aristocratic letter of the alphabet among the Germans was v, which was the abbreviation for von. In France the aristocrat could be distinguished if they had d' tucked in between their names. The Vs and the Ds were the "Who's Who" in Germany and France. But, the high toned letter in this country is neither v nor d. It is E. Many descendants of families bearing names that though honest, are rather common, have embellished said names by tacking on the letter e.

The Board of Aldermen appropriated several thousands of dollars Monday night to have a drain and sewer built on Newton street at Chestnut Hill. This street is quite near the big reservoir where the Metropolitan Water is stored. The State Department of Health requested this improvement because it was afraid the water in said reservoir might become contaminated. Just a short distance from the Chestnut Hill Reservoir, and located on higher ground, is a cemetery in which burials are being constantly made. It is doubtful if enough contamination from this cemetery works into the reservoir to cause any pollution, but what a howl some folks would raise if any such possible source of pollution as this was located near the Newton water reservation at Needham. The Wachusett Basin at Clinton and Boylston covers former sites of several villages, including land where several cemeteries were located. The projected basin in the Ware and Swift River areas, will cover sites of many existing villages and cemeteries. There will be little or no cause for worry over possible danger of the water which will be stored over the sites of these villages being polluted as a result. We merely mention these facts to show that timid people might find some remote reason to make a fuss over some slight objections which could be raised against Metropolitan Water.

The new tractor of the Street Department was used to great advantage after the heavy fall of snow Sunday. The city should purchase another, as requested by the Street Commissioner. The tractor could have accomplished much more had its work not been impeded by many autos parked along the streets on which it was operated.

If the Mayor and the Aldermen could be present some day, or night. when the new aerial ladder is being driven out of, or backed into, the fire station at Newton Corner, there would be little doubt but that an appropriation for a new fire house for Engine 1 and Ladder 3 will appear on the budget of 1927. We have a hunch the Mayor is going to make the recommendation.

Talk about doing two things at once. How about listening to two stations that tune in at the same wave length on your radio set?

Newton people having gained a reputation for superiority back in the last century, endeavored to obtain a superior water supply when the town of Newton became a city in 1873. So after considerable study, the present supply was established about 50 years ago. The Town of Needham very kindly allowed Newton to take over 750 acres of land extending from the Charles River up into the terrain formed by the Needham hills. This territory is ideal as a water reservation. It is composed of sand and gravel brought down from Canada way during the glacial period, which was several years before Lief Ericson, Christopher Columbus, or any other European immigrants arrived on this side of the Atlantic.

When the Newton water supply was acquired at Needham, so anxious were the then residents of the city to obtain extra good water, that instead of surface basins, an underground collecting system was built to insure pure water. This made the water more hard than if it were collected in surface basins. Later on to further assure pure water, the old open reservoir at Waban Hill was abandoned, and a covered reservoir built. Newton water contains a slight amount of lime. At various times, certain persons, including an occasional physician, got it into their heads that among other diseases, Newton water caused rheumatism. There are more ailments designated as rheumatism than there are varieties made by the famous pickle manufactory at Pittsburgh. But one of the most common causes of rheumatism, is alleged to be uric acid. Lime is supposed to be an alternative for this, so Newton water should be beneficial rather than injurious to persons suffering from rheumatism. So we have been told. We mention this because it has been recently asserted that we newspaper men think we know everything about everything. So we do not desire to give the impression that we know much about medicine. But we do know, that we can't understand, among many other things, why some folks in this city claim that they have caught certain diseases from Newton water, when all their neighbors have escaped catching such diseases. And we can't reason out how these folks, after catching diseases from Newton water, recovered from said diseases while still continuing to drink the water.

Twice within the past year we have explained briefly in the GRAPHIC what Crenothrix is. Crenothrix is the stuff that has been forming all these years in the wooden conduit at Needham and in the water mains. It has been loosened up the past few years by the growing amount of Metropolitan water which has been brought into our water pipes, and it has caused the discoloration and muddy taste on occasions in our water supply. We again will explain for the few who may not yet understand just what Crenothrix is. It is a genus of bacteria of the family Chlamydobacteriaceae, consisting of long stiff unbranched filaments. It occurs abundantly in ponds and often in reservoirs, imparts a bad taste to the water, but is not dangerous to health. If you can't pronounce the name of this species—Chlamydobacteriaceae polyspora, play it on your ukulele. And don't make the mistake of thinking that because a microorganism is designated as a bacteria, that it is an undesirable citizen. Just as all men are not bad, many species of bacteria are helpful rather than harmful to mankind. Crenothrix in water pipes is certainly not helpful, but the bacteria that causes it, (we refuse to spell that word again) may perform some very necessary function in the general scheme of things.

DEATH OF MR. HALL

Hon. James H. W. Hall, a former Mayor of Cambridge and a well known business man of Boston, died Sunday at his summer home in North Pembroke.

For about fifteen years Mr. Hall has made his residence in Newton Centre where he has been active in church and civic affairs.

He was born September 28, 1842, the son of Samuel Whitney and Margaret Bass (Knowlton) Hall and was educated at the Roxbury and Boston Latin Schools. He entered business at the age of sixteen years with the well-known lumber and shipping firm of Edward D. Peters & Co. He married in 1868 Orianna A. Breed of West Medford, who died in 1925. For many years he was a resident of Cambridge, and leader in church and civic affairs, and was alderman of that city in 1879 and mayor in 1880. He was a member of the Cambridge Water Board for twenty years and its president for five; also a member of the Cambridge, Congregational, Mayors', Brae Burn, Neighbors' and Boston City Clubs.

He is survived by the following-named children: James R. Hall, Horace W. Hall and Henry B. Hall, all of Boston; Stanley B. Hall of Winona, Minn; Mrs. Benton C. Decker of Berkeley, Calif.; Mrs. Albert T. Bailey of Newton; Miss Helen W. Hall of Boston, and Mrs. Ernest H. Wilkins of Chicago, Ill.

GUARDING MAILS

Among the U. S. Marines who were first selected to guard the mails against possible attacks by bandits is Louis Farlow MacLennan, of Newton, Mass.. who was on duty at Quantico. Va., prior to his assignment to this important duty.

He is one of several picked men from Quantico, many of whom are from Massachusetts, who began their duties as mail guards shortly after President Coolidge had given his approval. They are now furnishing protection to the mails in transit, guarding important postal centers, and insuring the safe delivery of valuable mail packages.

Louis is 22 years old, was born in Newton, and lived with his father, Duncan MacLennan, 11 Charlesbank road, Newton, before he joined the Marine Corps at Boston in 1923. It is the first time Marines have guarded the mails since November, 1921, when they were assigned this task for about four months. During this period no mail robberies occurred.

CHAUTAUQUA FESTIVAL

The Sixth Annual Chautauqua and Festival was held at Centenary Methodist Church, Auburndale, December 1, 2 and 3. Entertainments were given on successive nights by professional and amateur talent. December 1, Frank O. Harrell, magician, was the attraction. December 3, Cleon Hopkins, trumpet soloist, and George E. Lambard, cartoon lecturer, presented a program.

On Thursday night, December 2, the Centenary Junior Choir presented an operetta arranged and directed by Clara Lieber Harper entitled "The Spirit of Christmas". Beautiful costumes and lighting effects, together with an elaborate scene, portraying a cottage in a forest featured the production. The children as sprites, fairies, brownies and spirits danced and sang their way charmingly through the entire operetta. Madeline King as the mother who did not believe in Santa Claus; Ruth Lattimer as the angel who brought the mother to a realization of the reality of the things of the spirit, and Richard Cleveland as Santa Claus gave dramatic performances that held the audience tensely interested throughout. Miss Miriam Poole was the dramatic coach, Mrs. Harry Wilson, accompanist. In the parlor of the church luncheons and meals were served during the three days of the Chautauqua. In the Parish House a Japanese Festival was conducted. Here the atmospheric decorations and the colorful costumes of those who waited on the various booths gave rare pleasure to everyone who attended. The books have not been balanced yet but it is certain that a very attractive sum of money will be at the disposal of the treasurer of the church as a result of the Chautauqua. More important than this, however, is the fact that a memorable series of entertainment and a wonderful period of enjoyable fellowship has once again passed into history in the life and work of this active and aggressive church.

a low wall to prevent the passage of automobiles over it. He said, "It seems to me the men who are responsible for the pumps being placed outside, after permission to do so was refused by the aldermen, must be strong and mighty". He asked the City Solicitor if the pumps can be removed and the permit revoked?

Mr. Bartlett answered that he had information contrary to the statements made by the Ward 5 alderman. The people who applied for the permit are not now the owners of the garage. It is contended by the owners now that the license to sell gasoline gives them a permit to sell it outside. "My opinion", said Mr. Bartlett, "is, that they are not correct. This is also the opinion of the State Fire Marshal. I have so advised the Fire Chief and the Police Chief." He informed the aldermen that the Chief of Police is contemplating starting proceedings against the owners in the District Court, and that if the Superior and Supreme Courts sustain a finding against the owners, they may have to pay a fine and remove the pumps. President Pratt asked Mr. Bartlett if the matter is not an administrative rather than a legislative question? Mr. Bartlett answered "The Board of Aldermen can revoke a permit if it is proven that the holder thereof is abusing his license. Then Civil Court proceedings can be started, which may perhaps take a couple of years before the matter is settled." Mr. Bartlett remarked that proceedings in the Criminal Courts would be more rapid. He referred to the contention of the attorney for the present owner of the Fuller Garage, that the wording of the permit form issued by the City Clerk, allowed the placing of gasoline pumps outside the garage. This permit is a regular form supplied to the City Clerk from the office of the Commissioner of Public Safety at the State House and reads in part "to conduct or maintain a garage of the .... class, and keep or store inflammable liquid in connection therewith at No. ...... street .... in conformity with the correct regulations of the Commissioner of Public Safety, and the application of .... 192....."

Mr. Bartlett said that in his judgment, pumps themselves must be licensed as they are structures, but that this was just his opinion, and it is a debatable subject. Alderman Hodgdon next asked Mr. Bartlett, "Was not the failure of the owners of the Fuller Garage to erect the low stone wall around the restricted piece of land, now used for the filling station, a violation of the permit?" The City Solicitor answered, "This raises the question whether you have a right to enclose a private right of way in a wall, or to impose conditions." Alderman Gallagher said that he had been a member of the License Committee which granted the permit and that this committee emphasized the condition that the garage should have its north-east corner set back from the intersection of Davis Court and Watertown street. He asked, "If this corner had been used as a private right of way, why had the original plan presented by the petitioner for the Fuller Garage shown the building to extend over this particular corner?" He said that ex-Alderman Lloyd, who was Chairman of the License Committee in 1925, was one of the most exacting members the Board had ever contained, and that Mr. Lloyd took special care to include in the permit granted by his committee, that the garage should be set back from the corner, and that no automobiles should travel over the restricted area, which was to be enclosed in a low wall. As a condition of obtaining the permit, the petitioner agreed not to build the garage over the land which is now alleged to have been a right of way.

Alderman Hodgdon said, "I think it is about time we take precautions that all legal technicalities are complied with on permits which are granted." The Ward 5 alderman stated that the aldermen had been too ready in voting on matters without having sufficiently consulted the City Solicitor. He accused the present and past Boards of Aldermen of laxity. This statement on the part of Mr. Hodgdon started a discussion in which the City Solicitor was the target of a barrage of questions from the aldermen. He gave the information that while a permit is a record to be referred to, the committee's report may also be referred to for details. City Clerk Grant construed some of the remarks of the aldermen as reflections on the conduct of his office, and stated that he had given the form of permit which he is supplied with by the State authorities, and that these permits are but formal notices which must be exercised in conformity with the plans and specifications shown in the application. He stated that the plans filed for the Fuller Garage specified that the low wall should be erected, and that the gasoline was to be kept within the building. The aldermen hastened to assure the City Clerk that they did not consider him to blame for any ambiguities in the issuance of permits, and lauded his ability.

Alderman Earle suggested that further argument over the matter would be a waste of time, as the courts will have to settle the question. Alderman Grebenstein took exception to Alderman Hodgdon's remark "that the Franchise and License Committee had been lax." The Ward 2 member asserted that this Committee has been doing a good job, and that the matter under discussion was acted upon by the License Committee of the 1925 Board. So, according to the City Solicitor, the next step in the matter of the Fuller Garage is up to the Chief of Police.

POLICE NEWS

Cornelia Clark, 32 Hereford street, Boston, was fined $15 in court Tuesday for speeding. Frank Cronelli of 25 Elmwood street, Somerville, was fined a like amount for a like offence.

Robert Perrin, 22 Bowers street, Newtonville, was arrested at 2 o'clock Monday morning by Officers Frank Feeley and Riley, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

Peter Johnson of Derby street, West Newton, whose house was raided two weeks ago by a squad of police under Serg. Mahoney's command, was tried before Judge Bacon last Saturday. On the charge of maintaining a liquor nuisance, Johnson was fined $300; for manufacturing liquor, he was fined another $300. He also received a six months' sentence to the House of Correction. He appealed.

Johnson's daughter, Mrs. Hilda Goulding, was sentenced to two months in the House of Correction for obstructing a police officer in the performance of his duty. While the house was being raided, according to the testimony of Serg. Mahoney, the young woman snatched a bottle of ale from his hand, threatened to strike him with it, and then dashed the bottle on the floor. She appealed.

Patrolmen Charles Jenkins and Peter Conlon captured four men who were supposedly attempting to burglarize a filling station at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. A passing autoist observing some men trying to force the windows of the gasoline station on Commonwealth avenue, near Walnut street, hurried along the avenue until he met the two policemen. Turning about, he hurried back to the gas station with the two patrolmen. The men were still endeavoring to effect an entrance to the gas station when the policemen rushed at them with drawn guns. They started to make a show of resistance, but after one of them had received a wallop on the jaw from Officer Jenkins they surrendered. They gave their names as Evans B. Lund and Roy McClary, both of 25 Robey street, Boston, and Glendon and Merton Todd, brothers, of Carlingford, New Brunswick. They claimed that they had run out of gas, and were trying to obtain enough to get back to Boston. The policemen, however, found three gallons of gas in the tank of the automobile in which the four were riding.

In court yesterday McClary and Merton Todd were found not guilty. Evans Lund was bound over to the Grand Jury and held in $300 bonds. Glendon Todd was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for carrying a revolver without a permit. He appealed but was sent to jail in default of bonds. On the attempt to break and enter, he was bound over to the Grand Jury.

Otis Phillips of Cataumet, was arrested Saturday morning by Serg. Mahoney and Patrolman Maloney for the Boston police. He was wanted on the charge of non-payment of wages.

Five years ago Isaac Robinson stole three sets of billiard balls from a poolroom in this city. He was ordered to make restitution, and promised to do so. Instead, he shipped as a member of the crew of an ocean-going craft. Later he became a longshoreman and took up his residence in South Boston. Saturday he was arrested on the five-year old complaint and brought into court. Judge Bacon ordered his case continued until Wednesday, as he has to face another charge at the Superior Court in Cambridge.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

The calendar hunt is on. Collectors of 1927 calendars have taken time by the forelock and also by the scruff of the neck and are acquiring as many calendars as they can get their hands on. It is a prudent thing to do, for one must keep tracks of the days, but why make an industry of it? The other day I met a man with two calendars. Each contained an advertisement—one of an insurance company and the other of a real estate firm. Both are sure to be useful, at least under ordinary circumstances.

"This is only a beginning," said my friend, "before New Year's I shall have a fine collection."

"And how many do you expect to acquire?" I ventured.

"Well," he went on, "I rounded up twenty last year, but I hope this year to bring up the figure."

"You're out to break records?" said I.

"Sure," he replied.

Then, in answer to my questioning, he disclosed the fact that he believed that the distribution of calendars free of charge was one of the blessings of which humanity should take advantage. It seems a pity, he stated, that everybody should not possess a calendar, especially when they are to be had for the asking, and maybe for the taking.

It struck me at that time and since I have reflected on the situation that it must be the old, old desire to get something for nothing that inspires people to go out gunning for calendars. I have often wondered whether it was profitable to the giver. It always struck me that a man who wished to advertise would do far better to spend his money in buying space in a newspaper or magazine where there was no doubt of the possible return. A newspaper or periodical has a definite circulation and an established group of readers, either large or small. There is no secret and no question about who is going to read the advertisement.

But there is, in my opinion, some grave doubt as to whether a person is going to be so deeply impressed with the picture of a pretty girl sitting on a half-moon that he or she will rush out and buy some commodity the need of which had not up to that time seemed especially urgent.

I think that lithographers do wonderful work on calendars and that to those who are partial to ornaments of that character they have their place. And they are useful, too, if one has frequent occasion to see what day of the month it is and what day the "17th" comes on, etc.

Very well then, let the distribution of calendars go on and let all who are so inclined go out and collar all they can carry. It's a nice world after all wherein it takes so little to please some people.

It happened that not long ago I carried my walking stick with me to a place of public meeting. It was Sunday, a day when I permit myself to lift from the umbrella stand one of several handsome canes that have come to me, through gift or honest acquisition, from time to time.

Well, to make a short story not too short and not too long, I left the building without my cane. It didn't occur to me that I was minus a very important feature of my Sunday equipment, at least not until I arrived home did I realize that my cane was not in my hand. Only New Yorkers carry canes, naturally, if you ask me, but that's another story, as Kipling might say if he repeated himself.

I arranged by telephone an interview with the janitor and when I went to see him he promptly produced my cane and I endeavored to show my gratitude. I felt, too, that I should apologize for having caused him some inconvenience but he waved it off as though it were but a trifling matter.

"You should see what people leave behind," said he. "I sometime wonder they don't forget their heads. I think probably they would if their heads were not hitched on."

I accepted the mild rebuke with a faint smile and did not interrupt him.

"Come with me," said the janitor, and he led me to a capacious closet in the basement. Opening the door he said, "Look over that stuff!"

And I did. There was a great collection of personal property. Eyeglasses with and without cases, umbrellas, rubbers, overshoes, gloves, some few coats, two or three fur pieces, several pocketbooks and other things.

"Love 'em and leave 'em," said I, in a feeble attempt to make a jocose remark that I thought appropriate.

"They can't love 'em very much," anwered the janitor, "or they wouldn't forget them."

"What do you do with them?" I queried.

"O, I hang on to them until they come around."

"And do they come around looking for their property?" I continued.

"Sometimes," said he, "but most of the darned fools forget where they left them. Once in a while one of them shows up, but usually they don't. And the stuff is no good to me, either."

"That's a pity," said I. "Somebody should get some use of them."

"I know it," said he, "but if I took any of them and used them somebody would be sure to recognize them and I might be pinched for stealing."

"What do you do with them?" was my next question.

"I give 'em away," he replied, "to people who are willing to take the chance of being found with 'em."

A reader of this column has vouchsafed an explanation of why it is not always possible for the Mayor of a city to substitute and carry out a program of rigid economy and still retain his personal popularity. He bases his contribution on what I wrote some weeks ago about Mayor Bauer of Lynn and his efforts to slash city expenses. Inasmuch as I have not the space to print in full the contributor's letter I do not feel that in justice to him I should give his name. I have told him so and he has agreed that without quoting his name I may quote him in part.

"There are many selfish people," he declares, "who receive a fair profit in legitimate business relations with a municipality. I call them selfish because they know the city's credit is excellent and that the city is willing to pay the top price for whatever it buys. Possibly they have enjoyed the patronage of the city for a number of years. It may be in a small way or it may be in a large way. At any rate they have been receiving prompt payment. Naturally such individuals are going to get sore when they find a man who in bringing about a reduction of expenses, steps on their toes. In other words the Mayor is going to buy the same goods at a lower price if he can and in order to do so has to buy them elsewhere. It is a good deal of a strain on one's civic pride to lose the city as a generous and considerate customer."

The letter of this contributor makes several other salient points. He says, "The question of running a city or a State or a county on a purely business basis has been the dream of idealists almost from the inception of representative government. Many have tried to make it practicable, but a comparatively small number have succeeded. The average citizen doesn't like to have his city called stingy. He may be pretty thrifty himself, but he like to have the place in which he resides 'do things' on a fairly grand scale. He thinks it looks shabby, as the English say, to scrimp. Therefore, this same tax-payer, sharp enough in his own business methods, will calmly allow a municipality to play the 'good fellow' while he sits back and applauds."

My friend adds this bit of philosophy: "Individuals will do things on their own hook which they never would do collectively. I don't know why it is, but it's human nature. Don't the votes show it?"

I do not feel I should trespass further on the space allotted me so I will put it up to my readers to ponder on in their idle moments.

Most everybody has heard that popular saying, the origin of which is laid at the door of the great showman, P. T. Barnum, about the birth each moment of the day of some easy dupe from whom a slick swindler finds no difficulty in obtaining money. It is my guess that Barnum, if he said such a thing, was conservative, to say the least. I have arrived at that conclusion after reading of the vast amount of money that men, and women, too, lose in the so-called Albany and Hudson pool.

It is the gambling instinct, of course, which makes people think that by risking a few dollars on a "sure thing" they are going to rake-in large sums, through no effort of their own but because Lady Luck has decided to favor them. For my own part I cannot see how anybody can go ahead and gamble, blindly, and expect that circumstances are to favor them and increase by a substantial amount their bank accounts.

Personally, whenever I have been inveigled into putting up a trifling sum on the outcome of a football game or a world's series I have been so far away from the winning figure that it has been a joke. Therefore, through no desire to reform in this respect, but because I have learned that I am not a good guesser, I have refrained from taking chances.

But there are braver souls who do risk their money, more money than would buy them real estate or sound possessions, and some of them seem to come out on top. I have often heard it said, "easy come, easy go," but thus far I have been unable to prove the truth of that ancient proverb.

It strikes me that there is an element of risk in about everything worth while, but that is legitimate it the risk is such as one need not be ashamed of the resultant gain. On the other hand the law must step in and protect those with a yearning to get rich quickly. Investigators of the State, and even the Attorney General himself, must devote his time to protect the foolish. The present Albany and Hudson pool is an instance.

However, if people will do those things there doesn't seem to be any help for it, and certainly no occasion for the less venturesome—I will say timid and include myself in that class—to worry over these losses.

And now we shall see how seriously the voters of Newton take their municipal election which is scheduled for next Tuesday. Our guess is that the officials at the polling places will find the time hanging heavily on their hands. There isn't any Mayor to be voted for and that means a lot of people will not bother themselves about casting a ballot.

Why they should have an idea that the Mayor is the only one entitled to their vote—I speak impersonally and not of my life-long friend, the present Chief Executive—is beyond me. Apparently they think that Aldermen are nothing more than Aldermen, and School Committee members no more than School Committee members.

Let us see if Newton cannot work up civic pride enough to make a good turning-out at the polls. Let it not be said that it is only a political scrap that can bring out the voters. It is essentially disheartening for high-minded people to accept the responsibilities of governing the city, without pay, and have only a handful of citizens interested in their efforts.

I wouldn't object at all if some candidate should unexpectedly announce, "I shall not serve unless I receive the indorsement of two-thirds of my fellow citizens. If I can take the time, night after night to go to city hall or to the school committee and do the work of the taxpayers they ought at least be willing to spend three minutes voting for me or for some one they think would do a better job."

When the candidates take such a stand, or practically threaten to go on a strike, you'll see the voters turning out.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The 14th concert of the Newton Choral Society will be given Monday evening, December 13, at the new high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The doors will open at 7.30, and the members of the chorus are particularly asked to be present at 7 o'clock in order to try out a few pieces and accustom themselves to singing in the new hall.

This concert is a musical event of great local interest, on account of the appearance of Miss Olivia Cate, pianist, a West Newton girl, who has had the advantages of extended study in Europe. It will be a pleasure to the music lovers of the city to show their appreciation of this gifted young artist. One of the Boston newspapers printed the following comment by its musical critic, on Miss Cate's recital recently given in Jordan hall: "It (the recital) was, artistically speaking, one of the most successful first recitals in years. Miss Cate is not only an unusually competent pianist, she is a sensitive and imaginative musician, whose interpretations of classic and modern pieces are individualized and moving. She is still a young girl, and there is a chance she will become with maturity an artist of the calibre of Myra Hess, a really great pianist."

The chorus will sing a fine program of part songs.

New Series by WYNNE FERGUSON
Author of "Ferguson on Auction Bridge"

Copyright 1925 by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 3

One of the most puzzling questions of auction arises when your partner has made a business double and you have a hand that is worthless except at the suit you have bid. Should you leave in the double in the hope of defeating the contract or should you go on with your own bid? That is the question and the answer must always be a variable one, dependent on the cards held in each hand. As a general proposition you should figure whether or not your hand can take tricks at the bid that has been doubled. If it can, then your hand and your partner's will probably defeat the contract. If your hand cannot take tricks at the bid that has been doubled, then you should rebid your own suit. The following hands are good illustrations of the rebid after partner's double:

Hand No. 1

: Y :
:A B:
: Z :

Hearts — 10, 8, 3
Clubs — Q, J, 9, 8, 7, 5, 4, 2
Diamonds — 7, 6
Spades — none

No score, first game. Z dealt and passed. A bid one spade, Y two hearts and B two spades. Z bid three clubs, A bid three spades, Y bid three no-trump and B doubled. Z bid four clubs, A bid four spades and Y doubled. If B passed what should Z now bid? Z should bid five clubs. His hand hasn't the sign of a trick with spades trumps, and his partner must, therefore, take four tricks to defeat the four spade bid, which is very unlikely. As a matter of fact, Z can make five clubs, losing only one club and one heart trick. At four spades, Y-Z can make only three tricks: two spade tricks and the ace of diamonds — quite a difference.

Hand No. 2

Hearts — Q, J, 10, 7, 4
Clubs — 10, 8, 4, 2
Diamonds — 7
Spades — J, 8, 4

: Y :
:A B:
: Z :

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one heart, A bid one spade. Y bid four hearts and B bid four spades. Z doubled four spades. If A passed what should Y bid? Y should bid five hearts. His hand is worth five or six tricks with hearts trumps, but probably is not worth one if spades are trumps. His only chance is to find his partner with the ace of diamonds and so be able to trump one diamond trick. If, however, his partner hasn't the ace of diamonds, Y cannot take a trick with spades as trumps. For that reason he should bid five hearts. Y-Z can just make five hearts, while at spades A-B can make a grand slam. A had the ace of diamonds and no hearts, and B had no clubs, so a cross ruff could be established. If Y had bid five hearts, neither A nor B was strong enough to bid five spades over the double, so a bid of five hearts would have been a big winner.

Here are three hands that came up in a game the other evening of which an analysis will be given in the next article. They are most interesting because the principles involved are common everyday principles that every player should understand and know how to apply. Think them over.

: Y :
:A B:
: Z :

Hearts — 7
Clubs — 8, 4
Diamonds — A, K, Q, 7, 6, 2
Spades — J, 10, 4, 3

Rubber game, no score. Z dealt and bid one diamond. A bid two clubs, Y passed and B bid four clubs. What should Z now bid?

: Y :
:A B:
: Z :

Hearts — 6
Clubs — 7, 4
Diamonds — 9, 8
Spades — A, K, J, 10, 7, 5, 4, 2

Rubber game, Y-Z, 10; A-B, 21. What would you bid if you dealt and held Z's hand? This hand is very interesting because Z made a trick bid and got away with it. Think it over.

Hearts — Q, 10, 4
Clubs — 10, 5
Diamonds — A
Spades — K, Q, 10, 9, 8, 6, 3

: Y :
:A B:
: Z :

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump. A passed, Y bid two spades and B passed. Z bid two no-trump and A passed. What should Y now bid?

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

Presents Its First Concert of the Season

The Newton Choral Society gave its 14th concert Monday night at the new high school auditorium with a large attendance. The audience was very cordial in its applause, and some regarded it as the best concert the society has given. The program began with the Bach chorale "Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light." The serene dignity of this famous composition was rendered with a full and sonorous tone. Arthur Sullivan's "I Hear the Soft Note of the Echoing Voice" was given with appreciation of its charming sentiment and expressiveness. Gounod's "Chorus of Bacchantes" was sung with a feeling for its graceful rhythm. Two old folk songs, "Sir Eglamore" and "Swansea Town" were done with much enthusiasm and spirit. Nevin's "The Night has a Thousand Eyes" was sung with fine shading. A negro spiritual "Nobody Knows De Trouble I've Seen", arranged with modern harmonies by H. T. Burleigh, was given with a faithful appreciation of its originality and sentiment.

A group of Christmas selections closed the program, and were finely done. One, the beautiful "Jesu Bambino" by Yon, and the brilliant and inspiring "Hallelujah Chorus" from Beethoven's "Mount of Olives." The audience joined in singing the Adeste Fideles as a part of the recognition of the Christmas season. In two of the selections the chorus was capably assisted by Miss Dorothy Bates, soprano, and Miss Irene Forte, violinist.

The soloist of the evening was Miss Olivia Cate, and it was a great pleasure for the music lovers of Newton to welcome this brilliant young artist who is a product of our city. She played a Brahms Waltz and a Tango by Albeniz with a charming simplicity that did not give much hint of her real power. She showed her versatility in the "Danse Rituelle de feu" by De Falla, a piece of eccentric but interesting modernism. But when she began to play from Chopin, and rendered with great intelligence and splendid technique the A flat Waltz and B minor Scherzo, the audience was given some idea of her very remarkable gifts. She has the qualities of musical genius, and one can see that she has a fine future ahead. She plays with unusual intelligence and feeling, and gives a richness of interpretation which goes beneath any superficial conception of such works. The audience welcomed her very enthusiastically and asked for encores which were charmingly given.

The concert as usual was directed by Mr. William Lester Bates, whose highly superior gifts of musicianship have been the leading factor in the success of this organization. Miss Lillian West served as usual as accompanist, and her very capable work in this function has been of great help to the society.

COMMUNITY PAGEANT

Elaborate Program To Be Given in West Newton

The Community Christmas Tree, given under the auspices of the West Newton Community Centre, promises to draw great crowds to the Eden Ave. Playground on Thursday, December 23rd, at 7.15.

About 6.45 the chimes on the Unitarian church will play old Christmas carols, thus announcing the activities of the evening. While the public is assembling on the Playground the same carols will again be sounded forth by a cornetist, who with the assistance of Mr. Leon Baldwin, will be in charge of the music.

At 7.15 the following program will begin: Dedication, Mayor Childs; Pageant "Torches Bring Jeanette Isabella;" Pantomime "Massail Song"; "Seek the Hall" and "God Rest you Merry Gentlemen." A group of small girls will also give a drill called "The Dancing Christmas Trees."

There will be Community Carol singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," "O Come all ye Faithful," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Good King Wencelas" with the recessional "Silent Night."

About 200 members of the organization arranged in 14 groups all in different costumes will take part in the Pageant. The groups will be arranged around the stage in an enclosed section, made possible by the co-operation of the Playground Department, and who also provide the illumination on the tree.

One feature of the community spirit this year is the interest taken by outside organizations. The junior choir of the Second Congregational Church will take part as a unit, and members of the Newton Choral Society have volunteered to assist with the singing. At the close members of the Newton Rotary Club will donate a box of candy to each member of the Centre.

The celebration is in charge of Miss Hattiemae Austin, and a large committee who plan to begin promptly at 7.15 and finish at 8 P.M., so that the entertainment will not interfere with home arrangements. Song sheets will be distributed at the entrance, and those attending are urged to carry a candle so they may read the words of the carols.

A Community Christmas Tree in West Newton should attract people from all quarters, and be the means of spreading "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

ENJOYABLE CONCERT

By Highland Glee Club at the High School

To attempt to criticise, or structurally pull to pieces a concert such as was presented by the Newton Symphony Orchestra Inc., on Thursday night, December 9, in the magnificent new High School Hall, in the same way that one would examine a Boston or New York Symphony programme, would be nothing short of unfair.

The weather, and perhaps, the change of location unfortunately only turned out quite a moderately sized crowd to hear this first concert of the season, but there was nothing to indicate that those who attended did not thoroughly enjoy the well-balanced programme.

As a comparative stranger to these parts, it is naturally impossible for me to compare it with any previous entertainments, but I will say that among orchestras, the nucleus of which is amateur, the standard of the Newton Symphony is high.

Meyerbeer's Coronation March was the first on the list, in every way an eminently suitable start to a programme, and very well rendered by Mr. Ralph Maclean and his musicians.

Mr. Maclean has the happy knack of getting the most out of his players, and consequently, no part of the programme was at any time marred by raggedness usually inevitable to a group of players who rehearse perhaps no more than once a week, which proves the worth of a conductor.

The second selection was Sibelius' famous "Valse Triste," a very popular number, and also very well remembered.

Miss Gertrude Tingley followed with the delightfully vivacious Gypsy Song from "Carmen," accompanied by the Orchestra. Miss Tingley has of recent years, become very well known in Boston's musical circles, and apart from the rich contralto voice with which she is blessed, it was her easiness of style and delightful spirit that immediately won over the hearts of her Newton audience.

The second group of songs ably accompanied, by the way, by Mr. Maclean at the piano, were of a nicely varied nature, and rendering of "Buckingham Palace" (the words from A. A. Milne's famous "when we were very young") was marked with a delightful simplicity of style that I have not heard paralleled for some time. Style, and not the voice itself, is more ably appreciated. though not necessarily understood by the average audience, but when one is treated to a feast of both, one goes home with one's musical appetite well appeased.

The orchestra gave us Schubert's B

QUIET CITY ELECTION

Small Vote Cast Last Tuesday. Heathcote, Wakefield, Noone and Favinger Win

The city election on Tuesday resulted as all off year elections have usually resulted in a meagre vote, less than 29 per cent of the registered voters taking the trouble to cast their ballots, 6166 to be exact, out of a total of 21,653.

There was but one city wide contest, that for alderman at large from ward 4, in which there were three candidates, the sitting alderman George M. Heathcote being the winner with a first choice vote of 2923 to 2285 for Harold T. Dougherty and 165 for Howard Murphy. As there were three candidates for this office, the preferential system of voting applied. This system allows the individual voter to register a first, second and third choice in candidates. In this plan if one candidate does not have a clear majority of first choice votes, the second choice votes are added to the first choice and a plurality of such totals determines the winner. On Tuesday it was not necessary to include the second choice votes as Mr. Heathcote had a clear ajority of first choice votes.

Dougherty received 346 in second choice votes, Heathcote had 566, and Murphy, 289. There were 12 third choice votes for Dougherty, 8 for Heathcote and 11 for Murphy.

There were three contests for ward alderman, including ward 2, 4 and 5. The ward 2 contest was a real fight. Alderman O'Connell, the sitting candidate, losing out by only 104 votes. Friends of the winner, Augustus L. Wakefield, made a house to house canvas in his behalf, and he received 1060 votes to 956 for O'Connell. It should be noted that over one third of the entire vote of the city was cast in this ward. In ward 4, Alderman Noone had an easy victory over Albert L. Cole, the vote being 565 for Noone and 327 for Cole. In ward 5, Alderman Favinger received even a stronger endorsement, with 495 votes to 143 for Mr. McKenzie. All other candidates were unopposed.

The vote for alderman at large by precincts was as follows:

Wd.	Pre.	Total Vote	Dougherty	Heathcote	Murphy
1	1	299	22	250	1
1	2	257	72	111	9
2	1	889	246	417	17
2	2	808	343	290	20

ALUMNI MEET ON 30th

Final plans are being completed for the annual alumni track meet at the Newton high school. The date of the affair has been advanced so that the competition will take place in the holiday recess when the former track stars of the school team will be home from the various colleges which they are now attending. Thursday, Dec. 30th, is the date set, and after the meet there will be an informal reunion and dance.

The alumni should be represented by a stronger team than ever before because of the fact that many athletes will be able to compete on that date. Advance notice of the meet was sent this week to every former high school track man now at college. Mr. C. V. Moore, chairman of the track committee of the N. A. A., is co-operating with the authorities and will notify all members of the association in the near future.

The improvements in the new track which will make it one of the best indoor tracks in this part of the country will not be entirely completed because of an unfortunate delay in the arrival of the lumber for the work. A number of boys in the vocational school under the direction of Mr. Dulac are building the new banks. Each piece of lumber has been turned out by machine wherever possible so that the finished job will be of the highest order. It is expected that one end of the track will be completed prior to the Christmas vacation, and when school is resumed after the first of the year the other end will be completed.

This will make it necessary for the performers in the alumni meet to use but two of the old banks.

The Alumni has been cordially invited to practice with the high school team on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons until the holiday recess. Dates when the old gymnasium will be open during the recess will be announced next week.

SPORT NOTES

Basketball at the high school started off exceedingly well last week when over 200 boys responded to the call for senior practice on Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday a large number of sophomores and juniors turned out with much enthusiasm. Practice will be held until after the Christmas vacation when competition in a round robin tournament will commence.

The track team candidates will probably not be able to practice on the new track in the old drill shed until after the Christmas holidays, as the work was delayed in starting until a week ago, and it is not expected that the improvements will be complete until that time. The new banks are being built by the boys in the school under the direction of Mr. Dulac.

With but four veterans of last year's track team, Buswell, Moore, Ramsden, and Seeley, lost by graduation, prospects for an excellent outfit for the coming season are unusually good. Captain Fullerton will be counted upon for many points this year, as he is a versatile performer. He will probably compete in the dashes, hurdles, shot-put, high jump and broad jump as well as running at anchor on the relay. Other veterans include Cole, Cummings, Kinraide, Kollmeyer, and Stuart. Cole will be entered in the dash, hurdles, and 300; Cummings is a 600-yard runner; Kinraide a dash man and broad jumper; Kollmeyer a hurdler and 300-yard man; and Stuart a 600-yarder and the quartet will probably fight it out for the three places left on the relay team.

Others who should score points for the orange and black flyers are Pearson (dash); Binger (300-yd.); McManus (600); McCrudden and Brewer (1000); Ebelhare, Hammond, and Bowen (shotput); Ebelhare, Hammond, and Burton (high jump).

Melbourne (Buster) Hemeon of Newton Lower Falls was recently elected to captain the 1927 football team at Cushing academy. Hemeon, who played the opposite wing from Carleton McCullough on the Newton high eleven of 1925 so successfully was a mainstay in the same position on the Ashburnham school eleven this past season. His playing this year was such that he was picked for the right end berth on the Boston Globe's All-prep school team. His election to the captaincy for next year marks the second such in prep school circles of former orange and black grid stars, Frenchy Gilligan of Newtonville having been chosen to lead the Exeter eleven some weeks ago.

The Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club will hold its annual squash championship matches for the Middlesex Bowl starting tomorrow. The present bowl was won for the first time in 1924 by Myles P. Baker and last year by Paul B. Watson. To become the permanent possession of any one player it must be won three times. Tournament play on Saturday will not be required of men taking part in team matches tomorrow. The preliminary games may be played on any court agreeable to both contestants but the finals will be played on the Newton Centre courts. All matches will be the best three out of five games.

Bill Blaney of Waban is expected to play an important part in the coming games on the Williams college hockey schedule. The former Country Day School star, who is also a noted golfer, is playing centre and probably will be the star on the offense. Five members of last year's sextet having lost to the purple by graduation have given Blaney his chance. Another Newton youth on the purple six is Curtis Hutchins, also a Country Day athlete. He played at goal last year as an alternate, and this year will be the mainstay in the net. A third Newton boy on the squad is Dwight Shepler of Newtonville, who will probably see considerable action on the runners.

Carleton McCullough, Tom Gilligan, and captain-elect Francis Gilligan of Exeter were recently awarded their letters for the 1926 football season.

Newton should be nearly as well represented on the hockey team at Exeter as it was on the football team. The six is captained by Wilson H. Crosby of West Newton. It is quite possible that Tom Gilligan, unless his ankle goes back on him again, will make the team and pair up with Crosby.

Many Newton hockey fans are greatly interested in the announcement that amateur hockey has not been entirely subdued by the advancement of the professional game. The University Club of Boston is planning to put a strong team of former college players on the ice to compete against other American and Canadian outfits. Newton fans will also be interested to learn that George Owen, Jr., former Newton and Harvard star athlete, will captain the team. Among the players mentioned as possible candidates are Clark Hodder, Ted Learnard, Wayland Vaughan, and Horace Cole, of Newton. Hodder won many hockey honors at Harvard, Learnard at Dartmouth, and the last two at Yale.

The annual reunion of Camp Passaconaway will be held on Thursday, Dec. 30th at the Boston City Club at noon. Over fifty have signified their intention of being present already, and this will undoubtedly be increased to over 100 when the time is at hand. Stanley Lyon will be the toastmaster, and the program includes a number of interesting speakers and movies of the camp.

Ted Gross of West Newton counted the first goal of the season for the Harvard hockey team in the game with M. I. T. last Saturday after five minutes of play. Another of the Crosby brothers played his first game for the Harvard varsity and scored the third of the five Crimson goals on a pretty pass from a teammate.

Newton's track team this winter should be one of the strongest dual outfits in the state. While there are but few outstanding stars who will pick up a few points in the various scholastic meets, there are a number of candidates who will increase Newton's total in the dual affairs sufficiently to keep the orange and black in the lead. Practice is handicapped at present by the alterations to the track but the boys are displaying a fine spirit and enthusiasm over the new opportunities and the abolition of the former dangerous corners.

There will be a newcomer on the track team schedule this winter. Medford is expected to sign a two-year agreement in the near future which will revive the intense rivalry which formerly existed on the football field when Medford was a member of the Suburban league. This meet will furnish good competition for the orange and black runners. Medford can be given a five-point handicap right from the start as George Chalmers, football captain in the past season, is the peer of all schoolboy high jumpers in the state. If he improves this winter as he did last he will have a fair chance to tie or even break the state scholastic record.

FROM THE COLLEGES

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

With the rapid approach of Christmas and the welcome home-coming of the scattered members of the various Newton families that have passed these weeks away from home it might be well to glance over what your home-coming means to you and to your parents. From the latter's viewpoint it is a memorable and exciting affair, mainly because they have deep interest in you and your works. For the student it is merely, often times, a chance for relaxation, and an opportunity to give vent to their desire for good times. Some thing can be said on both sides, but this much the average person in college should think of, that is, that the home folks should come first during the weeks since they are the ones that are making your education possible. No moralization is needed. A few moments time spent with father and mother amply repays all the long hours of absence and subsequent worry. Therefore members of the various colleges take time this Christmas to give Dad and Mother a big piece of Christmas joy by devoting yourself to them for a period each day in order to show them just what you have gained from your college standards.

Returning for the time to Mount Holyoke in order to recall the last representatives that recently entered we find that Helen Bicknell and Emily Littlefield, fellow town-mates and class-mates, are at present in the sophomore class. They both were good scholars while attending high school and have done better than the average work at college. Helen was a member of Alpha Gamma Tau her two final years, and at the same time was on the basket-ball team two seasons. Her greatest achievement came after she had entered college when she broke the college record in two events last spring in the Spring Outdoor Track meet. Unfortunately an injury received from basketball has meant that she must refrain from any active sport this year. Nevertheless, she is one of the foremost women athletes in Boston. Emily Littlefield was one of the leading news-gatherers during her last years at Newton. Excelling in the news part of the Newtonite she held her position for two seasons, and in her final months was on the Newtonian. The last Newton graduate that we have not mentioned at Mount Holyoke is Faith Stone of Newton Centre. One of the most brilliant of all students at the high school, she was hampered by accidents and illness her final year, but persevered, coming out an honor student. In club activities she was a prominent participant, holding membership in the English Club all four years; the first two in Alpha Beta, while the last were spent in the upperclass group. Besides this organization, the French Club had her enrolled for her last terms, being the secretary for the group in her senior months. She held the same office in the Mathematics Club, in which she had been a member for three years. Also the drama group under Miss Wetherbee claimed her attention at the same time. Under her direction the Newtonite copy staff reached a peak of excellence that seldom is either reached or maintained in a High School periodical. In recognition of this effort she obtained the Newtonite key, a symbol of her ability and devotion to an ideal. Many writers in the making who passed in their first copy to her, or to her assistants, found her an able counsellor and guide. Faith also served on the Senior Play Committee as an executive, and as an added proof of her powers in this line she was a representative to the Constitutional Convention.

To return again to the near-by college known as Wellesley, we will enumerate the works and accomplishments of other girls from Newton who now attend the lecture-halls of that college. First of these to mention this week is Olive Crawe of Newtonville. She entered from Newton Junior High, soon becoming interested in a variety of activities in the outside life of the school. On the lists of the Mathematics organization we note her name, and in her senior year she was enrolled in the French and English Clubs. As a writer for the Newtonite she was one of the most versatile persons on the staff, showing rare ability along the lines of feature articles. In a scholastic way she was near the top for she was on the Honor Roll for three consecutive years. In her junior terms she was on the class volleyball team, and only the fact that they did not form such a team in her senior session kept her off of it. Another member of this youthful class is Margaret Henry. She also was proficient in the High School's English requirements; as a result the English Club, first as Alpha Beta, secondly, as the senior group, welcomed her as a member for three years. In her last year she made a grand enrollment, joining not only the afore-mentioned body, but also the French Club, the Drama Club, and Ex Libris. In the same session she was a writer on the Newtonian, being responsible to a large extent for the excellent pictures and captions in the 1926 issue. Previously she had gained some valuable experience in writing for the Newtonite in her sophomore and junior years. In spite of all the work and outside interests Peggy stood very close to the highest in her class when the Honor Roll was read, and some of her efforts in English were exceptionally well written.

LOWELL DEFEATS NEWTON

In a Two-State league, Eastern division basketball game at the Lowell Y. M. C. A. last Saturday night, the Newton Y five went down to its second defeat by a score of 41 to 20. Robertson, right forward of the Lowell team, was the outstanding star with eight baskets from the floor and one from the foul line for a total of 17 points. For the local five Wellman led with eight points, Kohler tallied five and Hardy four. Connearney tossed in one from the floor and Shields added the twentieth point on a free try.

"Y" WRESTLERS LOSE OPENER

In the opening wrestling meet of the season last Saturday night the Newton Y. M. C. A. team was defeated 18 to 11 by the Boston Y team. The decision bouts were of nine minutes' duration.

The summary:

147-Pound Class—Farrell, Boston, defeated Vachon, Newton, decision; Arsenault, Newton, defeated Pappas, Boston, decision.

Handicap Bout — Spriano, Boston, 160 pounds, and Arsenault, Newton, 150 pounds. Spriano, failing to score a fall in the alloted time, forfeited three points to Newton.

SPORT NOTES

Miss Faith Stone of Newton Centre, a freshman at Mount Holyoke, is captain of the freshman archery, a sport at which she is most proficient. She has been a member of the Newton Centre organization that has given many star archers to the country including Miss Dorothy Smith, the champion woman archer of this vicinity.

The Smith hockey team that had such a splendid record this year had one Newton girl in its line-up, Martha Richardson of Newton Centre. She played the responsible position of goal on the Smith aggregation, and due in the main to her efforts the team had a successful season.

Priscilla Brooks at Wheaton led the hockey club through a most successful year. Victory perched on the Blue's banner with frequency, and the able leadership of the Newton Highlands girl was to a large measure responsible for their splendid showing.

In Connecticut College one of Newton's best basketeers ever developed by Mrs. Kuntz will show her ability this winter, namely: Frances Brooks. Last year at Newton she was the most deadly shot on the team, rolling up large scores by reason of her accuracy. She is fast on her feet and a heady player with the result that opposing guards find her most difficult to cover.

In the Tilton School in New Hampshire line-up for field hockey one notes the name Lewis at goal. Ruth Lewis failed to make the Newton squad but at Tilton she had turned in a star performance all year.

At Exeter the two Gilligan brothers are both candidates for the ice sextet. Tom at Newton was a rough and ready wing whose ability to check and to stand the rough going made him valuable. Frenchy, although he never played at Newton, made a creditable showing last season at goal and from all indications will be on the squad this year.

Stone School in Boston, if they put a hockey team on the ice, will be reinforced by one of the members of Newton's championship team in the person of Holmes Whitmore. Whitmore played right wing for two years at Newton and his exhibition in last year's Andover game stamped him as a scoring power par excellence.

William Henrich of Newton should have an excellent year at Harvard this term as his experience in the running events of last season should stand him in good stead. His specialty is the hurdles, but by training and coaching he was turned into a pretty fair quarter-miler last winter. While at Newton he ran almost all the short distance events, doing his best in the high jump.

Tomorrow evening the Y. M. C. A. basketball team will open its season on the home court. Two games will be played with the Lynn Y first and second teams furnishing the opposition. The visiting team always has a strong aggregation of players and a good game is in order. The local Y having gone down to defeat in its first two games, is anxious to begin an ascent in the league standing at the expense of Lynn, which won a playoff of a tie for the Eastern division championship from Brockton, only to be defeated fo the Two-State title by Fitchburg.

Newton high is going in for hockey extensively this fall and will extend the plan of having a junior varsity, freshman, and class teams as well as a varsity, to the ice sport. This makes the third sport in which the plan has been tried as Newton has had several football and baseball teams for the past two years. Mr. Oscar Martin will continue to coach the varsity while Mr. Willard of the faculty will be in charge of the other teams. Over 200 boys have responded to the call for hockey candidates, and are now conditioning for the season ahead.

In addition to the boys and girls' activities in basketball the faculty men are planning to put a number of teams on the floor. Practice for these teams is being held after the boys and girls have finished their daily sessions on the court.

A tentative track schedule recently announced called for a triangular track meet with Cambridge Latin, Rindge Tech and Newton on January 22nd. The former school has withdrawn and Newton and Rindge will stage a dual meet on that date.

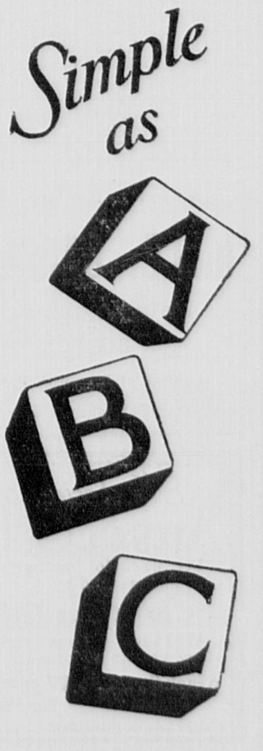
New England's Neighborhood Toll Service



If you don't know the number ask your local information operator

Nowadays in New England, calling a distant telephone is as simple as calling a telephone across the street.

"Neighborhood Toll Service," in every detail, follows the familiar routine of a local call.

Signal your own operator.
Give her the number you want.
Hold the line for a completed connection or a report.

This is the fastest, simplest form of toll service known. Yet along both the highways and byways of speech, the miles must still be dealt with by men and women, and machines. You must not expect quite the speed of local calls.

With a few exceptions, we do not undertake at present to give this service to points beyond our own territory.

We do give it between more than a million telephones in five states. It is thoroughly practical, else it would not be offered.

BENEFIT SHOP

SANTA CLAUS IS WANTED AT THE BENEFIT SHOP, 895 Washington street, Newtonville, and he is begged to come with piled sleds of children's TOYS and DOLLS, and, oh, the myriad of delightful things that make the eyes of longing, eager children shine with desire and happiness! We realize that Santa is in great demand, with constant wireless calls from the Boston Post's headquarters, and all the homes where candles shine confidently in windows, but Santa's reindeer are fleet, and his heart is big, and he has many, many family kin in the city of Newton who will aid to help him in delivery of his covetted treasures. And, too, this call for him is not in person, to distribute presents, but just for a stop while mysterious bundles are deposited from his store.

Will you be one of Santa's generous kin and take toys and dolls to the Benefit Shop on this Friday afternoon or on next Monday—so aiding to bring true the pathetic dreams of little folks who are hoping for these gifts from the kindly visitor from the far north, and whose people can not aid that nice old gentlemen unless the wares are placed before them at a much more reasonable price than they are seen in Boston Town.

There must be many a forgotten toy, or desolate doll, lying in some forlorn attic corner, that would be a joy to tiny folk—and merchants may have a few "left-overs" that they would be glad to donate—so do not let bustle over many delightful Christmas plans, or forgetfulness, or delay, rob children—and you—of this joy of giving, or cause those eager eyes to dim in disappointment!

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

One who is interested to learn intimately something of the different phases of Club life, should circulate among the different committees.

Especially are there fruitful opportunities for enlightenment when there is a club house in which to circulate.

More and more, the Newton Centre Woman's Club house is coming to be a community centre as well as a Club centre, and this was shown by the many visitors among the inspiring audience that gathered on December 9th, to hear Mrs. Grace Morrisson Poole's second talk of the year on Current Events. It was an audience representing a community of wide-awake, alert and open-minded people, many of whom have watched with much interest Mrs. Poole's growth, in the year's since she first started upon her successful career. John XII: 32, were the words that came into mind, as her hearers felt the uplift of thought and spirit which came in response to her vibrant atmosphere and her message of good-will.

In addition to the Current Events mornings, a number of Club members are enjoying a Class in Dramatic Reading, under the leadership of Mrs. Everett Winslow, Chairman of the Dramatics Committee.

An aid to all these enjoyments, Mrs. Bertrand Collins and her helpers of the House Committee have succeeded in giving a genuine home touch to the different rooms of the Club house, which not even rummage sales nor city elections can destroy.

Nor are the activities of the committees confined to the Club house.

The Art Committee entertained in most delightful fashion—in their work room one afternoon.

The room is upstairs in Mrs. Chas. Wood Bond's garage, on Gibbs street. Hooked rugs, Italian glass, reclaimed trays, and various other articles were on exhibition, and the guests admired each other, the exhibit, the hostesses, and the tea and sandwiches, by candlelight. Mrs. H. Cornell Appleton, Chairman of the Art Committee, and Mrs. Bond, were hostesses and made merry with their guests over the corner which had been dedicated to kitchen purposes.

All of which proves that, since variety is the spice of life, the Newton Centre Woman's Club is enjoying life at its very spiciest!

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

A concert was given last Monday eve, Dec. 13, in the kindergarten room of the Emerson school, Newton Upper Falls, that will linger in the minds of those who heard it for a long time. It was given by the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, to pay for a new piano which the Club has bought, and installed in the kindergarten room.

As Miss Madeline Cobb said, in introducing the last chorus, the concert was an event in which Newton, as a whole community, tok part. It began with chorus singing by a picked chorus of the Upper Falls Club, which has trained under the direction of Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, of Newton Highlands. People from other parts of Newton took part as soloists. A chorus from the Newton Highlands Club closed the program, under the direction of Mrs. Ginn.

After the opening chorus, by the Newton Upper Falls Club, Mr. Edward N. Griffin, Director of Music in the Newton Schools, sang a group of songs, playing his own accompaniments. Had the audience not known that there were others waiting their turn, it is doubtful if they would have let him stop. Mr. Griffin was followed by Miss Julia Tobin, a teacher in the Claflin School. Lucky Claflin School. Miss Tobin was a complete surprise. Had she been introduced as a member of a standard opera company no one would have doubted her right to such a place. It may be that others will have the pleasure of hearing her in Newton later in the season. Miss Horner, of the Franklin School, West Newton, played for Miss Tobin.

Miss Marjorie Sumpter, who followed Miss Tobin with a group of readings, has now become well known to the Club. They have liked her work so much that hardly a season passes that her name is not on the program list. Monday night her readings were of the Christmas flavor, and her work at her very best.

Another complete surprise was the appearance of Sir Harry Lauder in the person of Mr. C. H. Phillips, of Bangor. Mr. Phillips entertained thousands of the buddies in France, taking off Sir Harry, and won the affection of Mr. Lauder himself, who never fails to see him when in town, and has planned to have Mr. Phillips go on the boards and take him off, on the next Bangor trip. It is enough to say that Mr. Phillips planned to sing one song, and had to sing four before they would let him off.

At the close of the concert flowers were presented to Mrs. Raymond Simonds, of Newton Highlands, who played the accompaniments, and to Mrs. Ginn. The hall was packed, and it was voted the best thing of its kind that Newton Upper Falls has ever had.

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club had their expectations realized Monday night, December 6, at the Christmas Party.

After a brief business meeting the President, Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, turned the program over to the chairman of the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco.

Miss Rita Feeney, of Dedham, just seven years old, entertained with a clog dance, in costume. Miss Ann Carnivale, also of Dedham, and twelve years old, gave an acrobatic dance, followed by an Oriental one, both in costume, with Mrs. Wood at the piano. Mrs. Wood and Miss Francis Warren, the latter of Newton Upper Falls, contributed attractive piano solos, and then Miss Warren added a very pretty waltz.

Miss Madeline Cobb, who is chairman of the Music Committee, and very poud of the Club chorus, vied with Mrs. Capobianco for honors and led the chorus in a number of Christmas Carols, the entire club joining in.

Excitement rose to top notch when Santa's bells came jingling in, and Santa, (Mrs. Thomas L. Aitken) all the way from the North Pole, proceeded to distribute dainty bags of Christmas candy to each and every one.

The Club room was most attractively decorated with poinsettias, Christmas bells, and a Christmas Tree!

Santa had a busy time delivering mysterious packages to club members, and one small red silk bag, tied very securely to the tree, was found to contain $45.00 in gold, earned by the Hospitality committee, and presented to the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, for the piano fund.

Much praise is due the Committee as the money was earned during the early fall, by a series of whist parties held in the homes of the committee.

Mrs. Ernest Cobb interpreted Santa to swell that fund by the donation of ten dollars ($10.00).

It was certainly "hospitality night," as the committee proved by the dainty luncheon, which was served after Santa Claus bade a fond good bye until another Club year.

Auburndale Review Club

The members of the Auburndale Review Club met with Mrs. Arthur C. Farley at her home on Central St. on Tuesday morning, and enjoyed a program on three of our Western States: Montana,, Wyoming and Utah. Miss Margaret Haskell recalled many of the wonderful sights in the Yellowstone, which she visited several years ago, and Mrs. N. L. Grant described Zion and Glacier Parks. As Miss E. C. Williams was not able to be present, her sister, Mrs. J. F. Rider read from John Van Dyke's "The Open Spaces." Mrs. Richard Walter had visited these Parks very recently, and told interesting items concerning them. A group of three songs by Miss Ruth Perkins of West Newton, formerly an Auburndale girl, delighted her hearers.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"David Garrick" has many old-time friends and near acquaintances, for the Congregational Church was filled to capacity on "Open Night," December 7th, to hear Phidelah Rice read T. W. Robertson's drama, to the guests of the Auburndale Woman's Club and of Lasell Seminary. There is great charm about the old story, which has been played by many of the fine actors of a schol that is fast passing by—Mansfield, Forbes Robertson, the Sotherns, young and old, Richard Barrett, and many others. Mr. Rice's impersonation of each character was well done, and most enthusiastically received by the audience. In response to the very evident appreciation of his efforts, Mr. Rice added an extra bit to the program by reading, "If I Had Time." The Lasell Glee Club gave a group of three Christmas songs.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club held its only meeting of the month on December 9th. The Club Chorus, under the leadership of Mr. Houghton, gave much pleasure by its singing of songs appropriate to the pre-Christmas season. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer spoke briefly of the work and purpose of the Newton Central Council which is a clearing-house for nearly 60 health, welfare, and civic organizations of the city.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Jennie Loitman Barron, a Boston lawyer, whose subject was "Is Woman Suffrage Fulfilling its Purpose?" Mrs. Barron considers that it is, for, after all, it is only six years old! She traced the slow and difficult emancipation of women from a form of property to individuals. It was a surprise to many to be reminded that it was not until 1902 that a law was passed which gave women the right to joint guardianship of their children.

As fair-minded persons realize, much remains to be accomplished, however, to right many years of injustice. Mrs. Barron emphasized the need for a universal marriage and divorce law; the widely different laws of the several states now causing endless confusion. She urged jury service for women, stating they are liable for such service in 22 states already.

At the close of her address, Mrs. Barron made an eloquent appeal for peace, urging women to use their political power to that end. She had no thought of antagonism between men and women, but considers that they minor Symphony (unfinished), with a good deal more of Schubert in it than I have heard among most amateur ensembles. Unfortunately, it has become a somewhat well-worn "popular classic," and with all due respect, the average "movie" orchestra seems to do its level best to transform its composer into rather more a contemporary of Irving "Berlin."

Space forbids further detailed comment, but the following is the full programme:

Coronation March from "The Prophet" Meyerbeer
Valse Triste from "Kuslema" Sibelius
Whispering Flowers V. Blon
"All 'udir del sistro il suon" Gypsy song from "Carmen" Bizet

DEATH OF MRS. NICKERSON

Mrs. Kate Morton Nickerson died Wednesday in her eighty-fifth year at her home, 87 Highland street, West Newton. She was the widow of Theodore Nickerson, a railroad man, who was assistant to the president of the Mexican Central Railway.

Mrs. Nickerson was a native of Bridgewater, and the daughter of Andrew B. Cobb. She was long president of the board of directors of the Nickerson Home for Children in Dorchester and at one time was a member of the Old South Church, Boston, though recently having transferred her allegiance to the West Newton Congregational Church.

Her surviving children are two daughters, Mrs. Alfred Gaskill of Brandon, Vt., and Mrs. Frederick S. Pratt, who lived with her at the West Newton home; and two sons, Thomas Nickerson of New York and Henry Cobb Nickerson of Pasadena, Calif.

In the consideration of the water question in this city, we remind our readers that there are two distinct issues in the problem, which ought not to be confused. The first is the discoloration of the water by Crenothrix, which has been the target for criticism for the past year or so, and which has been almost completely eliminated from the larger water mains during the past summer and which will be eliminated from the smaller mains early in the spring. In passing, it should be noted that this condition was not unhealthy although it was disagreeable while it lasted. The second matter to consider was the action taken by a group of physicians recently, urging the abandonment of the present water supply and the use of Metropolitan water until the state board of health should have "guaranteed" the purity of the Newton water supply. The phraseology used in the statement by these physicians was most unfortunate, as was the publicity given the matter at a time when the community had not quite recovered from its agitation over the Chrenothrix matter. As good, if not better results would have been obtained, if this statement had been quietly submitted to the mayor and city government without giving it to the newspapers. We understand that the statement was based on an examination of analyses of the water for a period of twenty years and more particularly of examinations made the past summer, which showed that the water had some evidences of contamination. It should be borne in mind that the state board of health makes this analysis at frequent intervals and that during the past summer, many more examinations were made than usual, although nothing was said to the Water Commissioner about the results until the letter from Dr. Bigelow of November 1st. This would seem to indicate that the state board was not unduly anxious over the quality of the Newton water even though it did show some contamination. Prompt work by the Water Department evidently remedied the trouble as all the recent examinations have shown the water perfectly safe. The action taken by the aldermen Dec. 6, was principally aimed at the cleaning of the old wooden conduit from Chrenothrix. This will require the closing down of the present source and the use of Metropolitan water for our entire supply for a period of two or three weeks, during which Newton people may learn the difference between the two kinds of water.

The slim vote cast at the city election on Tuesday emphasizes the suggestion frequently made in the GRAPHIC that the city should adopt the biennial plan of elections. It is evidently impossible to make the people vote where there is little public interest, and if we cannot move the mountain to Mohammet, we had better accept the situation and move Mohammet to the mountain, or in other words hold elections only at such times as the public will take some interest, usually when there is an election for the important office of mayor. This can be done by obtaining the necessary legislation from the General Court, and having the proposed change voted upon by the people at the city election next December.

In these days of "juicy" streets, we earnestly urge motorists to remember that pedestrians do not like to be showered with liquid mud and water caused by driving a car 25 or 30 miles an hour. Incidentally, we also hope they will refrain from parking their cars directly opposite the paths cut thru the snow to allow pedestrians to cross the streets.

We have received an interesting communication on the water situation which we will publish if the name of the author is given us in confidence.

ABOUT TOWN

In last week's GRAPHIC was an article written by us concerning the gasoline pumps which have been placed outside the Fuller Garage at West Newton. One paragraph quoted Alderman Hodgdon's reference to the fact "that when the permit was granted for the erection of this garage, a condition was imposed that the north and east walls should be setback 30 feet from the intersection of Watertown street, and Davis Court, and that the unoccupied land should be surrounded by a low wall. Through the caprice of that mischievous "devil" who haunts newspapers plants, the "make-up man" of the GRAPHIC mixed the type of a Girl Scouts story with the type of the article relative to the Fuller Garage. Instead of enclosing the unoccupied land at the corner of the garage with a low wall, he enclosed it with "varied wardrobes." Said wardrobes, in reality, belonged to "Friendship Dolls" soon to be sent by the Girl Scouts to little girls in Japan. It would certainly be interesting to have "varied wardrobes" on display at the corner of Watertown street and Davis Court. The building formerly on this site was a horse's dormitory, but the wardrobe, or harness room was on the Washington street side of the stable.

Through a typographical error, we were made to say in "About Town" last week that lime is supposed to be an "alternative" for uric acid. What we really wrote was, "lime is supposed to be an "alterative."

A year or two ago when so much trouble was being experienced with Newton water, we asked Water Commissioner Whitney, "What causes the discoloration in the water?" Mr. Whitney informed us that the principal cause is Crenothrix, and he explained what this substance is. We subsequently obtained more information regarding Crenothrix from Dr. Arthur Hudson, City Bacteriologist. At various times, including last week, we endeavored to impart to the readers of the GRAPHIC, the information we received from these two gentlemen. We stated that Crenothrix is a species of bacteria which grows in ponds and reservoirs. We refrain from again mentioning the long scientific name given to this species of bacteria. Leon Lam, the "chem de linotype" of the GRAPHIC PRESS, threatened to annihilate us if he had to spell this name again. Despite our attempted careful efforts to tell what Crenothrix is, a rising young journalist friend of ours, burst into print last week with the assertion that Crenothrix "in plain English is iron rust." Since the statement of our fellow scribe contradicts the information we obtained from gentlemen who are experts on water, we would suggest that he consult the unabridged edition of Webster's Dictionary for a definition of Crenothrix. Undoubtedly iron rust has formed to some extent in the water mains, and has been mixed with the Crenothrix. But Crenothrix, either in New Latin or plain English, is not iron rust.

Some years ago the Postoffice Department of the United States of America, established the rating, or rank, or what you will, of "Special Clerk." Special clerks, were, and are, supposed to be employees possessing superior ability and knowledge regarding postoffice work, or whose industry is so much above the average, that the work they accomplish entitles them to $100 or $200 more in salary than ordinary clerks. Theoretically the creation of the rating of "special clerk" was commendable. But in practice is has worked out about as persons conversant with the workings of the Post Office Department expected it would. In a large percentage of cases the clerks advanced to the rating of "special clerk" were not promoted because of unusual ability or industry. They were made "special clerks" because they obtained a "drag," or political pull. Such unfairness has not improved the morale of the postal service. In the Newton postoffice is a clerk who has given years of conscientious service. He takes an intense interest in his work, and accomplishes as much as two ordinary clerks. He is head and shoulders above a large percentage of employees throughout the Boston Postal District who have been advanced to the rating of special clerk. But he still is rated as, and receives an ordinary clerk's salary. Why? Because he has never been fortunate enough to get sufficient political pull to obtain that advancement which he justly deserves. We refrain from mentioning his name here, because this tribute to him was written absolutely without his knowledge, and he might be accused of collusion in the publishing of this paragraph.

Water may be a subject on which Newton folks are quite "fed up." They certainly have read and heard enough about Newton water in the last few weeks. But water is one of the most vital things in our lives. Medical men tell us that humans are 67 per cent water. This being so, it is difficult to understand why some men are so thirsty. Or perhaps, it explains why they are so thirsty for some other liquid than water. If they are water saturated 67 per cent, it is no wonder they hanker for some fluid other than the mixture of hydrogen and oxygen.

OLD IRONSIDES SOCIETY, C. A. R.

Old Ironsides Society, Children of the American Revolution, held their monthly meeting at the Bonnar-Atwood Studio, Newtonville. Capt. E. S. R. Brandt, U. S. N, an associate member of the society, was the speaker of the afternoon He told of the thrilling movie of "Old Ironsides," and the joy he experienced at the opening night in New York. "Old Ironsides" Society has guaranteed to sell one hundred tokens for the benefit of "Save Old Ironsides" Fund. Mrs. Mary H. McDowell, our State Director, was with us that day, and spoke to us about Titania's Palace, which is to be exhibited at Paine's Furniture, in January. The proceeds will be used for the Children's and Infants' Hospital. Albert Walker sang a very delightful solo, and all the members and guests joined in singing the Flag of Liberty, and Christmas Carols. The children brought their gifts for the Christmas tree for the immigrant children detained at Ellis Island. Many of the children went to the loan exhibit at the Lucy Jackson Chapter House after they had enjoyed the refreshments prepared by the hostesses, Mrs Matthews, Mrs. H. W. Newhall, Mrs. Walter Jones, chairman, Mrs. E. S. R. Brandt, Mrs. Katherine L. Lewis, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. J. N. Eaton.

NEW TERMINAL

Chestnut Hill residents who are interested in securing a new terminal station at Lake Street and Commonwealth Avenue, at the point where the Boston Elevated line ends and connects for various points in Newton with the Middlesex and Boston system, met on Monday evening at the Commonwealth Country Club when definite plans were considered for the proposed new station. These were presented by George J. Martin, chairman of a special committee from the Newton Chamber of Commerce, recently appointed to take up the matter of new terminal facilities with the street railway corporations. H. C. Hartwell of the engineering staff of the Elevated was present to explain the plans in detail, after which there was a general discussion, one of the plans submitted was unanimously approved, and Mr. Martin was authorized to represent the citizens of that section as well as the Chamber in his further negotiations with the street railway officials.

The approved plan provides for a large and conveniently arranged terminal station just north of Commonwealth Avenue, on the location now used by the Elevated system for the storage of cars when not in use. Similar to the system now in effect at Dudley Street, Sullivan Square, and other terminals, the Elevated cars would enter the proposed station on one side and, after making the loop in the rear, would return and make their exit, for the return trip to Boston, on the other side of the station. Between the tracks there is a large, well-covered platform, while immediately adjacent to the platform will be a large enclosed waiting room, heated and equipped with all of the usual comforts and facilities now available in other terminals of this type on the Elevated system.

Provision is made for the Middlesex and Boston cars to enter and leave the terminal on the proposed loop and it will be possible to transfer from one line to the other without exposure to the weather or being threatened with injury from the heavy traffic on Commonwealth avenue. The plan also makes the necessary provisions for accommodating the buses now operated to and from this point by both roads.

The estimated cost of the proposed improvements is $48,000, of which it is proposed that the Elevated System shall pay $32,000 and that the remaining $16,000 shall be provided by the Middlesex and Boston line.

KIWANIS CLUB

Members of the Waltham Kiwanis Club joined with the Newton Kiwanis Club at the weekly meeting of the latter on Tuesday. Present as guests were the wives and daughters of many of the members of both clubs. Rev. Earl Harper of the Newton Kiwanis provided an excellent program. Through the courtesy of Mr. Guy Winslow, the Lasell Seminary Glee Club and Orchestra participated. The concert opened with an excellent rendition by the orchestra of "Twinkling Stars" by Odell. Miss Mary E. Keim conducted efficiently, and the accompanist was Miss Gwendolyn McDonald. The second number was a trumpet solo, "The Lost Chord" by Mr. Cleon E. Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins made a decided hit and was forced to favor with encores on this and his second number, "The Lily." The Lasell Seminary Glee Club, under the direction of petite Miss Janette Smock, presented a charming picture in their white costumes, and the vocal proficiency of the girls was on a par with their attractiveness. They first sang three Polish Christmas Carols—"When the Saviour Christ Was Born", "Sleep Thou My Jewel", and "Hark Bethlehem." An instrumental trio "Told at Twilight" was well rendered by Mary Keim, violin, Henrietta Goodwin, cello, and Gwendolyn McDonald, piano. Harold Schwab, pianist of the Kiwanis Club played "Concert Etude" by Dennee with his usual excellence, and Saint-Saens "Benedictus" from the "Christmas Oratorio" was effectively sung by Mrs. Clara Lieber Harper, soprano, and James E. Houghton, baritone. A trio from this same oratorio was sung by Mrs. Harper, Mr. Houghton and Mr. Arthur O. Welcome, tenor. The concluding numbers on the program were given by the Lasell Seminary Glee Club, which sang "See the Dawn from Heaven" by Marshall, and "Jesus Is Come" by Burdett. Miss Harriet Ferris accompanied the Glee Club.

The Kiwanians tendered a rising vote of thanks to all who had assisted in the concert and to Rev. Earl Harper for obtaining the talent. At the next meeting of the Club on Tuesday, a Christmas Tree will be enjoyed.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE

Tuesday evening at the Hunnewell Club 60 business and professional men of the Newton Corner section met to enjoy a dinner provided by Caterer Andrew J. Schwer of Paxton's, and to organize. Following the dinner, Harold Moore presided as Chairman and told of the purposes of the new organization. Albert Walker of the Brackett Coal Company read the minutes of the previous meetings and also the Constitution and By-Laws which had been drawn up by the committee appointed for that purpose. These were accepted as read. Mr. Moore called on John C. Brimblecom of the GRAPHIC who told of the old Board of Trade which formerly functioned for the benefit of Newton Corner business men. John T. Burns urged those present to persevere in their efforts to further their interests though the medium of the organization.

Mr. Brimblecom offered a $25 prize for the best decorated store window during Christmas week, and Mr. Clement Hernandez, Treasurer of NEWTON PROGRESS donated a second prize of $15. Andrew J. Ford stated that a local organization is needed to promote better feeling among Newtin Corner business men. He urged Newton merchants to take advantage of the facilities afforded by the Credit Bureau of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Alderman Walter Hodgdon told the assemblage that the Newton aldermen are always ready to listen to and act favorably upon reasonable demands made by business men. Several of these present urged that a buss line be started along Centre street to give communication with the South Side of the city, and that traffic conditions at Newton Corner be improved to permit better parking facilities at this locality. Mr. Moore lauded the efforts of the management of the Newton Public Market to boost Newton Corner as a shopping centre. A committee was appointed to bring in nominatians for officers of the Associates.

Frank A. Day High School

The Assembly, held on Wednesday of this week, was in charge of Miss Kittner. The program was varied and interesting from many standpoints. There was a picture, The Turn in the Road, which was propaganda for clean milk. Sabra Erickson and Elinor Thompson played a duet which brought pictures of Santa Clause and the jingle of his reindeer to mind. The "piece de resistance," however, was a play entitled "Santa Claus Baby. The play, which was in one act, was written by the father of our own Judith and Charlotte Andress—J. Mace Andress, the author of so many delightful health books for children. The play is concerned with Santa and his worry over his baby who is very sickly. The children to whom he has brought gifts offer advice about how Mary Santa Claus can improve her health. With each bit of advice they proffer a gift for the baby. The result is that Santa returns to the North Pole with his kit laden with eggs, milk, vegetables, graham bread and other necessary ingredients for red cheeks.

The cast was made up of Rena La Blanc, Alys Hayford, Nina Keppler, Mary Howe, Dora Muncini, Eunice Lanno, Esther Klegman, Frances Tocci, Ruth Bergen and Anna Caron. Honors for the performance go to Santa Claus. The part was played by Rosetta Littlefield. Her perfect ease on the stage was a thing which many more experienced in the footlight art could well copy.

Santa Claus brought presents to children who were awaiting his arrival after they had finished trimming the tree. As Santa delved into the bag to find each gift, he had a few appropriate words to say. These remarks were original with Rosetta, so her performance was naturally given a touch of local color.

And so it goes—in the words of Santa himself—"A Merry Christmas to all."

Stearns School

On Wednesday evening at 8 P. M., the Stearns School Playground and Center will celebrate Christmas. "Christmas in Other Lands" is being practised intensively by an afternoon class. Older girls will give "Christmas Eve" by Constance Mackay. The music will be, singing by the older girls, a violin, and clarinet solo. The evening will close with Tableaux of the first Christmas. This evening entertainment is not for the children. There is no charge for admission but tickets will be given out.

Calendar of Christmas Parties:
N. J. J.—Friday, Dec. 17th
Mothers' Club—Monday, Dec. 20th
Colonna Club—Tuesday, Dec. 21st
Senior Girls—Tuesday, Dec. 21st

Bigelow School

The Christmas spirit was in the air at Bigelow this week. The assembly program began with the singing of Christmas carols in which the entire school heartily joined. This was followed by a play given by the Dramatic Club entitled "The Joyous Christmas Gift." All the parts were well taken, each actor representing a country. The costumes were very colorful, especially that of the Spanish dancer, Madeleine Dunne.

The highest attendance for November was recorded for Miss Dyers and Miss Hamilton's divisions: a tie—each averaging 98.9%.

Franklin School

At recess time the little folks at he Franklin School are busily engaged in making strange snow elves. The playground is quickly transformed into a miniature snow village.

Miss Bradley's room had only four absences for the month of November. They are trying hard to maintain this high record.

The fourth grade is working hard to make their Christmas Play a success. The boys are making their own costumes.

Mr. Monahan, the genial policeman in front of the school, starts on his vacation this week. The entire school wish him the best of holidays and a Merry Christmas.

Miss Reed's room is being congratulated on its high attainment in the medical inspection.

Lasell

With generous enthusiasm the Lasell girls as usual have shown the Christmas spirit by remembering several nearby missions and sending their gifts as far away as Alaska. At the Christmas chapel service the stage resembled a small sized bazaar. The happy donors later skillfully packed the boxes and are bound to have a merrier Christmas because of their generous giving.

The Lasell Glee Club and orchestra gave several numbers before the Kiwanis Club and their guests on December 14 at the Auburndale Club House.

D. A. R.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting chapter D. A. R. held a Christmas party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Scott Emery, Randolph St., Newton Highlands. An appropriate literary and musical program, furnished by students from Emerson College, was followed by the distribution of gifts. Mrs. Richard Cody presided over the dining-room. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Cody, Mrs. Emery, Mrs. Wilmot Brown and Mrs. Chester Tudbury.

ALUMNI DAY

The Newton High School authorities and some of the High School Alumni are planning to hold an Alumni Day at the Newton High School, and have selected Wednesday, December 29th. The program includes a social hour from 5.30 to 6.30 P. M., followed by a dinner in the new cafeteria. There will be special features in the auditorium and dancing later in the new gymnasium.

—The prize cookie sellers of the Waban troup of Girl Scouts proved to be Elanor Dunham, Edith Wheaton, Louise Came, Doris Banckman, Doris Linscott and Annie Arnold. Capt. Mosser is planning to take these girls on a theatre party to reward them for their good work.

—The recent death in Pasadena, California, of Dr. Andrew Archibald will be a cause of sadness to many Waban people who remember him as one of the early pastors of the Union Church, and the one who was really responsible for the erection of the present structure.

—Mrs. Harry J. Klotz, Waban Chairman of the Christmas Health Seal Drive, announces that the sale of seals up to Wednesday night amounted to $631.35. Mrs. Klotz urges those who have not paid for their seals to do so promptly that Waban may at least reach the mark of $800 obtained last year. Our quota for this year is $900.

—Robert S. Allingham, sophomore at DePauw University and son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Allingham, recently acted the leading part in a play presented at the University. The play was staged by DePauw's dramatic fraternity, Duzer Du, which has elected Allingham to its membership. Before coming to DePauw, Allingham made a name for himself in local stage productions. The Boston Theatre Guild selected him for parts in a number of its presentations. Allingham is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Tea was served after the address, with Mrs. Edgar W. Hodgson and Mrs. William J. Tyler presiding at the attractively-decorated table.

Miss Margaret S. Ball, chairman of the Conservation Committee, had on view samples of lovely Christmas wreaths and greens which did not contain the forbidden laurel or ground pine.

Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held their third meeting last Monday evening, the 13th, at the home of Mrs. B. Howard Lester, 133 Bigelow road, West Newton. Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, president of the Senior Club, was the guest of honor. They entertained the Juniors of the Auburndale Woman's Club.

Mrs. Otis Drayton, State Federation Chairman of Music, was the speaker. She told them what the Women's Clubs had done in connection with music and what they have planned for the future. She also told them of music programs which they could have for their meetings. Miss Leora Bacon, president of the West Newton Juniors, sang two songs. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The rest of the evening was spent in getting acquainted with one another.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Reception to the teachers by the Auburndale Woman's Club, on the 14th, was a delightful affair. The Education Committee, Mrs. Hector R. Gai, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Stephen Wright, president of the club, acted as a committee to receive the guests. All gathered in the auditorium to see "The Wandering Child," with the following cast: Master Beckett Jones, Master David Ordway, Miss Jean MacNaught, Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, Mr. Walter R. Amesbury, "Himself," Officer Cronin.

As an introduction Miss Helen Shepard sang a Christmas Carol, accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Woodbury.

"The Wandering Child" is a charming little one-act play, with all the winsome appeal of children and Christmas. The parts were very well taken and all praise is given Miss Mary R. Davidson who wrote the play;—which was awarded third prize, in a county-wide contest, at the Atlantic City Biennial—and trained the cast.

Following the entertainment a real social hour was enjoyed by all. The little folks, and there were many who came to see their friends do their parts, had their party in the upper Club room, while the grown-ups had tea in the lounge.

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

Mrs. C. H. Keeler is hostess for the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands, 36 Oak Terrace, for their meeting of Saturday, December 18th. Attention is called to this date, because an amusing typographical error last week, while complimentary to Mrs. Keeler as a cordial hostess, might make for her embarrassment, if taken literally. The Club has finished the reading of "Othello," and a review by Quiz to prove how much of this is remembered, and how greatly it has been appreciated in all its fine—or otherwise—points will be led by Mrs. H. W. Drew.

Newtonville Woman's Club

On the afternoon of Tuesday, December 21st at 2.30 o'clock, the Newtonville Woman's Club will hold its annual Christmas Party, to which fifty deserving children have been asked. Mr. George E. Shattuck, member of the History Department of the Newton High School, will entertain the children, telling, by means of pictures, the "travels of the three fir trees and the two little wayfarers" in their quest of Santa Claus.

Many Clubwomen will be glad to hear that the Newtonville Woman's Club announces an interesting series of four current events lectures by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton. Mrs. Poole, who is Recording Secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs,—and who may become its first vice-president,—has a wide reputation as a lecturer on current events. Her summer in Europe has provided her with material that promises to be of special interest to those who are fortunate enough to hear her. Mrs. Poole's four lectures in Newtonville, which are open to the public, will be given at 2.30 P. M., in the Central Congregational Church, Walnut Street, on December 29th, January 31st, February 23rd, and March 30th. Tickets for the course at $1.50 each, or for each separate lecture at fifty cents each, may be obtained at the door on December 29th.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

"American Individualism," by Herbert Hoover, will be the paper to be read by Mrs. Hiram A. Miller, with its attendant discussion, questions, and comments, which make a most delightfully entertaining and informal affair of the meeting of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands, on the afternoon of December 27th. The hostess for the day is Mrs. William E. Leonard, of 25 Canterbury road.

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday, Dec. 28th, the club will meet at 10 A. M. with Mrs. Wicklyffe J. Spaulding at 429 Wolcott street. Mrs. Spaulding will pilot them on a trip thru the Yosemite. The club has already travelled thru Montana, Wyoming and Utah. Music will add to the enjoyment of the morning.

STATE FEDERATION

MUSIC. Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, State chairman of music, recommends that one of Christmas' messages may be to the Clubs to encourage Children's Days, not only at this season, but throughout the year, with the singing of carols by the little tots, or the Boys' Glee Club, or the Girl Scout Chorus in this and other music. Certainly inspiration and encouragement could be given to these young people who are eager to sing, by having them do so at Club meetings. As Mrs. Drayton points out, too,—like many another good deed that brings unexpected reward—the Club women might discover talent and fine work that would amaze them.

Mrs. Drayton also offers another excellent suggestion for the encouragement of appreciation of good music that may not occur to many, and that will solve their Christmas gift much more delightfully than they have thought possible, while puzzling over just the "right thing" for some cherished friend. "How about sending that book of songs, to one of your little friends, or that book of musical games? How about that phonograph record of something especially fine, or that pair of Symphony or concert tickets that you know one of your friends would enjoy?

"All seasons of the year our veterans in the hospitals want music and more music. Can you not plan something from your Club for them?

"This season of the year is a fine one to start a small music scholarship for that young girl or boy in your town who is showing marked musical talent.

"This suggests to our minds American Music and American Musicians. We urge that you give American Music and American Musicians preference on your programs. A list of 20 American women composers and suggestions of their music for programs is all prepared for you. American opera scores may be had by any Club interested. A set of six programs, Indian Music, Colonial Period, Civil War, Negro Music, Pioneer Period and Present Day Composers are ready for you. An outline for a paper, lists of sheet music, phonograph records or piano player rolls will be sent any Club in a town of 5,000 persons with no charge except express and the safe return guaranty."

She appeals, too, for the wonderful custom of singing of Christmas Carols to be carried forward as never before, and her mention of the "shut-in" Club members who could be so delightfully entertained makes one realize what a rare and kindly opportunity is here given for that expression of friendship and thoughtfulness that could warm the heart, perhaps make the eyes sting a bit with happy tears, in our remembrance of one who is of us, but can not share in our Club meetings.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The date has been set for the Annual Winter Rally which is to be in the West Newton Armory, Wednesday evening, February 9th. The program will be much the same as last year's Rally with some added features that have not been heretofore possible on account of limited space. In addition to the regular review there will be inspection by prominent city and Scout officials and demonstrations by the various troops as well as inter-troop contests. Scouts should impress upon their parents and friends the necessity of keeping this date free for the Rally and getting there in plenty of time to get a good seat. Tickets will be distributed early in January.

It is expected that another swimming meet will be held the last of January with much the same program as the last one except the elimination of the underwater swim.

Some applications have been received for the new board of examiners but several more are needed. An intimate knowledge of scouting is not needed for this duty but more a willingness to learn a certain amount of First Aid or Signaling or both. Men interested should get in touch with the Scout Executive at 291 Dorset Roal, Waban, Telephone Centre Newton 2968-J.

DR. PARK'S BOOK

Rev. Dr. J. Edgar Park, who has just retired as minister of the Second Church, has published a little book containing three Christmas stories, "The Christmas Heretic," "The Man who Missed Christmas," and "How I Spent My Million." These stories reveal the true spirit of Christmas.

The characters are the sort of people which make up your neighborhood today. Each story leaves the reader in a mellow mood, chuckling, and somewhat thoughtful. Read aloud their beauty and worth are doubly appreciated. Perhaps an outstanding charm lies in the delightful denouement of each story—most surprising and of which no hint is given until it is sprung unexpectedly—or rather one might say unsuspectedly.

The book is published by the Pilgrim Press at $1.00.

CALL TO ARMS

For the few days remaining before Christmas we sound a "Call to Arms" to the people to rally to the support of the 19th Annual Christmas Seal Sale. Every package, letter and card carrying the cheery seals with the Christmas carol singers will help the fight against tuberculosis all through the year 1927. It is not asking much to ask that every gift and greeting card carry some Christmas Seals. The seals are not only beautifully decorative this year but they convey an additional message to your loved ones as follows: "While I am preparing this gift or card for you I am thinking also of those who need the gift of health and I am doing what I can to help them."

Little children who need health camp care next summer and adults who need every kind of assistance to get them back to health appeal to you through our organization to buy Christmas Seals generously.

Chairman, Seal Sale Committee.

The results of the sale of Christmas Seals in the various villages of Newton for the third week are as follows:

NEWTON DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

Miss Olive Elliot, R. N., has come to Newton to take the place of Miss Elizabeth Ross, as Superintendent of the Newton District Nursing Association. Miss Elliot is a graduate of the Newton Hospital, 1915. After graduation she did private duty in Newton and Norwood for a year, then went to Seattle, Washington, and later to St. Louis, Missouri, where she was Assistant Superintendent of the Training School for Nurses in the Barns Hospital, which is the Hospital of the Washington University Medical School. In 1920 Miss Elliot returned East, and after a year of private duty, was appointed Superintendent of the Norwood Hospital where she remained for three years, leaving to take a year's graduate work at Simmons College in Public Health Nursing. Since her graduation from Simmons Miss Elliot has been doing Rural Red Cross Public Health Nursing in Massachusetts. Miss Elliot is well known to the health workers of Greater Boston and everyone feels that Newton is most fortunate in obtaining Miss Elliot to direct the work of the District Association.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending Dec. 11:—Patients in hospital 107; patients paying as much as cost of care or more 53; patients paying less than cost of care 25; free patients, including babies 29; patients treated by out patient department 105; patients at eye clinic 12; accident cases 6; babies born 9; social service calls at homes 4; patients transferred in social service car 12.

Dr. George R. Minot, of Boston, spoke before the Newton Medical Club, at its meeting at the hospital Monday evening, on "Diseases of the Blood." The first of the Newton Hospital Clinics will be held at three o'clock Friday afternoon in the out patient department. The clinics will be in charge of Dr. Edward Leonard of Newton Centre, assisted by Dr. H. F. Giddings of Newton Centre. The consultants for the clinics will be Dr. Robert B. Greenough, Dr. F. A. Pemberton, Dr. Granville E. Crabtree, Dr. George R. Minot, Dr. Oliver Lothrop and Dr. Sydney Dalrymple. The clinics will be held every other Friday afternoon at three, and through them the hospital hopes to do good work in the war against cancer, which is to be carried on throughout the state.

At an informal tea at the Nurses' Home on Monday afternoon several of the social and welfare workers of the city met Miss Elizabeth F. Wheeler, of Newton Centre, who is the new medical social worker at the hospital.

The executive committee of the hospital held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The Newtonville Women's Club, which has made a very substantial gift of jellies to the hospital this week added to those alreay given another fourteen jars. The Club also gave a quantity of old linen.

There seems to be a small epidemic of appendicitis in the city at present. The hospital has had several cases in its care, some of them being serious cases of ruptured appendixes.

The little patients in the children's ward are enjoying very much the ukelele playing of Elizabeth Carey, one of the patients. When Elizabeth plays the children either lie and listen, or join in singing to her accompaniment. One who visits the hospital can not hope noting that the patients in the children's ward always seem to enjoy themselves.

MOTHERS' REST ASSOCIATION

The Mothers' Rest Association of the City of Newton, Inc., furnishes a splendid Home at Oak Hill, Newton Centre, where groups of tired mothers and their children under five years of age are given a wonderful vacation of two weeks without expense and without regard to race, creed or color. In making up these groups places are always open for Newton mothers whenever needed.

A matron, nurse and several helpers make up an efficient household staff. Religious services are held each Sunday at four o'clock in which much interest is shown by the guests.

The pleasures and privileges of the Mothers' Rest were enjoyed this season by 141 mothers and 248 children, representing 15 nationalities.

This fine work is largely supported by membership and is well worth the co-operation of every citizen of Newton. The cost of carrying on is approximately $4500, and the present membership is about 900. It is hoped to increase this to 2,000 members, which with annual dues of $2 each, will more nearly reach the required amount.

CHRISTMAS CLEARING

Once more Christmas is here and with it the Christmas Clearing House, which is a method of preventing duplication in the giving of Christmas dinners by checking up beforehand with a central bureau.

The Newton Central Council, 12 Austin Street, Newtonville, is running the Clearing House this year, as for several past seasons. If you or anyone you know is intending to give Christmas baskets, will you not use the Christmas Clearing House? Call the Council office, Newton North 2717, and find out from their card index whether the family to whom you wish to send a dinner is already to receive one from some one else. Or better still send to the Council office a list of the names of those families to whom you are planning to give.

Last year 88 dinners were released by avoiding duplication in this way, and Christmas was "passed around" to that number of families for whom there would otherwise have been no provision.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION MEETS

There were more than seventy-five ladies present on Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Home and Foreign Misisonary Societies of the Eliot Woman's Association. At 1.30 sewing and surgical dressing were being done, at 3.00 o'clock a service of worship was conducted by Mrs. C. H. Patton, Mrs. Carl J. Thornquist sang a group of songs and Mrs. H. W. Fitts gave a very interesting talk on "Moslem Education."

Mrs. C. S. Ensign, Jr., read a paper on "Some Interesting Phases of Education Among the Aliens in this Country." Mrs. Ensign spoke especially of the work at Ellis Island. Tea was served with Mrs. Edgar M. Horne as hostess.

CHRISTMAS EVE

Under the auspices of the Men's Club and the Women's Club of Newton Highlands the usual Christmas Eve celebration will be held in front of the Congregational Church of Newton Highlands at seven o'clock, December 24th.

There will be carol singing lead by trumpeters and the usual devotional service. The children of the 7th and 8th grades of the Hyde School will take part.

The committee in charge will provide music sheets, but each villager is asked to bring his own flashlight or candle.

It is hoped that homes will be illuminated in some safe way, and that the whole community will come out to participate in this celebration.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

There was an exceptional program at the Musicale held last Sunday afternoon. The artists, Norma Jean Erdmann, soprano; Elenore Altman, pianist. and Charles Bennett, soloist and accompanist, were at their best and received many deserved encores.

Mr. George Brown, 'cellist, was unable to be present on account of illness and Miss Altman gave a second number and Mr. Bennett became a soloist as well as an accompanist. A social hour followed with Mrs. Frank P. Schofield, Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss, Mrs. Edward O. Loring, and Mrs. Webster as the hostesses.

Plans are under way for an eleborate celebration of New Year's Eve.

Y. M. C. A.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club meeting last Monday was Mr. David Black, Treasurer of the Page & Shaw Candy Company. Mr. Black brought along pieces of candy in the various processes of manufacture which were enjoyed by those present after the talk. Mr. Black not only spoke of the production end of the business, but told about the selling end as well. The speaker next week will be Mr. F. H. Williams of the Purity Ice Company, who will tell the story of manufactured ice. The Fellowship Club meets every Monday at 6.30 and any young man is welcome to attend.

The prizes in the Candle Pin Tournament just finished were won by the following men: John L. Sullivan, high single, with 129; F. H. Tucker, high average of 95; and W. West, high three string with 313. Winners of the first prize: Team 8 composed of T. Rodden, C. Pierce, F. Harwood, S. Thayer, and J. S. Morris. Second Prize to Team 1 composed of W. Allen, S. Morrell, J. Yohannon. P. Forsythe, and C. C. Perry.

Fourteen teams composed of seventy men are bowling in the Boston Pin tournament, which started December 13th.

Arnold Barker, Dr. Leslie Russell, Dr. Cameron Rae, Philip Hardy, Hugh Boyd, Lawrence Trowbridge, and General Secretary H. W. Bascom were delegates to the Fifty-first State Convention held in Boston on December 10th and 11th. Mr. Frederic Fuller, a member of the National Council, and Mr. C. D. Kepner, of the State Committee, were delegates ex-officio. Mr. David Black was Chairman of the Nominating Committee.

It was primarily a young man's Convention, and it is hoped that the younger men of the Association will find their places on the Committees and in the work of the organization more than they have in the past.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scout cookie day has come and gone, and the three villages that took part in it, West Newton, Newtonville, and Waban, are slowly recovering from the deluge of orders for 1300 dozen cookies that fell on them that day. Girls from Junior Troops No. 1 and No. 22 in Newtonville, No. 4 in Waban, and No. 5 in West Newton took orders and delivered the cookies, while the members of Senior Troop No. 10 in Newtonville, No. 14 in Waban, and No. 15 in West Newton, mixed, rolled, and baked in stores, the use of which had been donated for the day by Mr. Murray of Newtonville, Mr. Congdon of Waban and the First National Bank of West Newton.

At the last meeting of the Leaders' Course on December 9th an investiture ceremony was held. Three new officers who had completed their tenderfoot test were invested by Miss Caroline Freeman, the Newton Local Director. These new officers are Mrs. C. B. Melaney of Troop No. 18, Auburndale, Miss Edith Monro of Newton Lower Falls, and Mrs. Helen Douglas of Troop No. 4, Waban. The other members of the course who were already scouts, received their certifiicates as certified examiners for tenderfoot work.

The Officers' Association is planning to give a party during the Christmas holidays for former scouts who are now at college. It will probably be held at West Newton on Thursday evening, December 30th. The officers and girls will get together for games and singing, followed by refreshments.

CITY HALL

Mr. Henry Baily, chairman of the board of assessors, was one of the speakers this week at the annual meeting of the Association of Massachusetts Assessors.

Mr. Patrick Fitzsimmons, who has been employed as night watchman at the Newton City Hall for the past eleven years, has been confined to his home at 145 Lexington St., Auburndale, by illness since Thanksgiving Day. His many friends will be glad to know that he is improving rapidly and expects to be up and around again by the first of the year.

CHRISTMAS EVE

Community Christmas Tree services will be held at Farlow Pk., on Christmas Eve, at 5.30 P. M.

The churches will be open at five o'clock with a musical service to 5.30. Each member is requested to bring a candle and to join the procession to the park.

Two cornetists will play at Nonantum Square at 5.15. They will start for the park about 5.25. The different church processions will enter the park at the same time, with lighted candles. Residents of the vicinity of Farlow Park are requested to have lighted candles in their windows at this time.

Many organizations have united, with the city, to make this service a success. Every member of the community is urged to be present, and to join heartily in this Christian service.

MRS. DELIA SPROAT

Mrs. Delia Sproat, wife of William Sproat of 14 Thornton street, died suddenly at her late home Sunday night. Although she had been in poor health for several years, her death was unexpected. She was the daughter of the late John Joyce and had been a life long resident of this city. Besides her husband, she is survived by one brother, John Joyce of Thornton St., and one sister, Mrs. Mary Flanagan of Vernon street. Her funeral was held Wednesday, a solemn requiem mass being celebrated at the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Walter Roche, assisted by Rev. Conrad Quirbach and Rev. Russell Healy. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

DEATH OF MRS. WEST

The community was saddened last Monday morning by the death of Mrs. Thomas A. West (Bertha Burnham) at her home in Waban Park. Mrs. West was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church and a former president of the Immanuel Women's Association, giving always generously of her time and strength in church work. She had also served as president of the Auxiliary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. The sympathy of her many friends is extended to Mr. West and their daughter, Barbara, also to her father and sister, Mr. Burnham, and Mrs. Webster Anders.

POLICE NEWS

Tuesday evening at 5.40 as a buss of the Middlesex & Boston was passing along California street, near Crafts someone threw a snowball, which broke a window in the buss and caused two passengers to receive cuts from the flying glass. The police are investigating. Complaints have been received by the police of persons having been hit by snowballs thrown by boys. Perhaps if some of the boys who indulge in this dangerous pastime are summoned into Court for assault, they will have reason to regret having amused themselves at other's expense and suffering. There is in this city a man who has been totally blind for nearly a score of years because of being hit in the eye while driving a team along Franklin street by a snowball thrown by some thoughtless boy. His inability to earn a living because of this assault, caused hardship to his dependents in addition to the pain he suffered from the injury.

Rosamond Gustafson of Brookline avenue, Boston, arrested last week by Patrolman Frank Feeley for drunkenness and driving "wutiol," was in Court yesterday. She was fined $10 on the first count and $100 on the second. She appealed.

Saturday night Serg. Veduccio and Patrolmen Hanlon, Mooney and Walsh, raided the home of John Olkowski at 2313 Washington street, Lower Falls, and seized about 1½ gallons of liquor, Olkowski was arrested for maintaining a liquor nuisance. In court Monday he was fined $100, and given a six months suspended sentence to the House of Correction.

A. H. Brown of Saxon terrace reported to the police that a winter front was stolen from his Ford touring car while it was parked in his yard, sometime between 11 P. M., December 9, and 9 A. M., December 11.

Joseph Del Grasso of Revere was fined $25 in court Saturday for speeding. John R. Getter of 833 Beacon street, Boston, paid $10 for a similar offence last Friday.

Tony Folino of Riverside street, Watertown, was arrested Friday evening by Sergeants Mahoney and Moan and Officer Green while delivering liquor at a house on River street, West Newton. In court Saturday he was fined $100 for illegal transportation and given a suspended sentence of three months in the House of Correction.

Adam McMullin of 24 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, was arrested early Saturday morning by Officer Tom Whelan. In Court Saturday he was fined $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by the officer, and $10 for driving without proper lights.

Saturday night Officers Frank Feeley and Marden apprehended Harold Downes of Somerville in an automobile, which had been taken at Revere. In Court Monday Downes was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for obliterating the engine number on the auto.

Robert Perrin of Bowers street, Newtonville, was found not guilty yesterday by Judge Allen on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. Perrin was arrested last week. His attorney produced eight witnesses who testified that the defendant had been sober when they saw him on the night he was arrested.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Frequently nowadays there is heard reference to the parole system for prisoners. Sometimes it is severely criticised and sometimes heartily commended. Without going into that, for this is not the season for controversies, if ever they are in order, I should like to put forth something in this connection which I feel will be of interest to Newton people.

Whenever I read or hear of the importance of giving a man, who commits some violation of the law, "another chance" my mind goes back to the person who, I think it is generally believed, was the originator of the probation system in Massachusetts. Now, that, of course, is a pretty strong statement to submit without documentary proof, and yet I have on several occasions heard it uttered and never denied.

That man was the late John Charles Kennedy, justice of the Newton Police Court for nearly thirty years. I suppose nearly everybody in Newton, at least those whose residence here covers a period of ten years, remembers Judge Kennedy. His tall, dignified bearing, his handsome, clear-cut features and his powerful but well-modulated voice gave him a distinguished appearance, albeit a judicial bearing.

However, it is not that which so impressed me as the man himself. I must be permitted this brief personal reference for I as a young, and essentially a "cub" reporter, enjoyed his friendship. He was at all times eager to assist youths and wanted to see the boys he knew grow up to become the right kind of citizens. Although never summoned to appear before him, I had been in his court, many, many times—gathering news for the Graphic and the Boston paper for which I "covered" this city.

It gave me a splendid chance to observe the man. I never forgot how he disposed of cases that required the application of sound common sense as well as of the law. Little did I dream, as I observed his method of "straightening-out" individuals who had started wrong and needed only to be "pulled up" and made to go right, that here was the beginning of the probation system which has become a part of our judicial system.

Judge Kennedy was always firm. But what he did and the punishment he imposed was intended to benefit the prisoner, and often, I am pleased to say, it did. If a man was arraigned for drunkenness and it appeared from casual inquiry that he could be saved from himself, Judge Kennedy would give him a helping hand.

I recall one morning that there was before him a laboring man whom I had seen day after day driving a wagon through the streets. Now it happened that the Judge had known this man for years and had spoken to him as had many other citizens.

On this occasion the man was arraigned, pleaded guilty of drunkenness, and awaited sentence. "See here," said Judge Kennedy, turning towards the dock, "what are you doing, trying to drink up that nice little piece of property your wife and you have managed to buy with your savings? Aren't you ashamed of yourself, a man of your age and standing in this community?" Hardly a judicial utterance, but it was a very human view of the situation.

I recall that the prisoner hung his head. "I guess that's right, your honor," he replied.

"Well, it's going to stop and stop right this minute," retorted the Judge. "You're going out of here and back to your work this very minute, but not until I impress upon you that you are a fool. I'm going to continue your case for three months and you're going to mend your ways. Not only that but you're going to save your money. I want you to report to Mr. Laffie (the late Martin C. Laffie at that time court officer) every Saturday night. You bring your savings bank book with you and show him how much you've put away. We'll keep track of your money for you and see that you don't waste it. Understand?"

Well, I happened to have been so surprised that the case stuck in my mind and I followed it to see what happened. The man did behave himself and did put away part of his savings wekly and after that was all that he should be.

There are those who may say that a Judge should not be undignified or that his business was either to impose a fine or release the man without any lengthy castigation. But wasn't Judge Kennedy sound in his reasoning? You may be sure he was.

I could go on and recount other cases of which I had personal knowledge and which would prove that the keen understanding of human nature made Judge Kennedy a great force for good in this city. I cannot close without repeating what I heard him say—another remark that seemed a bit unusual when coming from the bench—when a boy was arraigned for stealing a small sum of money his poor mother had put away in a tea cup on the top shelf of the kitchen closet.

"What you need more than anything else," said Judge Kennedy, "is a good thrashing but the law doesn't allow me to give you one or I would." That boy "got probation" and did well in after years through the Judge's system of keeping track of first offenders.

Whenever I see something for which I think Newton should be more than grateful I like to pass it along to the readers of this column. This particular case has to do with former Mayors. In Boston, after a Mayor passes out of office it seems to be his principal function to criticise the man who may at that time be the incumbent of the office. The former-Mayor freely expresses his views to the newspapers as to how the present administration is "falling down."

Well, thanks be to whatever source one may choose, Newton doesn't have to stand that. I read now and then of the former Mayor of Boston telling the wide, wide world that if the present Mayor would only do thus and so everything would be much better. The recent heaviest snow storm inspired a former Boston Mayor to burst into print with an unmerciful condemnation of the system of snow removal. The former Mayor knew just how it should be done at a tremendous saving to the taxpayers.

If memory serves this same man was pretty bitterly criticized himself when in office. Maybe this is his way of getting square. By the way, I never knew of a heavy snow storm that was not followed by a lot of talk of the failure of the proper people to get rid of the snow. I guess, however, it's just a weakness we all have for settling the other fellow's affairs for him and pointing out our superior judgment.

As I started to say, Newton has no former Mayor with a desire to tell the present Mayor how he should run the city. If there are among our former Mayors those who possess such thoughts they tactfully keep them to themselves and the public doesn't have to be bored with their fiery utterances.

Has it ever occurred to you how Americans can meet inconveniences of travel and make light of them? We may be, as Will Rogers says, somewhat "cuckoo," but we can find time for fun when we most need a sense of humor. And that is surely a saving grace and gets us over many a rough place in the road of life.

The other night I happened to be journeying on a trolley that had encountered a rough passage through the snow drifts. It was making progress, but very slowly and the result was it carried more passengers than three trolley cars could comfortably seat.

It was a situation that would make a testy individual lose complete control of his temper. I confess I was not especially jolly myself and most of the passengers were glum. Happily, however, there was on board one of nature's comedians and he saved the day for everybody. Even the toughest grouch would melt at his words.

Passengers would pile on when there seemed no space whatever for them. Then the humorist would say, "Come right on folks, there's plenty of room on the roof." This made the crowd laugh.

Again, the funny individual would apologize for stepping on somebody's foot, always using a loud voice that could be heard the length of the car. He would complain that he was being crushed to death but didn't care as long as the other people were having a good time. In fact, he kept a running-fire of smart sayings, all in the spirit of fun and not intended to hurt anybody's feelings. Such a man, to my mind, is a useful citizen.

So many people complain that they do not like to write letters. When I read some letters I do not wonder the writers are loath to undertake correspondence. On the other hand there are people who make no pretense at writing but whose letters are jammed full of interesting things. Now, of course, one can for a small sum buy a book on letter-writing and if there is anything that is more wearisome it is the advice offered by such a volume.

How can anybody find inspiration in a set form supplied by a third person who has never heard of the man who wants to write a letter or the person to whom he is to write it? That, however, is no concern of mine. I am dealing only with the complete letter-writer who as an individual is entitled to that distinction.

I have a very good friend who lives some thousand miles away and with whom I frequently exchange letters. If that person were told that his letters were models he would be overcome with amazement and insist that it was a joke. And yet he can present the most commonplace facts in the most absorbing fashion so that it is almost as good as a personal chat. Such an accomplishment should make one proud but it seldom does.

The final rush of Christmas buying is on in full swing. Pity the poor souls who leave everything until the last minute and then expect to complete their task in a day or so. Well, urgings and pleadings are good things but one some people they are wasted. If they do not know that time flies and that time and tide wait for no man and all those little truisms they deserve to have their parcels left at the post, or should we say post-office?

STREET DEPARTMENT PRAISED

Street Commissioner George Stuart has received a number of letters from citizens commending his department for the efficiency displayed in clearing the streets after the recent heavy storm. Mr. Stuart has adopted a method of making the streets passable which is used in this State by but one other city, Springfield. The entire city is charted into 28 sections, each section containing about eight miles of streets. After a storm, 28 heavy trucks, equipped with snow-plows start out, one for each section. The office of the Street Commissioner has report slips which enable a check to be kept on the progress of each truck. The drivers of the plowing trucks make reports as they open the streets in their districts for traffic. But eight of these trucks are owned by the city. The remainder must be hired.

To permit greater efficiency, Mr. Stuart is endeavoring to obtain an appropriation of $54,000 to purchase 21 pieces of equipment for the removal of snow. Had he this equipment, it would be a much easier matter to open our streets for traffic after snow storms. Newton and Springfield have about the same mileage in streets. Last Winter it cost Newton $82,000 to remove the snow; it cost Springfield $190,000. Newton is one of the few cities that plows the roadways and sidewalks on unaccepted streets. Even Springfield does not render this service. Of the 244 miles of streets in this city, 84 miles are not accepted. This will show what a difference would be observed, if Newton did not clear the snow off the private ways. Every street in Newton is plowed as quickly as possible. Most of the citizens are reasonable and appreciate that after a heavy storm it takes time to cover all the city. Very few complaints have been received.

DEATH OF MR. JONES

Mr. Henry V. Jones, for nearly fifty years a resident of Newtonville, died last Friday at his home in Brookline at the age of 62 years.

Mr. Jones was born in Ashland and was the son of William and Catherine Pond Jones. He was well known in the heavy hardware trade, having been with the firm of Chase Parker Company for about thirty years. Although not well since 1910, he was able to attend to business until the last month. He was a member of the Class of '87, Amherst College.

He leaves a widow, Edith (Dewey), and two daughters, Mrs. Edgar A. Witton of Boston and Mrs. Arthur J. May of Rochester, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at the Central Church, Newtonville, on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Arthur M. Ellis officiating and the body was cremated.

SURPRISE PARTY

A Surprise Party was given in honor of Miss Mary C. Jordan, Friday evening, December 10, at her home 1241 Walnut street, Newton Highlands. ABOUT TOWN

A generation ago nearly all the street lights in Newton were gas lamps. There were many kerosene lamps and on the main streets electric arc lights. Gradually incandescent electric lamps replaced the gas lamps, until today there are more than three times as many of the former in use along our streets. Formerly the gas lamps were lighted by men who travelled about the various parts of the city carrying torches. In latter years these lamps have been lighted by an automatic mechanism which runs by clockwork. Sometimes this mechanism works correctly, and sometimes it does not. For many weeks the two gas lamps on Centre Place have been lighted daytimes and extinguished nights. Apparently no person brought this matter to the attention of the Street Department. The lamps are serviced by he Boston Consolidated Gas Company. So if the gas lamps on your street are working on the wrong shift, just notify the Street Department and it will have the Gas Company correct the "self starter" on the gas lamps.

C. Edwin Josselyn was the innocent cause of giving a scare to a resident of this city the other day. Mr. Josselyn conceived the bright idea (or copied it, we don't know which), of placing two signs inside his store window on Centre street, and attached them to a pulley arrangement. Whenever the door of the store is opened, the signs are pulled up. When the door is closed the signs are lowered again. A few days ago a man was reading one of the signs when some customer opened the door of Josselyn's store. The sign started up—and so did the person reading it. He jumped about three inches off the ground. He must have thought "he was seeing things."

In a Boston paper on Monday, was an alleged account of a fete day in Mexico. Among the hawkers and vendors said to have been present, special mention was made of an "Irish snake charmer." We thought the Hindus had a sort of monopoly on this profession. The "snake charmer" referred to in this article, certainly could not have acquired the art in his native land.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

Unusual Program Successfully Carried Out At Eden Avenue Playground, West Newton

The second Community Christmas Tree pageant at West Newton was observed last night. At 6.45 the chimes of the First Unitarian Church began a half hour concert of the old Christmas Carols to summon the folks of West Newton to the Eden Ave. Playground. From all sections of the village, as well as from other parts of the city, hundreds of big and little people gathered to witness the beautiful pageant produced under the auspices of the West Newton Community Centre. At 7.15, Trumpeter Jacobs of Boston started to play a number of Christmas melodies, continuing until the ceremonies started at 7.45.

In the centre of the playground a huge Christmas tree had been erected by employees of the Playground Department. The tree was beautifully illuminated by hundreds of electric lights and was surrounded by attractively arranged greenery. A large space had been roped off by the Playground Department and outside stood the large audience which had come to enjoy the pageant. At 7.45 Mayor Childs greeted the gathering and lauded the efforts of those who had labored so hard to make the affair a success. He stressed the benefits obtained by community work. At the conclusion of his remarks the long procession of those participating in the pageant began to emerge from the Davis School. It was composed of 200 members of the West Newton Community Centre, in addition to the choir of the Second Church of West Newton, members of the Newton Choral Society and other organizations. Boy Scouts circulated among the spectators and distributed sheets containing the words of some of the carols which were sung by all present.

The procession was headed by Mr. Fred Alexander, who acted as Master of Ceremonies. Richard Mandell, attired in a Knights costume of pale blue, bore a large banner inscribed with the greeting "Merry Christmas." He was attended by Robert Duncan and David Farnham, who were garbed in tunics of red and green. After them came the members of the Community Centre, grouped in 14 units, each unit dressed differently. Many of those marching carried torches, and as the procession wound about the playground before the participants grouped themselves around the tree, the effect was beautiful. Among the various units were young girls wearing red tams and capes and carrying garlands, the Young Club, a boys' unit, the Go Ahead Club composed of colored boys, both of these groups bearing gaily colored banners. Then followed the Star, Cheer and Moulton Clubs wearing yellow turbans and scarfs, the Whittling Club—boys carrying torches, and next the general delegation of Community Centre members attired in green tun-

MERIT BADGES AWARDED

A Large Number of Girl Scouts Win Honors in Scouting

"At Christmas play and make good cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year"

Christmas parties in every village last week with Santa Claus as a guest of honor at most of them! (How truly busy the good saint must feel at this time of year!) Games and presents for scouts and brownies! Baskets of good food and warm clothes for others less fortunate than themselves! Curely the Newton Girl Scouts are making this season a time of merriment and good cheer.

On Monday, December 20th, the Senior troop, No. 21, in Newton Highlands gave a party for their Junior troop, No. 11. There was a gift for every scout both large and small, and after supper an entertainment was given by the Seniors for the Juniors.

The troops in Auburndale, No. 8 and No. 18, and in Newton, troops No. 2 and No. 20, also made merry on Monday afternoon and Santa Claus shared his position as guest of honor with Mrs. Day, the commissioner for Newton and Miss Freeman, the director for Newton.

Other troops which gave parties during the week were those in Newtonville, Upper Falls, West Newton, and the Brownie Pack of Waban.

On Christmas Eve the scouts remembered that Christmas is a time of giving as well as fun making and girls from every village took presents of Christmas dinners, play things, and clothes to poor families in the city.

On Friday evening, December 17th, an investiture ceremony was held at troop 13 in Newton Centre. A tenderfoot pin was given to Beatrice Wilson, and a second class badge to Judith Peterson. First class badges were awarded to Ethel deMille, Priscilla Hudson, and Elizabeth Walworth.

The merit badges which were awarded at the rally on December 3rd were given to the following girls:—

Newtonville, Troop 1—Alma Warner, Health Winner. Pioneer; Ruth Trowbridge, Hostess; Marjorie Mighill, Health Winner; Phyllis Burnell, Pioneer.

CHILD KILLED

Sad Automobile Accident at Nonantum

Illo House, the four year old daughter of Irving House, 52 Rustic street, Nonantum, died Sunday afternoon at the Cambridge Hospital as a result of internal injuries sustained at 1 o'clock that afternoon, when she was run over by a automobile driven by Harry Karger, Jr., of 483 California street, Nonantum. The little girl had been to the Sunday School of the North Congregational Church on Chapel street, and had ridden toward her home in an automobile driven by Harry Butler of 254 California street, in company with Mr. Butler's children. At the corner of California street and Faxon street, Mr. Butler stopped his car to drop some letters in a mail box. While he was doing this, the House child alighted from the car and ran around in front of it just as the Karger automobile came along. She ran directly in front of the auto, the wheels passing over her body before the car could be stopped. Emily DeWolfe of 250 California street, who was passing, picked up the little girl. Mr. Karger rushed her in his car to the Cambridge Hospital, where she died at 3.25 of internal injuries.

FULLER GARAGE MANAGER FINED

Levi Wilcut, manager of the Fuller Garage at 966 Watertown street, West Newton, was fined $50 in the Newton District Court yesterday by Judge Robert Frost of Brighton for illegally selling gasoline from two pumps erected several weeks ago outside the garage.

NOTABLE EVENT

A notable social event this week was the ball given at the Hotel Somerset, Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Conway of Waban for their daughter, Miss Janet Conway, who has recently been elected to provisional membership in the Junior League.

At a dinner given to the ushers previous to the ball, the engagement was announced of Miss Virginia Conway, and Mr. O. Herbert Sherbrooke of Brookline.

Miss Virginia Conway attended Miss Myra Hall's School at Pittsfield and was graduated from a private school in Boston two years ago. She made her debut two seasons ago at a dinner-dance in Christmas week, and is a member of that season's Junior League, group 1924-25.

Mr. Sherbrooke attended the University of Virginia, class of 1924, and is a member of the Delta Phi fraternity of the university.

Miss Janet Conway, previous to her formal presentation, has had an active part in the various gayeties in honor of other debutantes and has been promient at luncheons, teas., dinners and dances.

ALUMNI DAY

Graduates of Newton High School to Meet on December 29th

The alumni of the Newton High schools are cordially invited to attend an Alumni Day to be held at the Newton High School next Wednesday evening. There will be a social hour from 5.30 to 6.30, a dinner in the new cafeteria from 6.30 to 7.30. Special features in the auditorium after dinner, followed by dancing in the new gymnasium. The alumni of the school are requested to advertise this meeting among former students of the school.

The ushers have been selected from the various classes with A. W. Dickinson as head usher, and will escort the guests to the receiving line. The alumni orchestra will furnish music.

Attention is called to the limitation that applications for tickets must be made on or before next Monday, December 27th.

WIN PRIZES

At the organization meeting of the Newton Corner Business Associates, the Graphic offered a prize of $25 for the best decorated store window in that part of the city during the Christmas season and to which the Newton Progress added a second prize of $15.

These offers evidently aroused considerable interest, as the business section of Newton Corner has been gaily decorated all this week.

The donors of the prizes were fortunate in obtaining the services of Dr. and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow of Auburndale and Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson of Newton Centre, as judges, and the windows were duly inspected late Wednesday afternoon.

The first prize for the best window display was awarded to Moore and Moore, the second to Randall's candy shop, with honorable mention for Hubbard's Drug Store, John T. Burns & Sons, Ford's Market, and Frank J. Perry.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Dr. Kendall Emerson of Worcester, President of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League, in reviewing the progress of the Seal Sale said today, "We have every reason to expect that the annual Christmas Seal Sale, which for the past eighteen years has been carried on successfully for the prevention of tuberculosis, is to equal the sales of previous years. One peculiar phenomenon, however, has been called to my attention during the course of this Seal Sale and that is the failure of the people who purchase the Christmas Seals to use them as widely as in previous years on Christmas packages, letters and greeting cards.

The tuberculosis associations are planning for extensions of their work in the prevention of disease, especially among children, in 1927."

ALUMNI TRACK MEET

Next Thursday evening in the old gymnasium building at the Newton High School the starter's pistol will crack at 7.15 P. M. to start the annual alumni vs. high school track meet. With the new saucer bank constructed on the north end of the building, marked improvement has been made on the track. Delay in the arrival of the material has made it impossible to finish the other end this week, necessitating the use of two of the old banks. The south end bank will be constructed after the holiday recess. Several of the alumni have tried out the new bank and are enthusiastic in their approval.

One of the strongest alumni teams ever to face the undergraduates will be on deck for the meet. Because of the fact that the meet this year is being held during the holiday vacation season many former high school stars now attending colleges can be present. Entries for the graduate team include Phil Hardy; Walter McQuiston of Dartmouth; Chester Pratt of Lehigh; Tom Clausen of Holy Cross; Malcolm Gallagher of Dartmouth; Alfred Hartridge of Andover; William Henrich of Harvard; Berkeley Johnson of Wesleyan; Warren Adams of Princeton; John DeMille of Williams; Charles Barba of Lehigh; Alan Shaw of Bowdoin; Howard Weeks of Cornell; William Lodge, John Ramsden, Win Mercer, Jim Conniff, John Duane, Harold Swartz, H. Thompson, and DiFazio. There is also the possibility that Julius Kohler of Bowdoin and Tom Gilligan of Exeter will compete.

An exhibition half-mile walk between A. W. Bell, N. E. A. A. U. champion, and Ed. Wilson of the B. A. A. track team is on the program.

Clarence V. Moore will be the referee and starter and John L. Sullivan, clerk. The rest of the officials will include Bert Cotting, Henry Pierce, Don Houghton and other former track men.

After the meet, which will start promptly at 7.15, there will be dancing. probably in the new gymnasium, although definite announcement will be made at the time of the meet.

Track practice next week will be held at 10.30 A. M. on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The alumni athletes have been invited to use the track at these hours.

ANNUAL CAMP REUNION

The annual reunion of Camp Passaconaway will be held next Thursday noon at the Boston City Club. It is expected that over 100 former campers will be present. Stanley Lyons, former Newton high and Dartmouth star athlete, will be the toastmaster. Brief speeches will be made by Coach Dickinson and Donald Houghton but the chief feature of the luncheon will be the ensuing entertainment. "Jake" Stafford will stage his sleight-of-hand peformance to which he had added many new and interesting tricks. The Camp Trio, consisting of the Chadwick brothers and Duncan Howland, will entertain. Mr. George Peckham of Church street, Newton, will show movies of life at the camp and some comedy films. Donald Houghton, the camp "radio" announcer, will add his humorous bit to the attractive program.

WINTER SPORTS

The Brae-Burn Country Club of West Newton has announced a very attractive, well-planned winter sports program for the coming outdoor season amid the ice and snow. Increased membership and activity last year has resulted in the winter sports' committee planning better and safer facilities to the end that the younger children may also participate.

A new toboggan slide has been erected which is of the best anywhere in the country and the slope of the ski jump has been changed to improve the take-off. One of the most delightful of the newest sports, "tray coasting," has been added to the program and the younger participants can learn all the thrills that this sport contains on the small hill in front of the clubhouse. The skating pond will be kept clear of snow so that it will be in the best of condition at all times. A special area will be roped off for figure and fancy skating and teachers will be present at certain hours to instruct those who desire lessons.

The club will be represented by a hockey team which will have in its line-up many former well-known athletes of the high school and eastern colleges.

On January first—winter sports day—if weather conditions permit, a competitive program has been arranged. In the morning there will be children's skating races and a hockey game between the Brae-Burn sextet and an independent team of nationally known hockey players which has been organized recently. In the afternoon there will be exhibition figure skating, ski jumping, and tobogganing.

The first carnival of the winter will be held on January 7 and in case of unfavorable weather it will be postponed until the following Friday evening. The program for this carnival will be announced later.

SPORT NOTES

The success of the Cornell rifle team this year depends upon the work of their coach who is none other than Samuel Moore of Newtonville. Sam is one of the foremost marksmen in the country and his ability to teach is unquestionable when one considers the various camps that he has brought into prominence due to his instruction in marksmanship. He was elected captain of the newly organized rifle team at Ithaca, and, as a result, took on the burden of coaching the group along with the duties of the leader. Although he will only be at Cornell a short time due to his appointment examinations at Annapolis, still he will make the Big Red team one of the best in the country by his work both as a participant and as a coach.

The Dartmouth swimming team is prepared for a great season with such a large percentage of its veterans returning. The chief reason for this feeling of optimism at the home of the Green is that they have one of the fastest dash men in the country on their team. Bunny Bryant of West Newton is the nearest approach to Captain Bronson of Yale in college circles. He was the only swimmer to push the Eli men all season and his past record is sufficient proof of his ability.

The Lafayette team has taken to the pool with fond expectations that they will push Rutgers in the championship meets this year. Robert Patterson from Newton Highlands, who was a member of the group last year, is once more out for his old position of back-stroke man. Last season he met with remarkable success and with his chief opponent graduated he should be able to establish himself as the premier man in his event in that vicinity.

When the new University Club takes the ice one familiar face for Newton followers will be present for George Owen has once more donned hockey regalia. He will lead one of the most formidable sextets in amateur hockey since nearly all the leading players are now members of this new club in Boston. He plans to play defence, teaming up with Ken Marshall, the old Melrose star.

The Boston University hockey team seems to depend on the efforts of their centre iceman, none other than "Gyp" Lawless of Newton, whose scoring ability made Coach Gaw shift him over from wing to the middle lane. Ever since taking on the new responsibility "Gyp" has proven to be a distinct threat to any defense with his weaving manner of carrying the puck; and his fast, accurate shooting. This is his third year as a member of the Terrier sextet and as a veteran he has more than carried on, until now he is the main support of the team.

When the Terriers took to the track they found that two former Newton stars were in the fold. Winnie Mercer, the old relay man, and John Buswell, another middle distance runner. Winnie, when he was at High, was nearly a one man track team in the running events, for he could run anything up to the 1000 yard run, and was able to hurdle and broad jump with the best of them. His race against Clark of Huntington, when he pushed Clark to a new record that broke the former 300 yard mark by some full seconds, was one of the best ever turned in by a Newton school-boy. Buswell was captain of the varsity at Newton last year, showing considerable power in the dashes and the 300.

All athletic activities, with the exception of varsity hockey practice, will cease at the high school during the vacation period.

Leo Hughes, former Newton high and Boston College hockey star, has again been appointed coach of the Brookline high school sextet.

George Gore, "Red" Becker, and Stewart Day are showing up exceptionally well as forwards in the basketball practice sessions at the high school.

The first call for candidates for the high school swimming team was issued last week and nearly fifty promising mermen reported at the Y-pool on Monday. Last year's squad with the exception of Al Stein and Merrill Hammond are again available so that prospects are exceptionally good. The veterans include Ken Merrill, Lloyd Osborne, Jim Essen, Charles Green, Paul Serkin, Robert Greany, Norman Soule, Harry Lodge and "Bud" Perry. This year's team will be coached by S. A. Carling, former Y physical director and now a member of the high school faculty in the physical education department. Although swimming is a comparatively new sport at the high school, excellent teams have been turned out in the past two years. This year's outfit should be no exception and should be a strong contender for the Lieut. George R. Meehan trophy. Third place was annexed last year and Carling will make that meet his objective for the coming season.

Several Newton men have been recently appointed to positions on committees of the Massachusetts Golf Association for 1927. Former president A. L. Locke has been named as chairman of the advisory committee and former president William F. Garcelon has been named chairman of the State team committee as well as a member of Mr. Locke's committee. Harry L. Ayer is on the rules committee, S. Harold Greene on the tournament and caddie committees and William B. Hanna on the caddie committee.

Frank Cassidy of the Newton Y. M. C. A. wrestling team won his two bouts in the 135-lb. class in the novice wrestling tournament at the Boston Y last Saturday evening. He defeated Herbert Davis of the Boston association and R. Pike of the Lynn Y.

Two of Newton's representatives at Bowdoin College are candidates for the track team at the Brunswick institution. Harold Rising of Newton Centre is an excellent prospect for the relay team. Dana Blanchard, a senior, is also showing up well in practice.

Paul Hughes of Ricker road, Newton, is making quite a name for himself at the Peparatory school of Aquinas College. He is a former Newton high and Pals football player. "Doc," as he is more familiarly known, was the fullback on the prep school varsity eleven the past fall and although small in stature he more than made up for this handicap by his natural ability. His consistent performances won him a place on the All-star team. Hughes is also a track man of no mean ability and should have another good year on the boards. Some college in the East will be fortunate in having him enroll as a student next year as he finishes his studies in the Middle West in June.

On the Newton Y court last Saturday night the local association basketball team lost to the Lynn aggregation by a score of 33 to 18. The score does not indicate the closeness of the game, as the home five played its best game of the season and held the visitors on practically even terms for the greater part of the game. A slight lapse on the part of the Newton team and Captain Bowser and his mates from the shoe city flashed a rally which netted them six goals from the floor to clinch the game. Waldman and Hinch at the forward positions and Bowser at guard lead the visitors' attack with nine points, eight and eight points respectively . Kohler at Centre for Newton tallied seven points and Wellman at forward six. A shift in the line-up, putting Hardy at guard and Kohler at centre added greatly to the home team's defense as Hardy prevented many Lynn tallies.

During the halves of the Newton-Lynn Y first team game the second teams of each association met with the Lynn five emerging the victor 30 to 20. Connearny at forward was the leading Newton scorer with seven points.

The Church basketball league, consisting of teams representing six of the nearby churches has entered upon its fourth week and is again looking forward to a successful season. The Newtonville Methodist, Central Congregational, Watertown Baptist, Eliot Congregational, Needham Congregational, and the Watertown Methodist churches comprise the circuit. Games are played on Friday evenings at the Newton Y. M. C. A. court, except next week when two games are scheduled for Monday. The league standing:

NEWS FROM THE COLLEGES

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

Among the many schools in Boston town for the further education of women along the lines of art and furnishings is Miss Sacker's, located on Boylston street near Copley Square. Originally much smaller in size it has attained a great deal of prominence not only around Boston, but also in more distant parts of the country. The course consists of three years of work in the various lines of interior decorating or art crafts as the student may select. Under Miss Sacker's own personal supervision the courses are laid out with regard to the practical and the aesthetic sides and conceptions. Once a year, usually at the end of the spring term, an exhibition is held at which the work of the pupils are shown to the interested public. Many interesting pieces of antique, maps with their original designs, boxes, in a medley of colors, and other types of accomplishment are before the eyes of the casual passer-by. In fact, this was once called a finishing school, and its efforts to climb out of the slough of such a term have resulted in its placing the art of interior decorating on high plane by virtue of the careful and intelligent instruction it affords to the anxious beginner.

Helen Ball and Dorothy Drowne, both from the Highlands district of Newton, are completing their course in town this season. They each have shown particular skill in the lines of designing and some of their pieces have had high merit. Helen is a graduate of Choate School for Girls in Brookline, coming from there directly into Miss Sacker's. Dorothy Drowne, because of the dread fear of all students, sickness, never was able to attend school enough to meet the requirements in the amount of studying that had to be done. In 1924 after another set-back from the same cause she decided to enter in the art school, where she found herself as far as health and work goes. While at Newton she was interested in the variety of sciences offered in the courses, and did so well in them that she was elected to the new Nature Club in 1924, later being made secretary of the same organization.

In the second year group more Newton girls attended the classes for Dorothea Tichnor and Margaret 2Mackintosh enrolled at the school in the fall of 1925. Dorothea Tichnor, besides being one of the most socialistic members of her graduating class, was also interested in various activities of the school proper. She was enlisted in the cause of Alpha Gamma Tau in her junior year while the Spanish Club claimed her attention in her final terms. In athletics she made the Volley ball team for two years, and was a candidate for the varsity in field hockey. "Do" was one of the cast in the production of the senior play of the same year, taking one of the leading roles in "Twelfth Night," which, by the way, was the first effort of the combined schools, and also the first attempt at the presentation of a Shakespearian play by the students of the High School. Also in her last year she sang in the Glee Club, taking part that spring in the outdoor concert that was staged by Mr. Griffin. The other girl, Margaret Mackinosh, entered from the Girls Latin School, taking up her studies as a junior at the high school. She made the class basket-ball team in this year only to suffer an injury that kept her off the court for the rest of her high school course. In her junior year she was elected to the vice-presidency of the newly formed body known as the Nature Club, while in her final terms she was a member of the biggest organization of the school, the English Club. Mary Scofield, graduating in the same year as the two mentioned above, also enrolled in Miss Sacker's school. She was most athletically inclined, being on the class hockey team for three consecutive years, and later on the class basketball team. In her junior season she became a member of the Mathematics Club, and did the major portion of the drawing of posters for the various activities that produced plays that year, or years following.

This fall saw two more Newtonians trek into Boston and sign themselves as pupils of Miss Sacker, namely, Eleanor Newton and Ruth Pearson. Both of these girls had shown great ability along the lines of art and design, Eleanor or "Stubby," having been the designer of the graduating dress model that was chosen because of its simplicity and its effectiveness. Stubby joined the Glee Club in her senior year while at the same time she was on the Newtonian in the closing months of the same term. In her junior year she was elected to the Spanish Club, which at that time was being newly organized under Miss Lewis' care. Under the guidance of Miss Ell's she became most skillful in the line of drawing posters and making them most effective. Some of her work was of such an exceptional quality that passers-by have asked what artist was inveigled into drawing that particular design for the play. Ruth Pearson was one of the best athletes in the High School, playing for four years on the class hockey team, and making the varsity team three of those four seasons, being elected manager her final year at the school. She also played class basket-ball her first year at Newton, while in the spring-time she gave herself whole-heartedly up to the spring sport, baseball. The team found her one of the strongest players even from her freshman days, and she played for four years on this organization. In the scholastic cauldron she mixed herself into the affairs of Alpha Gamma Tau for three years, having a splendid mathematical record.

Along with news that Sam Moore had received the appointment to Annapolis, if he can pass the examinations that come in the early part of June, comes the announcement that he will in all probability leave college at the end of the first semester in order to study the particular lines that the navy questions will cover. He is doing well with his college work, but feels that some brushing up on the back work that he has not drilled on would do him some good. His room-mate, Philip Jacobs, was taken ill and forced to leave Cornell. He has not fully recovered as yet and does not intend to re-enter until the fall of 1927 when he will start his studies all over again.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

How many times we say these words, each year, and in the gathering accumulation of years! Sometimes it is a parrot phrase; more often, fortunately, it comes from the heart in wellwishing to those we love or count among our friends. But your editor finds a satisfaction in analyzing this good wish, in what it means to her, and does to all, if they but give it heed. Is it not the underlying longing of all people that sorrow may be changed to joy, that pain may be changed to healing, that suffering may find its peace and comfort based upon the wonderful story of Him whose life was one of sorrows that joy, and healing, and peace and comfort, might come to all mankind?

And we give gifts! So did the three Wise Men of Old, whose understanding made them journey from widely separated lands to pay their reverent tribute, incense, myrrh, jewels—a thousand symbols of treasures of the heart and of the material. Their gifts were for the years, not for a day, and we should sometimes give pause to consider this. Not for a day in material gift should we serve the world or those we hold most dear, but daily, for each of the 365 in which our material year is now divided, we should seek to give of our individual talents, or graces, or affections, or "plain labors," that we may be a source of everlasting joy in the lives of those we lovingly, loyally serve, and in the world in which we find our place. Give gifts, yes—the gift of self that is the individual creation. Wish happiness, too, that all sorrow may pass away! For this is truly Christmas—not the Christmas of paganism, or of idolatry, or of selfish material gain.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

A delightful program was that of last Friday afternoon, the 17th, at the West Newton Women's Educational Club in Players' Small Hall, and what pleasure the Club members took in having so many "little" guests present at the Christmas Party! While waiting for Santa Claus' arrival the children were entertained by stories of "Mrs. Santa Claus" and "The Pine Tree" told by Mrs. S. E. Lewis; by a dance by Ruth Holbrook, duets by Julia and Priscilla Bacon, and a cornet solo by Ruth Ufford. Goldy and Dusty, (Julia and Priscilla Bacon) in their song and dance were very pleasing; then all joined in singing "O Come, All Ye Faithful," aided and abetted by the charming cornet accompaniment of Ruth Ufford. Mrs. Lewis' story of "The Barn-yard" with the clever imitations of different animals was excellent.

Just then arrived Santa Claus. "How glad I am to see you all," he said. How happy all were to see him, to hear about his trip to West Newton, and to watch the fun of distributing the presents! After much merry-making Santa departed.

Love for children, the desire to make them happy, plus fun-loving qualities, make an ideal Santa Claus, which was found in Newton's own Mr. W. A. Richardson.

Finally, to make a glad occasion complete, refreshments for the children were served in the tea room, at attractively decorated tables.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Speaking of Jazz—Prof. Robert E. Rogers in his second address before the Newton Centre Woman's Club on the 16th roused curiosity as to its merits, and its relationship to the equally modern free verse. He surely reconciled some—if not all his hearers—to the free verse of Vachel Lindsey, at least, when he read aloud: "The Congo." Certainly we are living in a new and most interesting era, and fortunate we are, that there are interpreters among us to make meanings plain. Professor Rogers has the gift of the ready—one might almost say the inspired interpreter—and the Club is indebted to the chairman of the Literature committee, Mrs. Norman Pratt, for giving it the opportunity for hearing so fine a reader and commentator.

COMING EVENTS

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Not only has the chairman of the music committee prepared a very appealing program for the closing meeting of 1926, but the Moving Picture Committee, Mrs. F. H. Colony, chairman, announces the usual picture program for Christmas Day—both afternoon and evening—as the date falls on Saturday, the regular picture day.

It would need the genius of an epic poet to describe Saturday afternoon at "The Club Movies."

The ladies who act as policemen are the only silent ones. O no! Their staunch friend and helper, the real policeman, Mr. Dolan, is another. These all move gravely(?) and noiselessly(?) among the aisles. We say "gravely" because it's doo dark to see the smiles on their faces when little Johnnie Sweeny in the front row is calling frantically to the hero on the screen—to "Look Behind You, Mister!" at the lion who is stalking him. And we say "noiselessly" because none of the Johnnies and Angelos and Augustines who fill the seats, hear them try to "hush" them into silence when —four hundred strong, they yell their cheers to the triumph of virtue, and justice.

At such times the responsible ones say, as all good soldiers have said before, "'Tis a great life if you don't weaken."

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Mrs. William E. Leonard opens her home, 25 Canterbury road, on Monday afternoon, December 27th, for the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. Mrs. Hiram A. Miller will read a paper on Herbert Hoover's "American Individualism," after which, discussion, questions, and comments will make the book the hearer's own for a long time.

Auburndale Review Club

"The Yosemite" will be described in a paper by Mrs. Wicklyffe J. Spaulding to the members of the Auburndale Review Club at their next meeting, Tuesday morning, the 28th, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Spaulding is also hostess for the meeting at her home, 429 Wolcott street.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Wednesday evening, December 29th, is the date set for the Young People's Holiday Assembly at the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Mrs. Rollo Hudson, chairman, has planned many unique features, and with the unexcelled music of Haffermehl's Orchestra a wonderful time is promised for all who attend.

The regular monthly business meeting will be held on Thursday, December 30th, at 2.30 P.M. Daughters of Club members are cordially invited to be present. The program which is to be furnished by artists of the Newton Centre Woman's Club is in the hands of Mrs. H. A. Nissen, chairman of the Music Committee, and includes such well-known talent as Mrs. David Beyer: Songs, and Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian, Piano.

All those interested in forming a Club Chorus under a competent trained leader, are invited to communicate with Mrs. Nissen, chairman of Music committee, as a date will shortly be announced for the organization of such a chorus.

Social Science Club

"Dress and the Personal Equation" is the fascinating title of a paper to be given by Miss Dorothy S. Emmons, a member, at the next meeting of the Social Science Club, Wednesday morning, the 29th. The meeting is at 10 o'clock, as usual, in the Hunnewell Club Parlors. Study on these lines is not only conducive to much knowledge that may make for attractiveness, and charm, combined with economy and practicality, but develops amazing possibilities as to personal type, that will draw as a magnet for further information on the part of the seeker after good taste and beauty in dress.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will be held on Thursday afternoon, December 30th at the Club house, when Rev. Chaskar P. Hivale will speak on "India, the Land of Contrast." The Chorus will add to the entertainment, and tea will be served in the social hour that is always so enjoyed. Dr. Hivale in his lecture justly brings out both strong and weak points in the British rule of India, and is keenly analytical of ancient Hindoo customs as contrasted with the more modern western importations. He is said to have a keen sense of humor, which will not detract from the enjoyment of what he has to tell.

Auburndale Study Club

Christmas meeting, December 29th at 8 P. M., at the home of Miss Josephine Hart, 2121 Commonwealth Ave. (corner of Melrose St.). Speaker, Mrs. Hector Gai. Subject—"Legends of Christmas and Christmas Carols," illustrated on her violin.

Dramatics

Clubwomen who delight in amateur performances will be interested in two announcements of such plays by Clubs in the vicinity—one given by the President's Club, many members of which are in the Newtons, and one to be given at Alumnae Hall, Wellesley College, by the Wellesley Hills Woman's Club, arrangements for which are in the capable charge of Miss Carolyn Peck, vice chairman of the State Department of Press and Publicity. The news that this latter is open to guests will be most welcome to many Club women who would enjoy going.

"Old Lady Thirty-One" is the play to be given by the Presidents' Club at Copley Theatre, Boston, on the afternoon of January 5th, Wednesday. Members of the Dorchester Woman's Club, who have a reputation of being "professionals", for their many successful productions, are to play the parts. The cost of tickets is only to help defray expenses, being fifty cents. So many of the Clubs do not hold meetings in Newton before that date that this information is given through this column. Mrs. Herbert E. Child, 1146 Chestnut Street, Newton Upper Falls, Treasurer of the Presidents' Club, will be glad to supply tickets to all who desire them, but she will be gladder yet if each Club in Newton, through its President, or other authorized person, will take the orders in her own section of the city, then send it in one order to her. ATTENTION OF CLUB PRESIDENTS is therefore called to this unusual and delightful opportunity.

"Pomander Walk" is the charming play, sponsored by the Wellesley Hills Woman's Club for the evening of the same date, at the College at 8 o'clock. These tickets are one dollar to guests. This does not include the dance and reception and refreshments to follow, which tickets, if sold to other than members, are one dollar. Tickets may be obtained at the door that evening, or Miss Peck of Wellesley Hills will answer inquiries and take orders.

"Where is Pomander Walk?
Out Cheswick Way,
Half way to fairy land!"

State Federation

The Christmas season naturally turns one's thoughts to the spiritual things of life, and study is the only way in which reward may come to one in this search that calls to all mankind, in a longing for proof, or for comfort, in something beyond this material state. Mrs. Philip Henry Tirrell, State Federation Chairman of Literature, has supplied a list that will be opportune for the Club woman seeking the Bible as Literature. Any of the following books may be obtained from Mrs. Harry W. Rice, 3940 Ritchfield Road, Minneapolis, Minnesota, at a small cost:

"The Women of the Bible" by Isabella Reid Buchanan.

"Book of Job"—outline study by Mrs. A. J. Barkley.

"The Books of the Old Testament" by John Scrimger.

"The Books of the New Testament" by Buchanan.

"Prophets"—with Sidelights from Sacred Art, Literature, and Music, by Buchanan.

"Beacon Lights of Prophecy" by Prof. Knudson.

"A Literary Guide to the Bible" by Laura H. Wild.

"The Religion of Israel" by George Barton.

"Introduction to the Old Testament" by John E. McFadyen.

"The Old Testament in the Light of To-day" by W. F. Bade.

The list should be an inspiration, also, to Literature or Education Committees who are looking for interests for their Classes.

In looking forward to the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs' annual meeting at Swampscott next May, the Music Department of the Federation, under the direction of Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, chairman, is suggesting plans for a music pageant to be given on one of the evenings of the convention. To depict the historic epochs of music in America Mrs. Drayton feels will bring forth much of interest in action, color and rhythm. Beginning with Indian music and following with music of Puritan days when only chants were allowed in churches; the religious hymns of the Pilgrims, Colonial, Negro, Pioneer, and Present Day music will each be given an episode.

The plan is to have each of the fifteen districts of the Federation represented. The districts near Boston will be able to send the larger groups, but there are to be places for the small groups from the more distant parts of the state. There will be choruses, solos, and an orchestra of women. The 5th, 9th, and 11th districts have already started their committee work.

The objects of this pageant are the presentation of good music to stimulate an appreciation of American music and musicians among the Club women of the state; to stimulate the creative talent of our Club women and to emphasize the fact that simplicity

On account of the congestion of the mails, the GRAPHIC goes to press several hours earlier this week and the usual Friday morning news will have to be carried over to next week.

—o—

You will not get anything out of Christmas unless you put something into it of love and good will. Making someone else glad will give you a Merry Christmas, also.

W. C. T. U.

The Christmas party of the West Newton W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Hovenden last Monday night was a social and much enjoyed meeting. Gifts for every one present, carol singing and solos by Mr. Barnes, furnished the evening's entertainment. Mrs. Hovenden was assisted by Mrs. Ella Hall.

A number of the members of the West Newton W. C. T. U. went on Wednesday to the Boston Flower Mission and helped to carry Christmas Cheer to the poor and needy.

CHRISTMAS TREE PAGEANT AT WEST NEWTON

ics and pink caps, trimmed with tinsel. Groups of boy and girl carollers, wearing red capes and caps brought up the rear of the procession. Conspicuous among the marchers was the Junior Choir of the Second Church dressed in white cottas, red cassocks and caps. The choirmaster of this organization rendered valuable assistance in training the carollers.

The first number in the pageant was the singing of "Torches Bring Jeanette, Isabella," as the participants grouped around the tree. Then followed the drill "The Dancing Christmas Trees" by the little girls of the "Bide a Wee Club," dressed in tinsel decorated green costumes and carrying bells. The first pantomime was "Deck the Hall" by members of the Wide Awake Club, who wore orange aprons and hoods trimmed with red, and who scattered sprigs of holly as they danced around the Yule Log. The second pantomime "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen" introduced several of the characters made famous by Charles Dickens. Four merry observers of Christmas were grouped about a fire place and in the distance "Scrooge" held aloof, but he too, to the joy of the others finally was seized with something of the Spirit of Christmas. These characters were assumed by Allan Bishop, Dan Ferguson, Redmond Gannon, Walter Dolan and James McAdams. The third pantomime, "The Wassail Song" was given by seven girls of the "Golden Rule Club," Marjorie Spurr, Catherine McComisky, Lillian McComisky, Dorothy Eschelbach, Leona Trask, Muriel Hooper and Mary Driscoll.

The unremitting efforts of Miss Hattiemae Austin, Supervisor of the West Newton Community Centre and the large committee of women, including directors of the organization and ladies of the village who assisted, were supplemented by the co-operation of the School Department, which permitted the rehearsing of the carols by the school children for some weeks past, Mr. Leon Baldwin, who directed the singing, the Playground Department, and the different organizations that joined in the observance. The Newton Rotary Club donated 200 boxes of candy, which were distributed to the children by members of this club. Assisting in the instrumental numbers were Priscilla Speare and Elsa Brandt, trumpeters, Frederic Rice and Allan Cooke, saxophones.

Following the pageant the Little Club House on the Playground was open for inspection. A number of the directors served as hostesses.

GOLDEN WEDDING

The wedding of Mr. Moore and Miss Addie S. Howard took place December 26, 1876 at Ilion, N. Y., and was performed by Rev. L. Golden. Two sisters of Mr. Moore, Ida A. Moore and Ella D. Moore of Waltham, are the only other persons now living who attended the wedding.

She is a member of Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, a member of Palestine Chapter, Eastern Star and of Messiah Shrine, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, the Authors' Club, and of the Newton Community Club.

THE MIDNIGHT MASS

Christmas Eve at St. Bernard's!
  Masters in the art of tone
Played the violin and organ
  From their souls to God alone.

Such expression of music's art
  Calls to mind a debt of love
Owed to God by all mankind

Tender tunes of string and bow
  Echo'd through the atmosphere,
Mingled with the angels' voices,
  Singing songs of Christmas cheer.

The organ joined with violin,
  Harmonized a lofty gem—
A tone-picture of beauty rare
  Of the Child in Bethlehem.

Bringing tears of joy to many
  In its sad but pleasing way,
Heralding the Christ-child's coming
  With His gifts on Christmas Day.

H. L. Lynch, '24.

Selection rendered by Organist Henley and Violinist Miss Pucciarelli, at the Midnight Mass on Christmas Eve, 1924, at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

CITY HALL NOTES

The Aldermen held a caucus before the meeting Monday night and nominated C. Sinclair Weeks as President of the Board for the coming year. John Madden was re-nominated for Vice-President. There was no opposition. Mr. Weeks was placed in nomination by Alderman Thomas M. Gallagher.

Patrick FitzSimmons, the popular night watchman of City Hall, who has been ill for several weeks, is improving and will probably return to work next month.

SCHOOL NOTES

Stearns School

In a recent number of the Journal of the National Education Association appeared an article by Miss Margaret M. Alltucker, assistant director of the Research Division of the Association, entitled, "Repression versus Expression."

It is obvious that we have been following Miss Alltucker's theory of expression for many years and are stimulating and encouraging our pupils to grow by providing for them through a rich and suggestive environment, activities in which they joyously engage.

The Christmas season provides an atmosphere of joyous, spontaneous activity and our children have risen to the occasion with masterly expression.

The Assemblies on Wednesday and Thursday were the culmination of several weeks of planning and practice by our pupils.

In many instances the children planned and carried to a conclusion some of our most interesting festivities.

The committees on decorations should be complimented for the spectacular color schemes of reds and greens which were not at all overdone for the Christmas season.

The carols were sung as never before and much credit is given the teachers who helped the chorus at rehearsals.

On Wednesday morning one hundred and twenty children of the upper grade classes attended the carol singing at Perkins Institution in Watertown. It was indeed a rare Christmas treat and one the children will long remember. Dwight Hall was beautifully decorated with pine, hemlock, and holly.

The pupils were especially attracted by the two large trees ornamented with red and blue lights which adorned each side of the stage platform, giving it a well balanced and finished effect.

At ten-thirty o'clock as the chimes in the belfry rang out the Antiphonae carol, the choir of the upper school filed in and occupied the centre platform. A few minutes later the children's choir of the lower school filled the choir loft at the back of the hall.

As the organist played the opening bars of an old French Christmas song, the members of the choir rose and sang carol after carol with expression and feeling.

The first part of the program consisting of the old familiar carols was greatly enjoyed by our pupils and inspired them to attain a higher degree of proficiency in singing the same carols in their Christmas assemblies.

The children greatly enjoyed a cantata which concluded the program and many expressed appreciation of a joyous and profitable morning.

Hyde School

The Christmas entertainment this year at the Hyde was in the form of a musical play entitled "Is Santa Claus a Fraud?" Lovely in costume and beautiful in thought, the scene presented a courtroom trial for Santa to prove whether or not he is a fake. While the council for prosecution awaited the time to state his sentence, Santa's Jury of Peers were announced one by one by the crier. These were Mother Goose, the Sandman, Jack Frost, the May Queen, and other lovely symbols of the spirit of life. Santa, the prisoner, was then brought in, escorted by heralds; mistletoe and holly. The verdict was pronounced not guilty, proclaiming that Santa Claus is the great Spirit of Christmas loved by all. The characters were as follows:

Crier, Joseph Hamlin; Usher, Albert Stevens; Counsel for the Prosecution, Albert Haberstroh; Counsel for the Defendant, Philip Trowbridge; Father Time, Warren Hilton; Mother Goose, Ruth Weeks; Sandman, Robert Sullivan; Pierrot, Elizabeth Hovey; May Queen, Elizazeth Drowne; Jack Frost, Lois Woodworth; Doll, Catherine Martin; Jack O' Lantern, Richard Hennessy; Saint Valentine, Thelma Terkelson; Fairy, Constance Marcy; April Fool, Margaret McKenna; Goddess of Liberty, Elizabeth Kolb; The Judge, Young America, Bradford Riley; The Prisoner, Santa Claus, Warren Colby; Santa's Heralds, Holly and Mistletoe, Josephine Campbell, Virginia Nichols; Chorus of Christmas Waits, Owen Collins, Paul Lambert, Jack Haughey; Children, from Miss Ryder's Class; Dame Rumor, Josephine Turnbull; History, Virginia Weed; Tradition, Marguerite Russo; Poetry, Adele Moore; Folk Lore, Pearl Merriam.

The program for the lower grades, which consisted of carol singing, solos, and recitations by different children, was greatly enjoyed by those who heard it. A Christmas party was held separately for the Kindergarten children who received gifts and entertained with music and recitations.

The Christmas atmosphere has been noticeably present in our school. The rooms were attractively decorated with wreathes, candles, bells, evergreens and window glows. In the lower grades the children were industriously at work on the decorations and their accomplishments have been for us all to enjoy. Many of the rooms were also bright and merry with Christmas trees. The sewing classes likewise have had the Christmas spirit making pretty and useful gifts.

The community and Christmas spirit will shine forth from the boys and girls of our 7th and 8th grades when they gather around the large community tree in the Square for carol singing on Christmas Eve.

The State Arithmetic Tests have been enjoyed in our school this month.

We are proud to show the progress made in our weight record this month, in so much as the following rooms have a gold star rather than any "red" per cent: The kindergarten; Miss Green and Miss Lewis, Grades I; Miss Dow, Grade II; Miss Jewett, Grade III; Miss Sampson, Grade IV; and Miss Green, Grade V.

Mason School

The Christmas spirit fills the Mason. It shines from the many window candles to each gayly decorated class room. It shines in the happy faces of boys and girls who, forgetting lessons, send many a longing look at pictures of Santa and his reindeer.

The hall is the popular place these days. To it, came the Kindergartners for their festivities on Wednesday last. The little ones marched in in costume wearing red caps with white pompoms and tassels. Their program was as follows:

Carol singing, the Orchestra, dramatization of the animals' Christmas; distribution of gifts from the tree trimmed by the children.

The fifth grades of the Mason on Thursday presented the following program:

Flag Salute, "Star Spanged Banner"; Tableau, "We Three Men of Orient Are"; Carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem"; Playette, "The Dream Dolls"; Carol, "Silent Night"; Tableau, "Away in a Manger"; Poem, "The Birds' Christmas Carol," by Lloyd Bergerson; Carol, "O Come, All Ye Faithful."

Grade Eight furnished the following entertainment to the upper classes on Thursday:

"Star Spangled Banner," Flag Salute; "A Children's Pageant of Christmas"; Scene, The Carollers and Santa; School Singing: "Noel." "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

Angier School

The pupils of the Angier School held their Christmas celebration Wednesday morning. A dramatization entitled "Help Wanted! Mrs. Santa Claus," was given by children from the different grades. This was followed by a wonderful gift-giving on the part of the school. All the classes marched to the front of the hall and heaped on the platform their Christmas offering in the form of toys, clothing, fruit, candy, preserves, everything ever imagined to gladden the hearts of children. It was a very impressive sight and the total given was just as wonderful. After the entertainment all the things were sorted over and on Thursday morning had been distributed in Newton; in most cases, directly to families where they would bring most joy and comfort. The Angier School pupils should have a Merry Christmas for they gave one to many others.

The dramatization might fitly have been called "The Spirit of Giving." The chief characters were: Santa Claus, Paul Rycroft; Mrs. Santa Claus, Elsie Stephen; Spirit of Giving, Eleanor Denham; Spirit of Receiving, Olive Heathcote; King Coal, Jacob Mosser; Queen Wood, Louise Came; Jack Frost, Katherine Offert; Sam Snow, Walter Burnett; Crystal Ice, Richard Clements.

Health Fairies—Polly Klotz, Eliot Rogers, Barbara Cutting, Marcia Fallon, Arthur Robbins, Sally Mosser, Helen Cecilia Peirce, James Bierer, Priscilla Tobey.

The play, which represented Santa's home and workshops showed Santa turning over to Mrs. Claus the Christmas work because he had found himself unable to satisfy everybody. His good wife enlists the aid of Sunbeams, Health Fairies, and Elves. The elves are seen all through the play busily engaged in making toys in Santa's workshop.

The carolers, led by Sam Davis, were greatly enjoyed by the audience. Paul Rycroft and Elsie Stephen as Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, Eleanor Dunham as the Spirit of Giving, and Olive Heathcote, as the Spirit of Receiving, were specially good.

Sewall Champian, Arthur Marquardt, Vincent Estabrook, and Robert Patterson, did their part by making many of the stage properties.

The play was written by, and produced under the direction of, Mr. Penny.

The pupils of the Fourth Grade, Miss Jones' room, have been having a spelling contest. Rhoda Garrison won the book, given as a prize.

The 8th grade have received their class pins and presented pins to Mr. Penny and their teachers.

The kindergarten had its Christmas party at nine o'clock, Thursday.

N. H. S.

The holiday vacation began yesterday at noon. School will be resumed on Monday, January 3rd.

Tuesday afternoon the faculty held a Christmas party in the music hall, formerly the library of the Technical building. Nearly every member of the high school teaching force and the authorities, Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Bacon, and Miss Bragg, and others, attended. A luncheon and social affair, with music by the school orchestra, was followed by a Christmas play by pupils of the school. Each one present was given a present by a Santa Claus. The newer members of the faculty were introduced to the other teachers and a good time was had by all.

On Wednesday afternoon the members of the various student clubs held the annual Christmas party with a large attendance. Refreshments, singing and entertainment were enjoyed.

On Tuesday and Wednesday mornings the student held assemblies at which Mr. Palmer spoke and Christmas carols were sung. The senior and junior classes met on Tuesday and the two lower classes on Wednesday.

ASLEEP?

Had shepherds on Judea's hills
Wearied, fallen fast asleep,—
Or not have turned skyward their eyes
Absorbed in cares for sheep,
Angels unseen might then have flown
None hearing heavenly choirs,
When midst the silent stars poured forth
Anthems the world inspires.

And souls whose worldly cares abound,
Hearts fallen asleep within,
On Christmas Day will catch no sound
Of angels midst the din
Of noises drowning deep the song
Of Christ a Savior born,
Heedless though thrilling notes prolong
Glad news of Christmas morn.

Shepherds who tend earth's fleecy flocks
Watching but market's gain,
Absorbed in trade, or rise of stocks,
World wealth but to obtain,—
No angel voices will they hear,
They're not "men of good will,"—
Though skies resound with music clear
Sleep deafened are they still.

Awake, my soul! from minding sheep,
Note rather visions high
Uplifted! Shall dull cares thee keep Engrossed when heaven is nigh?
Awake- There's glory on the sky,
Look up,—close not thine ear,
For Angels sing on Christmas Day,
Blest Day of all the Year.

PRESIDENT PRATT OF ALDERMEN LAUDS "PAY AS YOU GO" POLICY

At the December 6th meeting of the aldermen, President George Pratt, who retires this year as a member of the Board, took the floor to refer to figures submitted to its members by the Comptroller of Accounts of Newton, Mr Daniel White. These figures, according to Mr. Pratt, proved that the policy adopted by the city several years ago of "paying as you go", has been productive of excellent results and reflects great credit on the man chiefly responsible for this method, ex-Alderman Thomas W. White. He said, "I am very proud of my part in the adoption of this policy."

The figures show that in 1920 the net debt per capita was $51.39; in 1925, $71.31. The net debt in 1920 was $2,366,963; in 1925, $3,779,915, an increase of $1,412,952. To offset this increase it should be noted that in 1920 the value of the city was $86,376,000; in 1925 it was $117,850,000. In 1920 municipal expenditures totalled $3,356,509; in 1925, $4,098,694. In 1920 the assets of the city in public buildings amounted to $9,072,424; in 1925 they had increased to $12,071,202. In other words $2,998,778 has been added to the assets of the city in five years, while the net debt has increased but $1,412,952. Thus the City of Newton has been "paying as it goes" for the past five years at the average of $317,000 per year.

Williams, president and treasurer of the Purity Ice Company of Newton, gave a very interesting talk on the "Story of Manufactured Ice" before the members of the Fellowship Club last Monday evening. CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

The Eliot Church was filled by a most interested audience on Sunday afternoon to witness the Christmas Pageant under the direction of Miss Bessie Stratton. The pageant was an adaptation of an English Mystery Play of the Middle Ages, and was beautifully staged. There was music by the members of the Girls Choir, Mr. Lewis Davis, director, and by the Junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Ray Anderson Eusden. Among those in the cast were Miss Alice Williamson, Miss Elizabeth Lane, Miss Natalie Smith and Miss Emma Montanari, also Emmart LaCrosse, Jr., Andrew Kasper, Jr., and Miss Doris Barton.

The parts of the Bethlehem Children, the kings and the king's pages, were taken by children of the different grades in the Sunday School.

FINE NEW BUILDING

What the skill of the modern architect and master-builder can accomplish for special business needs, is well illustrated in the enlarged and finely equipped building and rooms of Henry F. Cate, Funeral Director, at 1251 Washington street, West Newton.

Entering the attractive inset doorway in the new front of stone and brick, one comes into the quiet reception room for guests. On the right, opens Mr. Cate's private office, attractively furnished. A stairway leads to a capacious showroom on the second floor, where a well varied assortment of caskets is constantly carried for the convenience of patrons.

Beyond the reception room, you enter the commodious trimming or work-room in the new building of fireproof construction. This room is well supplied with lockers for storage purposes and abundant windows give generous light. Opening from this is the operating room, constructed with hospital care and containing every needed appliance. Yet another door leads one into the slumber-room, secluded and quiet.

At the side of the building, heavy gates enclose a driveway, into which cars enter to a side door, entirely away from curious gaze. A large, well lighted basement affords ample storage room.

Throughout the premises the visitor is impressed with the careful thought which has gone into every detail to make this service as helpful to those in need as is humanly possible. Since the business was founded in 1861, it has maintained an unbroken record in one family, consistently holding to the high standards of service and quiet dignity which this new building and equipment emphasize afresh. Mr. Cate has done the community a real service in his rebuilding.

There have been three Christmas parties during the past week; one for the High School group of Girl Reserves, one for the grade school group, and one for the Blue Triangle Club. Many gifts have been sent by these groups to children who otherwise might not have a very merry Christmas. The rooms are prettily decorated with Christmas greens given by a generous friend of the Association. The rooms will be closed all day Christmas and New Year's. There will be no activities or classes during the week of December 27, the office will be open, however, each day from 9 to 5.

ALDERMEN MEET

Garages, Water, City Hall and New Schools Discussed

Not much of import was transacted at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night. Strange to relate, there were no hearings on petitions for garages, filling stations or changes in zoning. Several petitions for filling stations, which have been under consideration, were turned down. Among these were the petitions of Marshall Hall for a filling station at the corner of Washington and Court streets, Newtonville; Cashman & Ginsberg for a station on Washington street, Lower Falls; George E. Cahill for a station at the corner of Washington and Beach streets, Newtonville; Jacob Kligman, for a garage and filling station at 456 Watertown street, Newtonville. This made about the "steenth" time that Kligman was rebuffed in his efforts to obtain a garage permit at this location. John McDonald was given a permit for a 1000 gallon gasoline tank, for private use at 13 Borden street, West Newton. The pump to be connected with this tank will be inside the garage. The Edison Company was granted locations for three poles on Ripley street, Newton Centre.

The Board granted leave to withdraw on these petitions:

Mary B. Longyear, changing land on Rowena, Cedric and Oxford Roads, from single to private residence zone; The petition for changing land on Hollis street from private to general residence zone; William H. Bixby, damages for personal injuries to his son, who was hit by an auto in the yard of the F. A. Day School; Shirley Talbot, damages to automobile. Permits were granted to the Fessenden School for a 500-gallon gasoline tank at its garage, 215 Albermarle road; Andrew Maguzzu, automobile repair shop, 184 California street; Catherine Hannon, private garage, 14 Maple terrace; Edwin R. Jump, garage at 15 Nonantum street, not more than 7½ feet from rear line of property and 27 feet from street line. Louis DeRusso was given a permit for three pool tables at 438 Lexington street, Auburndale, and George Luchini for a second hand furniture store at 1 Centre Pl. The Edison Company was refused a permit for locations for two poles on Endicott street and Church street. W. G. Girard was refused licenses for two first class taxis.

Alderman Baker, Chairman of the Committee on the New City Hall, told the aldermen that Lockwood, Greene & Company, the firm appointed by Mayor Childs to make a survey on the new City Hall, has been studying the needs of the various departments of the city, and has been examining the construction and designs of City Halls in other places. It has made rough sketches of buildings adapted for the site at West Newton and the site on the triangle at Homer and Walnut streets. Mr. Baker remarked that he had suggested to the representatives of this firm "that too much space had been planned for the Aldermanic Chamber. On the designs, this chamber ran the length of the buildings and would seat 1000 persons. He said "A conference should be held with the County Commissioners to ascertain or not whether they desire accomodations for the District Court in the new City Hall, and what rent they will be willing to pay." He expected that plans of the suggested buildings will be ready for perusal by the Aldermen within a few weeks.

Alderman Fitts, Chairman of the Public Buildings Committee, reported that because of lack of data, definite plans have not been worked out by the School Committee and the special committee of the Aldermen, appointed to work in conjunction with the School Committee on new school buildings. Mr. Fitts stated that in recent years all new school construction has been on the north side of the city, with the exception of the Angier School at Waban. During this period the city has grown in population more rapidly on the South Side. New schools are acutely needed at Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill. Also more accommodations in the Claflin School district at Newtonville. One thousand pupils will be ready to enter a new junior high school on the South Side next Fall, could one be constructed at that time, which is impossible. According to Mr. Fitts, the thing most desired at present by the School Committee, is the tunnel under Elm Road to connect the Classical High School with the new high school building.

Aldermen Gallagher, Weeks and Fitts were appointed members of the Committee to arrange for the annual dinner of the Aldermen. It seems significant that a physician should be included on this committee. Perhaps he will make an analysis of the "water" to be consumed at the feast, to guard against any bacteria being present in it.

Alderman Bail, Chairman of the Special Committee on water reported that for the eight days preceding, Newton has been using water from the Metropolitan Water System. The pipe lines on the Newton water reservation at Needham have been cleaned in the meantime, and certain other work done. The large main under the Charles River was cleaned and found to be thoroughly tight. There had been a suspicion among officials of the State Department of Health and certain physicians, that this main might have been leaky, thus permitting water from the Charles to seep in. This fear has been dispelled. The new well under process of construction for the past several months, and which should have been ready November 1st, is slowly being completed largely because the contractor has been as yet unable to obtain pumps powerful enough to keep this well free of water, so that rapid excavating can be accomplished. This fact assures a large additional supply from this well when it will be finished. Mr. Bail stated he will recommend the appointment of a committee next year to continue the work of cleaning by machine the mains on the side streets of the city. The work of cleaning the wooden conduit at Needham has been delayed, waiting the running of wires into the reservation by the Edison Company. It is expected that these wires will be strung within the next ten days. Then the conduit will be cleaned.

Alderman Gallagher informed his colleagues that Chief Engineer Foss of the Metropolitan Water Commission has asked the City of Newton to resume using its own water supply on Wednesday, as the Metropolitan supply is so low, that a dangerous situation would be created by too much depletion of the basins serving this system. Mr. Gallagher said that this verified the statements he has been making in the past—"that the Metropolitan Water System can hardly supply its own needs, much less those of Newton, and that it will be nearly ten years before the additional supply will be available from the Swift River system. It is therefore up to Newton to increase its own supply."

President Pratt asked Alderman Bail regarding the unexpended amounts of the appropriations given the Water Department this year for new mains? Mr. Bail explained that most of the unexpended balance can be attributed to mains authorized on certain new streets which have not been laid because these streets have not as yet been sufficiently developed to make it expedient to lay the mains.

Alderman Hodgdon said that as reports seemed to be in order from special committees he would make a report for the special committee on the Fuller Garage. He gave the information that on last Saturday, Judge Brown has authorized the issuance of complaints against the owners of the Fuller Garage for illegally selling gasoline from outside pumps.

Aderman Bail, speaking for the Public Works Committee, called attention to the fact that this committee had not been consulted by the Finance Committee before appropriations were made for items in connection with the work of the Street Department.

Chairman Weeks of the Finance Committee explained that his committee had no intention of slighting the Public Works Committee, but that the items for which appropriations had been made were holdovers from the previous meeting, and had been discussed with Chairman Earle of the Public Works Committee. The appropriations made were—Street Department, collection of ashes, $3,000; removal of snow, $5,115.10; traffic signs, $150; care of grounds, $100; Charity Department, outside aid, $2,800; poor out of City Home, $1,000; Law Department, claim of Simon Stone for damage to auto tires because of obstruction in street, $14; claim of Mrs. Agnes Scott for injuries received by defect in sidewalk, $87; City Physician, maintenance of auto, $270; Accounting Department Laborer's pension, $221.21; distribution of Kenrick Fund, $201.17; Sewer Department, construction of house connections, $881.07.

It was voted to accept Rosalie, Country Club and Gordon Roads at Oak Hill. Alderman Bail explained that Mr. Hartman, who is developing Oak Hill Village, had met all the requirements of the city in the construction of these streets.

Alderman Madden, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, asked that Section 320, Chapter 31 of the City Ordinances be amended by striking out this section and substituting therefor the following:—

"No part of any building with incombustible walls, except buildings designed for retail stores or office buildings not over two stories in height, may be placed nearer than 10 feet to any part of any other building not of fireproof construction, nor nearer than 5 feet to the adjoining lot line; buildings designed for retail stores or office buildings if placed nearer than 5 feet of a lot line, or 10 feet of a building of non-fireproof construction shall have unpierced firewalls on the side nearer said lot line or said non-fireproof construction building.

"In the rear of every building designed for a store or office building, there shall be a yard not less than 15 feet in depth extending across the entire width of the building. There shall be permanently appurtenant to any such store or office building a passage way at least 10 feet in width to a street, or from a lot on which such store or building is erected or maintained there shall be a permanent right of way of record not less than 10 feet in width to a street. The requirements as to depth of yard and width of way may be diminished when undue hardship would be occasioned and where health and fire protection can be adequately maintained with diminished depth and width."

Mr. Madden explained that these provisions are deemed necessary because some buildings in this city which have no yards in the rear, or no entrance from the street for a way to the yards at the rear, cause undesirable health conditions and fire hazards. The amended section was passed by the Aldermen.

Aldermen Weeks stated that members of the police and fire departments in this city have requested that they be permtited to apply their "days off" to the time required to attend the convention of the American Legion in France next summer. He expressed the hope that the Aldermen will give favorable consideration to these requests. Chairman Madden of the Claims and Rules Committee said that these requests had been discussed by the committee, but that it was believed that should they be granted, probably employees of other departments of the city would also ask concessions. He informed the Board that the City Solicitor has covered the legal side of the action of the Aldermen in permitting city employees to take their 1928 vacation in conjunction with their 1927 vacation so as to be able to go to France. All applicants must be ex-service men and must repay the city for the extra time given if they leave its employ before 1928. The concession will not apply to employees of the School Department.

The meeting adjourned at 10.35. The next meeting of the Board will be at 2 P. M., Saturday, January 1st.

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

The tree is trimmed. The lights are on and shining brightly. Mysterious packages are all about. What do you suppose they contain? Surprises? Of course, and jolly ones. too! Weeks of planning, the pleasant, delightful planning that we so enjoy, have resulted in the final preparation for this the biggest day of the year—Christmas!

Shall it be a merry one? Why not? Isn't it intended that we should commemorate an event which was the greatest, the most vital of the universe? Merriment need not be carried to an absurd degree, but made to reflect the highest of emotions and the noblest of all happy thoughts.

Let it be a day not only for ourselves but for all with whom we come in contact. Let it be a day of giving that means we derive more from the actual act of giving than from receiving. All that is best and most wonderful is brought out in true Christmas merriment. Therefore, here's a Merry Christmas to all.

Have you ever experienced the feeling of having gone away for the evening and having left the front door of your home open? Is there any sensation that equals it? All the way to the theatre or lecture hall you say to yourself, over and over again, "Did I leave the front door open? Did I, or did I not? Yes, I think I did. No, I don't see how I could have." Temporarily you forget your worry while you are being ushered to a seat. Soon, however, the frightful feeling of dread returns and you begin questioning yourself all over again.

Until the play starts or the concert opens or the speaker of the evening begins his address you repeat and repeat those burning questions. And the answer is always the same—doubt, uncertainty, and a harrowing sense of having committed something akin to a criminal act. Self-torture inflicted as only a Chinese executioner could do.

Now then, somewhere I have read that to question yourself in such a way is really a mild form of mental disease. One should not, the eminent authority declared, do such things. He pointed out that it was not a "sign" of insanity, but a "symptom" of it. Other normal acts keep you on the safe side of the border line, said this distinguished writer, but at the same time the brains must be a little bit worn or something like that, in order to produce this state of self-inquisition. There, as I remember it, is what a man who was supposed to be a great doctor and mental expert, had to say about it.

So much for the viewpoint of the individual. Breathes there a man or woman or child without a sense of responsibility. Of course there does, but do you know many of them? Isn't it true that when a person is notorious, I might have said conspicuous, for shirking his or her duty the rest of the world knows it and treats that individual accordingly?

"Soandso is all right," you will hear it said, "but you can't depend on him." Or, "Soandso is a wonder, you may always depend on him." There then is the story. It should be and I believe it is a distinguishing characteristic that we feel there are responsibilities which we must assume and that means discharge and fulfill as we would any obligation.

I am thinking again of the things undone that so upset our thoughts. Not only has many a pleasant evening been ruined by the backward thoughts of a conscientious father or mother, who just can't help thinking whether some little thing has been forgotten.

There are as many concerns as there are responsibilities under such circumstances. How often have you wondered if you left the electric light burning in the cellar or some other part of the house? How frequently have you questioned yourself as to the situation with the heater—whether you have left the drafts open or whether you forgot to put in fuel.

Not long ago I saw a perfectly enjoyable automobile ride suddenly broken up by the discomfort of a member of the party. To be sure it was only one of those pleasant little journeys into the country but it had to be abruptly cut short because this presiding genius of a household had left something cooking on the gas stove and had forgotten to shut off the gas.

There are a few of the things that keep us thinking about the practical side of life. After all, life isn't just a long, sweet, uninterrupted dream. That is, not if one has a sense of responsibility, as he should.

I suppose every one of us has, as we have clambered up the subway stairs, hurried out or into the South Station or jostled our way through the Christmas crowds, wondered how it feels to be a collector for the Salvation Army or the Volunteers of America. How many of the dimes, nickels or pennies that are dropped into the coin box find their way there because the person holding the contribution box has the appearance of being frozen?

Of course, whatever they say about Americans it is true that they are willing to give and give freely. The very nations on the other side of the Atlantic that criticize our money-grabbing tendencies will grant that it has saved their lives on many occasions—this generous, free-handed spirit of the Americans.

Well, to get back to the women and men who hold the boxes for the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America. I once did a special newspaper story on the personality of these folks and while I have no intention of repeating myself I think I can say I got a pretty good line on them. It struck me that it was about as mean a job as one could take. I saw them when they turned in their collections and although I do not wish to be critical I must say that the man who had charge of receiving the money was about as gruff as could be.

For fear, however, that I might be saying something which could be interpreted as reflecting upon these great charitable organizations I want to point out now that I never allow the conduct of a subordinate to affect my judgment or opinion of any big concern or organization. To do so would be ridiculous.

It was while I was in New York one day this week that all these thoughts about the Salvation Army I had had in Boston came together with one big smash. And this is how it happened. It was cold and early morning, for business had required me to be up and doing when the first of the morning crowds were running down the stairs from the "L" or up from the subways.

What was that I heard? Certainly not a band playing at this hour? What would be the occasion of music so early in the day? Surely no parade or demonstration in honor of an individual? But it was music that I heard and pretty good music—a band that knew its notes. I looked around and what did I see—at the foot of the "L" stairs a Salvation Army band playing a stirring air.

All the musicians were heavily dressed, but at that they looked blue with the cold. The wind was blowing and not only were they keeping their instruments in constant use but their legs were also in action, they were shifting feet to keep warm or if not to keep warm to keep from freezing. What do you think of that? Ah. you'll say, that's New York.

It isn't always fair to blame New York for the things we have never seen before or don't like or don't understand. Let's give New York credit. Here was an effort to arouse interest in the giving of Christmas donations. It certainly was a novel one.

Very well then, let's see what it means. Doesn't it mean a pretty handsome display of the yuletide spirit? Think of these men playing away on a cold, bitter morning. A serenade to Santa Claus and that's most appropriate for Christmas week.

I was glad to see New York getting itself ready for Christmas. Somewhat of a rustic I still can find things to "see" in New York and when one can do that one may be sure of having a good tnme. The New York papers, when I was there, said "Near Zero Weather Strikes City." Well, with my companion (a writer highly popular with Newton people,) I just did a lot of window-shopping. It just so happened that he and I were in the same mood. Our errand was the same, our hotel the same and our tastes the same. Therefore, we hit it off magnificently.

"Heated taxi." There was a sign that struck us. "What," I asked, "do you think our Newton neighbors would say to that?"

"Yankees are pretty cautious and it may be they believe in signs," he replied, "and yet I don't know if they care to risk the investment just to find out if such a sign is true. Let us walk anyway and take no chances."

And that is how it came about that we covered a good many blocks in "near zero" weather and saw New York glad-ragged for the holidays.

ABOUT TOWN

In contrast to the remainder of the city, a fairly large vote was cast on December 14 in Ward 2. The contest for Ward Alderman was the reason. A house-to-house canass had been made in the interest of Mr. Wakefield, and on the day of election men were stationed at all approaches to the railroad station to exhort commuters to ballot. Results showed that all this activity was necessary, as Mr. O'Connell gave Mr. Wakefield a close fight. Despite the fact that municipal elections in Newton are non-partisan, many persons in this city persist in attempting to inject partisan politics into local elecions. Ward 2, in State and National elections is strongly Republican. This being so, many voters, who cast their ballots for Republican candidates on State and National tickets, voted for Mr. O'Connell. He had a good record, having attended every committee and aldermanic meeting during his four years of service, and displayed a desire to meet the demands of his constituents.

The matter of a buss line along Centre street from Newton Corner to Newton Centre and Newton Highlands, is again being agitated. There has never been direct transportation service between Newton Corner and the South Side of the city. The need for it has been constantly increasing. If the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway does not desire to operate a line on this proposed route, there are persons in the city who are willing to furnish such service.

The collection of ashes in Boston has been off schedue since the heavy snow storm a few weeks ago. Little delay was observed in the collection of ashes in Newton. We do not wonder that this work in Boston has not been performed as efficiently as in Newton. A week ago last Sunday we saw employees of the City of Boston collecting ashes. Or, perhaps, it might be more correct to say "distributing ashes." It was a windy day. The trucks we saw used for the collection of the ashes were part of the fleet of huge motor vehicles purchased some months ago by Mayor Nichols to aid in the removal of snow. They have huge bodies, the sides of which rear 10 feet above the ground. Imagine men trying to lift heavy barrels of ashes over these high sides. It simply could not be done. Instead, three men would grab a barrel and hurl it over the side of the big motor truck. Two men inside the truck would catch the barrel. During this process much of the ashes which had been in the barrel was jolted out, to be scattered on the nearby street and sidewalk. These trucks were designed to be used in conjunction with huge snow loaders, built on the conveyor principle. It is ridiculous to attempt to use them for the collection of ashes. The latest trucks purchased by the City of Newton for collecting ashes, have bodies especially designed by Street Commissioner Stuart to enable them to be easily loaded by the men engaged in this work.

There are those who view their political affiliation almost as they view their religious affiliation. In fact they seem to make the one contingent on the other. This is not as it should be. It is a fundamental doctrine of Americanism "that the Church and State should be kept separate." It is un-American, therefore, to mix politics with religion. Those who advocate the election or defeat of a candidate because he belongs, or dose not belong, to this or that religious faith, are not good Americans.

Then, there are those whose political relations are determined by social considerations. In the South it is fashionable to be a Democrat. In the North it is not. It is embarrassing oftentimes for a person of aristocratic Democratic lineage to take up permanent residence in New England, or for a person descended from generations of Republican ancestors to change his permanent abode to the South.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

The Christmas celebration of the Newton Rotary Club took the place of the regular meeting last Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club and was quite a gay affair. The members were dolled up with bibs and tuckers on entering the room and presented with fancy caps. Bells and musical instruments were found at the tables and used throughout the meeting.

The affair was in the hands of the medical members of the club, Dr. C. W. Clark, Dr. Edward Mellus, Dr. Henry Watters and Dr. F. M. Lowe. A feature of the luncheon was the introduction of each member by Dr. Mellus with an original rhyme, all of them good and a number of them particularly appropriate. Andrew J. Ford added to the enjoyment with a true(?) bear story.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

Newton Lodge held a social and entertainment after its meeting last night to assist in raising funds for the Christmas Charity Fund. A large number of turkeys were given as prizes.

The members of the Lodge have been invited to attend the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Moore of 199 Church street on December 26th. Mr. Moore is a Past Trustee of Newton Lodge.

Many members of the Lodge are contemplating visiting Marlboro Lodge on January 24th.

ABOUT TOWN

Several months ago prominent citizens of Newton assembled on two occasions at the Newton Club to discuss ways and means to induce voters of Newton to go to the pools on election days. At the election last Tuesday less than 29% of the voters of this city went to the polls. It was suggested at the meetings held in the Newton Club, "that the school children by letter writing and moral suasion, endeavor to influence their parents to perform the important civic duty which they have been in the habit of neglecting." Considerable difficulty has been experienced in Newton in finding suitable polling places. In some precincts school buildings have been used for this purpose. Why not use school buildings whenever and wherever it is practical to do so? It might be posible to devise some plan whereby delegations elected from the pupils at each school could act as "welcoming committees" to their parents at the polling places in the school buildings. The parents would then have added incentive to vote, and the children would be impressed with the importance of the ballot.

The long and expensive litigation over certain estates, calls attention to possible and probable litigation in the future by persons claiming to be relatives of deceased wealthy folks. It has become a common practice for persons of foreign birth or extraction to assume names associated with pioneer families of this country. In the past one could usually tell by hearing a person's name what nationality, or race he was descended from. But not today. Persons who were born in the far parts of Europe and Asia, have changed their names, sometimes legally, to those borne by the voyagers on the Mayflower, or those other small ships which brought the early settlers to Massachusetts Bay. It is perfectly reasonable for a man or a woman to desire a change in a foreign name which is very difficult to spell or pronounce. But such names for the most part can be shortened or slightly changed to make them easy to spell or pronounce.

A large percentage of those of alien extraction who change their names, do so in order to conceal their ancestry. For business or social reasons they wish to appear as Americans of the "old stock." Frequently their personal characteristics defeat this purpose. Certain national or racial characteristics are undeniable, regardless of what name is assumed. We don't enthuse over those who are ashamed of their ancestry, especially when said ancestors were honest, industrious folks, even though not Anglo-Saxons. The increasing custom of "adopting other folks' names" should be legislated against.

During the past week 95 employees of the Street Department were laid off because practically all of the construction work on the highways for which money had been appropriated, had been finished. Some of the men engaged in this work were transferred to the Sewer Division and others were given work in the Forestry Division. The men laid off were the newer employees of the Department. The Civil Service laws require that seniority be observed in the matter of regular employment. This suspension from work of part of the employees is an annual occurrence. The work this year for the full complement of laborers lasted some weeks longer than it had in previous years.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

Week ending December 18: Patients in hospital 112; patients paying as much as cost of care or more 60; patients paying less than cost of care 22; free patients. including babies 30; patients treated by out-patient department 99; accident cases 7; babies born, boys 6, girls 5.

Miss Elizabeth Ross, a graduate of the hospital, who recently completed her work with the Newton District Nursing Association, is now at work preparing for the opening of the Norfolk Cancer Hospital where she is to be the superintendent of nurses.

Last Sunday evening twenty-six members of the Newton Highlands Glee Club entertained the nurses with solos and chorus selections and also joined with the nurses in the singing of Christmas carols.

The Know More Kokki Klub met at the hospital Monday evening and discussed interesting cases.

Christmas Day at the hospital none of the nurses will take any time off but all of them will do all they can to make the day as cheerful a one as possible for the patients. The Christmas program at the hospital will begin Christmas Eve at 7.30 with the singing of carols by the choir of St. Mary's Church in Newton Lower Falls. Christmas morning at 5.30 the nurses will start from their home and march about the buildings softly singing carols and conclude their march on the hill where they will have hot coffee and doughnuts. At seven the Newton Highlands Glee Club, with trumpeters, will sing in the hospital grounds. At eight the choir boys of the Newton Highlands Episcopal Church will visit the hospital and sing carols. At half past ten there will be exercises about the Christmas tree in the children's ward and to decorate the tree the patients in the children's ward have been busy stringing pop corn. The Christmas breakfast will include tangerines, cream of wheat, chops, biscuits and coffee and cream. For the Christmas dinner at noon the menu is half grape fruit with cherry, roast turkey with dressing and gravy, mashed potato with minced parsley, squash, celery, olives, and pickles, steamed pudding with foamy sauce, mince pie, pumpkin pie, ice cream, raisins, nuts, and candy, coffee and cream. For supper there will be salad, toast and tea. Every nurse and every patient at the hospital will have a Christmas present. Presents for the ward patients will be on each pillow ready to be examined on wakening. For the patients in the private rooms there will be for each one a minature market basket filled with fruit and a holly decorated napkin to be carried in with the breakfast trays. There will be also for patients and nurses presents sent in by friends from the outside. Any one who wishes to do so may make to the hospital a present that will help to make the main entrance hall of Founders a bit brighter decorated by giving a large flowering plant, a fern or a small evergreen tree to be placed on the big stand in the middle of the hall.

KIWANIS CLUB

The members of the Newton Kiwanis Club enjoyed themselves immensely at their meeting on Tuesday. A small Christmas tree was placed in the centre of the club's dining place at the Auburndale Club, and following the weekly dinner, a real live Santa Claus was given the "bum's rush" into the hall by a member of the Newton Police force. When Santa had recovered his breath he proceeded to distribute the presents to the members with appropriate, or inappropriate remarks. Santa Claus, in the person of W. Uriah Fogwill, was full of pep, and received a bottle of angostura bitters, as a present to regale him after his exertions. The gifts were not supposed to cost over 10 cents each. In most cases this rule was observed, although a few of the presents were more valuable, including a quart of milk and a half-pint of heavy cream, contributed by Frank Pope and received by Rev. Earl Harper. Mark Croker was the recipient of a bottle containing a half-pint of very muddy liquid, alleged to be "pure Newton water." One member was given a bottle of poison, donated by a "friend" of his.

GIRLS' CONFERENCE

"A Girls' Conference, of girls, for girls, and run only by girls without the assistance of their elders," is the slogan of a unique convention which is being planned at the Girl Scout Headquarters on Newbury street. It will take place on Jan. 7, 8, and 9, at the Newton High School Assembly Hall, and will constitute the first annual convention of the Girl Scouts in the Metropolitan Boston division of that movement.

The unique aspect of this meeting lies in the fact that the officials and volunteer leaders of the Girl Scout movement have stepped aside completely, as far as it is concerned, and they will not be allowed even to attend all the sessions. Girls between the ages of 13 and 18 are in complete charge, and are planning the program, choosing their speakers, arranging entertainment and providing for the housing of the 400 or more other girls of the same ages who will attend from 35 cities and towns in Metropolitan Boston.

Miss Sarah Louise Arnold of Lincoln, President of the National Girl Scouts, and Mrs. Arthur W. Hartt, State Commissioner of the organization in Massachusetts, will address one of the sessions. Miss Ethel DeMille, however, a 16-year-old second lieutenant of a Girl Scout troop at Thompsonville and a member of the Senior Troop at Newton Centre, is chairman of the committee which is organizing the convention, and Miss Mary Doyle of South Boston is vice-chairman.

Other assistants have been chosen for Miss de Mille from the various Newton troops, and in all there is a general committee of between 30 and 40 girls. Miss Janice Upham of Newton is in charge of housing; Miss Carrol Foster of Arlington, of hospitality; Miss Mildred Waite of Lexington, of the program; Miss Barbara Estey of Malden, of publicity; Miss Bettina King of Melrose, of the social activities, and Miss Mary Widlund of Quincy, of registration.

This committee began its work on Nov. 27, and has been busy ever since. It held a second meeting December 18 at the Girl Scout Headquarters on Newbury street, and others will be held there, at which speakers will be chosen, programs formed, and transportation and the many other details of a convention handled by the girls themselves. Each sub-committee is allowed to select an adult advisor, who may give whatever advice is requested, but otherwise the girls are absolutely running the convention themselves without adult assistance.

The tentative program calls for a social evening at the Newton High School on Friday, Jan. 7, at which the 400 or more delegates will be allowed to get acquainted through games, songs, and registration. Ethel de Mille will speak on "The Purposes of the Convention," and several officials will probably be present as guests of their scouts.

Saturday morning will be a serious session, for girls only, at which Miss Doyle will preside, and they will discuss at length such questions as community service, the older scout, the younger scouts, scout uniforms, home service, the Girl Scout spirit, the ideal captain, scout camps, and the humdrum necessity of raising money. No adults will be around to hear what they have to say, and the younger generation will discuss themselves and their movement.

Following luncheon, there will be opportunity for recreation either through a hike through the Newton woods or in the gymnasium of the High School. Later in the afternoon there will be another season at which reports will be rendered on local Girl Scout activities by the delegates from the various cities and towns represented, and in the evening there will be another public meeting, at which Miss Arnold, Mrs. Hartt, and other officials will be present to speak. Entertainment will be furnished by various scout groups, and there will be social activities.

On Sunday a "Scouts' Own" will be conducted, the religious service peculiar to this movement, and the conference will close with afternoon tea and a final social gathering of the delegates before departure for their homes. During their stay in Newton, these 400 girls are to be quartered in various residences of the city, among friends of the Girl Scout movement and others interested in assisting this conference.

This convention is the result of a movement which began in Atlanta, Ga., two years ago, when the forum style of meeting, conducted entirely by the girls themselves, was first attempted. It was so successful there that it was tried out in Springfield, Mass., where the second annual conference of this type was held on Dec. 3, 4, and 5, with even greater success. Miss Edith Sinnett, director of Metropolitan-Boston Division of Girl Scouts, suggested the coming conference at a meeting of commissioners held on Nov. 13. A committee of girls representing 13 communities is in charge.

Delegates will represent 204 Girl Scout troops, and about 5,000 individual Girl Scouts. Each delegate will bring previously prepared problems to be submitted to the Conference for settlement, and when these girls return to their homes to assist the volunteer leaders and officials of he Girl Scout movement, in the conduct of their troops, a great impetus in the movement is anticipated.

The preliminary committee in charge of the convention is as follows: Miss Ethel de Mille of Newton, Miss Mary Doyle of South Boston, Miss Janice Upham of Newton, Miss Marion Frost of Newton, Miss Eleanor C. Burnham of Newton, Miss Barbara Estey of Malden, Miss Carroll Foster of Arlington, Miss Mildred Waite of Lexington, Miss Bettina King of Melrose, and Miss Mary Widlund of Atlantic. Also Audrey Scammel, Anna Morris, Mildred Saunders, Elizabeth Mudge, Helen Bennett, Elizabeth Cooke, Jean Slocombe, Priscilla Delano, Doris Atchison, Dorothea Salmon, Lilie Chapman, Margaret Dean, Dorothy Daniels, Sara Kellog, Margaret Knapp, Jeannette Briggs, Elizabeth Lawrence.

Appeal Taken From Fine of $50 For Illegal Selling Of Gasoline

Gasoline pumps are structures when used in conjunction with garages or buildings used as filling stations. So ruled Judge Robert Frost in the Newton District Court on December 23rd. In accordance with this ruling he found Levi Wilcutt guilty of using structures for the sale of gasoline without having a proper permit, and fined him $50. Attorney Harry Ross, representing Wilcutt, took an appeal to the Superior Court, which will be held at Cambridge next month. The case which took three hours to hear, marked another step in the determined fight which is being waged by Mr. Wilcutt and Attorney Ross to be allowed to sell gasoline from two pumps which were erected some weeks ago outside the Fuller Garage at 966 Watertown street, West Newton. As was stated in the GRAPHIC a few weeks ago, these pumps are on a small triangular piece of land at the junction of Watertown street and Davis court. This piece of land was left unoccupied by a restriction imposed by the Aldermen last year when the permit was granted for the erection of the Fuller Garage. The permit also stiplated that this unoccupied land should be surrounded by a low wall to prevent the passage of automobiles over it.

Early last Spring, Judge Thomas Weston, as attorney for Fishel Bros., the original owners of the Fuller Garage, petitioned the aldermen for a permit to erect outside pumps at 966 Watertown street, the locus of the garage. This petition was given leave to withdraw. Subsequently the garage changed ownership a couple of times. Some weeks ago, to the surprise of those who knew of the refusal of the aldermen to grant a permit for an outside gasoline station at this place, two pumps were erected on the restricted area. No action was taken against the management of the garage until at the aldermanic meeting of December 6th. Alderman Hodgdon of the License Committee interrogated City Solicitor Bartlett regarding the legality of the matter. Mr. Bartlett gave the opinion that the pumps were being used illegally and said, "It was up to the Chief of Police to stop the sale of gasoline from them.

Attorney Ross, learning that Chief Burke intended to apply for a complaint against Mr. Levi Wilcutt, manager of the garage, asked for a hearing to argue against the complaint being issued. This hearing was held in the Court House at West Newton on December 18th, before Judge Brown of East Boston. Chief Burke representing the prosecution had present as witnesses City Clerk Grant, Fire Chief Randlett, and Ex-Alderman Henry Lloyd, who was Chairman of the License Committee in 1925. Judge Brown suggested to Mr. Ross that the Board of Aldermen might revoke the permit if the condition specified (the erection of the low wall around the restricted area) when the original permit was granted for the garage will not be complied with.

Mr. Ross contended that this piece of land had been used as "a right of way" for many years, and thus it would be illegal to order it enclosed. He also argued that it is unfair to impose the fulfillment of the condition on his clients when three previous owners of the garage did not observe it. Judge Brown observed that the present owners bought the property with the conditions attached. He also commented that "If a right of way has existed there as claimed, it has been a consentive right of way," and he as-

A GREAT SUCCESS

Reunion of the Alumni of the Newton High Schools Attracts 650 Former Pupils Who Enjoy a Long and Excellent Program

The alumni of Newton High School held a re-union Wednesday night in the new high school building at Newtonville. The affair was successful beyond the fondest expectations of the committee who arranged it. This committee, composed of alumni of the school who are members of the High School faculty, assisted by Mr. Bacon, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Maxim, and others of the faculty, had hardly hoped to see over 300 past pupils and graduates of Newton High attend the banquet and re-union, even though several thousands of invitations were sent out. More than double this number responded. Six hundred and fifty persons were present, and one hundred more tickets could have been sold on Wednesday.

Those in charge of the affair were particularly pleased with the attendance of the old graduates. The first class to graduate from Newton High School was that of 1861. The only known survivor of this class is Miss Elizabeth Spear of 89 Walnut street, Newton. She was unable to attend, but sent a letter telling of her affection for the old school and her loyalty to it. Representatives of all the other classes of the 60s were present. Likewise all the classes from 1870 to 1877 were represented. Three who graduated in 1876 held a "fiftieth year reunion." Strangely enough, of the five classes which were not represented—three were those of 1878-1879-1880. The others were 1885 and 1887. The class of 1926 had 39 present. Second in numbers was 1924 with 36. The class of 1895 really led the van. This class graduated 31 years ago, and 31 of its members attended. The class of 1891 also deserves honorable mention; 21 from this class showed their loyalty to the school by coming.

From 5.30 until 7.00 the hundreds of young and old grads were conducted to the receiving line by a corps of ushers, there to be presented to Mayor Childs, Director of Secondary Education Francis L. Bacon, Principal Irving O. Palmer of the High School, Associate Principal Michael W. Murray, Mrs. I. O. Palmer, Mrs. Helen Hutchinson, a member of the school committee, and Miss Margaret McGill.

At 7 o'clock the assemblage proceeded from the gymnasium, where the reception had been held, to the cafeteria, where seated by classes, an enjoyable dinner was partaken of. Some of the graduates who had not seen one another for years would have found re-introductions necessary were it not for the little identification cards which were provided. Time had dealt more lightly with some than with others.

The dinner having been concluded, the 650 Newton High "boys" and "girls" went upstairs to the beautiful new auditorium where for an hour the Alumni Orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Charles Harrington, gave a delightful program. Mr. Harrington explained that the orchestra has had but few rehearsals. In view of this fact, the character of the music and the excellence of its rendition presages a very successful future for the Alumni Orchestra. All former members of the school, possessing musical ability, were extended an invitation to join.

Following the concert, Mr. Bacon introduced Mayor Childs as toastmaster. The Mayor told of some good advice he had received from Miss Jennie Ireson regarding brevity in speaking.

He then read a letter from Mrs. Catherine Lee Bates of Wellesley, whom he called the School's most distinguished alumnus and in whose honor, a verse of "America the Beautiful," was sung. Mrs. Bates is the author of that well known hymn.

There was also another letter from "Emma Johnson" of Hartford, a former well beloved teacher.

Other letters were read from Mr. Edward J. Goodwin, who as principal of the school in the 90s won the respect of those who taught and studied under him; Miss Frances P. Owen of Brunswick, Maine, who retired last year after 35 years of faithful service, and from another former principal—S. Warren Davis of West Newton, eulogized by Mayor Childs as "A great teacher, and as one who showed us how to be a gentleman at all times and under all conditions."

Mr. Davis' letter was received with the heartiest applause of the evening.

The first speaker called upon was William Park '26, now a student at Williams. Mr. Park in a brief and witty speech asserted that the magnificent new building which had aroused the admiration of those present, was erected because the Class of 1926 had attained such heights of perfection, that some added incentive must be provided for the classes following. Mayor Childs then introduced Mrs. Walter B. Warren, who was Catherine Hooper '95. Mrs. Warren amused the audience with a clever impersonation of an irate wife endeavoring to obtain over the telephone an explanation from a husband who had concocted a tale of an overnight business trip to permit him to indulge in a poker game. Miss Margaret McGill ,a former popular teacher, now in charge of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union at Bostin, reminisced of her experiences at Newton High and expressed her gratitude to her former pupils for their manifestations of appreciation for her work with them.

Herbert Hansen '23, told of the Newton boys at Dartmouth and their loyalty to the old high school. Dorothy Stebbins '20, arrayed in a gown which in the gay 90's was considered real stunning, caused much merriment with her clever monologue. Mayor Childs next introduced Judge Thomas Weston, remarking that the judge and he are cousins, but neither is responsible for this fact. Mr. Weston sustained his reputation as a wit, keeping his auditors laughing with humorous stories and sallies. Mr. Samuel Thurber, supervisor of the English Department in the school, told of the growth of the high school since he started as a member of its teaching staff 24 years ago. When he came there were 32 teachers and 800 pupils. Now the school has a faculty of 132 and a student enrolment of over 2300. Of the 132 teachers, 57 are men, a decided contrast to the old days, when nearly all the teachers were women. He referred to the greatly increased library facilities now enjoyed. In place of one small library, poorly supplied, and little patronized, students now have the privilege of studying in two large, well stocked libraries, presided over by trained librarians. Mr. Thurber dwelt on the different manner in which pupils of the present

SCOUT CONFERENCE

Girl Scouts of Newton Will Have Charge of Metropolitan District Conference Next Week

The Newton Girl Scouts are looking forward eagerly to the New Year, for during the very first week of 1927 the first Girls' Conference of the Metropolitan District will be held right here in Newton at the High School. Three hundred and seventy delegates are expected to attend the conference from other cities and towns in the district, and for three glorious days, January 7th, 8th, and 9th, they will live, work and play together with their Newton hostesses.

This is the girls' own conference, and the problems of housing, transportation, program, and entertainment are being worked out by the scouts themselves with whatever aid they may request from their parents and scout officers. The evening session on January 8th will be open to the scout public, and a program for this occasion has been arranged which includes the pageant of the American flag which was given by the Newton scouts at the rally on December 3d. Offers of help and co-operation have been received from the local Boy Scout Council and from many citizens who are not otherwise connected with scouting.

Miss Ethel de Mille of Newton Centre has been chosen the general Chairman for the Conference. Miss Janice Upham of Waban is chairman of the Housing Committee with Miss Caroline Freeman as advisor and Miss Marion Frost, chairman of Transportation with Mrs. Leslie Cobb Warren as advisor. These two committees are so important and have so much work that a subcommittee has been appointed in each village to assist.

In Newton, Katherine Sprague is local chairman of Housing with Mrs. Sprague as advisor and Virginia Brown has charge of Transportation.

ALUMNI DEFEATED

Last night in the old high school gymnasium the high school track team defeated the alumni 41 to 36 in one of the closest meets that ever was run. The alumni went into the lead early in the evening by taking eight points in the shotput when Hardy and deMille finished one, two. Hardy added to the alumni's lead when he took first in the broad jump with a leap of 9 feet, 8 inches. In the high jump the schoolboys nearly tied it up as all Henrich of the alumni could get was a third place. Hammond won this event for the undergraduates at a height of 5 feet, 8 inches. Gallagher, now of Dartmouth, had little difficulty in taking the 30-yard hurdles. It was expected that Walter McQuiston, also a Dartmouth man, would push Gallagher hard, but after nosing out his college mate in the first heat and taking a false start in the final heat he had to be content with third place as Cole of the schoolboy runners edged him out.

Cole showed that he is not a flash in the pan and that he has in him the ability of a crack sprinter as in the 30-yard dash semi-final he forced McQuiston to do 3 9/10 seconds to qualify for the finals which McQuiston won in the same time over Sears and Fullerton.

The 300-yard run was a clean-up for the high school with Kollmyer, Bierstow and Brookings finishing in that order. This event was run in two heats against time. Rising of Bowdoin pushed the victor hard for two laps in the first heat but slipped and fell on one of the old banks and was out of it. In the second heat McQuiston also took a spill which eliminated the alumni from any possible point scoring.

The 600-yard run was easily captured by John Duane of Boston College with Sears, another alumnus taking second. McManus of Newton added a point by taking third.

The schoolboys scored another cleanup in the 1000-yard run with Hession, Maybe and Confree finishing in that order. These nine points tied the count with 36 points each and the relay teams lined up for the final event.

Kollmyer for the schoolboys and Duane for the alumni led off and ran the two laps on practically even terms. Kollmyer had the pole and managed to beat Duane to the first bank which gave the high school the lead. He touched off Mullin about two strides before Duane reached Hardy. This pair also ran about even but Hardy could not pass the little undergraduate. Cole was the third runner for the high school and he again proved his mettle. It was a rare sight to see him skim around the two laps and open up a lead of over twenty yards over Fay. Fay nearly took a header on the second time around which gave Cole at least five yards of his lead. McQuiston had no chance to gain on Captain Fullerton of the school team and the race and the meet went to the undergraduates.

Between two of the events, A. W. Bell, a graduate of Newton high in 1913, gave an exhibition half-mile walk in an effort to break the track record of 3 min., 28 2/5 sec., set by C. V. Moore in 1894. Bell took the first two laps at a terrific pace and it probably lost him his chance to set a new mark as, although he made a strong finish, he slowed down considerably at the quarter-mile mark and his time was nine seconds slower than the record. Bell is a member of the B. A. A. track team and holds the 1926 New England indoor half-mile walk championship for 1926 and held the outdoor title in 1925.

The summary:

"Y" WINS TWO

The Y. M. C. A. first and second teams each won their game from the first and second teams of the Somerville Y on the local court Wednesday night. The first team won from the visitors 34 to 30. Ray Wellman at left forward excelled for Newton scoring twelve baskets from the floor and two from free tries. Newton led 21 to 12 at halftime but the Somerville team let loose in the final session and nearly pulled up onto even terms. Bennett, who played best for Somerville with eight baskets from the floor and three from the foul line, made several baskets in rapid succession but to no avail. Phil Hardy played a great game at guard for Newton and helped considerably in saving off a threatening defeat.

The second team had a somewhat easier battle defeating the visiting aggregation 36 to 13. Connearney with twelve points and Purcell with ten led the attack for Newton.

The local teams journey to Quincy next Wednesday night to mix with the Granite City outfit in a Two-State league affair. A real stiff game is promised as the Quincy team auspiciously opened their season several weeks ago by taking over the Brockton outfit in a fast game.

"Y" WRESTLERS LOSE

At the Boston Y. M. C. U. last night the Newton Y wrestling team was defeated by the Boston team 9 to 0. In the feature match in the 175-lb. class Robert Andricks of the Boston team won the decision over Captain Gus Carlson of Newton after a hard struggle. The 160-pound class offered some good bouts. P. Germain of the Christian Union won a decision over Vachon and C. Lucas of the Union winning from H. Chapin by the same route. The only fall match was won by S. Salano of Boston over F. Patterson in a 15-minute struggle in the 135-pound class. Smith of the Union defeated Cassidy of Newton in this class by a decision.

SPORT NOTES

Close upon the heels of the announcement of the re-appointment of Leo Hughes to coach the Brookline high school hockey team comes word that Edgar Burkhardt, another former Newton high school star puck-chaser will again coach the Belmont high school six. Burkhardt will be under another former Newton high athlete, "Polly" Harris, who is now achieving noteworthy success with the Belmont athletic teams of which he is the director.

Monday evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A. court two Church League basketball games were played. The St. John's Methodist of Watertown five swamped their opponents, Central Congregational of Newtonille, by a score of 62 to 8. Thurlow and Sherman, forwards on the victorious quintet were the outstanding scorers. The former tallied eleven baskets from the floor and six on free tries for 28 points while Sherman netted eleven points. In the other affair the Newtonville Methodist team easily defeated the Eliot Congregational of Newton outfit 28 to 9. "Red" Becker, center for the Numec team tallied eleven points, while Ham at forward followed him closely with nine. The victory puts the Numec five in the lead in the league race with a margin of two full games over the Needham Congregationalists, the only other undefeated team in the league.

Dick Rogers of West Newton, a sophomore at Dartmouth and captain of last year's freshman hockey team is among the twelve greater Boston boys who make up the major part of the Green's varsity ice squad. He has a good chance of playing a lot of hockey for the Hanover outfit this season.

The new banks on the Newton high school track met with full approval of the alumni contestants in the annual alumni meet last night. Many expressions of admiration were heard on all sides. Not only do the new turns eliminate a great amount of danger of fouling and spilling but they also make for faster times.

In the matter of faster times it may be said that since the improvements will undoubtedly cause new records to be set the present holders of the track event marks are assured that they will never be broken. When the new banks at the south end of the hall are completed the track will be somewhat shorter than heretofore and th times recorded at the coming interclass meet will establish records for the new track. It will be exceedingly interesting to compare these marks with the old records. Undoubtedly there will be a difference of some seconds.

As there is no outstanding star on this year's high school track team with the possible exception of Captain Wally Fullerton, it is probable that the new records will not last for many years. Fullerton alone has an even chance of setting a mark that will remain at the top for more than a few years at the outside.

Although Fullerton is the only outstanding performer for the orange and black who is expected to create much of a furore on the boards this winter the team as a whole is well-balanced and should do well in the coming dual meets. Excellent competition was given them last night and such competition at the outset of the season will do a great deal toward helping each athlete to find himself as well as to give the coaches Dickinson and Enoch, a true idea of their capabilities.

At the Newton Centre Squash Tennis club on Wednesday night Edward Wales of the Newton Centre Club won his semifinal match of the Middlesex Bowl tournament from P. E. Cullinan of the Union Boat Club, 15-5, 15-6, 15-12.

Yesterday at the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club in the Middlesex Bowl tournament Myles P. Baker and Ralph Powers of the B. A. A. and P. B. Watson, Jr., of the Harvard Club, entered the semi-final round. All were seeded players and rank one, two and four in the state rankings. Baker, state champion, will meet Watson, and Powers will meet Wales to determine the finalists.

Dartmouth defeated Williams in a hockey game at Lake Placid on Wednesday 2 to 1 and it is interesting to note that each goal was caged by a Newton youth. Williams took the lead early in the first period when Bill Blaney of Waban, centre ice for the Purple, netted a pretty shovel shot. Dick Rogers, captain of last year's Green freshman sextet scored twice in quick succession in the third period by unassisted rushes through the right wing. He was easily the outstanding performer for the Hanover six, while Blaney played best for the Berkshire hills college.

Once again Dick Rogers shone in defeating Williams. Dartmouth's hockey team shut out the Purple yesterday at Lake Placid 8 to 0. Rogers tallied three times.

Not alone did the Dartmouth-Williams hockey game reflect glory on Newton. Harvard and McGill universities staged an affair in the Arena on Wednesday evening that, although Harvard was defeated by a 4 to 3 scor Harvard was defeated by a 4 to 3 score, Newton boys had much to say about it. Ted Gross of West Newton, who started the game at left wing for the Crimson, sunk the first score in the first period. Crosby, one of the several brothers from West Newton, on the opposite wing from Gross, scored the third tally in the following period, shortly after Hamlen had made the count two to nothing. Captain Bill Ellison started at right defense but later gave way to substitutions. Coady was on the ice in this position part of the time.

Henry Johnson of Waban has been playing some great tennis at Baltimore this week in the national indoor championships. He reached the quarter finals without experiencing much difficulty in his first four rounds. In the quarter final matches on Wednesday he scored one of the most unexpected of upsets by defeating Donald Strachan of Philadelphia, protege of Bill Tilden in a three-set match. The first set went to Johnson, 6-2. He dropped the second to Strachan winning but one game. In the third set he slashed his way to victory 6-4.

Malcolm Hill, another Waban youth, also reached the quarter finals where he was put out of the running by Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore, who has been picked as the possible champion.

In the junior doubles tourney Hill and Johnson won their second round match on Wednesday, defeating Baker and Underwood of Brooklyn in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1.

Johnson was put out of the running for the junior tennis title yesterday afternoon by losing to Frank Shields of New York. The victor allowed the Waban youth but seven points in the first set. Johnson captured the second set after a hard fight, 7-5, but lost the third, 4-6.

Hill and Johnson will meet Smith and Jacobs in the final match of the doubles tourney this afternoon. The Waban pair defeated Coen and Strachan in a semi-final round match yesterday.

Three games will be played next week in the Church league basketball race at the Newton "Y." Monday night the Needham Congregationalists and the Watertown Methodists will play off a postponed game. On Friday night, which will be the regular league night for the rest of the season, the Needham Congregationalists will meet the Watertown Baptists in one game, and the Eliot and Central Congregational teams will meet in the other.

The annual New Year's Open House will be observed at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening. The program in the gymnasium will enable those who attend to see what the Association does for men and boys in a physical way. From 7.30 to 8.00 the younger boys will stage a demonstration of their work. At 8 o'clock the boys will leave the floor and take to the swimming pool. Fifteen minutes of volley-ball by the business men will follow. In conclusion a basketball team picked from the "Y" squad will play the Baraca Class of Waltham.

Faith Stone, N. H. S. '26, has been elected captain of the freshman archery team at Mount Holyoke college.

Tom Gilligan will not play hockey or run for Exeter this winter. The former Newton football captain is to undergo an operation on his nose next week which will keep him out of athletics until the baseball season rolls around. The operation is the result of an injury he received a few years ago and which was aggravated again this past fall.

After the meet last night dancing was enjoyed in the new gymnasium. Dick Powers' orchestra furnished the music.

On the St. Lawrence University hockey team is Al King of Newton. Playing one of the defense positions he has proved to be the stumbling block of the forward lines of the various small colleges in that vicinity. While at Newton he never indulged in the ice game, but under Mr. Dickinson he played a prominent part in the football activities, filling the fullback's position and acting as the forward passer of the team for two seasons. He has been on the varsity at the university for the two previous seasons and is accounted one of the best athletes in the school.

Another Newton boy is playing for the Terriers in town. George "Junie" Crampton, who for two years covered the right wing at Hebron Academy, is patroling the same lane for Boston University. Junie spent some years at Newton then transferred to Huntington School in Boston where he played football and later hockey. At

NEW YEARS' RESOLUTIONS

For Press Chairmen. That they will have ADVANCE NOTICES of Club meetings in the hands of the Column Editor on the first mail on Monday of the week in which they wish them to appear. That they will have reports of past meetings in her hands within twenty-four hours of the events. That they will "put their Club" on the map for every doing. That they will thereby make the Club Editor happy—and themselves sigh in relief for duty well done!

For the Club Editor. That she will be forgiving of delinquent press chairman. That she will rewrite many reports so that when their writers read them they will think they are splendid and just as they gave it to her—full of something besides triteness! That she will be happy in the New Year if the press chairmen will live up to their above resolutions.

For All Club Women. That they will never be hurt by unkind criticisms. That they will go on loving those who are jealous. That they will not retaliate with criticism, but will owe no fellow Club woman anything but a kind thought. That they will boost the Club and not themselves!

With which, your Editor wishes everyone a Happy New Year, one filled with dreams come true, with no illusions dispelled, with hopes fulfilled, with sadness turned to joy, with anxiety changed to peace, with sorrow comforted, and the healing of good intentions making bright the onward journey.

Benefit Shop

NOTICE OF CHANGE IN HOURS. Beginning January 8th the Benefit Shop will Not be open on Saturday afternoons, but will be open in the even- of Saturday from 7 to 9 o'clock. On Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons the Shop will be open from one to four o'clock, as usual. The Monday evening opening has already been discontinued. The Editor wishes for the Benefit Shop a most prosperous New Year, and to that end once again repeats the plea for contributions to be sent to 895 Washington Street, Newtonville, that it may continue its good work, live long, and prosper!

GENERAL FEDERATION

Department of American Home

Secretary Herbert Hoover, in whose department is the Census Bureau of the United States, is receiving the surprise of his life in the floods of letters pouring in to Washington in endorsement of the efforts of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to list the American Home-maker in the next census as having a definite occupation and as contributing definitely to the nation's social and economic progress.

National organizations of both men and women are adopting resolutions and offering individual support to the movement. The Central Supply Association, an organization of manufacturers and wholesalers of plumbing and heating supplies, was the first to adopt a ringing resolution in favor of the campaign put on by the General Federation.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the Federation, says:

"The standard of efficiency in the great industrial, commercial and professional workshops has been attained because the government through the census is constantly revealing their needs. Giving the Home-makers a status and recognizing home-making as an industry will place the needed emphasis upon the home as the basic unit of society and government.

"The Home will continue to be inadequately equipped until it has similar recognition in the machinery of the government that serves and protects the American people.

"There are nearly three million women in the various women's clubs of the country the majority of them home-makers, who, when given such recognition as is being asked from the government, would be stimulated to better equipped homes, higher standards of living and a more profound determination to lead in their profession."—General Federation Headquarters News Service.

There have been many true—and humorous—comments in the past as to the absurdity of classifying housewives under "no vocation," so that the following poem, written by an Idaho woman, will be found amusing. Even though she has chosen to cite the "lazy" days spent by a farmer's wife, in support of the masculine classification of said wife, what she brings forward equally applies to all wives and mothers not only of this generation, but since the Puritans spun the cloth from which they made the family wardrobes.

"The farmer's wife at early dawn
Gets up and calls the men;
She puts the children's lunches up
And goes and sets a hen.

"She milks a half a dozen cows
And helps to cut the spuds;
She does the washing, cooks the food,
And sews the family duds.

"She plants the garden, pulls the weeds
Attends to the ducks and geese;
She makes the butter, sells the eggs,
In winter frys out grease.

"The fruit's to pick in summertime,
And vegetables to dry;
And in the fall the meat's to cure,
And pumpkins, too, for pie.

"She goes to town on Saturday,
For a little recreation.
She is put down in the census books
As having no vocation."

State Federation

Do we always appreciate all the efforts made by our Club Officers who give so generously of time, thought, ability, and all the qualities of soul and mind? It was brought home a bit forcibly recently in reading that up to December first our State President, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, had already travelled since her election last May, in the interests of her organization, 4,181 miles, railroad mileage. In making this intimate confession, Mrs. Potter adds that she feels that the growing demands for administrative work, for wiring, for broadcasting, and in all duties, of the presidential office, will soon make it well nigh impossible for the State executive to visit Clubs as frequently as in the past. While we recognize the truth of this dire prophecy, it is with regret that we think of a day coming when all Club women can not know intimately, and have cause to rejoice over the sterling qualities of the one they elect to lead their Federation.

Art

Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, chairman of the Art Department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, announces that the loan exhibitions for the Federation Headquarters on Boylston St., Boston, for January include the following: a painting, "The House on High Street," by Elizabeth Paxton, of Newton Centre, a member of the Boston Guild of Artists; under arts and crafts work, an exhibit of fine samples of old lace, loaned by Mrs. John Bainbridge, of Hingham, and book ends, modeled in plaster, loaned by Mrs. Solomon Fuller, sculptor, of Framingham.

CONFERENCE. Newton Clubwomen may like to know about an all day Conference of the Sixth District, including 57 federated Clubs, of the Mass. State Federation, which is called for January 4th at Chauncy Hall, Boston, (Mrs. Carl L. Watson, director of district, presiding), which they may wish particularly to attend. The morning session at 10 o'clock, has for speakers State and General Federation Officers, including Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter (State president), Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, (Gen. Fed. Secretary), Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, (Gen. Fed. director), Mrs. Clarence Clark, Mrs. A. A. Packard, and Mrs. Carl Schrader, (State Vice-Presidents). Fifteen department chairmen will speak briefly. Mrs. Ralph Reed and Mrs. Harry A. Burnham will talk on the American Home.

Governor Alvan T. Fuller and Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols are expected. Senator Gasper G. Bacon will address the Conference on "Women in Legislature." Mr. Franklin Porter and Mrs. Frank Scanlon will debate "Jury Service for Women." Mrs. Robert H. Culbert will present "Law Observance."

Minnie Stratton Watson, Contralto, will sing, and Mr. Frank Watson, eminent pianist, will play at the close of the Conference, after which tea will be served by the Hostess Club, (Woman's Auxiliary to the Canadian Club, Mrs. Rupert D. Foster, president).

There will be round table discussions at noon with department chairmen and luncheon at Grace Horne's Studio.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club was held at the Central Church on Tuesday, December 21st, at 2.30 P. M. This meeting was the occasion of the annual Christmas Party for fifty deserving children, and it is safe to say that they enjoyed every minute, from the time the conveyances, arranged for by Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick, brought them to the church until they were safely returned home.

The Music Committee arranged for some of the girls from the Perkins Institute for the Blind to come and sing, and gave each girl a box of candy. Mrs. Frederick A. Tennant had charge of bringing these girls to and from the party. Mr. George E. Shattuck, of the Newton High School, entertained the children delightfully, telling by means of pictures the travels of the three fir trees and the two little wayfarers in their search for Santa Claus. Then came the refreshments of ice cream, cookies, candy and oranges served by the Volunteer Service Committee, and to every child this constitutes the real "party." However, the climax of the afternoon arrived when Miss Marion Bassett as Santa Claus officiated at the Christmas Tree which was beautifully decorated by the Flower Committee. Each little girl received a doll and each little boy a toy, while every child was given a package of used toys and clothing to be opened at home.

The success of the afternoon was due to the efforts of the Christmas Party Committee with Mrs. Arthur W. Chamberlain as chairman, and to the generosity and co-operation of members of the Club, local merchants, etc. In addition to the $151.85 given, used toys and clothes, the ice cream, oranges, barley candy, Christmas stockings, etc., were all donated. The delight of the children in receiving the gifts surely rewarded those who worked so hard for the success of the affair.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Wycliffe J. Spaulding of Wolcott street, was hostess on Tuesday morning to the members of the Auburndale Review Club and their guests. During a recent trip to the Yosemite Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding had taken many pictures, particularly of the wonderful trees, noted for their size, and also of the several waterfalls. As Mrs. Spaulding threw these pictures on a screen she gave a very informal talk concerning their trip. An additional pleasure for the morning were the two piano selections by Mrs. Franklin Leland.

COMING EVENTS

Christian Era Study Club

Miss Susie C. Johnson not only entertains the members of the Christian Era Study Club by opening her home, 84 Grove street, for their meeting on the 3rd of January, but she reads for their entertainment and information a paper on "The Continental Congress." A second paper, carrying forward the subject for the year—"The War of American Independence"—will be given by Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, under the title: "The Declaration of Independence." Surely in this year of centennials, and sesqui-centennials, and all manner of patriotic observances, the Club could not have found a more timely subject for their attention.

Waban Woman's Club

Literature holds the attention of the members of the Waban Woman's Club on the same date—January 3rd—when the Literature Committee, under the chairmanship of Miss Dorothy Rice, presents Dr. Samuel McCord Crothers in a lecture on "The Unfailing Charm of Some Novels." Dr. Crothers is pastor of the First Parish Church of Cambridge, is himself a writer, and in both capacities will be sure to appreciate all that represents the finer ideals in literature—in fact, TRUE literature, which it is now generally conceded means books that leave one better for the reading, not disgusted, or cynical, whatever the so-called knowledge of technique displayed by the disappointing author. Tea will be served in the usual—and always delightful—social hour which follows the program.

The third of the fascinating journeys to the Art Museum for members of the Waban Woman's Club is scheduled for Monday, January 10th. The Class will meet at 2 o'clock at the Museum for the lecture, after which tea will be served in the Lunch Room, at 35 cents. Members planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Chester Churchill, Tel. C. N. 0264-W. The subject for the day's study will be "Jade and Lacquer", which should prove most interesting, as well as beautiful to behold, in the many fine specimens housed, by this fortunate Treasure Chest.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

In the evening, at the Club Room in Emerson School Building, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club also chooses Literature for their subject of study and entertainment, for the 3rd of January. Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, for the past three years a Director of the State Federation, will speak on "The Season's Novels." Mrs. James H. McLaughlin, chairman of Community Service Committee, is in charge of this program.

A Special Event of the Club is scheduled for January 10th, in a Whist Party to be held in the Club Room at 8 P. M., under the management of Mrs. Robert F. Sawyer, chairman.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club will hold its mid-winter business meeting on Tuesday, January 4th, at 10.30 A. M. at the home of Mrs. Samuel Dike, 113 Hancock St. Members are requested to come with suggestions for topics for study this coming year.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

After a several weeks' respite from active Club work, the members will gain assemble on Tuesday for the first meeting of the New Year. The meeting will be one of the five, to which daughters of members will be admitted upon the payment of a small fee, the only restrictions being that a Club member accompanies them and that they are pupils in either High School or the upper grades of Hyde.

Bhaska Pandurang Hivale, a native of Bombay, India, is to address the company on "India: Its Peoples and Customs," and is said to be a fluent speaker, having lectured extensively both in this country and Canada since coming to these shores to do post-graduate work. He is a graduate of the University of Bombay and later, of Andover Theological Seminary, and is now studying for a degree at Harvard.

The same afternoon, the third food sale of the winter, will be held in the small room adjoining the lecture hall, and as before, will be in charge of the Philanthropic Committee, under the direction of Mrs. George G. Sherman, Chairman. Announcement of this opportunity will be most welcome, as wise housewives among Club members have long since learned to appreciate!

Newtonville Woman's Club

Hail, lovers of Dickens! Come and renew old memories under the guidance of Professor Frank Cheney Hersey of Harvard University at 2.30 P.M. on Tuesday, January 4th, 1927 at the Newtonville Woman's Club. Hail, acquaintances of Dickens! Come and learn to be Dicken's friend. Mr. Hersey's presentation and pictures will delight you. Start the new year right by giving Mr. Hersey and Dickens a rousing welcome.

Glee Club rehearsals will be resumed the first Friday in January.

EDITORIALS

We recall that as a child the days and the seasons seemed to pass ever so slowly. It was a long ways between Christmas and Fourth of July and the summer vacation was always in the dim future. But with the passing of the years, time has seemed to move faster and faster, until now the New Year is always just over the horizon. We hardly get used to writing the date as 1926, when it is time to make it 1927, and the Happy New Years crowd each other as old Father Time marches on with relentless step. It is once more time for us to wish all our readers the most Happy New Year of their lives, and to which we add the wish that no matter how fast the days go by, each New Year will be happier than all that have gone before.

—o—

We congratulate Mr. Bacon and his associates at the High School on the great success of the reunion of the High School Alumni. It is a formidable undertaking to notify 6500 persons even when the addresses are known, and when in a case like this, names are changed by marriage, and addressed have to be literally "dug out," it is quite an undertaking. It was a most enjoyable occasion for many old grads to meet their former classmates as well as to renew acquaintance with beloved teachers.

ALDERMEN HOLD SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the aldermen was called Wednesday night primarily for the purpose of renewing the permit of the Boston & Worcester Street Railway to run buses through this city; its present permit expiring January 1st. The aldermen voted to renew the permit, and incidently not the Boston & Worcester, but the Middlesex & Boston received more attention at the meeting. Alderman Heathcote criticised the M. & B., asserting that it was catering to residents of Waltham and discriminating against its patrons who reside in those parts of this city served by other than the lines running to Waltham. He referred to the greatly increased service accorded to Walthamites since the bus service has been established, and contrasted this with much inferior service which he claims is given to persons who must use the Lower Falls line. He also inquired why the tracks have not been removed on those streets where electric car service has been supplanted by bus service?

President Pratt remarked that the removal of the tracks is an executive matter. Alderman Favinger, commenting on the attack on the M. & B. by the member from Ward 4, stated that no specific failure to provide proper service had been mentioned. The Ward 4 alderman replied by asserting that during the recent snowstorm, Lower Falls was without car service for at least a couple of hours. President Pratt suggested that the nineteen members of the present Board who will return next year (not including himself) constitute a special committee to improve transportation facilities in the city.

"God wills, and man fulfills." The week before Christmas, the Street Department was forced to drop 95 men because the appropriation for construction work had become exhausted. The 95 who did not have a "Merry Christmas," will have a trifle more cheer at "New Year." The last snow storm necessitated their temporary employment for a few days, and also compelled the Aldermen to appropriate Wednesday night $12,000 more for the removal of snow and ice. Other appropriations were $150 to settle the claim for damage to an automobile owned by Mr. Dwyer. Said damages were caused by an air compressor owned by the city colliding with the auto. For miscellaneous accounts of the Water Department $4000 was appropriated.

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

The Newton Central Council is planning a meeting of unusual interest and importance on the evening of Tuesday, January 25, to which all are cordially invited. An informal dinner will be served in the cafeteria of the Newton High School, followed by a conference on, "The Church and Social Service." The Clergymen of the city will be special guests of the Council and will participate in the conference together with the Social Workers of the city. Problems of vital interest will be discussed. Save the date, January 25, and plan now to be present.

The best success in the world for any good work is not to have to do it. This is not wholly true of the Christmas Clearing House run by the Newton Central Council during the pre-holiday season just past. But it is true that the idea of checking up on Christmas dinner giving has spread so that a number of societies are checking up with each other before sending in their lists of names for Christmas baskets, to the Council office. This means that there are not nearly so many duplications left to be checked by the Council. Yet there were fifty this year,— and, sad to say, some of them were checked only as the clock struck twelve on the "day before;" and therefore the dinners were on their way and some families did, perhaps, get two. So it is even more important to "do your Christmas clearing early" than to do your Christmas shopping early. It wouldn't so much matter that some family with a great many hungry children got two dinners; but when the Council office counted up the number of needy families for which there was no provision there were twenty-seven,—and thirty dollars was all the money in sight for the dinners of the twenty-seven families, each one of which may have had from 1 to 10 children. If clearing had been done early then these twenty-seven families could have had some of the extra dinners sent by mistake to families for whom provision was already made.

There are 366 names of families on the card index in the Council office, which is the outward and visible form of the Christmas Clearing House for 1926. When some one comes in at the last moment and wants 50 names checked up, and some one is waiting on the telephone to hear about a family, and at the door appears another person with money in hand, to get the names of some families not already provided for, then there is a great deal of excitement among the cards in the indev. They fall over one another in their hurry. Some stand upright and others come out of the box altogether. In the end there are cards in all sorts of positions, marked in all sorts of ways; and it takes a long time to get order into the camp again and to have the cards all in line for the next check-up, and ready to tell their story at an instant's notice.

The Council does not give out names except when requested by some relief organization, nor does it dispense money itself for relief; but through the Clearing House, the Council is in a position to know which families have had dinners planned for them and which have not, and therefore it has fallen more and more to the Council to bring together those who want to give and those who need gifts. One hundred and two names were submitted (almost all by the City Charity Dept.,) of families needing dinners, and of these one-hundred-and- two all were provided for on the day before Christmas, except the twenty-seven referred to above.

Would you not like to have gone to market with Miss Fitzgerald, the Overseer of the Poor, on the afternoon before Christmas, and have seen how far she made the small sum of money go which was handed over to her to buy Christmas baskets for her needy families?

CHRISTMAS SERVICE

Some Newton children know what it means to be cold, and a Christmas gift of a pair of new shoes, or a sweater, or warm underclothing is a real happiness for a long time. Some of the money sent to the Newton Welfare Bureau for Christmas work was used to make Newton children comfortable at Christmas by supplying warm, substantial clothing.

Contributions of money were made by the Neighborhood Club of Auburndale, Mrs. M. Estelle Seaver, Mr. and Mrs. Allston Burr, the Primary Department and Central Guild of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville, and the churches of Newtonville in their Union Thanksgiving Service.

Contributions of clothing were made by Mrs. Albert Parker, the Waban Woman's Club, Mrs. F. E. Allen, Mrs. Percy Woodward, Blue Triangle Club of the Y. W. C A., Women's Benevolent Society of the First Church in Newton Centre; the Woman's Association of Union Church, Waban; Central Guild of Central Church, Newtonville; and the So and Sew Club of Newton Highlands

Children desire something to play with, and dolls, Teddy bears, trains, puzzles, games, rattles, whistles, Christmas tree ornaments, and other playthings were sent to the Newton children known to the Welfare Bureau by the Rotary Club, pupils of the Underwood School, Master Richard King, Mrs. Llewelyn A. Marr, Mrs. F. E. Allen, Girl Scouts of Newtonville, Blue Triangle Club of the Y. W. C. A., Women's Sunday School Class of the Newtonville Methodist Church, Primary and Junior Departments of the Central Congregational Church of Newtonville, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, and Miss Gene Kenway.

As it would have been impossible for the Ford of the Newton Welfare Bureau to collect and distribute all that came to the office, the Rotary Club considerately took over the task, and Mr. Osgood—Manager of the Garden City Laundry and a Rotarian—gave the use of a truck and two men for two half-days.

Is there a child who does not love to go to a party, to dress up, step into a waiting automobile, and be whirled away to anticipated pleasure? How eager the child is to arrive at the party; how reluctant to leave; but how delighted to tell the home people all about it! Eighteen Newton children were given a Christmas party by the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Invitations were extended to some Newton children to attend a Christmas Party in the Parish House of the Universalist Church.

Thanks to the generosity of individuals, groups, and organizations, ninety-five Newton families sat down to a substantial Christmas dinner. The contributors were Mrs. Richard M. Ott and neighbors; Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban; Mrs. Frank Burton, Mrs. Percy Woodward; Mrs. H. W. Calder; Sunday School of Union Church, Waban; Sunday School Class of Mrs. Powers of the Unitarian Church of Newton Centre; Newton High School; St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands; Blue Triangle Club of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Murray's Sunday School Class of Channing Church, Newton; Sunday School Class of Mrs. R. J. Hamilton of Union Church, Waban; Mrs. Wellington Rindge; Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver; Intermediate Department of the Sunday School Class of the Auburndale Congregational Church; Mrs. Clara L. Richardson; Mrs. Davidson of Second Church, West Newton; The Kappa Omiega Phi Club, Auburndale; So and Sew Club of Newton Highlands; Sunday School Class of Miss Decker of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville; and Girls' Friendly Society.

Much interest was displayed in the whist party to be held at the home of Mrs. Edwin P. Brown, on Washington street, some time shortly after Easter.

NONANTUM CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Playground Department and the Stearns School Centre held their Christmas party at the Stearns School on Wednesday evening, December 21. A series of tableaux on Christmas in Foreign Lands, was given by the children. The first was, "Christmas Eve in Norway." Yuletide in the land of Odin, of the Vikings and the Midnight Sun, is largely of a social nature. The tableau showed a peasant couple and their child feasting on Christmas eve. The table shown was covered with a rare old peasant cloth. Lovely wooden candle sticks and a gleaming old copper coffee pot. The background showed a window with a sheaf of wheat outside, it being the custom in the Northland to remember the birds at Christmas time.

A doorway where two little Dutch children were putting out their wooden shoes for St. Nicholas to fill, depicted Christmas in Holland.

The scene chosen to represent the Italian Christmas was very touching. It showed four little girls, clad in their native costume, worshipping at the altar of the Christ Child, the Italian Christmas being of a religious nature.

Christmas in America was a happy home scene, showing the children with their mother at the fireside hanging up their stockings for Santa to fill.

A group of girls attired in bright red capes, singing Christmas carols, represented Christmas in England.

The Junior Girls' Club, coached by Mrs. Hovgaard, gave a little play, "On Christmas Eve," by Constance D'Arcy McKey. The girls carried their parts out very well. Florence Dezotell, as Robinson Crusoe, seemed to please the audience the most. Yvonne LaCroix was responsible for creating the magic Christmas party for the "little girl," who was Ida Baima. In addition the following girls took part: Margaret Harney, Louise Visco, Geraldine Gallagher, Mary Clair LaCroix, Agnes Laboie, and Elizabeth Thomas.

Tableaux of the Nativity were given by the older boys and girls. "The Annunciation," "The Shepherd in the Field," The Wise Men" and The Flight to Egypt." The colored lights lent to ordinary costumes something of the richness of old paintings.

Christmas wouldn't be Christmas without music. Mary Gannon, and Adam Haug, of the All-Newton Music School, made the violin and the clarionet tell the Christmas story, and also gave some solo selections, which were very much appreciated.

move from room to room than did the pupils of the past. He hoped that the tunnel which was supposed to connect the Classical High with the buildings south of Elm Road will soon be built.

Rev. Raymond Calkins '86, of Cambridge, an old Newton boy, contrasted the original high school building with its comparatively few pupils and teachers, and its simple equipment to the magnificent structures which house the Newton High School today, and to the greatly increased student body and faculty. He paid a tribute to the teachers of his days in the old school and lauded the ability and personality of Mr. Edward H. Cutler, principal at Newton High a generation ago. Herbert McGill '17 related how he had been invited last year to address some of the pupils in the High School, but when he arrived, had been mistaken for a pupil by one of the teachers.

Principal Irving O. Palmer recalled his first assignment as a teacher in the Newton High School in 1897, when it was temporarily housed in the Peirce School at West Newton. Of the 21 teachers then included in the faculty of the school, but three now are teaching—Miss Hazen, Miss Poore and himself. He stated that the efficiency of a school, its service to the public, may be gauged from three angles. First— its attracting power. In some years Newton High has had more pupils enrolled in its freshman class (the 9th grade) than were enrolled in the 8th Grade of the grammar schools of the city the preceding year. This could be partly explained by the fact that some of the pupils had attended private schools, and others were children of new families moving into the city, but it could be seen that nearly all, if not all, of the children in the primary schools of Newton desired to attend Newton High.

The second angle to determine a school's efficiency, according to Mr. Palmer is its "holding power." The proportion of pupils who remain and who graduate. The third proof of a school's effectiveness is its "graduate functioning," evidenced by the proportion of its alumni who enter lines of work which the courses of study they took prepared them for. He related that a graduate student in the Department of Education at Harvard University, had in 1921 devoted much time in making a study of high schools of different kinds scattered all over the United States. This investigation covered a period of a number of years to obtain fair average conditions. The results of this investigation showed that of the many schools studied, Newton High led in efficiency as judged by its ability to hold the pupils who entered it, and also as regarded its graduates functioning along those lines for which they had prepared. In conclusion Mr. Palmer expressed his thanks to the alumni for the exceedingly pleasant thirty years he has spent with them in his work at Newton High.

Director Francis L. Bacon, when called upon, stated that because of the lateness of the hour, he would not make the speech he had prepared and which contained considerable information about the school and its work. He expressed his appreciation of the interest manifested by the hundreds who had come to the reunion, and asked those present to assist in enlisting other members of their classes in the organization which is proposed to be formed. He requested each class group to appoint a member to serve on a committee which will effect a temporary organization. He quoted figures to show the excellent record made by students of Newton High in passing the increasingly difficult college examinations, and of the fine standing of the graduates of the school at the higher institutions of learning to which they had gone. The GRAPHIC will print next week some of the interesting figures which Mr. Bacon's speech would have revealed.

Following the speaking, most of those in the audience went to the new gymnasium where dancing was enjoyed. Favors were distributed to those who "tripped the light fantastic."

The committee in charge of the reunion included Director Francis Bacon, Principal Irving O. Palmer, Michael W. Murray, and Miss Eleanor Cox, temporary secretary of the Alumni. others on the committee were: Warren Oliver, tickets; Charles B. Harrington, music; Mrs. Grace Kuntz and Miss Cotton, dancing; Miss Jeanie Kenrick and Miss Maida Flanders, reception; Miss Gladys Davis and Edward Blue, decorations; Maynard Maxim, mailing; Wallace Richmond, ushers.

POLICE NEWS

Rosamund Tucker, 20, of 163 Dean road, Brookline, was fined $10 in the Newton Court Tuesday morning by Judge Weston. Last September as Motorcycle Officer Larry O'Donnell was patrolling Commonwealth avenue, he stopped a speeding car driven by the Tucker girl at the corner of the avenue and Walnut street. According to his testimony, he asked the young lady to produce her license. She did not produce the license. Instead she stepped on the gas, and sped down the avenue leaving the policeman flabbergasted. He went to the courthouse and had a complaint isued against her. The summons was sent to her home, but she did not appear in court. Instead came the information that she had departed to Vassar College. Officer O'Donnell naturally felt somewhat peeved at the manner in which Miss Tucker had taken her departure on the day he had apprehended her, so with the coming of the Christmas holidays he started to carefully scan the society columns of the Boston papers, having a hunch that therein he might see some mention of Miss Tucker's homecoming from Vassar. He had the right hunch, and as soon as he saw an item telling of her return he took steps to have the case tried. The charge of not having a license in her possession, Judge Weston placed on file, as Miss Tucker showed that she had her license renewed two days before she was stopped by the officer for speeding.

SCIENCE AND RELIGION

A discussion of the question, "Can modern science and the Christian religion be reconciled?" will enliven the service next Sunday evening at the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale at 7.30 P. M. Dr. Henry Hallam Saunderson, famous as the editor of the Wayside Pulpit, has agreed to let Rev. Earl Harper shoot questions at him, voicing the doubts and difficulties which many men feel.

A recent article by Dr. Saunderson in a popular religious weekly led to the challenge to discuss the problem. His writings are constructive and vigorous. His most recent books are published by the Century Company, New York, and are entitled "The Power of an Endless Life" and "The Living Word: The Bible Abridged." When an enquirer asked Dr. Cadman to recommend a shorter Bible in the familiar stately language, Dr. Cadman replied, "The best one I know is by Dr. Henry Hallam Saunderson. It is adapted for devotional and pulpit reading and every page is replete with religious interest and benefit." Next Sunday evening Dr. Saunderson will read the scripture lesson from his own edition of the Bible.

He is known nationally as the editor of the Wayside Pulpit, a system of church bulletin boards used by many denominations. Dr. Cadman declares that the churches owe Dr. Saunderson a great debt of gratitude for the Wayside Pulpit.

—At the Newton Centre Unitarian Church next Sunday morning, January 2, the minister, Rev. G. L. Parker, will have as the topic for his sermon, "If I Were King in 1927," a sermon for the new year. All Americans believe in democracy. It is our chosen way of government, but every citizen sometimes feels that if he only had the power he could accomplish vast improvements. The question suggested by the topic, and to be briefly discussed, is how far this personal autocracy and public opinion can be made to work together. It leads to the thought of what public opinion really is and how much each private citizen can contribute to it. The question of public morals and the question of christian citizenship cannot be partisan nor political, but the Churches have a right to suggest methods of thinking that will contribute to better living.

The boy, when killed, was pulling a small cart which he used in the the delivery of newspapers. In rendering his decision Judge Frost stated that he did not consider the truck to have been driven at an excessive speed when the accident occurred, that Kenney naturally would not suppose anyone would be on the street such a rainy night, and that he was justified in keping the wind shield on the truck closed, although there was no wiper on the windshield. Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin, ruled last year that automobiles not equipped with windshield wipers, must keep the windshields open while being operated in rainy weather.

SCHOOL NOTES

Bigelow School

The Assembly period last week was changed to Thursday and was devoted to Christmas exercises. The program opened with a recitation, "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day," by Pauline Munson of the English Club. This was followed with a Christmas play by members of the Dramatic Club under the leadership of Mrs. Everett. The cast was appropriately selected and all taking part entered into its presentation with enthusiasm. The influence of the Christmas spirit in overcoming selfishness and thoughtless actions was well brought out. Carols by the school were interspersed.

All are looking forward with much interest to the change of hours and schedule after vacation. School will begin every morning, as formerly, at eight-thirty and continue till two o'clock. French is elective in the seventh grade and will be taught by Miss Priscilla Aurelio, a graduate of Wellesley and a student in Paris. There will be two periods each week in Physical Education under the direction of Mr. Baker and Miss Brown. The other subjects will continue without much change for the present.

We are very fortunate in having the new lunch room under the efficient management of Miss Helen Seavey, and all may rest assured that foods suitable for school children will be served each day. Fresh paint, renewed plumbing, new cooking and serving dishes, a Kelvinator of the latest type, an ice cream refrigerator, and other equipment have transformed the old cooking room into a modern kitchen.

The new demonstration table in Room 4, equipped with gas and water conveniences, will add to the interest in science work.

Ralph Waldo Emerson School

The spirit of Christmas has pervaded the school with ever increasing degrees of fullness during the past two weeks. Hand work, music, room projects, and whatnot have all been used in working out the expression of the beautiful Christmas spirit.

Window decorations, room decorations of a varied character, and prettily dressed trees have added brightness and happiness to each room scene.

The kindergarten had a Christmas party and entertainment with distribution of presents from a beautiful dressed tree on Wendesday, at 10.15 o'clock. Many parents were present at these exercises. The kindergarten received a valuable present of a box of large sized and home made building blocks, made by Mr. James Heald, parents of one of the kindergarteners.

Mrs. Frank Fanning presented all the pupils of several class rooms with Christmas cards of her own printing. To the boys of the school, she made a gift of $5.00, to be used for something for the school.

The Christmas entertainment for the whole school was given in the Hall on Thursday forenoon, at 10.15 o'clock. The program opened with carols sung by the entire school. A Christmas pageant, "The Nativity" was given by the kindergarten. "The Toy Shop" was given by Miss Smith's class. The graduating class presented an elaborately worked out "Four Scenes from "Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens, with these as the chief characters; Scrooge, Harold Strombom; Ghost, Clementina Panella; Scrooge's Nephew, Edward Cooper; Bob Cratchit, Abraham Bradshaw; Mrs. Cratchit, Esther Batey other minor characters were introduced. Mrs. Shue's girls' gave a drill. Mrs. Lacroix's class gave "The Christmas Message," a series of songs and recitations. The classes of Miss Doe and Miss Hardy gave a combined number, the play, "What Happened Around the Christmas Tree." Miss Kelly's class had the closing number, the play, "Who Trimmed the Christmas Tree."

MISS SMITH ENGAGED

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Dudley Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carter Smith of Newton Centre to Mr. Henry Savage Chase Cummings of Brookline.

Miss Smith attended the Brimmer School and graduated from Bradford Academy, and from Boston University, class of 1926. Since then she has been teaching at the Children's Museum in Jamaica Plain. This past summer she won, for the sixth time, the National Archery championship.

Mr. Cummings prepared for Harvard at Stuyvesant School, Virginia, from which he graduated in 1917. During the World War he served in the U. S. N. R. F. and is now in the insurance business in Boston. He belongs to the Boston Life Underwriters' Association, Harvard Church Brotherhood, All Saints' Men's Club, Brookline Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Brookline Chapter, O. E. S., Massachusetts Consistory 32 Degree, St. Paul's R. A. Chapter, Aleppo Shrine, and is a Brookline Town Meeting member.

The wedding will take place in June.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Joseph F. Lockett, a member of the school committee from Newton Centre, was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary club held Monday noon, at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Lockett called the attention of the members to the crowded conditions of the Newton schools and the serious problems the city must face in the near future, in the way of a new junior high school on the south side, a new primary or grade school at Chestnut hill, the important matter of transportation of children to school. He also urged the men to take as much of a personal interest in the schools as the mothers are taking, and deplored the lack of interest in civic affairs by the men.

TO CHOW—DR. LOWE'S DOG

(The following lines are written in memory of City Physician, Fred M. Lowe's dog, Chow, who was bitten and torn by three dogs, left in the snow, and finally rescued and brought home, where he died two days later.)

Dear old Chow, you've gone away
To Doggies' Heaven, where you may Forget this world's heartbreaking strife
And lead a peaceful after-life.

To Doctor Lowe you were so true,
That where he went, you would go too.
You'd go right inside City Hall
Where you were loved by one and all.

Small children, on their way to school
Would rumple up your shaggy wool.
They knew that they need have no fear
That you would bring them aught but cheer.

You were so gentle and so good
We don't see how you ever could
Have had a single enemy.
Each of us thought "Chow, friend to me."

If you had lived your life in full,
Our heartstrings would not feel that pull,
But what is such a cruel blight
Is—that you died from unfair fight.

And you were brought home, maimed and sore
To your beloved master's door.
He tried in vain Death's grip to sever
Before he closed your eyes forever.

But now we know 'twas not to be.
And although many a dog we'll see
With kindly eyes and gentle face,
No dog will ever take your place.

How to Play BRIDGE

ARTICLE No. 4

One of the most interesting hands that the writer has come across in a long time was submitted recently, with the request that the proper bidding of all four hands be given. It is as follows:

Y:
Hearts — 9
Clubs — none
Diamonds — A, K, Q, J, 9, 8, 7, 5, 4, 3

A:
Clubs — A, K, Q, J, 8, 7, 6
Diamonds — none

B:
Hearts—A, K, J, 10, 8, 7, 3, 2
Clubs — 3, 2
Diamonds — 6, 2
Spades — 9

Z:
Hearts — 6, 5, 4
Clubs — 10, 9, 5, 4
Diamonds — 10
Spades — 8, 6, 5, 4, 3

No score, first game. Z deals and passes. What is A's proper bid and the natural continuation of the bidding? A should bid one club but with the firm intention of bidding spades on the next round if the opportunity is offered. It is apparently a freak hand all around and if A finds five spades in an opponent's hand and is ruffed in diamonds at once, he may not be able to make game. For that reason, one club seems the better opening bid with A's hand than one spade. When A bids one club, Y is in a position where he wants to shut out any information about hearts or spades so should bid five diamonds. B is in a position where he can safely bid five hearts because of A's bid of one club, showing tops in that suit. Z must pass and A is confronted with the problem of bidding six clubs, five spades or passing. Either bid is sound but the pass seems the better judgment. Next to passing, six clubs is the best bid. Whatever A does, Y should bid six diamonds. The bidding should indicate to him that A-B have an overwhelming hand and it is up to him to save the game, if possible, at the expense of not more than 200 points less his honor score. B should now bid six hearts to show A that the five heart bid was sound. Z and A should now pass and Y, in the writer's opinion, should bid seven diamonds. His maximum loss is 300 points less 80 honors, or a net loss of 220 points. He also has the chance that if A-B overbid with seven in hearts that he and his partner may be able to take a trick. B should double seven diamonds and Z should pass. With A's hand, the writer would also pass. The double of seven diamonds is a certain profit and the bid of seven hearts is doubtful. Always play the certainty in this position. As the cards lie, a bid of seven hearts could be defeated by one trick if Z would open a club. It is a foregone conclusion that either A or B is void of diamonds and the fact that Z has four clubs and the knowledge that there are other void suits around the table would influence a sharp player to open clubs. With any other opening, A-B would make seven hearts. A-B can also make seven clubs with any opening so that Y's bid of seven diamonds was a good sacrifice.

The test hands given in the preceding article caused a wide difference of opinion, so don't be disappointed if your analysis varies from the writer's.

Answer to Problem No. 2

Z:
Hearts — 7
Clubs — 8, 4
Diamonds — A, K, Q, 7, 6, 2
Spades — J, 10, 4, 3

Rubber game, no score. Z dealt and bid one diamond. A bid two clubs, Y passed and B bid four clubs. What should Z now bid? Z should pass. His partner Y wasn't even able to bid two diamonds over two clubs so must have a pretty weak hand. If Z bids four diamonds, he is sure to get doubled and lose at least 400 points. In the actual game, Z did bid four diamonds, was doubled and lost 500 points — a pretty severe penalty for such bad bidding.

Answer to Problem No. 3

Z:
Hearts — 6
Clubs — 7, 4
Diamonds — 9, 8
Spades — A, K, J, 10, 7, 5, 4, 2

Rubber game, Y-Z, 10; A-B, 21. What would you bid if you dealt and held Z's hand? When Z looked his hand over, he thought to himself, "I can make two or three spades with this hand but no more unless my partner has a big hand, in which case we are in no danger anyway. If, however, he hasn't a big hand, how can I get the bid with this hand as cheaply as possible. There's only one way to accomplish that, by concealing the spade strength and endeavoring to make my opponents think I have an entirely different type of hand." With this idea in view, Z opened the bidding with one heart, A bid one no-trump, Y bid two hearts and B bid two no-trump. Z wasn't in a position to pass and try to defeat the two no-trump bid for his partner would surely open hearts. Z, therefore, bid three spades, hoping that A-B would not overbid him. As a matter of fact, they doubled and here's where Z was lucky. His partner also passed, although he held five hearts to the ace and only three spades to the ten. He was a sharp player, however, and figured that Z must be trying some stunt or he wouldn't bid three spades over two no-trump, after he helped the heart bid, unless Z had a very good reason, so he trusted Z and passed. Y-Z just made three spades doubled, whereas A-B had five odd either in clubs or in diamonds. Z's trick bid in this case was well thought out and well supported by his partner. Such trick bidding is not recommended, but is given as an interesting example of a clever departure from normal bidding.

Y:
Hearts — Q, 10, 4
Clubs — 10, 5
Diamonds — A
Spades — K, Q, 10, 9, 8, 6, 3

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and bid one no-trump, A passed, Y bid two spades and B passed. Z bid two no-trump and A passed. What should Y now bid? Y should bid three spades. Z's bid of two no-trump should inform Y that Z has only two little spades or a singleton, but that he has high cards in the other three suits. With Y's length in spades and such an unbalanced hand, he should stand a better chance for game in spades than in no-trump. The object of all sound bidding is to get the best bid for 26 cards, not for 13. Remember this advice and if you can give additional information of a sound character by rebidding your suit, don't hesitate to do so.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The Newton Choral Society resumes its rehearsals Tuesday evening, at the Technical high school hall, Newtonville, and rehearsals will be held from now on every Tuesday evening, at 7.45. It is customary at the spring concert each year, to give some famous cantata or oratorio, usually with orchestral accompaniment. That plan will be followed this year, and the society wil work on some masterpiece of this type, the singing of which will be an inspiring experience to all who take part, and it will be of great value to those who desire practise in singing.

Applicants for admission to the society can now be received, and they are not required to take any examination as to their vocal ability.

Written by LEVERETT D. G. BENTLEY

Another thing to remember! It's 1927, or will be after midnight tonight. Not that the difference will greatly impress us, except a few things. Chief among them is the necessity of dating letters, checks, etc., with the new figures. It won't necessarily mean a failing memory if we put it down 1926 a few times. We've got into the habit, and habits are like boils and Canadian dimes and quarters,—hard to get rid of.

I don't know how we could fix it so that when entering upon a new year we would be prepared to give the correct date without a mistake. We might spend some days, or a week or two in advance of New Year's, "educating" ourselves. Nowadays we hear much of the need and importance of "educating" the public. I do believe that such a thing has been suggested for the solution of about every social problem under the sun. However, no more of it in this column for the present, although I should like to reserve my rights to discuss it at some later time.

We might, of course, start in around Christmas and say to each other, "Merry Christmas and Happy Nineteen Twenty-seven," or whatever year was then approaching. It would soon come as naturally as if we were ordering goods by the number, or referring to some stock market quotation, or perhaps interested in a pious lottery or raffle for some worthy cause. And yet, I think myself, it would get us in the habit of saying over the new figures, and we would be ready to date checks and letters properly when the time came.

Personally, I am sorry I didn't think of this very clever idea before, but as I didn't I shall have to apologize.

Nevertheless, I should like at this moment to say to the readers of this column, many of whom have been good enough to send me their greetings, that I wish for all—"A HAPPY 1927."

I wonder how many readers of this column have seen the billboard or sign on the front of Boston City Hall whereon is printed in large, imposing letters the New Year's greeting of the Mayor of that city. It is not a new idea. Boston Mayors for years past have been doing this sort of thing, off and on or on and off, whichever way you prefer. I have an idea it is one of those things that the critical are inclined to disapprove on the ground that it is political strategy, no more and no less.

Whatever it may be doesn't concern me. I was just wondering what Newton citizens would say if when passing City Hall they should see a sign of similar character. Now the front of our Newton City Hall is not an impressive sight at best. With a large painted sign nailed over the front door its appearance, in my opinion, would certainly not be improved. And yet when I mentioned the idea to a friend he said, "Well, Newton's City Hall isn't much to look at but it might be made useful as a billboard." Of course he was having his little joke and I don't know as I blame him. It comes so natural—making City Hall jokes.

I can easily imagine that if Newton's Mayor attempted to exploit himself by having his felicitations to the citizens displayed in such a manner he would hear from it. Or if he didn't hear it would be because his hearing had suddenly become impaired. Such a thing in Newton could not be done without the approval of the Board of Aldermen as there would be involved the expenditure of a sum of money. Then, too, the necessary order might be amended to include the names of the members of the Board themselves. That would require additional money.

I am not writing this because Newton's Chief Executive and Board of Aldermen members have failed to do something; I am, because they have not. It is to thank them that I call the matter to public attention. I am grateful that they are considerate enough to spend their own money on personal greeting cards, for that is the surest way they may find of assuring the citizens of their good wishes for the New Year.

I hope my readers haven't so soon forgotten events of Christmas that reference to anything in connection with that day will be asking them to overwork their memories. But I've been thinking about the piles of boxes, wrapping paper, etc., and the yards of string that accumulate in every home on Christmas.

I must admit I wouldn't have been so deeply struck with this idea if the matter hadn't been presented to me in a rather unusual way. Now I had the good fortune last week to have been invited to attend a family reunion in a beautiful country home some 40 miles from Boston. It is one of those Colonial mansions, especially adapted for Christmas effects, and the owners of which understand so perfectly the art of entertaining.

A young matron to whom I was presented, startled me by confiding that she had been for a week in an atmosphere of "discarded wrapping paper, boxes and things." She is the wife of a college professor, and in that capacity attended several college Christmas trees, a Sunday school tree, a settlement house tree, and finally three distinct private trees in the homes of relatives. I must say I scarcely could blame her for sighing at the great pile of rubbish that is left on the battlefield after Santa Claus has been set upon by his beneficiaries.

If some one of those of fertile brain who like to delve in statistics would sit down and figure out how many million miles of string are used to tie up Christmas bundles each year, and how many million tons of paper used to wrap them—well, we should have another crumb of valuable knowledge in our mental cupboard, but it wouldn't make any difference otherwise.

Speaking of keeping track of things, I wonder how many people employ a system to do for them what they cannot do themselves? I don't seem to recall a time when so many people carried these little memorandum pads. It's getting to be an almost common sight to see a man draw forth a little leather-bound volume and write down something like this: "Get gloves left to be mended. Speak about over-charge on garage bill. Call up Henry about bridge date."

These little pads have, of course, far more value to the men. It is so much easier and so much more masculine to reach in one's pocket and produce a pad on which notes may be made. I was in the act of doing that very thing when a friend said, "Is that the way you work it?"

"Yes," I replied, "I find it far simpler than any other arrangement."

"Let me tell you," said he, "of a professional man of my acquaintance and how he always does. If he has an errand to do for his wife he writes himself a letter. He begins by sending for his stenographer and dictating: 'Mr. ———. My dear sir: Your attention is hereby called to the fact that you are this day to go to Cash and Carry's Department Store and there purchase for your wife four yards of dress material the same as enclosed sample. You will please see that this matter is attended to this day without fail and oblige, ——.' He signs his own name, the letter is placed on his desk and attended to along with the other mail."

Continuing my friend said, "You think this is a cumbersome, roundabout way of jogging one's own memory? Maybe it is, but it never fails to work."

All fresh for the new
As we enter the old.
With brave hearts we'll see,
What this year may unfold.
With song in our hearts—
A "Community sing"—
Let's take like good sports
What the next twelve months bring.

CAMP F. A. DAY REUNION

Campers and Friends Gather at the Newton Y. M. C. A. for Annual Reunion

On Monday evening, December 27th, one hundred and forty-six campers and friends attended the mid-winter reunion of Camp Frank A. Day. At five o'clock there was a swim in the pool after which there was an informal get-together by parents, Camp Committee and their wives. At 6.30 all sat down to the banquet and Mr. H. W. Bascom, General Secretary, asked the blessing. Following the banquet a welcome was given to the campers, parents, and friends by Mr. G. Clement Colburn, a member of the Camp Committee. Mr. Colburn, in his remarks, stated that there was over 80 per cent of the campers at the reunion which gives a strong mark for loyalty.

The Camp Day players, consisting of Bryce Jose, Harrison Blake, Charles Jack, Everett Keeler, George Defren, James Albree, Galen Bloom, and Woodruff Buxton presented two short plays entitled "Humors of the Strike," and "Dizzie's Dilemma." They were received with great applause by the campers which reminded them of their Saturday night productions while at camp. Pictures of camp were thrown on the screen and Mr. R. William Draper and Milton Edgar entertained with mandolin and saxophone duets.

Closing remarks by Camp Directors Clyde G. Hess urged all who plan to attend camp to get their applications in as early as possible as there were some thirty disappointed last year. The camp will begin June 29th this next year and will run for a nine week season.

The following parents attended the reunion: Mr. and Mrs. Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. Hapgood, Mr. and Mrs. Bascom, Mr. and Mrs. L. Chase Kepner, Dr. and Mrs. Giddings, Mr. Charles Center, Mrs. B. Dyer, Mrs. George Houghton, Mr. J. Griffin, Mr. Alfred Hansen, Mr. H. Jose, Mr. E. R. LaCrosse, Mr. George Marsh, Mr. Severance, Mr. S. Smith, Mr. Tuttle, Mrs. Nathan Hawkes, Mrs. William Dow, and Mr. Watters, Director of the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. Camp.

A committee of ladies from the Ladies Auxiliary served the supper under the direction of Miss Emma Page; Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Giddings, Mrs. Bascom, Mrs. LaCrosse, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Hess, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Ames, Mrs. Buxton, and Mrs. Alden.

Applications were received last night for the 1927 season and registration may be secured from the boys' division of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association.

NORUMBEGA SUNDAY SCHOOL DISTRICT

The Norumbega District School of Religious Education has just announced its plan for the second term of the School, on Monday evenings, January 24 to March 28, inclusive. Meetings are to be held, as usual, at the Methodist Church, Newtonville.

The courses of study offered are to be as follows:—In the first period: "Church History," with Professor Booth; "Biblical Geography," with Professor Berkeley; "Primary Department Materials and Methods," with Miss Barker; "The Pupil," with Mr. Shaver. In the second period, the courses are: "The Project Principle in Teaching," Mr. Shaver; "A Study of the books of Daniel and Revelation," Professor Berkeley; and "The early Christmas Church," Professor Booth; and "Story Telling in the Church School," Miss Barker.

Two of the above instructors are new to the school this coming term, but both should be able to give strong courses. Rev. Erwin L. Shaver is the Leadership Training Secretary of the National Congregational Education Society. He is nationally known by his books on the practical application of projects to the church work.

Professor Edwin P. Booth has recently returned from study in Europe to resume his teaching of Church History in the Boston University School of Religious Education.

The Dean of the School remains Professor James P. Berkeley of Newton, who is already well and favorably known to all Sunday School workers in the District.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Moore, well known residents of Newton for over thirty years, observed their Golden Wedding last Sunday with an informal reception from three to ten o'clock at their home on Church street. About three hundred guests attended including many persons prominent in public life.

Among the many beautiful gifts were quantities of handsome flowers sent by friends and by organizations with which one or the other of the couple is connected.

Mrs. Moore's wedding dress, which had been carefully laid away for the half century, was worn by Miss Helene Moore, her youngest daughter.

TITANIA'S PALACE

Mrs. Frank H. Stewart of Newton Centre, who will act as hostess for the opening day of the showing of Titania's Palace at the Paine Furniture Company in Boston, January 10th to 29th inclusive, for the benefit of the Children's and Infants' Hospitals, is one of the group of Newton social leaders who are actively interested in this philanthropy.

The Palace, the largest, most beautiful and most valuable model building in miniature in the world, is the work of Major Sir Nevile Wilkinson, K. C. V. O., Ulster King of Arms and Principal Herald in All Ireland, who spent 23 years on this labor of love for children of the world, and is sending it on its world tour to benefit tiny sufferers in hospitals and institutions.

Mrs. Whittington and Mrs. Ames, in their announcements say that the Palace, containing a guest book the size of a postage stamp with the signature of Queen Mary on the first page, contains priceless tiny bits of antiquity from all nations of the world. A chess-table in the Morning Room is more than 100 years old; a sampler worked in 1797. The boxwood group of the Holy Family is from South Germany and was carved about 1610. The smallest rosary in the world, in the chapel, was once the handle of the private seal of the Duke of Leinster.

Other Newton women, in addition to Mrs. Stewart, who are active on the committees are: Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Treasurer of the Day; Mrs. H. P. Bradford in charge of the candy; Mrs. Albert W. Elliott, flowers; Mrs. Lawrence Black heads the Balloon Girls; Mrs. John F. Capron will call the fairies from their dell with gifts from the Wishing Well; and Mrs. George H. Crosbie will have her group of hostesses and young men at the entrance. There is a large coterie of women and debutantes assisting in all the attractions:—Mrs. E. E. Conway, Mrs. Frederick H. Baird, Mrs. R. E. Anderson, Mrs. H. N. Glover, Mrs. Moses Gulesian, Mrs. Herbert F. Hatch, Mrs. M. B. Dill, Mrs. C. P. Johnson, Mrs. Howard Marshall, Mrs. Walter Marston, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. M. L. Madden, Mrs. Henry J. Nichols, Mrs. Harry N. Matthews, Mrs. S. Clark Macomber, Mrs. W. M. Paxton, Mrs. E. Ray Speare, Mrs. J. Rollin Stuart, Mrs. Charles S. Wing, Mrs. William P. F. Ayer. Mrs. Norman Pratt. The younger set will include the Misses Conway, Rich, French, Glover, Hatch, Marshall, Hallett, Huntress, Lane, Liggett, Eleanor Snow, Cornelia Wing, Mrs. W. G. Dow, Mrs. Ralph Stuart.

There will be a Tea from 3 to 5 served by the Hotel Touraine with prominent women pouring, among whom will be Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, Mrs. Malcolm E. Nichols, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Mrs. Benjamin F. Pitman and others including stage stars appearing in Boston.

There will be some unusual exhibitions of miniature Chinese amber and Bristol crystals and Andrea Reggio's famous collection of dolls. With so many attractions for young and old this Exhibition should not be missed. Come and meet your Newton friends on the opening day.

BOY SCOUTS

The Annual Dinner given by the Council to the staff and Scoutmasters took place at the Y. M. C. A., Newton, Wednesday evening, with thirty in attendance. The coming Rally (February 9th), was discussed as well as the new plan for the Court of Honor. Every troop in the council except one was represented.

Mr. George Crosbie represented the Council at the dinner Tuesday at the City Club for representatives of Scout Organizations having camps in the vicinity of Dover. Mr. Robert Hale, Chairman of the Regional Camping Committee called the meeting with a view to organizing a local committee to confer on matters of importance and discuss the prospective improvements in that district.

Skippers Gilmore and Harrison of the Seascouts left Wednesday with the swimming team on a special trip to the camp of Mr. Hayes at Barnstable in recognition of the victory of the team in the recent swimming meet. They expect to remain over New Year's.

Re-registration is in order now for all troops except the two new troops which are registered to January 31st, 1928. Once every year a troop must re-register and each scout pay the re-registration fee of fifty cents, all of which goes to New York, each scout is then given a certificate which identifies him as a scout and entitles him to purchase uniforms and other restricted scout supplies. Let's do it NOW.

National Council has acted upon, in the National Court of Honor, the applications of William T. Carleton, Henry S. Colony, William L. Doton and John M. Hitchcock for the Eagle Scout Rank, the highest rank in Scouting. The badges will be awarded at a special awarding Court of Honor for their troop, No. 5 of Newton Centre, early in January. It is quite an unusual thing to have four scouts in the same troop qualify for the Eagle Rank at one time.

ABOUT TOWN

The City of Newton snow fighting forces accomplished a record on December 26th. The new system, dividing the city into 28 routes, which was planned by Street Commissioner Stuart and his supervising force, was used for the first time, and 245 miles of accepted and unaccepted streets and 450 miles of sidewalks were completely broken out between 9 A. M. and 12 midnight, which is the fastest time in which the work was ever completed.

Outside of China there are no wars of consequence going on at the present time. But adventurous spirits anxious to test their mettle may have the opportunity. Certain jobs requiring courage are still to be had. George Lambie, proprietor of the Wolcott-Lambie Plumbing Company holds one of these nerve racking assignments. George is an official referee in the National Soccer League. Christmas Day he officiated at a game in Pawtucket between the J. & P. Coats team of that city and a team from Fall River. There is much rivalry between these two teams. George believes in calling penalties without fear or favor. Christmas Day the game was a tie. Mr. Lambie called a penalty on the home team which prevented a last minute score. This so aroused the ire of a certain element among the 4000 spectators that after the game he was greeted with a shower of snowballs. Baseball umpires lead a peaceful life compared with soccer referees.

Did your auto skid on the icy streets Christmas Eve? Or did you skid on the slippery sidewalks? It was about the "skiddingest" night we ever saw.

No skating because of the snow. Lots of places where one might coast. But no coasting because of the automobiles. The "kids" of former days certainly had more fun in the winters. 'Member riding on the runners of some friendly expressman's pung? Or the thrill of a sleigh ride behind a fast horse? Those were the "days of real sport." Even though the boys were not so rugged as the modern youths who substitute "slikumed hair" for winter caps, or the modern youthesses whose limbs have no more protection against zero weather than gauzy chiffon hosiery.

Traffic Officer Ray Taffe, who has the difficult assignment of directing foot, automobile and electric car traffic at Nonantum Square, again this winter is afforded no protection from slushy footing and biting winds. The health of a public servant so efficient as Officer Taffe should be protected by the slight expenditure which would have to be made by the city to provide him with an inexpensive stand such as is used in Boston. We feel certain that if Chief Burke should make a recommendation for a traffic tower, badly needed at Nonantum Square, in his budget recommendations for the coming years, the Aldermen will grant it.

For seventeen years we experienced the "joys" of the Christmas season as an employee of the Newton Postoffice. Said "joys" included at least one week of intensive work, starting at 6 or 6.30 A. M., and concluding each night at hours varying from 9 to 11.30. When Christmas Day arrived, we postoffice clerks would be so fagged out that we would not have enough vitality left to enjoy a Christmas Dinner. And, for most of the years we had to work most of Christmas Day. The well intended greetings given us by many patrons of the office, "I wish you a Merry Christmas," sounded ironical to us. The Christmas season is not a merry one for postal employees. It is a nerve trying ordeal for many of them. Perhaps if some of the persons who chaff at waiting in line in postoffices during the Christmas rush, had the experience of working in a postoffice during this busy season, they would become less irritated over not being waited upon without delay.

THE WATER SITUATION

To the Editor:

Space in your widely-read journal of our affairs must be quite insufficient for adequate reproduction of the many letters of protest or advice you receive on our local water situation. It is with some temerity, therefore, that I venture to suggest you give space for this appeal to reason, since on this vital public matter so much has been said that is utterly frivolous and beside the point.

It is time I think to take the matter seriously and make only constructive suggestions. It is time, as I see it, for the Mayor to appoint a large citizens' committee to co-laborate with chairman Bail in his entirely sincere and laudable efforts to get at the bottom of this whole water matter. He was made chairman for obvious reasons and is an excellent man for the job. In case His Honor needs suggestions of names which are also those of citizens well equipped for service on such a committee as I conceive and for reasons which will be quickly apparent, I suggest:

Dr. Albert I. Mackintosh and Clifford A. Plummer of Newton Highlands.

Dr. Henry Watters and Arthur L. Drown of Newton Centre.

Everett M. Brooks, Edward D. Brine, Rev. D. Brewer Eddy, and Frederick W. Rust of Newtonville.

Harry S. Wells of West Newton.

R. H. Piper and Gifford Le Clear of Waban, and

Frank B. Hopewell, John B. DuPond, Dr. Rebekah Fawcett, and Carl S. Corkum of Newton.

Respectfully submitted,
Y. KNOTT.

IMPORTANT SALE IN NEWTON CENTRE

All of the real estate in Newton Centre Square, known as the Bray properties, built by the late Mellen Bray, who with his sons has done so much for the city by benefactions to the Newton Hospital and the Woman's Club, has just been conveyed by the recent owner, Cora B. Warner, to a corporation established under Massachusetts laws to be known as the Newton Centre Real Estate Co.

The properties consist of the Bray Block, Nos. 81-105 Union street, containing eight stores, large hall, and the manufacturing plant of the Priscilla Sears Co., central heating plant, garage No. 792 Beacon street and 35,400 feet of land; also the apartment house called Bradford Court, Nos. 17-31 Institution avenue, containing nineteen suites, with 22,980 feet of land and a lot on the rear bordering on the B. & A. R. R., of 12,980 square feet.

The entire real estate is assessed for $315,000; $199,000 on the buildings, and $116,000 on the land.

The Newton Trust Co. realizing the advantages of having such important holdings owned and controlled by local interests, in behalf of the tenants to whom the property was first offered and others interested, has been instrumental in forming the trust, to whom the title has passed.

The sale marks the most important step of recent years towards protecting old-established business firms, and stabilizing values in this rapidly growing center of the city. An appraisement of the properties was made by the appraisal department of Lockwood, Greene & Co.

Alvord Bros., cooperating with the Trust Co., were the brokers in the transaction.

Nature's Relief for Birds.

There is evidence that the air sacs found within the bones of birds serve as a means of relief from overheating produced by birds' great activity.

NEWTON SPORTS

Hebron he was a leading light in the way of athletics playing in three sports.

In Bowdoin College one could almost muster a complete track team in itself with all the members hailing from Newton proper. In the weight events there is Bob Adams, the best javelin thrower and discus man in college, who is ably assisted by Abbott Spear of Newton Centre, with Joe Kohler able to lend his hand in making these events sure. In the hammer throw Harry Thayer, formerly of Waban had a record of 155 feet in the 12 pound hammer last year while at Hebron, and should be capable of nearly that in the college class. For dash men there are Harold Rising, Alan Shaw, and Abbott Speare. Rising, a gradute of Exeter, is a fast middle distance runner whose stride and stamina has made him known as a runner of repute. Shaw has just blossomed out as a sprinter and has recently made rapid progress in the short distance runs, while Speare is a veteran at the 300 yard dash and has experience in the longer distance events.

On the Bowdoin hockey team there is the now usual Orange and Black touch for there are four former Newtonians on the team. The brothers, Dick and Harry Thayer are out for the wing positions, Dick has been a veteran for two seasons, while his brother, although a freshman, has had a deal of experience in playing for Hebron Academy. Stuart Stone after two seasons at Newton under Doctor Martin when he played defense on two of the greatest sextets that the school has turned out, spent a year at Williston where he was the same power on the offense that he had been formerly. Tubby Howland, at one time an All-Scholastic goal-guard, had his position securely fastened down until he drew some notices from the faculty which sounded the warning for more work along studying lines before he could enjoy his favorite sport.

COMMUNITY THEATRE

Golf—how not to play it. Eddie Cantor gives several graphic examples which would fit under this title in his first motion picture, "Kid Boots" which comes to the Community, Newton, for four days starting Sunday night, January 2.

"The Marriage Clause," a story of the all powered Force that united two souls in harmony. A wonderful picture directed by the only woman director in motion pictures, Lois Weber. Starring Francis X. Bushman and Grace Darmond.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "The Popular Sin," a comedy drama of marriage and divorce laid against a background of Parisian stage and society life.

With this great comedy the theatre is offering, the greatest football picture ever screened, starring the only man in motion pictures who ever played in college football before going into pictures, namely George Walsh, in the "Kick Off."

FIRE RECORD

Saturday afternoon a telephone call brought the firemen to the home of H. M. Camp, 934 Beacon street, Newton Centre, where a fire had started on the roof. It was extinguished before much damage resulted. Another still alarm on Christmas Day was for a fire in the residence of M. J. Maguire, 194 Beacon street, Chestnut Hill, caused by a candle setting fire to a curtain. Considerable damage was done to the furniture in the room where the blaze occurred.

WABAN MAN FOUND DEAD

Michael Cummings, 73, of 37 Troy lane, was found dead Wednesday in his home by Bernard O'Donell, a letter carrier at the Waban postoffice, who had called there to deliver mail. The aged man did not respond to O'Donell's repeated knocks, and the latter, suspecting that something was wrong, entered the house and found Mr. Cummings dead. The deceased had resided in Waban for nearly half a century, and was well known to many residents of the village. His wife died about 15 years ago, and he lived alone. He had no children. His funeral was held this morning from Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre.

FULLER GARAGE PUMPS ILLEGALLY USED

sumed the public would not be allowed to use it unless for the benefit of Mr. Ross' client. He advised Mr. Ross to "get together with the City officials and fix the matter up. If not, he opined that trouble would result. Mr. Ross replied "My opinion is that the proper place would have been for the Board of Aldermen to have informed us of a hearing, and given us a hearing before the Board to determine whether or not our permit has not been lived up to."

Ex-Alderman Lloyd told of the conferences held between himself and Judge Weston regarding the conditions which were agreed upon before the garage permit had been granted. Judge Weston, who was called upon by Mr. Ross, when he happened to enter the room where the hearing was being held, confirmed what Mr. Lloyd had sadi. He testified, "I did not ask for outside pumps; our only intention was to get inside pumps, and I told the Fuller Garage people at that time "if we asked for outside pumps we might not get anything at all." Judge Brown told Mr. Ross that if he would agree to have the outside pumps removed and the low wall built, no complaint would be issued. Mr. Ross would not agree to this, so the Judge authorized the issuance of the complaint.

The complaint having been issued, Mr. Wilcutt appeared in court on December 23rd. He was defended by Mr. Ross. An imposing array of city officials had been called into court by Chief Burke. Included among them were City Clerk Grant, Assessors Henry Baily and John W. Murphy, Judge Weston, ex-Alderman Lloyd, Chief Randlett, Assistant Chief George Stacy, Engineer Leonard, and Probation Officer Enegess. Chief Burke called on Mr. Grant to testify as to the issuance of the permit for the erection of the Fuller Garage. Mr. Ross objected to the matter of the garage being discussed, as the complaint dealt with the illegal sale of gasoline. He contended that his client has the right to erect the pumps outside the building as no restriction had been placed on the location of pumps when the permit was granted, and as pumps are not structures, no special permits are necessary for them.

Chief Randlett testified that he had given Mr. Ross permission to have the gasoline storage tanks at the Fuller Garage changed. He also had given him verbal permission to have two pumps placed outside the building, but when he subsequently learned that the aldermen had previously refused outside pump locations at this garage, he had revoked his approval of the outside locations and had told Mr. Ross not to have any pumps erected there. Nevertheless, the pumps were erected. Judge Weston did not testify, as the court ruled, after objection by Mr. Ross, that his testimony would not be relevant. For this same reason, Mr. Lloyd also did not testify. M. J. Enegess, Probation Officer, told of seeing gasoline sold to various parties, including Mr. Ross, from the outside pumps. Mr. Ross asked him, "Did you see me paying any money for the gasoline?" Mr. Enegess acknowledged "that he had not observed Mr. Ross giving any cash for the inflammable liquid.

Judge Frost in summing up the case said, "The question comes down to the interpretation of the statute 'No building or other structure shall be used for the sale of gasoline except by permit of the Selectmen or Aldermen.' Pumps are used for the handling and sale of gasoline. The fact that application for location of the pumps was made, shows something having been in the mind of the defendant that a location was sought. The pumps were built without a permit from the Fire Chief or without any permit. I find that no permits were issued for their erection or use. A pump, when used in connection with a building, is a structure. I find the defendant guilty of using a structure without a license. I do not find him guilty of erecting the two pumps without a permit. The statute does not cover the erection; it covers the use."

The progress of this case in the Superiod Court will be wacthed with interest, not alone by Newton city officials, but by lawyers and public officials all over the state. Legislation regulating garages and gasoline filling stations is in the making. Much doubt exists as to the scope of the authority which public officials have over them.

NEW ENGLAND PEABODY HOME

At the Christmas Celebration at the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children the following poem was read by its author, Louise Guaraldi. She has been in the Home for eight years, since she was seven years of age. She is just now learning to walk, and her pencil is held with the grasp of her entire hand instead of with the fingers alone. She goes to school in the Home and is rated in the sixth grade. With determination to conquer all difficulties Miss Guaraldi contributed to the pleasure of the Home at Christmas by this poem, and it was also read on Dec. 26 at the religious service held in the Home by the Hale Union of the Newton Centre Unitarian Church. The Hale Union and the Rev. G. L. Parker were so impressed by the poem and Miss Guaraldi's reading of it from her wheelchair that they felt that Newton Graphic readers should share it. Miss Guaraldi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Guaraldi of 248 Mountain avenue, Revere.

The First Christmas

In a humble manger low,
A little babe was forced to lay
His holy head upon the hay.

And Mary was his mother.
She was so meek and mild,
She knew that God had blessed her
With a sweet and gentle child.

Shepherds in the meadow,
Watching their flocks by night.
Saw in the heavens above them
A star that was shining bright.

So they arose and followed it
To see where it led.
They saw it stop above
That bright and holy shed.

They went inside the stable
And bent upon their knee,
And said to Jesus, lying there,
"We've come to worship Thee."

Louise Guaraldi.

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE

Another of those entertaining and fascinating programs which combines vaudeville and pictures of the highest type will hold forth at the Bowdoin Sq. theatre beginning Monday. What is termed the romantic picture sensation of the year, "The Temptress," a Metro-Goldwyn production will delight, thrill and satisfy in good measure.

Still another picture of sterling worth will be that showing Tom Mix and Tony in "The Canyon of Light," a story that carries one from the historic battlefields of Europe to the Western plains of America.

NEWS FROM THE COLLEGES

By Harold P. Carver, N. H. S. '26

On the 30th day of December at the Boston City Club there was a gathering of unusual interest to many of the boys of Newton, for Camp Passaconaway assembled, some one hundred strong, to celebrate a reunion of olden times passed by the shores of Lake Winnepesaukee. Under the careful planning of Mr. Richmond and Mr. Dickinson of the High School who have been the directors of the camp for 17 seasons, the meeting was a success from the dinner down to the final number on a varied program.

Entering into the portals of this sacred club—sacred to the memory of Bigger and Better Business in Boston—we doffed our hats and overcoats; then repaired to the fourth floor where the assembly was to be held. Here the directors were on hand to greet the new arrivals and to pass the time before the meal was served. Behind them were lined up in a scattered array the many counsellors who have passed the summers at camp. The boys stopped here and the beginning of a pleasant social hour was in progress. In one part are the boys down from Williams, Bill Phelps, his brother, Charlie, and Jimmy Hoyt. The first two had charge of the swimming at camp last year, while the latter two were the directors of the tennis court. Hoyt, in particular, did a great deal for the more finished players, while Charlie was able to get the younger boys interested in the latent possibilities of the sport. In another group are Stuart Stone, Bill Draper, Art Shute, and Nason West. All have been at the camp for some time and are favorites with the boys. The meal is served and under the direction of Donald L. Houghton the boys drift into the main room and grouping themselves according to their wishes they await the announcement from the head table where the directors and the toast master, none other than Stanley Lyons of Dartmouth fame, whose ability to preside at such events has made him most popular with the campers. The courses took their appointed way, while in between the group sang the many college songs that they had learned up in New Hampshire, being led by the song leader, Don Houghton.

After the courses had been cleared away, Stan Lyon introduced the only speaker of the afternoon, Mr. W. E. Richmond, one of the directors. Speaking briefly, and with an evident desire to interest both the older and the younger members, he recounted the many sides of Camp and its advantages. Then the amusement part of the program was opened up with Jake Stafford performing. Jake is an old camp boy, and always is eager to return to help entertain the new campers of the recent years. His magic as usual was mystifying, as Billy Hayden, and the Hoey brothers will admit. From card tricks up to fancy affairs especially imported from China for the occasion, if we are to believe Jake, he went, always mixing in with his efforts a happy chatter that kept the spirit of the audience with him. When he finally closed his bag and departed there were many sighs and even a few wails that he was leaving so suddenly.

Because of the failure of the motion picture operator to be there on time the last part of the festivities was moved up to take its place. This consisted of the organization known as the Tonic Trio whose duties were along the lines of entertaining the campers on Saturday nights at Bear Island with parodies and songs that the boys could sing. The idea originated with Don Houghton and was put on as a radio concert act, later it became so popular that it had to be incorporated into the shows every Saturday evening. The three men who took the roles of Birch Beer, Sarsasparilla, and Bluebird are Walter Chadwick, his brother, Howard, and Duncan Howlett, accompanied by Graham McNamee Houghton on the microphone with various reports on the activities of camp members via telegram. The offerings went over extremely well with the assemblage chiming in on many of the well-known verses, while the usual number of jokes were pulled off on the counsellors and the older boys. Bunny Bryant, Charley Phelps, Howlett, Walter Chadwick, and other received messages from more or less authentic persons.

The last feature on the entertainment list was that of seeing oneself be a moving picture star, for there were many pictures of the camp activities shown on the screen. Starting with Sunday drill, and inspection the film ran the gamut through golfing, baseball, group games on the ball field, canoeing, to swimming, with all its thrills which had a few added by the remarkable manner in which the boys dove out of the water, landing erect on the pier, a mystery soon solved when one realized that the film was being run backwards. The swimming tests under the auspices of the American Red Cross was also put on the screen, as well as the canoe tip-overs, an exciting race that only the accomplished swimmers can participate in. There then followed an educational picture, and the meeting broke up after watching Charlie Chaplin stagger through some of his original antics. Many fathers were in evidence, and many of last year's campers returned to talk over old times, and to meet former initiates into the tribe of Passaconaway. Just before parting for another six months all stood at attention and sang the Camp song, a matter of not little emotional power when one recalls all the happy hours spent along the shore lines of Bear Island. The plans for next year are progressing in fine style, and from all indications practically the same group of counsellors will be there again.

From Brunswick, Maine, comes two interesting bits of news for Newton readers. Robert C. Adams of the class of 1925 at the High School has recently been elected vice-president of the sophomore class at Bowdoin. He formerly was the president of his class at Newton and was a famous athlete while there. The other gleaning is that of the election of F. Hamilton Oakes to the presidency of the White Key, one of the highest honors in the college. This organization, as the other groups that go by the same name, has complete charge of the visiting athletes, and rules the sports in their own college. He is the outstanding member of his class, and has set a splendid record for future Newtonians to follow.
